After some delay in organization the Retail Liquor Dealers' Benevolent society has fairly started on its work, and its mite boxes are now conspicuously displayed on the bars of the association members. The practical work is in the hands of the ladies, who are greatly interested in the work.

Minnesota continues to show rapid and substantial gains in freight receipts and shipments, according to the statistics compiled each month by the public affairs committee of the Commercial club. The total receipts for February were 22,835 cars and the shipments 24,216 cars.

Scores of property owners appeared before the council committee on waterworks yesterday afternoon to inform the aldermen on where to extend the watermain system. Petitions for new mains already on file call for 41,772 feet of watermain, which will cost approximately $73,000. As the waterworks department is in excellent financial condition, it is likely that all the petitions will be granted.

CLOUDS ROLL AWAY

Financial Troubles of Seversons Bring Friends to Their Relief.

Friends, who learned of their financial embarrassment through The Journal, have come to the aid of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Severson. One friend paid their rent a month in advance and another contributed a check for $48 in addition to this Mr. Severson has succeeded in finding work which will not aggravate the heart weakness which prevents his following his profession as nurse.

Mrs. Severson, who broke down after supporting herself and her invalid husband for four years by doing housecleaning and similar work, is doing nicely in the hospital, where she was placed by Ensign Miller of the Salvation Army's relief department. With these changes in their circumstances the Seversons feel that the clouds which overshadow their home will soon roll by, and are convinced that there is plenty of kindness in the world after all.

FAMOUS SCOT COMING

DR. JOHN ROBERTSON OF GLASGOW TO CONDUCT BIBLE CONFERENCE WORK HERE.

Dr. John Robertson of Glasgow, Scotland has been engaged by the northwestern Bible training school to come to the twin cities for a month of evangelistic and Bible conference work. He will arrive here next Saturday, and will preach on Sunday, March 11, in the Central Presbyterian church, St. Paul. Monday he will begin special work with the First Baptist and Hennepin Avenue Methodist churches. He will preach daily at 3 p. m. from Monday until Friday, in the Hennepin Avenue Methodist church, and in the evening at 7:45, of the same dates, in the First Baptist church.

Dr. Robertson is a man of world-wide reputation. He is the author of several books, is recognized in Scotland as one of their great preachers, having presided for long time over a school having something like three thousand members. He is widely known in America as well. He has often appeared in the Moody conference at Northfield, and for many years has been a member of the great Winona conference, of Indiana, directed by Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman. In the recent campaign in which he was associated with Dr. Chapman as one of his principal speakers.

About eight years ago, in connection with the work of the northwestern Bible conference he was brought to this city and spoke at the houses of the Hope Presbyterian church, St. Paul, has engaged his services for March 18, and on Sunday, March 25, will appear at the First Baptist pulpit again. At least two other meetings will be held in the city while he is here, one in the northern part of the city and one in the south.

In preparation for the coming of Dr. Robertson, Dr. Riley begins special meetings at the First Baptist church on tomorrow, Thursday evening, and will preach Thursday and Friday nights.

PIONEER SCOUT IS SUMMONED BY DEATH

William L. Quinn, pioneer trader, interpreter and scout, died Monday at his home, 528 Orleans street, St. Paul, aged 77.

Born Nov. 14, 1828, in Fort Snelling, Mr. Quinn's entire life has been in the state, and his prominence during the turbulent days of the Indian massacres, he gained a statewide reputation.

The son of Peter Quinn, a fiery Irishman and a half-breed Cree woman, William Quinn inherited bravery, endurance and honesty. His father was killed by Indians and his mother pined away as a result of his loss. Later, while William Quinn was in St. Paul, his little trading store at Yellow Medicine was plundered by Indians, his clerk killed and his wife, who had been Angellee Jeffries, a daughter of a fur trader, taken by the Sioux.

This determined Quinn's entrance into Sibley's corps of Indian fighters, and he was a valiant soldier, courier and scout, risking his life scores of times in his faithful performance of dangerous duties.

Until 1875 Quinn was "in the service," setting in St. Paul in that year. His mastery of four languages made him a valuable man, and he was aided by his wife and three children, William L. Quinn of Sisseton, S. D., Mary A. Quinn and Jennie Quinn of St. Paul. The funeral will take place Thursday at 9 a. m. from St. Michael's church, interment at Mendota.

WORK FOR NEW HALL

Twelfth Ward Republican Name Committee to Solicit Funds.

An enthusiastic determination to own a hall of their own for use in the coming campaign was the key note of a well-attended meeting of the Twelfth Ward Republican club held in Adams' hall, Minnehaha and Lake street, last evening. The Twelfth Ward Republican hall association was incorporated two years ago and has since that time been working for the purchase of a hall, and has about $1,700 worth of lumber. The plan now is to secure additional funds and to begin work on the new hall for republicanism as soon as spring opens.

Last evening a committee of five, consisting of Judge A. M. Harrison, Dr. F. M. Hayes, J. E. Kidder, A. E. Adams, and W. E. Harrison, was appointed to secure additional funds. They will act in conjunction with the financial committee of the Republican hall association.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, N. C. Radebaugh; first vice president, O. O. Over; second vice president, Peter Christensen; third vice president, Milton Ramsey; fourth vice president, Dr. F. E. Hayes; fifth vice president, A. K. Larsen; treasurer, J. E. Kidder. In nominating the vice presidents, one from each precinct was selected.

CAPITOL FUNDS SHORT

Commission Obligated to Refuse Request of Third Minnesota.

Third Minnesota survivors sent a committee to the state capitol commission yesterday, asking for payment of the regiment represented in some historical painting at the statehouse. The committee consisted of E. T. Champlin, Vernon Center, General C. O. Andrews of St. Paul, Major W. D. Hall and Major J. M. Bowler of Minneapolis and A. C. Wedge of Owatonna. They were informed that there is not money left to provide for such an addition to the capitol's art treasures. Of the $4,500,000 appropriated there is about $40,000 left, and $30,000 of this will be needed to pay for work now in progress. The balance of $1,000 will be needed for the steps on the north side and the walks from Wabasha street.

HEADS ST. PAUL CLUB

Phil W. Herzog was elected president of the St. Paul Commercial club yesterday to succeed Luis G. Hoffman, who resigned to become a candidate for the republican mayoral nomination. Mr. Herzog has been an active worker in the club and a strong St. Paul booster for the seven years he has been in the village down river. He has served on various important committees and on the board of directors. J. W. Cooper was chosen a member of the board of directors to succeed Mr. Herzog.

Savings Bank for North Side.

The German-American bank, Plymouth and Washington avenues N, has followed the precedent established by some of the downtown banks and March 1 installed an interest-bearing or savings department for the convenience of its depositors. Passbooks will be issued to each depositor, the deposits drawing interest from each quarter. This new feature will be of material advantage to Northsiders, as they will now be afforded every opportunity the could get downtown.

BAD SCHOOL BOYS TO BE DISCUSSED

MANAGEMENT OF DELINQUENT CHILDREN A SERIOUS PROBLEM.

Teachers' Club Calls Meeting of Educators, Settlement Workers and City Officials to Take Up Advanced Theories in Reaching and Training Offspring of Negligent Parents.

Bad boys will be the subject of discussion at a meeting of city and county officials and civic and charitable organizations, to be held under the auspices of the Teachers' club in the board of education rooms Saturday morning.

According to the juvenile court committee of the Teachers' club, the problem of the bad boy in the public schools has become a serious one, and more efficient machinery is needed to bring him back into the paths of virtue and make him into a useful citizen. One of the most serious features of the problem is the indifference or actual lack of courage of a certain class of parents.

The feasibility of establishing a "farm home" for unruly and delinquent boys will come up for discussion at this meeting. The idea of these homes is to provide a place, supported by the city, where boys who are unruly or are handicapped by vicious parents, can be given a wholesome life of outdoor work and recreation combined with discipline and instruction. Such homes have been found successful in the east, where they have been tried extensively. Such a home would receive boys from Minneapolis only and would not be a state institution.

Industrial schools for boys who cannot profit from the regular course of school instruction will also be urged. It will be recommended that boys regarded as necessary, but their establishment has been continually deferred. The promoters of this meeting hope to secure their immediate establishment.

Penalty for Parents.

For dealing with parents who contribute to the delinquency of the child an engagement of the juvenile court law will be recommended. In Denver a law imposing a fine of $100 upon the parents of chronic truants has developed a remarkable increase of authority among parents before its passage, and they declared they could do nothing with their children.

Scholarships for the children of poor parents who might otherwise be obliged to leave school at an early age to contribute to the support of the family will be proposed as a solution of the poverty side of the attendance question. Under this scholarship system the child would be given a certain amount of money to be used for his education. The conditions attached to this are, that the child maintain a certain standard of scholarship; that the family is in actual need of his earnings; that the parents maintain a clean and respectable home.

Representative Meeting.

The meeting which has been called to discuss these propositions will include representatives of all the organizations, both public and private, which were interested in the passage of the juvenile court law or have been employed in its enforcement. Among the organizations invited to this conference by the Teachers' club are: The board of education, the Commercial club, the Home society, the Associated Charities, the Salvation Army, the Improvement league, the district and municipal judges, Superintendent Charles M. Jordan, the city schools, the probation officers and the teachers in the truant school.

Arrangements for this meeting, which will be held at the board of education rooms at 11 a. m. Saturday, are under the direction of Miss Hull, chairman of the juvenile court committee of the Teachers' club.

LABOR LAW ORDERS

State Bureau Corrected Many Violations During 1905.

The state labor bureau issued a number of orders to employers during 1905, according to the annual report. There were 206 orders directing the safeguarding of machinery, stairways and hoistways; 77 orders requiring the covering or removal of exposed collar set-screws on shafting; 56 orders for better sanitary conditions in workrooms and bakeries; 23 for observance of the child labor law; 12 for removal of outside fire-escapes, and 4 called for better fire protection. Eight orders covered other features of the general factory law. Railroads were ordered to supply defective or missing switches on 167 cars. The officials had no trouble in securing compliance with these orders.

There were 840 accidents reported during the year, of which 58 were fatal, 230 serious, 524 slight, and 28 not stated.

EXCELSIOR "DRYS" RALLY

MAYOR JONES AND OTHER MINNEAPOLIS SPEAKERS ADDRESS A GREAT MEETING.

Denounced as an enemy to business and an index of depravity rather than propriety in a community, the saloon was bitterly assailed in an enthusiastic temperance campaign gathering in Excelsior last night. Mayor David Jones of Minneapolis led the charge upon the arguments of the license faction, his oratorical cannonade being supported by other Minneapolis lake dwellers, and the tremendous and frequent applause of a crowd that filled town hall, into the corridors.

That Excelsior must have saloons in order to attract a great body of traders to the city is the abiding place of the saloon was represented as the principle of the license men, and upon this question of economical conditions the batteries of the speakers were directed. By figures Mayor Jones showed that the saloon is both a direct and indirect financial loss to a community. He showed how public penal institutions were filled with persons who were sent there thru liquor and represented the great cost of maintaining these places as levied by the saloons. He declared that "blind pigging" was not an impossible feat, and urged that Excelsior's citizens "vote dry" at the polls next Tuesday.

Thirty-six Minneapolisians were taken to Excelsior last evening on a chartered car, the guests of the temperance party. The rally was the big one of the several that are to be held by the faction. Rev. J. M. Cleary of Minneapolis and W. G. Calderwood, secretary of the state and national prohibition parties, will address other rallies.

Among the other speakers last night were R. D. Cone, George P. Lyman, Stiles P. Jones and Ralph W. Wheelock. Mayor Jones was introduced by Mayor L. F. Sampson of Excelsior, a high license advocate.

The following Minneapolisians were in the party: George B. Lyman, C. A. Christensen, Andrew Henderson, John T. Garland, E. C. Pratt, F. E. McKensick, James Bladen, Charles T. Rickard, Frank R. Smith, W. A. Burnett, Purple P. P. W. Lyon, A. M. Kiehl, R. O. Cone, W. H. Lauderdale, W. M. Babcock, W. H. Sandborn, P. L. Gowen, E. S. Slater, J. B. Phelps, L. A. Lamoreux, J. B. Seaman, F. L. Oida, P. T. Moody, H. W. Freeman, David P. Jones, S. P. Jones, F. W. Powers, R. W. Wheelock, W. S. Jenkins, W. C. McWhinney, W. O. Barud, C. J. Traulier.

IDEA NOT POPULAR

Canadian Cartoonist Says Countrymen Are Against Free Trade.

Favoring reciprocal trade relations between the United States and Canada, and standing strongly for municipal ownership, J. B. Bengough, cartoonist and lecturer, will be in Minneapolis today, to give one of his cartoon entertainments in the Park Avenue Congregational church this evening.

Personally I favor free trade between Canada and your nation," said Mr. Bengough, "but that idea, I regret, does not prevail. I hope, and know that it is at least almost a majority sentiment in this city, that reciprocity treaty may be arranged. As for public ownership of utilities, we favor it almost to a man in Toronto. The city owns and conducts admirably, its water department and I believe it will take over the street railway system upon the expiration of the franchise nineteen years hence."

Canada is flourishing and municipal reform movements are cleansing its cities, according to Mr. Bengough, the much remains to be accomplished in the latter line.

BODY LAID TO REST

Many Friends Attend Funeral of Royal B. Shute.

After a short and simple service the body of Royal B. Shute, late vice president of the General Lumber company, was carried to its last resting place yesterday afternoon. The services which were attended by a large number of the friends and business associates of Mr. Shute, were held at the home, 1924 Kenwood parkway. Rev. J. S. Montgomery of Fowler Methodist church officiated.

The casket, which stood in an alcove was completely covered with floral pieces, numbering nearly 100, contributed by friends from all over the country.

In the short address which followed his eulogy, Dr. Montgomery referred to those flowers as symbolic of the cheery disposition of the deceased and of his delight in making others happy.

Short services were also held at the Lakewood receiving vault, where the body was temporarily deposited. The pallbearers, who were chosen from among Mr. Shute's business associates, were Fred Steingard, Lee H. Fletcher, Fisher Hopburn, John A. Boyroy, Louis Ireland and Hillary Murray.

Palpitation of the heart, nervousness, tremblings, nervous headache, cold hands and feet, pain in the back and other forms of weakness are relieved by Carter's Iron Pills, made especially for the blood, nerves and complexion.
