BIG REQUISITION CONTEST HEARD

CROOKSTON MEN FIGHT RETURN TO IOWA.

Attorneys Tell Governor Johnson that Indictments Are Actuated by Attempts to Collect a Debt—County Attorney Upholds Sufficiency of Iowa Papers.

Determined efforts are being made by Charles A. Hitchcock and Robert H. Purvis of Crookston to prevent their return to Crookston, Iowa, where they are indicted on a charge of conspiracy to defraud in a land deal. They appeared before Governor Johnson today with counsel to fight the requisition issued by Governor Johnson.

J. G. Scham, of Manchester, Iowa, who is indicted with them, attended the hearing with his counsel, Judge E. M. Carr of Manchester, one of the leading Iowa democrats, who argued against the sufficiency of the papers. Starr Donnelly of St. Paul appeared for Hitchcock and Purvis, while A. M. Cloud of Manchester, county attorney of Dakota county, made a legal argument in favor of having the requisition honored.

Attorney General Young attended the hearing as an adviser to the governor, and after an hour's argument this morning the matter was continued.

Judge Carr declared that the requisition was sought only for the purpose of collecting a debt. Civil actions, he said, were prime and not a settlement. He read from the rules adopted by the interstate conference on requisitions to show that a governor must be satisfied beyond a doubt that the object sought for is not to collect a debt. Yet the prosecuting witness, Alex. Bora, fails to state in his affidavit that he has not such an object in view.

Mr. Cloud contended that under the law it was only necessary to make a prima facie showing as to the commission of a crime after the indictment. He said there were four indictments pending against the defendants, charging other fraudulent transactions.

Hitchcock and Purvis, who are well-known citizens of Crookston, acted as agents for Colonel R. A. Wilkinson of Crookston in selling some of his land, and are accused of selling land which they had no authority to convey. They say that the transaction occurred in November and January, so they cannot be said to have run away. They attribute the whole trouble to local troubles and spite work.

Some Telling Points. Dr. Smith's remarks sparked with him like this: "When I went out to China I did not know anything about missionary work. Nobody knew anything about it. The missionaries didn't prepare men as they do now. But we have learned some things. We have learned among other things, caution against getting into Chinese law suits. It is impossible to keep out of them all. But it is well to keep out of some because you cannot get at the bottom facts. There are two reasons for this: First, there are no facts; second, as the pilot said, there is no bottom."

Explaining that the Chinese had been thru socialism hundreds of years ago he commented, "Socialism is, I am told, a plan to give everything to everybody. I am in favor of the rest, but don't comprehend the process."

Speaking of the luxury of the country since he was last home, eleven years ago, Dr. Smith alluded to automobiles. "The automobile is the greatest invention of the world into two classes according as they do or do not get out of the way of the machine, and the names of these two classes are 'the quick and the dead.'"

Run into Street Car. Frightened Horses Create Panic, but Do Little Damage.

A runaway team hitched to a bakery wagon owned by Peterson Brothers, 2120 Lyndale avenue S., ran into a street car at Hennepin avenue and Fourth street yesterday afternoon, breaking the fender and several windows of the car. The horses did not become frightened at Western avenue and Twelfth street and had run down Western to Hennepin and thence to Fourth street. There they attempted to pass between a large traffic wagon and the car. Patrolman James Flood stopped the horses and turned them over to the driver, who came later. The animals were not seriously injured.

TALK GOOD ROADS. George W. Cooley, engineer of the state highway commission, will begin a week from today to hold a series of good roads meetings. The meeting April 14 will be at Crookston; April 17 at Milaca; April 19, at Cambridge; and April 21, at Carlton. Later meetings will be at Plainville and at Montevideo, and in May one will be held in Duluth.

PLYMOUTH BREAKS MISSION RECORD

SUBSCRIBES $3,000 IN ABOUT TEN MINUTES.

Rally Under Auspices of American Board Places Organization at Head of Congregational Churches in Amount of Donation—Dr. Smith Delivers Address Sparking with Telling Points.

A most remarkable missionary meeting was held at Plymouth church last night. About two hundred men sat down to a supper served by the women of Plymouth and immediately at its conclusion the corporate members of the American board began to talk business to the brethren present. Dr. L. H. Hallock temporarily took charge of the meeting and asked for an extra gift for the centennial year. The American board, Carlis were distributed and in ten minutes had been returned filled out. The total sum was $2,949.

"Shan't we make this $3,000?" asked Dr. Hallock. "We will," came a chorus from the hall.

The hat was passed and it came back filled with enough silver to round out the total, the most substantial that has been offered to the board in any of the rallies which have been held.

Great Orientalist Speaks. Mayor Jones presided at last night's meeting and introduced as the leading speaker, Rev. Arthur H. Smith, a Chinese missionary, who has been thirty-four years in the orient and who is regarded as a high authority with having made a more profound study of the Chinese character than any other living man.

Dr. Smith's speech abounded in wit and telling points. American missionaries had lost the favor of China because of her graceless treatment of Chinese who come over here. He urged the passage of the Foster immigration bill and the better treatment of Chinese students as measures of economy for this country because, he said, you want to sell the Chinese goods.

Some Telling Points. Dr. Smith's remarks sparked with him like this: "When I went out to China I did not know anything about missionary work. Nobody knew anything about it. The missionaries didn't prepare men as they do now. But we have learned some things. We have learned among other things, caution against getting into Chinese law suits. It is impossible to keep out of them all. But it is well to keep out of some because you cannot get at the bottom facts. TROUBLE AWAITS VISITING CROOKS

POLICE WILL TAKE NO CHANCES ENCAMPMENT WEEK.

Extraordinary Precautions and an Augmented Force Are Expected to Keep Depredations of Thieves, Pickpockets and 'Con' Men Down to the Minimum.

Crooks, blacklegs, thugs, dips, con artists and strongarm operators who plan to visit Minneapolis this summer when the city is full of visitors, all laden with more or less "dough," will find their path spread with anything during Grand Army encampment week. As a rule large gatherings of this sort, like circuses, are religiously followed by crooks of every variety who find "easy dough." There is no way of keeping them out, but they will be stopped after they get in and will be given their choice of taking to the wide, wide outside world or going to "the cooler."

When the visiting crowds are greatest the local police department will be increased to cope with the visiting crooks. A special appropriation has been secured for the purpose and will be made to do the greatest possible good. Many of the oldest and best uniformed officers of the force will be put in plain clothes and a large number of new uniformed men will be added.

Will Study the "Mugs." The plain clothes men will be put thru a course of special training on the roguish gallery and as nearly every crook in the country has been "mugged" at some time his face will be familiar to the officers. Many men who have been wanted for crimes committed in other places will run great danger of being picked up by these outside officers if they drift in here under cover of the crowds.

No Chances Taken. When a well-known crook is spotted here it will be at once taken for granted that he is here in "business." There will be no waiting until he does something. He will be nabbed at once and if he cannot give a good account of himself it will be "the cooler or quit the town," and most of them will choose the latter. If they still linger it will be the Black Maria and the works.

The plans for protecting the crowds have been undertaken with great skill and care. People who insist on walking around with money sticking out of their outside pockets will get what they need, but those who use any sort of care will experience no trouble. In the matter of police protection the Minneapolis encampment will be a leader for all others to follow.
