WALTHAM WATCHES.

Most people have heard how an error in the drop of the Greenwich time-ball was detected by a layman with a WALTHAM watch. He believed in his watch as against the signal of the civilized world. His watch was right--the signal was wrong.

HURRICANE KILLS 120

Tahiti and Neighboring Islands Swept by Fatal Blasts.

Honolulu, April 5.—The steamer Moana which arrived here yesterday reports that 121 persons were drowned during the hurricane which recently swept over Tahiti and the neighboring islands. Of these victims one perished on Tahiti, ninety-one natives and four whites on the Tuamotus, and twenty-four natives and one white on the other islands.

Before the windstorm broke over Paapeete, the water rose steadily after a high tide to twenty feet above the normal. By 11 p.m. water was wrecking the wooden buildings and splashing between the American and British consulates. The wind blew in brief hurricane blasts every few minutes, tearing up trees and sending roofs flying thru the air.

STARVATION IN THE FAR NORTH URGES THE NEGRO TO EARN SUFFRAGE

Relief Party Sent Out to Save Indians—Seven Families Still Missing.

Secretary Taft Encourages Colored Men in Address at Tuskegee.

Specials to the Journal.

Athabasca Landing, N. W. T., April 5.—J. Fraser, son of Colin Fraser of Chippewa, arrived Monday and reports that the snow was deeper this winter at Chippewa than for seventeen years. At Fort Smith, on the Athabasca Landing, the horses are starving.

At Fond du Lac, 160 miles northeast of Chippewa, on Lake Athabasca, the Indians have been in dire straits for want of food. Some 500 Indians depend on the caribou for food, and these animals have not come, as is their custom.

The Indians from Fond du Lac traveled for nine days towards the barren lands in search of caribou, but, finding none, started to return and traveled seven days homeward, when they were overcome with weakness. A few of the stronger managed to reach the fort at Fond du Lac and reported the condition of their comrades, whereupon a relief party was sent out with fish and flour.

Seven families of Indians who traveled in another direction did not return and it is not known whether they have perished. Fur-bearing animals are reported plentiful in the far north. Flour at Fond du Lac is $10 a sack. Mr. Fraser is on his way to Edmonton to get supplies.

BURST OF BLOOM AT MANNHEIMER'S

BIG ST. PAUL ESTABLISHMENT HOLDS SPRING OPENING.

Beautiful Windows and Gorgeous Displays Within Tempt the Public.

One was reminded very strongly at Mannheimer's today of the great shops of Paris and Berlin and London—shops that play a most important part in the educative scheme of foreign travel. A great shop or store, if it be modeled upon the broader lines of exhibition, is more informing than anything else, unless it be a great museum, that a city can possess.

The note of individuality, which so many American stores strive for and so many fail to achieve, is the dominant one at Mannheimer's. This quality of ingratiation challenges analysis, and as women are seldom analysts, most of them will never know why it is they always return there in invitation in the very windows, which lie in wait for the feminine eye, and lead even the most obtuse as humble captives within.

This individual note is expressed in so many ways. There is everywhere a radiant sympathy with the season, the pleasant spring weather putting the great numbers of visitors into an appreciative mood. Then there is the impeccable taste—a quality that is expressed at Mannheimer's by the selective way in which the great establishment absorbs the products of the world. It may be a Paris hat or an English costume, but the quality of selection has made it finally a Mannheimer hat and a Mannheimer costume.

The window display is itself worth a trip to see. It is, you may say, in proportion to the opera, for it turns out the moral of it—the well-dressed woman—complete and beautiful. And it is most emphatically the woman of the spring of 1906 that is found in the woman in soft grays, chastened lavender, atmospheric blues, the painter's pinks and nature's own elusive greens—in short, the woman who elects to obey fashion in her happiest mood and wear the gentler pastel tints.

The decorator has been careful to point out to the passerby the fact that Easter is at hand. One of his window designs is an oval of monster proportions, set in a cloud of Japanese wisteria, with tiny figures of creatures of springtime perched upon its edge. The symbols rub shoulders, for out of the egg a rabbit gazes, and a great sheet of Easter lilies point one's thoughts upward. There are other flowery symbols of the spring and Easter plumage in plenty, with a chic lady in a hat and a ruff that are twin sisters of coquetry above a gown of demure gray.

The costumes in the windows only serve to stimulate one's curiosity concerning the coat and suit department on the second floor. Here the display is truly satisfying. Above other spring's displays by the peculiar harmony that exists between the tendency of fashion to dress her devotees in light colors, and the spring sunshine that strikes the window. The smart white coats with their little black collars, and the touch of black on so many of the delicately tinted costumes, indicates how strongly this modifying note is to be favored. By its means all the pale costumes are made becoming to every face and figure.

Here and there the eye is held by the new tulle silk coats, the lovely white lingerie gowns, the hint and sheen of the new radium taffetas, and the soft appeal of the chiffon voiles. The sun shines thru the purple fleur de lis and the perfume of American Beauties mingles one leaves the fascinating place with the vision of a fabulous lace costume. On the floor above there is the needle art section, where one finds, among so many other novelties, the new shadow work, which is to prevail on shirt waists and on the finer table pieces. The millinery department echoes in color tint, and general chicness of style the suits, with here and there a special appeal in the shape of a Paris model.

In fact, no single department of this very comprehensive store but is pervaded with the spirit of the spring opening, from the footwear to the hats and by the decorative note in which the entire store is rendered complete. Everywhere the decorative note is purple, and the fleur de lis the flower most favored.

Declarations of equality and popular rights and universal suffrage offer but a feather's weight against the inevitable impulse of human nature. It was impossible that with the history of the forty years thru which the negro of this country has been obliged to struggle, the progress which he has already made in material and educational, is wonderful.

"But," say the pessimists, "what of the political future of the negro?" And this brings me to the consideration of the third great war amendment—the fifteenth—which forbade that any state should deprive the negro of his vote on account of his color or previous condition of servitude. When we regard the history of the forty years thru which the negro of this country has been obliged to struggle, the progress which he has already made in material and educational, is wonderful.

"When a class of persons is so ignorant and so subject to oppression and misdealing as to be merely the mental children, not having the mental status of manhood, then it can hardly be said that their voice in the government secures any benefit to them. Property and educational qualifications are adopted in order to exclude those whose lack of knowledge and lack of vitality make doubtful their capacity to exercise the franchise. When we regard the country what their own interests are. Therefore, it seems to me that a policy of the southern people in adopting laws which exclude impartially both the black and white ignorant and irresponsible, could not be criticised.

"It is said, and with what truth I do not now discuss, these laws are intended to be enforced by means of the disfranchisement of the negro. In the first place, if he continues to increase in intelligence by the acceptance of the educational opportunities which are being offered him under the influence of Mr. Washington, in great institutions, like this, and if industrially he becomes a power and this gradually increases the number of his race who are eligible to vote in accordance with such a gradual acquisition of political power will secure more real political power and ability to help the negroes in their development than when their right of suffrage was unrestricted. I cannot put myself among those pessimists who regard the settlement of the political question in the south as beyond hope."

MAE WOOD NOT THERE

Her Suit Against Senator Platt and Loeb Dismissed.

Omaha, April 5.—The suit filed by Miss Mae C. Wood against United States Senator Thomas C. Platt, William Loeb, secretary to the president, and former Postmaster General Wynne for $150,000 damages was called in court yesterday and dismissed by Judge Kennedy because no one appeared for the plaintiff.

Miss Wood alleged that she had written a book entitled the "Love Letters of a Boss," which comprised several letters written to her by Senator Platt. She said that Platt, with the assistance of Wynne and Loeb, obtained the letters from her, and refused to return them.

Married 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Fider, honored residents of Rock Island, Ill., celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary and commend Duffy's Malt Whiskey as the only tonic-stimulant for the weak and aged.

The recent celebration of the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Fider, 1110 Third avenue, Rock Island, Ill., in which the bride and groom of fifty years ago participated with their children, grandchildren and immediate relatives, was a memorable occasion.

They were married in New Boston, Ill., fifty years ago, and have resided in Rock Island for about forty years. In an interview, Mr. and Mrs. Fider said: "For years we have been using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, and we believe our sturdy old age is due to its constant and regular use. It is just the medicine for folks of our age, both of us being nearly seventy years old, and it is mild and pleasant to take, and strengthening. We recommend it to all aged and weak people as the greatest tonic-stimulant known. There is no other so beneficial."

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

has been recognized for years as the greatest tonic-stimulant for old people. Hundreds who have used it continuously say their hearty old age is due entirely to its regular use.

Physicians everywhere prescribe it for all weakening and wasting diseases, and as the best cure and preventive of consumption, pneumonia, bronchitis, grippe and all diseases of the throat and lungs; for dyspepsia, indigestion, flatulency and all stomach complaints. It is invaluable in the treatment of malaria and low fevers.

Duffy's for fifty years has been the only whiskey recognized as a medicine, and is absolutely free from fusel oil. This is a guarantee. It is indorsed everywhere by ministers of the gospel and temperance workers.

CAUTION—When you ask for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. Unscrupulous dealers, mindful of the excellence of this preparation, will try to sell you cheap imitations and malt whiskey substitutes, which are positively harmful. Demand "Duffy's" and be sure you get it. It is the only absolutely pure Malt Whiskey. Sold in sealed bottles only; never in bulk. Look for the trade-mark, the "Old Chemist," on the label, and be certain the seal over the cork is unbroken. All druggists and grocers, or direct, $1.00 a bottle. Medical booklet and doctors' advice free. Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.
