PRODIGALS RETURN

Three Boys Glad to Get Home After Strenuous Journey.

The "fatted calf" is being prepared in three Minneapolis families, but when the three prodigals return they will not be entirely empty-handed as they have won the honor of establishing a new record for a stolen trip across the continent.

From Minneapolis to Spokane via the red and blue baggage routes in forty-eight hours is the mark set by the Minneapolis youths who are now in the care of the police and are to be returned to their homes soon.

The three boys are Godfrey Ferrell, 18 years and Neil Shilson, 15, both living at 2329 Tenth avenue S, and Robert Morrison, 16, living in the same neighborhood. The boys left home provided with little worldly wealth but rich in confidence and visions of the golden west and its possibilities. They made good for a thru trip on the overland, but Spokane received them coldly, and when they finally ran out of resources they were glad to get food and shelter from the authorities.

EXPLAINS THEOSOPHY

Miss Alice Bolting Answers Questions Regarding Out.

Miss Alice Bolting, representative of the Universal Brotherhood and Theosophical society, who has been dealing with the subject of "Questions and Answers, from the Key to Theosophy," last evening, made some plain statements.

Only ignorant people, she said, refer to theosophy as a religion. Theosophy is as old as the world in its teachings and ethics, if not in name. To the question, How comes it, then, that theosophy has remained so unknown to the majority of the western hemisphere? Why should it have been a sealed book to races confessedly the most cultured and advanced? she gave this answer: We believe there were nations as cultured in days of old, and certainly more spiritually "advanced" than we are. There are several reasons for this ignorance. The strongest lies in the fact that real theosophy has never been kept secret. What is needed is to impress men with the idea that, if the root of mankind is one, then there must also be one truth which finds expression in all the various religions.

SCORES CARD PLAYERS

Evangelist Prefers Gambler to Man Who Plays for Fun.

Tom Mackey, evangelist, addressed a large gathering of men Sunday afternoon at Bethlehem Presbyterian church, his subject being "A Message to Men."

In his address he took a strong stand against card playing. "I have more respect," he said, "for the man who goes down town and opens a gambling joint for which I have no respect, than for the man who brings a deck of cards into the house where it is the means of ruining his children."

He spoke of the difficulties of the work of an evangelist. He divided those hardest to reach into two classes, those who "know it all," and those who do not know anything. Mr. Mackey touched briefly on the reform movement in Minneapolis, commending it.

JUDGING CONTEST ON

Farm School Students Tell Points of Fine Stock.

The judging contests between members of the senior and junior classes at the state farm school were started at 8 o'clock this morning. It is expected that the boys will be hard at it until late this evening and the prize winners will not be known until tomorrow.

Great interest has been shown in the contest, and every scrap of information bearing on the work has been utilized. The prizes range from a $200 silver cup, offered by a prominent firm of horse importers, to fine bred sheep and swine. Many fine specimens of thoroughbred stock will be inspected by the contestants.

CAROUSING "GOOPS" CITY TO PROTECT FROM VISITORS

FIRE FROM FORCE

TWO CONVIVIAL GUARDIANS OF THE PEACE DISCHARGED

The Mayor and Chief of Police Unite in a Statement of the Facts Which Led to the Men's Dismissal—A Third Man Suspended for Thirty Days.

Police Officers Lyman J. Neary and John S. Kinnam have been discharged from the service as a result of the disclosures made in connection with a report kept by Mrs. Theresa Thompson, at 120 Central avenue, Officer John Kerr has been suspended for thirty days in connection with the same case. Mayor David P. Jones and Superintendent James G. Doyle, after making a careful investigation, join in the following statement of the affair:

"Corroborated evidence brought before us on the charges against Patrolmen J. Neary, John Kinnam and John Kerr of the second precinct to the effect that they frequented a disorderly house while on duty and failed to report the existence of the same to their superior officers, establishes these facts:

"Officers Neary and Kinnam have been proven guilty of frequenting a resort known as the 'Crown' to be a disorderly house leaving their beats at different hours of the night and taking part in so-called beer parties in the place in question. By their own admissions they were in the place on the occasion of a mock marriage ceremony between the keeper of the place and one of the male visitors, and by the evidence of other participants in the affair they took part in the beer drinking and general carousal which followed, although supposed to be on duty. While there was no direct testimony that the officers induced women to visit this place, it is proven that they often met there well-known characters of the East Side, both male and female, and bought and drank beer with them. Officers Neary and Kinnam were also found guilty of conduct unbecoming officers and prejudicial to good discipline, and have been dismissed from the force.

"As to Officer Kerr, the evidence showed that he had left his beat several blocks distant, and without the excuse of being called there as an officer, visited the place in question on the occasion of the mock wedding referred to, and took part in the festivities. He is, therefore, suspended without pay for the period of thirty days from this date.

"Like derelictions in duty on the part of any officer of the department will result in severe punishment as promptly as the facts can be ascertained."

NO PENALTY FOR THE CORPORATIONS

DELAY IN PAYING TAXES IS MADE PROFITABLE.

Defect in Laws Which Next Legislature Will Be Asked to Remedy—Great Western Late Again—Western Union Still Contesting with Supreme Court Decision Against It.

Railroads, telegraph companies and other corporations paying taxes under special laws are not assessed any penalty for failure to pay their taxes when due. Private citizens suffer a 10 per cent penalty when they become delinquent, but state officers can find nothing in the law to authorize collecting either penalty or interest from the corporations. This defect will be called to the attention of the next legislature. The Western Union tied up its taxes for 1899 and 1900 for five years by a legal contest. The supreme court compelled the company to pay on one million dollar basis. Still the company has refused to pay taxes on that valuation for 1901, 1902, 1903 and 1904. It has paid on a lower valuation, but the state has not been able to collect the balance due, and about fifty thousand dollars is involved. The 1905 tax is now overdue and the state will have to sue to collect it. The company can defer payment for years by appeal and retain the use of its money, but the supreme court's ruling already made makes the outcome certain.

The Great Western is in default on all of its taxes. Railroad rates are established in law and become delinquent March 1. Last year the Great Western held back payment till April 26. This year the road will contest the 4 per cent tax, but the state will sue to collect it. Under the law this must be paid before the road can contest the increase. The Great Northern has paid its 3 per cent, and has refused to honor the state's draft for the other 1 per cent. It has been placed in the hands of the attorney general for action. No penalty or interest, however, can be collected.

HAS REINCORPORATED

Northwestern Fire & Marine Comes Under Minnesota Law.

The Northwestern Fire & Marine Insurance company of Minnesota has been incorporated today under the Minnesota laws, with $200,000 capital. The company was first organized in Grand Forks, N. D., but has been located in Minneapolis lately, and the reincorporation under Minnesota laws absorbs the old company, which was recently examined and in excellent shape. The incorporators and directors of the new company are Otto O. Tollefson, Charles Carothers, Charles H. Baldwin, James D. Brown and Walter A. Laird-law.

PATIENTS ORGANIZE

Theory that Misery Loves Company Given Practical Demonstration.

Minnesota guests at the Battle Creek, Mich., sanatorium met Friday and formed an organization for social and helpful purposes. Former Governor S. E. Van Sant was chosen president. Among the members are Mrs. S. B. Van Sant, Dean and Mrs. W. N. Liggett, Mrs. E. H. Day, Minneapolis; Judge David E. Calhoun of St. Cloud, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Ward of Chatham, J. H. Carlson of Hibbing, Charles Batcher of Staples, and Miss A. F. Dicks of Mountain Lake. Miss Gertrude Johnson of Minneapolis is now a physician in the sanatorium.

ENCAMPMENT WILL BE BEST OF ADVERTISING.

Low Railway Rates Expected to Attract Thousands of Young Business Men Who Are Looking for Locations—Glorious Climate and Minnesota Glad Hand to Do the Rest.

Minneapolis and the entire northwest will be in line for much lasting, practical benefit as a result of the encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic to be held in the city in August. Real estate dealers, land men and business men generally expect to see many strangers come here with the expectation of staying.

In the last few years Minneapolis, the state of Minnesota and the tributary northwestern country have made much progress in every way. Thousands of settlers from other states have brought about a marked change. New towns have sprung into existence and business of all sorts has been created and remains prosperous. The country has been well and favorably advertised and there are thousands of people who are looking this way.

Many Will Remain.

The encampment will be a drawing feature that will bring many of these prospective home-seekers, settlers and business men to the northwest. The railroads are offering a rate for a round trip that is but two-thirds of the regular one-way fare. Hundreds who plan a move will come feeling that they are getting a moderate cost and pleasure by seeing Minneapolis during encampment week and can spend the balance of the time limit of their transportation in looking over the territory. They do not decide to stay they will have a fair idea of the benefits of the G. A. R. rates as well as other opportunities to their liking and remained. Their return tickets were never called for from the validating offices and Denver and the state of Colorado were the beneficiaries of the money. Thousands will stay. Denver had this feature of the encampment in mind last year and found that the course of reasoning was not far wrong. Over twelve thousand visitors who came on the G. A. R. rates as well as other opportunities to their liking and remained. Their return tickets were never called for from the validating offices and Denver and the state of Colorado were the beneficiaries of the money.

The subscriptions continue to come in but the committee is planning a second attack to secure greater promptness. A generous subscription came in today from a man who has an office here. It was accompanied by a letter in which the donor announced that he was only too glad of the opportunity to subscribe. Attention was called to the method of raising funds. Committees of business men took their time and canvassed the city in person until the necessary money was raised.

This is a plan which the Minneapolis committee does not wish to adopt. It not only requires a great amount of valuable time from the men on the soliciting committees, but much time is also lost to those visited. It is the plan of the local committee to present its case forcibly yet in a way that will not take the time of others. For this purpose the leaders of the financial and business circles of the city are on the committee and their request by letter are worthy of consideration by any business house or individual in the city. Subscriptions amounting to about twenty thousand dollars have been received.

LARGE DISTRIBUTION FROM SCHOOL FUND

The March apportionment of the current school fund, just certified today by the state superintendent, is the largest in the history of the school fund ever made. The $75,284 pupils entitled to share in it are given $1.70 each, making $637,991.80 distributed to school districts.

Last year $547,635 was sent out to 365,000 pupils, on a basis of $1.50 each. Hennepin county gets $77,110.30 on a return of 45,339 pupils. Last year the state has not been able to collect the balance due, and about fifty thousand dollars is involved. The 1905 tax is now overdue and the state will have to sue to collect it. The company can defer payment for years by appeal and retain the use of its money, but the supreme court's ruling already made makes the outcome certain.

RAILROADS

NEW HOOSIER LINE

Road from Chicago to Evansville is $25,000,000 Project.

William Kennebeck of Kansas City heads a company to build a railroad line thru the rich coal, stone and oil fields of Indiana. The new line will be built from Chicago to Evansville, touching Indianapolis, with branches from Crown Point to Tolleston, Logansport and South Bend, Boonville to Owsboro, Ky. The line will be ready for traffic. Some counties show a decreased school attendance. Winona, for instance, reported only 6,317 this year, against 6,716 last year.

OLD FRIENDSHIP BACK OF GIFT TO COLLEGE

Bethany college, an educational institution at Lindsay, Kan., with over 600 students, has fulfilled the conditions of an offer of a $100,000 donation made two years ago by C. A. Smith, the Minneapolis lumberman. Mr. Smith made the offer with the understanding that the college must raise a like amount. This institution has done.

Mr. Smith's donation is in the form of 10,000 acres of fine timber land in the northwestern part of the state, worth $100,000, but now is probably still more valuable on account of the increased price of timber. Mr. Smith is ready to let the school have the value of the timber in cash, in whole or in part, at any time the college desires it.

Mr. Smith's interest in a small college, away down in Kansas, is due to his personal friendship for the late Dr. Carl Swenson, who up to the time of his death two years ago, was president of the institution. To Dr. Swenson is due the building up of the institution to its present high scholarship and good standing. It was the ambition of his life to make the institution a great school. Mr. Smith aided in carrying out the wishes of his departed friend by offering the school the princely donation of $100,000 provided an equal $100,000 was raised, as has now been done.

It is likely the $200,000 the institution has secured will simply be kept in safe investments and the interest therefrom used for the maintenance of the college.

C. A. Smith is now in the west on the Pacific coast, but has arranged that should Bethany college desire his donation during his absence, it may be had at any time.

RAILROAD YIELDS

Better station facilities at Isinours, the junction of the Preston-Caledonia line with the southern Minnesota division of the Milwaukee, were promised by officials of the road today, at a hearing before the railroad commission. The traveling men who complained were represented by W. B. Clarkson, W. G. Rogers and others, but there was no controversy. It was explained that the present station was built by the old stage line to Preston for its accommodation, and the need for an improvement was admitted by the road.

ANOTHER WHACK FOR FOOTBALL

ANGELL OF MICHIGAN SUMMONS CONFERENCE DELEGATES.

Meeting Called for 10 O'Clock Friday at the Chicago Beach Hotel—Head of Michigan Looks for a Harmonious Settlement of the Differences Now Existing.

Another conference relative to "what shall be done with football" will be held at the Chicago Beach Hotel Friday, the solons having been called to convene for their deliberations at 10 o'clock on that day. The call is issued by President Angell of Michigan, at whose instigation the first convention of football radicals was held.

President Northrop of Minnesota received a letter from the head of the Michigan institution this morning asking that the gopher representative attend the meeting. President Angell writes that the adopted ideas of reform have been so warmly received through the big nine that he hopes the question of football reform can be settled at the meeting of Friday and that there will be no discussion of disturbing factors in the meeting. His own institution has rejected the professional-coach idea and Indiana has balked at some of the extreme views set down in the manifesto issued after the January academic convocation at Chicago.

Dean F. S. Jones will act as Minnesota's representative at the meeting and it is presumed in varsity circles that he will perhaps warmly received through the big nine that he hopes the question of football reform can be settled at the meeting of Friday and that there will be no discussion of disturbing factors in the meeting. His own institution has rejected the professional-coach idea and Indiana has balked at some of the extreme views set down in the manifesto issued after the January academic convocation at Chicago.

PARKS NEED A NURSERY

HEAD GARDENER OF LINCOLN PARK, CHICAGO, TALKS OF MINNEAPOLIS' PRETTY BREATHING SPOTS.

Alois Frey, head gardener at Lincoln park, Chicago, is in the city for a few days to confer with his old friend Theodore Wirth, superintendent of parks, about a park nursery and greenhouse. He spent the last two days in visiting the Minneapolis parks and while the inspections have naturally been somewhat hurried he has obtained a fair idea of the system. Like all parkmen he is enthusiastic over the advantages nature has so bountifully provided for this city.

"One could hardly ask for more variety of scene than is obtained here," said Mr. Frey. "Everything is to be found here, lake, river and brook, meadow, woods and banks in almost endless variety. Take Lincoln park in Chicago, where the 300 acres under the park management is almost dead level, a great deal of work must be done to make it beautiful. To obtain additional area we can't go out and secure a pretty valley ready endowed with beauty by nature, but must make our land and then beautify it. The board is about to add 100 acres to Lincoln park by driving piles out in the lake filling in to the shore and in this way make the land. Then it must be planted and improved in order to make it attractive."

Minneapolis has made a splendid beginning. There is a great deal of work to be done, but I am confident that Mr. Wirth can accomplish it to the satisfaction of the people. He is a hard worker, is well schooled, and above all, is heart and soul in his work. I was associated with Mr. Wirth in Hartford, where he made such a fine record and think I know him.

"One of the first things to be done, in my opinion, is to establish a nursery on a comparatively large scale. It is not only more economical than to buy the plants and shrubs, but more desirable for while a park nursery the superintendent can get just what he wants, which is not always possible when he has to rely on the market."

BANNER IS HERE

Minnesota Now Has Four—Inspectors Discuss Code.

E. K. Slater, state dairy and food commissioner, marched proudly to the governor's reception room today, and hung his banner on the outer wall. The banner was the one recently awarded to Minnesota at the buttermakers' convention in Chicago. It arrived today, and will have a permanent position in the dairy and food office, with the other three banners won in former years. The pattern is similar to the previous ones, being rich in gold braid and tassels, with the inscription, "Minnesota, Highest Average Score, 1906."

Inspectors in the dairy and food service gathered at the capital today and held a long conference with Commissioner Slater. The changes made in the food laws by the revised code, and the way in which these changes will be enforced, were discussed in detail.
