

Edward Everett Hale

writes the leading article in next Sunday's Magazine of The Journal entitled "The Lure of the City." Dr. Hale hopes "The Irrigated West" will relieve the tremendous pressure of population in our great cities. The article is full of interesting suggestions.

The same issue contains a clever love story by Carolyn Wells; a true tale of adventure by J. A. Hornsby; a story of a college escapade by Ernest Ingersoll and another amusing sketch on settlement house ideas as adopted by the cows in the pasture. There is tuneful verse, humorous and sentimental, anecdote and miscellany. The illustrations are profuse and excellent, including the front cover in rich colors, from the painting of a charming girl, by Philip Boileau.

CUTICURA REMEDIES WORK WONDERS

Mr. A. C. Barnett, proprietor of a general store in Avarad, Oklahoma, tells in the following grateful letter how Cuticura cured him and his son of terrible eczemas:

"My little boy had eczema. His head was one solid sore, all over his scalp; his hair all came out, and he suffered very much. I had a physician treat him, but at the end of three months he was no better. I remembered that the Cuticura Remedies had cured me, and after giving him two bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, according to directions, and using Cuticura Soap and Ointment on him daily, his eczema left him, his hair grew again, and neither he nor myself have had any eczema since.

As to his own case, Mr. Barnett says: "I suffered with eczema, a burning, itching, breaking out on my face for more than a year. I took treatment from physicians for several months, which did no good. I was then advised to try Cuticura. I took six bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, and used Cuticura Soap and Ointment freely every day. I began to improve soon after starting to use them, and when I had taken the six bottles of the Resolvent my face had become clear, I had good color, and all eruptions had left me.

"We use the Cuticura Soap and Ointment in our family now for general use, and it keeps our skin soft and healthy. I cheerfully recommend the Cuticura Remedies for all cases of eczema." (Signed) A. C. Barnett, Avarad, Oklahoma, Mar. 30, 1905.

THE DOLMETSCH RECITAL

It would be difficult to imagine anything more intensely interesting and enjoyable than the lecture-recital given by Arnold Dolmetsch at Plymouth church last evening, illustrative of the "Music of the Olden Time." There was, unfortunately, but a small audience present, yet so interested was it in this devotee of the ancient music and his quaint instruments, that at the close of the entertainment the platform and surrounding spaces were filled with a group of questioning throng, which stayed and talked, questioned and examined until the waning lights gave a gentle reminder of the lapse of time.

Mr. Dolmetsch and the assisting members of the trio, Mrs. Mabel Dolmetsch and Miss Kathleen Salmon, wore the dress of the seventeenth century, which added to the interest of the occasion. The instruments exhibited and used were originals of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, and included a lute of about the year 1600; the virginal, about the same date, and consisting of a light box encasing wire strings and played with a small keyboard; a viol d'amour, or violin with seven strings and sounding with wire to add sympathetic vibrations; a viol de gamba, or sort of violoncello, with six strings; a harpsichord made in Antwerp in the seventeenth century and very ornate; and a clavichord.

The three artists played on these various instruments selections from the music especially written for them, and Miss Salmon sang two songs, "The Lark," written by Dowland in 1660, accompanied by the lute, and "They Tell Us that You, Mighty Powers," written by Purcell in 1680, accompanied by Mrs. Dolmetsch on the harpsichord. Miss Salmon's voice is exquisitely suited to such music and she sang delightfully. Mrs. Dolmetsch confined her efforts to the viol de gamba, an instrument which she has mastered to a remarkable degree and plays charmingly.

Mr. Dolmetsch, born in France of German parentage, has inherited the delicacy and refinement of his native land, with the music-love which is his birthright. His talk—it could not be called a lecture—is sparkling with wit and humor, but with enthusiastic love and appreciation of his beloved instruments, and is withal delivered with such quaint idioms and such peculiar accents that it is simply delicious. He plays on all of the instruments and is equally happy with any. The only regret about the entire affair is that so many who would have enjoyed the evening to the full, unwittingly missed so delightful and charming an entertainment.

"Who Held the 'Phone?'"
Carolyn Wells contributes the leading short story to The Journal's Magazine next Sunday. "Who Held the 'Phone'" will suggest to most people who read it Frank R. Stanton's most famous short story, "The Lady or the Tiger"; but there is no tiger in it. It is the love story of charming and sensible young Barbara Scovel. She had two suitors for her hand, one a professional man who is inclined to be a bit dreamy and poetical, and the other a plain, matter-of-fact professional young business man. A telephone message which she sent at a specified hour was the manner in which she was to manifest her choice. The question is who heard the maiden's "Yes," the dreamer or the business man.

WHAT JOY THEY BRING TO EVERY HOME

as with joyous hearts and smiling faces they romp and play—when in health—and how conducive to health the games in which they indulge, the outdoor life they enjoy, the cleanly, regular habits they should be taught to form and the wholesome diet of which they should partake. How tenderly their health should be preserved, not by constant medication, but by careful avoidance of every medicine of an injurious or objectionable nature, and if at any time a remedial agent is required, to assist nature, only those of known excellence should be used; remedies which are pure and wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, like the pleasant laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. Syrup of Figs has come into general favor in many millions of well informed families, whose estimate of its quality and excellence is based upon personal knowledge and use.

Syrup of Figs has also met with the approval of physicians generally, because they know it is wholesome, simple and gentle in its action. We inform all reputable physicians as to the medicinal principles of Syrup of Figs, obtained by an original method, from certain plants known to them to act most beneficially and presented in an agreeable syrup in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to promote the pleasant taste; therefore it is not a secret remedy and hence we are free to refer to all well informed physicians, who do not approve of patent medicines and never favor indiscriminate self-medication.

Please to remember and teach your children also that the genuine Syrup of Figs always has the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package and that it is for sale in bottles of one size only. If any dealer offers any other than the regular Fifty cent size, or having printed thereon the name of any other company, do not accept it. If you fail to get the genuine you will not get its beneficial effects. Every family should always have a bottle on hand, as it is equally beneficial for the parents and the children, whenever a laxative remedy is required.
