

YERXA

353—Both Phones—353

Pure Food Exhibit

OPEN 8 a. m. to 10:30 p. m.

Lida Ames Willis will lecture on Domestic Science at 2 p. m. Everyone interested in Cooking please attend.

Menu for Saturday

SUNDAY SALADS

Specials for Saturday

- Best Rolled Oats... 2 1/2c Pound.
- Pure Buckwheat... 30c 10-pound Bag—best.
- Yerxa's Prepared Buckwheat Flour... 10c 2 lb. pkg., worth 15c
- Pearl Barley... 3c Pound.
- Pretzels... 4c quart
- Saratoga Flakes... 13c Package.
- Ginger Snaps... 5c pound.

Call at Pure Food Exhibit today and sample the Alice Roosevelt Wedding Cake.

Sweet Storage Eggs... 10c Dozen

Fresh Creamery Butter... 25c Pound.

Fresh Pio Plant... 5c Pound.

Navel Oranges... 15c Per Dozen

Lemons... 10c Dozen.

Sweet Potatoes... 25c Pounds

Palms on sale cheap at Pure Food Exhibit.

Sweet Russet Cider... 25c Gallon.

Table Syrup... 30c Gallon.

Sap Maple Syrup... $1 1 gallon can.

Queen Olives... 25c Large Bottle. Always 35c.

Corn, Can... 5c Minnesota Pack

Corn—Babylet... 11c Maine Pack.

Cut Asparagus... 25c 3-lb. can

Baked Beans... 9c 3-lb. can

Mt. Angelus Salmon... 12c 1-lb. can, worth 17c

Premium Chocolate... 25c pound

White Line Washing Powder... 4c package

Yerxa Corner Soap... 25c 10 bars Laundry

Fresh Meats and Fish.

- Armour's Star Ham, lb... 13c
- Fresh Dressed Turkey, lb... 20c
- Porterhouse Steak, lb... 12 1/2c
- Round Steak, lb... 10c
- Shoulder Steak, lb... 8c
- Hamburger Steak, lb... 6c
- Standing Rib Roast, lb... 10c
- Rolled Rib Roast, lb... 12 1/2c
- Pot Roast, lb... 5c 6c 7c
- Pork Chops, lb... 10c
- Pork Sausage, lb... 10c
- No. 1 Ham, lb... 12c
- Bacon—a Bargain—lb... 12 1/2c

YERXA

411 Nicollet & 5th St

115-117 Central Ave. East Side

I am making a special plate this week for $5.00

Call and see it. Established 1880.

DR. H. S. RAY 329 NICOLLET AV. Minneapolis.

Corner Fourth St.

UNION MADE $2.50 SORENSON $2.50 SHOE

Is the best shoe for the money in Minneapolis. Others ask $3.50 for the same shoe.

WHY PAY MORE? S. T. SORENSON

314 Nicollet, Minneapolis, 128 E 7th st. St. Paul.

MINNESOTA BUSINESS SCHOOL

BEST TRAINING FOR OFFICE WORK

ESTABLISHED FOR THIRTY YEARS

RICHARD & GROWMAN

24 S. 3rd St. MINNEAPOLIS

City News

TOWN TALK

EVENTS OF TONIGHT

Metropolitan Theater—Lulu, Gloriosa in "Miss Dolly Dollars." Auditorium—Mme. Bernhardt in "Camille."

Bijou Theater—"Buster Brown." Orpheum Theater—Modern vaudeville.

Lyceum Theater—"All the Comforts of Home." Unique Theater—Vaudeville.

Dewey Theater—"Miss New York, Jr."

Oak Park Congregational Church—Concert, church orchestra.

Thirty-eighth Street Congregational Church—"Enlisted for the War," Metropolitan Dramatic Club.

Immanuel Baptist Church—Evangelistic Meeting.

Fowler M. E. Church—Washington Entertainment.

Fifth Presbyterian Church—Stereopticon lecture, "From the Hudson to the Potomac," Rev. W. J. Johnson.

First Presbyterian Church—Lecture, "City Life," Miss Florence Ben-Oliel.

Everest Chapel—Patriotic entertainment.

Young laundryman or forewoman at Hotel Plaza, W. J. Keith.

Money to loan on real estate. No delict. Title Insurance and Trust Co.

If you are an habitual smoker, buy the Cincin. It is good the year round.

Picture sale. Framing pictures cheap. New stock. Zebhaugh, 11 Fifth street S.

Everybody's Magazine, 1 year with Lawson's book Frenzied Finance, $2.60 at the Century News Store, 6 Third street S.

Fifty more full-grown Eagles will be turned loose this evening by Minneapolis aerie No. 34. This is the second class of fifty candidates that this aerie has initiated in the past month.

Mrs. H. G. Harrison will speak in Hope chapel tomorrow evening on "The Durbar," the great spectacular celebration in India when King Edward was proclaimed emperor.

Mrs. Harrison was present at this gorgeous pageant and she will illustrate the stereopticon views and moving pictures.

S. J. Richardson, 3509 Chicago avenue, is short $130 today because he attended a theater last night. It is believed that money and checks to the amount of $130 were taken from Mr. Richardson as he waited with the crowd from the theater for a car at First avenue S and Eleventh street. The loss was not discovered until he reached home, and was at once reported to the police.

HAMLIN "U" FACULTY MAY DROP DR. MALCHOW

Reasons of policy may cause the governing officers of Hamline university to drop Dr. W. Malchow from the faculty.

Dr. Malchow's medical department if he is obliged to serve the sentence of a year in the penitentiary pronounced in the United States district court.

Dr. Malchow was tried last spring under an indictment charging him with sending an obscene book thru the mails and convicted. An appeal to the district court of appeals has proved ineffectual and the alternative of appealing to the United States supreme court or serving his time.

Dr. G. C. Barton, dean of the medical school, said today that no decision has been reached in the case of Dr. Malchow, and that final word must come from the university faculty.

He added that by and in the profession at large Dr. Malchow's book, "The Secular Life," was looked upon as a proper scientific work upon a legitimate subject.

Dr. Malchow said today that he appreciates the situation and would not feel that he was wronged should he be dropped from the faculty. He is undecided as to an appeal.

If the law demands a year of my time I am willing to meet the obligation," said the doctor. "I do not feel conscious of having done wrong."

United States Marshal W. H. Grimshaw has not received an order to take Dr. Malchow into custody until he surrenders himself or an order for his apprehension is issued.

PRIZES FOR FAT STOCK

State Fair Management Will Make Feature of Market Animals.

The management of the state fair has decided to continue the fat stock show at the next fair as a feature of the livestock department.

Prizes will be awarded as last year for the best carloads of fat cattle, fat hogs and fat sheep. There will also be special prizes for Yorkshire hogs.

The South St. Paul Livestock Exchange has again contributed $500 for cattle prizes at the coming fair. The fat stock show this year is to be open to North Dakota as well as Minnesota farmers.

SOLDIER CAPTURED

Raymond C. Maxwell is the second of the three deserters from Fort Snell who are captured. He was arrested at Spring Valley, Minn., by Abe Tart, chief of police.

Maxwell, who is a former prisoner under arrest for desertion from the tenth infantry about three years ago, escaped from the hospital last Saturday. John Madison was captured in Minneapolis the same day, but A. Zimmer is still a free man.

More pure India rubber, more wear, more quality—Glove rubbers.

BOYNTON

1931 4th Av. S.

Telephone N.W.—S. 1877 & S. 1878

Twin City—431.

Best Eggs, dozen 16c

Water Cress, bunch 4c

Lettuce, bunch 3c

Green Onions, bunch 5c

Hubbard Squash, each 20c

Unecda Biscuit, 7 pkgs. 25c

Red Onions, peck 15c

PHONE YOUR ORDERS EARLY TO INSURE PROMPT DELIVERY

COURSE OF LOVE DIDN'T RUN SMOOTH

DRAMATIC FEATURES MARKED AN ELOPEMENT YESTERDAY.

Bride's Relatives Tried to Detain Her as She Fled, but She Eluded Them—Broken Trolley Car and a Hurrying Cab Played Important Parts in Drama.

Paternal opposition, a legal holiday, a breakdown car and other obstacles in the way of their marriage, were surmounted by C. H. Laurel and Miss Helen Johnson, who were married last night, and today are happily located at 2620 Emerson avenue N.

Mr. Laurel is foreman at the Profit Sharing meet, 1814 avenue S. He is 35 years old and his wife is 20. On account of the difference in their ages, the mother of the girl objected to their marriage. Cupid suggested a runaway match, and the idea was adopted as a last resort.

All was in readiness Wednesday evening, when fate again seemed to have blocked their wedding. Mr. Johnson was informed of the forgotten fact that Thursday, Washington's birth anniversary, was a legal holiday and the courthouse would be closed. This intelligence spurred the bridegroom to immediate action. He finally found a deputy clerk of courts and obtained the necessary license late in the evening.

With the coveted document in his pocket, Mr. Laurel felt that he had his measure of trouble and breathed a sigh of hope that the events of the next day would pass on schedule.

It had been arranged that Miss Johnson meet Mr. Laurel at 6 p. m. yesterday near her home, at 2931 Clinton avenue. The mother scented romance and tried to detain her daughter.

Miss Helen broke loose and ran off down the street. Her brother followed. She was too fleet for the brother, however, and met her lover before the brother had overtaken her. All three boarded a Fourth avenue car.

On the car the brother attempted to persuade the girl to return home with him. He grew somewhat excited, but his sister refused to accede to his demands. Mr. Laurel decided that his wishes of his fiancée should be respected. If she would not consent to elope, he would not prevent it. He remained silent, and to his great joy, Miss Johnson resolutely refused to throw up her part of the play that was fast approaching the melodramatic stage.

Of a sudden the three characters in the intensely interesting affair found that a broken-down car was their stage. The conductor and motorman to start. A carriage was called and Mr. Laurel and Miss Johnson were hurried to his home on Twenty-third avenue N, where they were married in the presence of his cousins.

Today Mr. Laurel who is back at his place in the Profit Sharing laundry, stopped shaking hands with congratulating friends long enough to tell The Journal that he was the happiest mortal on earth.

"My wife and I have nothing to regret," he said. "We were to have been married some time ago, but our wedding was prevented. We decided that an elopement was the only choice, and arranged it. I think that Mrs. Johnson will become reconciled to the marriage now. There is no enmity on my side and I think none on hers. I am a glad that my mother-in-law is such a high regard for her daughter."

BERWIN MEMORIAL FUND

For the wife and four young children of Captain John Berwin, the fireman who heroically sacrificed his life in a successful endeavor to save Mrs. D. B. Barlow at the West hotel fire. The fund will be a token of recognition from the city of Captain Berwin so faithfully served.

SEND MONEY TO THE JOURNAL.

The various funds now stand as follows:

The Journal fund previously reported $2,781.77

F. E. Beal 25.00

Total Journal fund $2,806.77

Previously reported from other sources 3,539.00

Grand total $6,345.77

F. E. Beal, vice president of the National Fulton Brass Manufacturing company, of Detroit, Mich., who was rescued at the West hotel fire by the firemen writes T. W. Flanagan, of the Soo road, sending a draft for $25 to the Berwin fund.

He says, "I send $25 to the fund that is being created for the benefit of the family of the brave fireman, who heroically lost his life in endeavoring to save lives at the West hotel fire. I understand there is a benefit fund for the widow of this brave man, and I want to contribute my share, as you know I had a rather thrilling experience and I want to say that the fire department of Minneapolis is deserving of the highest praise, as well as the police department, for their certain, efficient work, risking their lives to save others."

Hoodwinks the Oculist. Madden Eye Medicines cures eyes. (Don't smart.) 25c.

Dahl Bros' Best.

Flour, warranted, per 98-lb sack $2.15

12-lb. sacks pure Whole Wheat Flour, warranted, for... 35c

Good Creamery Butter, lb... 24c

Large bottles Snider's Catsup... 19c

Large bottles Lemon and Vanilla flavor, one bottle each, for... 45c

Fancy Maple flavor Syrup, gal... 50c

Fancy Dill Pickles, gallon... 20c

Fancy Small Sour Pickles, gallon... 30c

Fancy Piccalilly, per gallon... 25c

Fancy Small Sweet Pickles, gal... 50c

6 cans Fancy Salmon Pickle, 1-pound cans... 88c

6 cans choice Sweet Corn for... 28c

6 cans Early June Peas for... 42c

6 cans Packed Tomatoes for... 58c

6 cans String Beans for... 40c

6 cans Lima Beans for... 40c

6 cans Suetotash for... 40c

Everbest Eight Bells Coffee, per lb 30c

Bogata Combination Coffee, per lb 20c

11 Washington Avenue N, and 201 East Lake Street. Both Phones at Both Places.

TRIAL BY JURY IS NOT NECESSARY

POLICE JUDGE DIDN'T ERR IN MARCIKIN CASE.

The ordinance under which the defendant was convicted is held to be valid and it is held further that the local municipal court has jurisdiction to try and determine all criminal cases arising in the city of Minneapolis providing the punishment does not exceed a fine of $100 or ninety days' imprisonment.

The decision is an important one, as the case is a test of the present practice in the municipal court. Arguments were presented to the supreme court by A. C. Finney for the city, and A. B. Jackson and E. S. Cary for the defendant, who is backed by the Retail Liquor Dealers' association.

The decision upholding the trial without a jury was expected, as the point has been raised and so decided by the Minnesota supreme court, but the real test will come when the case is carried to the United States supreme court.

The defendant's counsel contend that plainly under the constitution every citizen charged with crime, however trivial, is entitled to a trial by a jury of his peers. They feel so sure of their position that they are willing to risk their time and reputations in an appeal to the court of last resort.

The syllabi of other supreme court decisions will be found on page 4.

Juries are not necessary in the trial of minor criminal cases according to a decision handed down by the supreme court today in the case of the state against Val Marcinik, convicted in the municipal court of keeping a saloon open on Sunday. The lower court is affirmed and the defendant denied a new trial. Defendant will appeal to the United States supreme court.

The ordinance under which the defendant was convicted is held to be valid and it is held further that the local municipal court has jurisdiction to try and determine all criminal cases arising in the city of Minneapolis providing the punishment does not exceed a fine of $100 or ninety days' imprisonment.

The decision is an important one, as the case is a test of the present practice in the municipal court. Arguments were presented to the supreme court by A. C. Finney for the city, and A. B. Jackson and E. S. Cary for the defendant, who is backed by the Retail Liquor Dealers' association.

The decision upholding the trial without a jury was expected, as the point has been raised and so decided by the Minnesota supreme court, but the real test will come when the case is carried to the United States supreme court.

The defendant's counsel contend that plainly under the constitution every citizen charged with crime, however trivial, is entitled to a trial by a jury of his peers. They feel so sure of their position that they are willing to risk their time and reputations in an appeal to the court of last resort.

The syllabi of other supreme court decisions will be found on page 4.

Juries are not necessary in the trial of minor criminal cases according to a decision handed down by the supreme court today in the case of the state against Val Marcinik, convicted in the municipal court of keeping a saloon open on Sunday. The lower court is affirmed and the defendant denied a new trial. Defendant will appeal to the United States supreme court.

The ordinance under which the defendant was convicted is held to be valid and it is held further that the local municipal court has jurisdiction to try and determine all criminal cases arising in the city of Minneapolis providing the punishment does not exceed a fine of $100 or ninety days' imprisonment.

The decision is an important one, as the case is a test of the present practice in the municipal court. Arguments were presented to the supreme court by A. C. Finney for the city, and A. B. Jackson and E. S. Cary for the defendant, who is backed by the Retail Liquor Dealers' association.

The decision upholding the trial without a jury was expected, as the point has been raised and so decided by the Minnesota supreme court, but the real test will come when the case is carried to the United States supreme court.

The defendant's counsel contend that plainly under the constitution every citizen charged with crime, however trivial, is entitled to a trial by a jury of his peers. They feel so sure of their position that they are willing to risk their time and reputations in an appeal to the court of last resort.

The syllabi of other supreme court decisions will be found on page 4.

Juries are not necessary in the trial of minor criminal cases according to a decision handed down by the supreme court today in the case of the state against Val Marcinik, convicted in the municipal court of keeping a saloon open on Sunday. The lower court is affirmed and the defendant denied a new trial. Defendant will appeal to the United States supreme court.

The ordinance under which the defendant was convicted is held to be valid and it is held further that the local municipal court has jurisdiction to try and determine all criminal cases arising in the city of Minneapolis providing the punishment does not exceed a fine of $100 or ninety days' imprisonment.

The decision is an important one, as the case is a test of the present practice in the municipal court. Arguments were presented to the supreme court by A. C. Finney for the city, and A. B. Jackson and E. S. Cary for the defendant, who is backed by the Retail Liquor Dealers' association.

The decision upholding the trial without a jury was expected, as the point has been raised and so decided by the Minnesota supreme court, but the real test will come when the case is carried to the United States supreme court.

The defendant's counsel contend that plainly under the constitution every citizen charged with crime, however trivial, is entitled to a trial by a jury of his peers. They feel so sure of their position that they are willing to risk their time and reputations in an appeal to the court of last resort.

The syllabi of other supreme court decisions will be found on page 4.

Juries are not necessary in the trial of minor criminal cases according to a decision handed down by the supreme court today in the case of the state against Val Marcinik, convicted in the municipal court of keeping a saloon open on Sunday. The lower court is affirmed and the defendant denied a new trial. Defendant will appeal to the United States supreme court.

The ordinance under which the defendant was convicted is held to be valid and it is held further that the local municipal court has jurisdiction to try and determine all criminal cases arising in the city of Minneapolis providing the punishment does not exceed a fine of $100 or ninety days' imprisonment.

The decision is an important one, as the case is a test of the present practice in the municipal court. Arguments were presented to the supreme court by A. C. Finney for the city, and A. B. Jackson and E. S. Cary for the defendant, who is backed by the Retail Liquor Dealers' association.

The decision upholding the trial without a jury was expected, as the point has been raised and so decided by the Minnesota supreme court, but the real test will come when the case is carried to the United States supreme court.

The defendant's counsel contend that plainly under the constitution every citizen charged with crime, however trivial, is entitled to a trial by a jury of his peers. They feel so sure of their position that they are willing to risk their time and reputations in an appeal to the court of last resort.

The syllabi of other supreme court decisions will be found on page 4.

Juries are not necessary in the trial of minor criminal cases according to a decision handed down by the supreme court today in the case of the state against Val Marcinik, convicted in the municipal court of keeping a saloon open on Sunday. The lower court is affirmed and the defendant denied a new trial. Defendant will appeal to the United States supreme court.

The ordinance under which the defendant was convicted is held to be valid and it is held further that the local municipal court has jurisdiction to try and determine all criminal cases arising in the city of Minneapolis providing the punishment does not exceed a fine of $100 or ninety days' imprisonment.

The decision is an important one, as the case is a test of the present practice in the municipal court. Arguments were presented to the supreme court by A. C. Finney for the city, and A. B. Jackson and E. S. Cary for the defendant, who is backed by the Retail Liquor Dealers' association.

The decision upholding the trial without a jury was expected, as the point has been raised and so decided by the Minnesota supreme court, but the real test will come when the case is carried to the United States supreme court.

The defendant's counsel contend that plainly under the constitution every citizen charged with crime, however trivial, is entitled to a trial by a jury of his peers. They feel so sure of their position that they are willing to risk their time and reputations in an appeal to the court of last resort.

The syllabi of other supreme court decisions will be found on page 4.

Juries are not necessary in the trial of minor criminal cases according to a decision handed down by the supreme court today in the case of the state against Val Marcinik, convicted in the municipal court of keeping a saloon open on Sunday. The lower court is affirmed and the defendant denied a new trial. Defendant will appeal to the United States supreme court.

The ordinance under which the defendant was convicted is held to be valid and it is held further that the local municipal court has jurisdiction to try and determine all criminal cases arising in the city of Minneapolis providing the punishment does not exceed a fine of $100 or ninety days' imprisonment.

The decision is an important one, as the case is a test of the present practice in the municipal court. Arguments were presented to the supreme court by A. C. Finney for the city, and A. B. Jackson and E. S. Cary for the defendant, who is backed by the Retail Liquor Dealers' association.

The decision upholding the trial without a jury was expected, as the point has been raised and so decided by the Minnesota supreme court, but the real test will come when the case is carried to the United States supreme court.

The defendant's counsel contend that plainly under the constitution every citizen charged with crime, however trivial, is entitled to a trial by a jury of his peers. They feel so sure of their position that they are willing to risk their time and reputations in an appeal to the court of last resort.

The syllabi of other supreme court decisions will be found on page 4.

Juries are not necessary in the trial of minor criminal cases according to a decision handed down by the supreme court today in the case of the state against Val Marcinik, convicted in the municipal court of keeping a saloon open on Sunday. The lower court is affirmed and the defendant denied a new trial. Defendant will appeal to the United States supreme court.

The ordinance under which the defendant was convicted is held to be valid and it is held further that the local municipal court has jurisdiction to try and determine all criminal cases arising in the city of Minneapolis providing the punishment does not exceed a fine of $100 or ninety days' imprisonment.

The decision is an important one, as the case is a test of the present practice in the municipal court. Arguments were presented to the supreme court by A. C. Finney for the city, and A. B. Jackson and E. S. Cary for the defendant, who is backed by the Retail Liquor Dealers' association.

SHARESHER WAGES WITH UNCLE'S BABE

Factory Operative Earning $5 a Week Spends Half to Support 2-Year-Old Child Left with Her by Relative—Bravely Refuses Offers of Assistance.