

If it were not for weddings, February would stretch a dreary social waste before us and after February there is Lent, which means that for forty days there will be few affairs of any great importance.

One of the clubs of well-known matrons has a favor for each table. Each player contributes 50 cents and the money is spent for a glove certificate.

The double wedding of Miss Blanche Mary Stanford to Dr. Frank S. Bissell of Maple Lake, Minn., and Miss Helen Gertrude Stanford to Frank Fernald of Livingston, Mont., will be an event of interest to many as the four young people all attended the university.

No attempt has been made by the members of the junior class who have not been requested to join the junior ball association at the university to prevent the use of the name, "Junior Ball" in connection with the affair Feb. 9 at the university armory.

The marriage of Miss Mary B. Belden and Richard Greene Fisher, which will take place Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Belden, on Oak Grove street, will be the second wedding in the family within the month.

There is absolutely no friction at the university this year in regard to the giving of the big junior party. An association was quietly organized, officers were chosen, committees appointed and plans were laid for an old-time "Junior Ball" to be given under the name formerly applied to the big junior parties.

Minneapolis people will be interested in the announcement of the marriage of Miss Talcott Wright to Lewis Barnum, which took place in Pueblo City, New Mexico, Wednesday evening, Jan. 17. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Wright.

Society is mad over bridge. It really is the only amusement people think of or enjoy and one woman stoutly asserts that the reason there are so few receptions, teas and dances is because people are so interested in bridge that they do not care for any other diversion and they prefer the smaller gatherings of eight, twelve or sixteen, seldom more, to the formal affairs.

Graham Hall

A Boarding and Day School for Girls Second Semester Begins Jan. 29. The school is just closing the most successful term in its short but brilliant history. Its large corps of specially trained instructors make it possible for the pupil to obtain the best results under the most favorable conditions.

Modern languages are taught by native teachers. The primary department is in charge of a teacher especially fitted, both by nature and training, for an instructor of little children. The large, light, airy gymnasium affords ample opportunity for the popular game of basketball. Here, too, the students are given daily practice in both heavy and light gymnastics under an efficient instructor. The Graham Hall certificate admits to leading colleges without examination. For further information address Miss Zulema A. Ruble and Miss Carrie F. Bartlett, 1800-1810 First Avenue S, Minneapolis, Minn.
