CRITICS OF CITY ON THEIR RETURN

RETURNING MINNEAPOLITANS SCORE CITY'S STREETS

Mayor Jones Himself Says He Has Seen Better Conditions in the East While on His Trip, from Which He Has Just Returned.

Returning Minneapolitans sharply criticize the appearance of the streets and alleys of Minneapolis and make invidious comparisons in favor of other cities in this respect. No less loyal a son than Mayor David P. Jones says that the condition of the streets are worse than he has seen elsewhere, and all the other pilgrims make equally strong statements.

CHILD IS BUFFETED ABOUT IN COURTS

Edith Bryant Jones Johnson, a 6-year-old girl, is again the object of the district court.

The child fell into the possession of her mother, who had been convicted of kidnapping her. The child was now being brought into court on a writ habeas corpus secured by her mother, Jennie M. Bryant, formerly Johnson, who wants Edith restored to her custody.

Evidently the son tired of her charge, and little Edith, the daughter of the district court, and Edith lived with the husband, who soon after he said to have deserted his charge, Edith fell into the hands of her grandmother, now comes the mother, who has recently married Herbert Johnson, and seeks for the second time to get her child away from its grandmother.

TEACHER IS ANNOYED BY MIXUP OF NAMES

The similarity of names has resulted in a great deal of confusion in the minds of the teachers of the public schools. A short time ago a teacher suspected of acquiring a book from the library of the board of education.

In spite of all that has been said and done, the confusion of names seems to be on the increase, and moreover, many persons are taking advantage of the freedom of access to take books away without their being charged.

Twenty-five dollars reward for information leading to the conviction of any person who marks or mutilates books in the library of the Minneapolis public library, or who takes from the building or removes any books, or who writes or publishes any notice in any newspaper or magazine belonging to either library.

DEDICATE NEW HALL

Nicollet Lodge, A. O. U. W., Ready for House-Warming.

Nicollet Lodge No. 16, A. O. U. W., will this evening dedicate its new building, at 310 Central avenue. The program will open at 8:00 a. m. by a recitation according to the ritualistic work of the order by M. C. Lift of Long Prairie, grand master workman, assisted by other grand officers.

Lyndale Substation to United Lyndale and Lake Street Offices.

A new sub-station of the postoffice, to be known as the Lyndale station, will be located at Lyndale avenue and Lake street as soon as W. Powers, who has a ten-year lease from the postoffice department, can erect a suitable building. An order from Washington to this effect was received at the postoffice today.

APRIL TERM OPENS. Supreme Court Sets 202 Cases on Calendar for Argument. Attorneys from all sections of the state thronged into the supreme court room today to attend the opening of the April term. The calendar of 202 cases was called and each case set for argument. The calendar includes the case of the state against the John-Carpenter company, which is a test of the constitutionality of the timber trespass law; also the state suit to set aside the Mabel Evans lease to the Virginia silver-ore tract, on the ground that the mineral lease law is unconstitutional and the lease fraudulently issued.

'LID' CUTS REVENUES. Government Collector's Receipts Show Decrease in March. The lid seems to be affecting the local liquor manufacturers. The internal revenue receipts for March were $1,540,30 less than for the corresponding month last year. This is the first time in eight months that the receipts have failed to show an increase over those for the preceding year.

WEST HOTEL FIRE RESULTS IN SUIT. Samuel Spiesberger Begins Action Against Wood Co. The West hotel fire of last January has resulted in a suit on one side and upon its outcome depends a large amount of future litigation. Nye & Deutsch, as attorneys for Samuel Spiesberger, have filed a suit in district court against the C. H. Wood company, owners of the Minneapolis hotel. The plaintiff asks $26,500 damages as the result of the injuries he sustained from fire and smoke.

It is alleged, in the complaint filed today, that the plaintiff was overcome by smoke and was also cruelly burned. The doctors did not expect Mr. Spiesberger to recover and it was only by the grafting of skin upon the burned surfaces of his body that he was able to live.

Ernst of the law firm of Ernst & Co. of New York city, A. D. Thompson was appointed administrator and qualified with a bond of $25,000. The estate is valued at $20,000 and all the heirs reside in Germany and Switzerland.

TROLLEY CO. LAYS LOOP

Down Town Line for Minnetonka Cars Is Under Way.

The street railway company's loop extension plan is responsible for the tearing up of First avenue N between Fifth and Seventh streets, and of Sixth street from Hennepin to First avenue N. Gangs of laborers are busy laying the new Minnetonka loops. The company already has tracks on Fifth and Seventh streets N, and by the construction of the three blocks of track now under way it will have two more down town loops. The Minnetonka cars will wait over on the new lines for their regular trips.

More delay has been caused by the Lake street bridge, which will carry the third interurban line. The bridge company making the alterations is now six months behind its contract and will need thirty days more to complete the work. The material is on the ground but the work of placing it is not being pushed. One track has been laid from Wonderland on Lake street to the river, and one line is on Marshall avenue, Marriam Park, from Prior avenue to the river. With the completion of the bridge the work of connecting the two lines will be a small matter.

OFFICERS' SCHOOL TO BE ORGANIZED

JOURNAL CADETS TO BE TAUGHT TO COMMAND.

Work of Drill Goes Merrily On and Boys Are Fast Catching Swing of Regular Soldiers—More Uniforms Here and More Boys Will Be Wearing Them Tomorrow.

MAJOR EUGENE BIBE.

TONIGHT'S DRILLS

First Regiment, Company A—Gethsemane church; Company E, Eighth Ward Republican hall; Company H, Holy Trinity church. Second Regiment, Companies E and F, Third Ward Republican hall; Company G, Bethany church. Cadets of Companies C, First regiment, and I, Second regiment, should remember their drill at the Third Ward Republican club is Thursday instead of Wednesday night this week. More uniforms are ready to be delivered to cadets who call for them at recruiting headquarters tomorrow from 2 to 4 o'clock.

There were fairly satisfactory drills last night of the cadets of Company B, First regiment, at St. Mark's church under Colonel Hawley, and of Company C, Second regiment, under Colonel Sprague, at the Eighth Ward Republican club. The two squads drilled at both places, and as good progress is being made as might be expected at these preliminary drills in the foot movements.

The appointment of officers are being made as fast as the cadets can be picked who are likely to prove efficient, and by next week there will be an officers' school, or separate drills for them, which will be of great benefit. Most of the cadets are hustling to get their uniforms, and fifty more will be equipped this week. Cadets who are entitled to uniforms should apply for them at recruiting headquarters tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

SCHOOL BOY WINS GRAND ARMY PRIZE

BADGE DESIGN GOES TO HARRY DERMAN.

Pupils of North High School Wins Honor in Big Field of Professional and Amateur Designers—Committee Works Out Plans for Court House Illumination.

After examining hundreds of badge designs submitted by art students in the high schools and the designs submitted by the professional designers of badge manufacturers were better. R. C. Campment badge committee has selected the design submitted by Harry Dorman of the North Side high school. This design has the prize winner in the student contest and with a few slight modifications will be adopted as the official badge to be worn by delegates to the encampment.

The committee in charge of the decorations for the encampment is planning to work wonders with the courthouse and city hall in the way of day and night illumination. The massive and commanding lines of the building and themselves most admirably to the work, will show by the contrast of the committee are carried into effect there will be a surprise in store for all. The huge tower, rising 350 feet from Fourth street, with its flagstaff will be a blaze of electric lights that can be seen from every part of the city.

The four massive outer walls will be effectively decorated with designs in lights by means of the interior lighting system. The street lights in the district will be turned off, but everything will be bright as day because of the effective illumination of the building.

Slight Overh Seeing. The new main entrance on Fourth street, which will be a marvel in itself equal to any public entrance in the country, will be completed for the encampment and will be one of the sights worth showing visitors. All the marble for its decoration is on hand and is being put in place as rapidly as possible. Even in its present condition, filled with staging and building material, the entrance gives rich promise of what it will be when completed.

On the evening of the encampment will be thrown open for inspection, and at all times some of the gatherings incident to the encampment will be in progress in some part of the building. The two new G. A. R. halls in the inner court of the building will be completed in time for use during the encampment. On the walls of these halls are to be bronze tablets to Minnesota regiments, each tablet inscribed with the names of the brave veterans who were on its muster rolls.
