Does the increasing output of gold and the increasing investment and business resources of this country warrant the statement that the $1,500,000,000 expressed in the capitalization of the U. S. Steel Corporation has increased by 20 per cent in comparative valuations?

Is the increased valuation and the future growth of this company to be represented in the common stock, which commands the entire equity of the company?

Steel Common represents but one-third the total capitalization of the company. Should, therefore, a 20 per cent enhancement in valuation be reflected by a

"Seeing tides and times may be a greater asset than capital."

"The age of iron, of steam and of the telegraph is closing. The age of steel, electricity and the telephone has opened."

"If you don't believe in the future of this country don't subscribe to the Boston News Bureau. If you do believe in the future growth of this country, the Boston News Bureau can help you every day in the year, for it points out in its 18 condensed columns, without a line of advertising, all places where values are rising or falling, that should interest a man of general business outlook. It unhesitatingly points out pitfalls and dangers wherever seen, and gives the reason for all fluctuations in values, sometimes historically and sometimes in anticipation."

ARREST FOLLOWS

Abduction Charge Is Sequel to Youthful Marriage at Wisconsin.

WINONA, MINN.—Some interesting developments have followed the wedding last Wednesday evening of Edgar Sager and Bertha Anderson of Fairmont. It is reported that on the arrival home of the bride and groom, who accompanied the couple to Winona, were the bride's father and her father-in-law, on which the bride was continued to Feb. 9, but being fixed in the sum of $1,000. When this was paid the bride was released, and it is said she is under $1,000. If this be true, the charge of abduction can stand, as the wedding was an abridgment when Sager had been forbidden the house by Anderson's father. When the sheriff took the two men in charge on the arrival at Fairmont of the wedding party, the bride went to the home of the bride's father, and the groom, Palmer, said to have gone there and demanded the girl, Mrs. Sager at first refusing to let her go, but it ended in the girl accompanying her father home. Abducting a girl under the protection of her father is not an offense under Minnesota law, that is, unless by a sentence of five years in the penitentiary for the purpose of procuring a license and Judge D. E. Vance performed the ceremony here after the girl had sworn she was 18 years of age. The bride's father, however, was present and gave his consent to the wedding.

OVERCOME BY SMOKE

Albert Lea Man Narrowly Escapes Death in a Fire.

ALBERT LEA, MINN.—A. V. Williams, who was living in the Standard building, last Wednesday evening, was nearly killed by inhaling smoke during a fire that broke out in the basement. He was removed by his wife and father-in-law in the cold air, he collapsed. He recovered some hours later. When the sheriff took the two men in charge on the arrival at Fairmont of the wedding party, the bride went to the home of the bride's father, and the groom, Palmer, said to have gone there and demanded the girl, Mrs. Sager at first refusing to let her go, but it ended in the girl accompanying her father home. DIED WITHOUT MAKING WILL

ST. CLOUD, MINN.—County Attorney J. B. Hines has received notification from W. M. Schneider, one of the supervisors of the township of Kralow, of the sudden death of John M. Anderson, a Scandinavian farmer living in the northern part of the township. The matter was presented to the county attorney for the reason that the deceased made no provision for the disposition of his farm or personal property. Anderson was a single man and as far as can be learned had no relatives in this country. His estate consists of a valuable farm and several hundred dollars worth of live stock. It is reported that he was a citizen of the United States, and that he was living in the township of Kralow, and that he was a citizen of the United States.

DULUTH GAINMEN PACKERS NO NOT CRITICIZE WAG LAW CHANGED

SAY PROCEEDINGS WERE BROUGHT TOO HASTILY AGAINST BOARD.

Official of Defendant Institution Gives Explanations Refuting All the Charges Made by Farmers' Exchange—One Indignant Member Thinks the Superior Board Has a Hand in Present Controversy.

Duluth, Minn., Feb. 5.—The suit begun by the state of Minnesota, thru Attorney General Young against the Duluth Board of Trade is one of great interest, not only to the members of that organization here, but to every board of trade and stock exchange in the country. It is a charge that the board has violated the law, and that it is not a similar organization of the country. This is the assertion of those who have investigated the board's side of the controversy.

There is much criticism of Attorney General Young's complaint, not because he has instituted proceedings, but because he has filed a complaint which he embodied assertions which he states to be "in his belief" true. It is said that some farmers are interested in the fact that the charges were entirely untrue. They also say that the board is not without investigating the other side of the case. An official of the board said:

Says Charges Are Not True.

"The attorney general charges the Duluth Board of Trade with twice refusing the application of the Duluth Board of Trade for membership, when he could have found out very easily that the said exchange never made an application for membership. He also charges that when the stock exchange began selling grain thru the Duluth board it was stopped from doing so by the Duluth board. He also charges that the board refused to handle the grain of a farmer from doing it, and that the board refused to handle the grain of a farmer from doing it, and that the board refused to handle the grain of a farmer from doing it.
