AIR LINE SURE TO CANADIAN BORDER

MINNEAPOLIS TO BENEFIT VASTLY FROM NEW RAILROAD.
Assurance Is Given that the Itasca Lumber Company Line Is to Be Extended North to International Falls and South from Deer River to Twin Cities.

As soon as it has developed to a point where its trade is worth while, the Minneapolis and International Falls will be traversed by a railroad giving nearly an airline outlet to the twin cities. This is the conclusion drawn in part from statements made today by H. C. Akley, vice president of the Itasca Lumber company.

The Great Northern, building northward from Milaca Junction, around Mila Lac, to Deer River, is due eventually to take over the Itasca Lumber company's road, partly built and surveyed from Deer River almost to International Falls, thus completing the line thru the twin cities.

It is possible that the line in Kanabec county, may be chosen as the point from which to extend the Great Northern, but the Milaca Junction extension appears the most feasible and probable, as the distance is shorter and the line surveys have been made and the territory that would be tapped is developing and in need of a road. In either event, a vast new field would be opened to twin city jobbers.

Line Will Be Built.
That the line will be built is absolutely certain; only the date of completion is in doubt, and this depends upon the development of the territory. The Great Northern has made no announcement, but its attitude is clearly indicated by the fact that it is apparently making no effort to enter International Falls, which is bound to be taken over by the Itasca Lumber company, from Deer River to Turtle Lake. Already it has been substantially strung across Turtle, Shoal and Bella lakes.

Twenty-Mile Extension.
This year the extension of twenty miles to the Big Fork river will be built. It was to have been constructed last year, but was held back by the wet season. Surveying was completed and the road they have traversed to a point near International Falls, it cannot be established that they have entered that city. However, it is the intention to survey a line to the Big Fork river. This is significant.

Unlike other log roads, the Itasca road has not been allowed to deteriorate. From a narrow-gauge line, which heretofore has proved adequate for logging traffic, it has been widened to the standard gauge. This is significant.

Another potent argument is the fact that the territory thru which the surveys have been pushed is level. There are no grades, and a more nearly ideal right of way could scarcely be found. The line already built is as level as a floor.

Thru the region that the closing link from Milaca Junction would have to be built, conditions almost as promising as those in the logging work have been reported. This is significant.

Whether it is better to enjoy an income of $10,000 a year and live in an antedotal agreement, or to enjoy an income of the same amount left him by his dead wife's will, is the all-important question which Dr. E. Appleby of St. Paul wishes the courts to settle.

The difference to him is that, if he gets the money under the terms of the antedotal agreement, it will be a lien against the income of the whole estate, whereas if it is paid him under the terms of the will, it will be the income from securities sufficient, in the judgment of the trustees of the estate, to yield that amount, and set aside by them for that purpose. In the first case, the widower is sure of his $10,000 every year, while in the second he is ever annoyed by a fear that the securities may depreciate in value.

Dr. Appleby's anxiety are now contending in an action before Judge Hallam of the Ramsey county district court, appealing from an order of the probate court, that the will of the late Corneilia Day Wier Appleby be set aside and the antedotal agreement, and affects Dr. Appleby's income from his dead wife's estate in the manner above noted.

The appellant would rather enjoy his money under the terms of the antedotal agreement than under the provisions of the will. Incidentally, if the will is found vulnerable, the daughter's share in the "Amburst H. Wier charity" will suffer to that extent.

NEED HIGHER RATING

Railroads More Stringent on Bonds for St. Paul Men.
The complaint of the St. Paul commission merchants, which will be heard Friday, is that the railroad commission has given a bond to cover freight charges on produce reconsigned, unless they can show a commercial rating of $50,000. This is declared to be a discrimination, as Minneapolis commission men need no such rating. The railroad claim that they have adopted the high limit to prevent repetition of sharp practice by some of the commission men.

WILL START CAMPAIGN EXCELSIOR "DRYS"

Prohibitionists to Nominate State Ticket Here March 7 and 8.
The call has been issued for the state convention of the prohibition party, which will be held in the Minneapolis auditorium, March 7 and 8. The call is signed by George W. Higgins, chairman, and W. G. Alderwood, secretary. It gives two delegates to each legislative district, and one additional for every twenty votes or major fraction thereof cast for C. W. Dorsett for the governor in 1904. A equal number of alternates will be admitted.

The convention will be largely a rally. The main effort of the prohibitionists this year will be to elect representatives in the legislature. A state ticket will be placed in nomination, however. Among the suggested candidates for governor are Clarence Wedge of Albert Lea, Professor O. L. Lokenburg of Madison, Dr. A. T. Conley of Cannon Falls, T. J. Anderson of Belgrade, D. W. Doty of St. Paul, and C. W. Dorsett of Minneapolis.

Next Tuesday evening a big rally is to be held. Invitations have been issued to the friendly lake residents who usually to the summer shores from Minnesota Beach to Deephaven and do their trading in Excelsior. To be present, Mayor Jones is to be the speaker of the evening. The street railway company, which has a large interest in the future completion of the village on the site of its Big Island park, has offered a special car to convey the visitors from the city. The car will leave Minneapolis at 5 p. m., arriving in Excelsior shortly before 6. The organization will tender a complimentary dinner at the Sampson house, to be followed by a parade to the meeting place. A band will be a feature of the parade, and there will be torches, transparencies and other emblems appropriate to the occasion.

The auxiliary campaign among the summer residents who live about the lake and do their trading in the village of Excelsior, has been circulating among the owners and occupants of the surrounding shore property and has been signed by 125 "dry" allies, most of them prominent Minneapolis business men. The petition calls attention to the importance of the local issue now before the voters of the village and the evil effects that might be expected to follow the establishment of saloons in the town, especially in the village of Excelsior.

The "dry" campaign will be active all the time, and if it fails it will not be because of lack of hard, practical work. There are about 275 voters in the village, all of whom have been checked over and are pretty definitely placed. Each voter's antecedents and affiliations as well as his past record has been cataloged, and where he has refused to declare his principles, will be the subject of special work and business pressure.

EDDY IS WORLD-FAMOUS

Greatest Organist of the Age Comes to Auditorium.
Clarence Eddy will be the next attraction in Minneapolis of the "All Star Society." His organ recital will be given in the Auditorium next Monday evening, and the seat sale will commence tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock at the Metropolitan Music store.

Mr. Eddy is one of the most interesting musicians before the public today. While American born and bred, he is, in fact, the property of the entire world. He is a thoroughly cosmopolitan in his attainments and is as much at home in the salons of Paris as in the drawing rooms of England, the parlors of America, or the homes of Germany. Indeed, the catholicity of his art is everywhere recognized.

One of the most complimentary things which has happened to Mr. Eddy has been the successive selection of this splendid organist by the management of the various world exhibitions during the last thirty years, to represent the best of American genius in the way of organ music. At Vienna, Paris, Philadelphia, Buffalo, St. Louis and Chicago, he has been a selection of the best American organist of his time, and he has been the choice of the public everywhere.

It is difficult to characterize Mr. Eddy's playing in moderation. The critics everywhere have been lavish in their praise. Wherever he has been heard, his manner of playing has been regarded as astonishing and well nigh perfect. He is always the complete master of his instrument, while he has a bold and resolute style and a keen sense of rhythm that make for wonderful brilliancy of performance. It is fortunate that he has such a splendid instrument as the new Auditorium organ on which to display his qualities.

Mr. Eddy will be assisted in his recital by the late W. H. Winterspoon of New York, one of the most brilliant singers before the public today. His voice is wonderful in range and power, and is of a fine basso cantante quality, which, strangely enough, is combined with strong dramatic instincts.

PUTTING UP A BRASS BAND, TORCHLIGHT CAMPAIGN.
Big Rally Next Tuesday Evening Will Introduce All the Conventional Campaign Faraphernalia—Special Care to Carry Speakers from the City, and Other Meetings Will Follow.

All the traditions of dry campaigns are being put to rest as far as methods are concerned by the Excelsior "drys" in their present campaign to keep the saloons out of the village. As a general political rule, it is the "wets" who make all the noise and have the bands, but in Excelsior the "drys" appear to have a corner on the pyrotechnics.

The Lincoln school building on Washington avenue N was sold to a wrecking company for $615. It was built in 1867 and was by many years the oldest school building in the city.
