MANY NEW PUPILS EXPECTED IN SCHOOLS

A considerable increase is expected in the public school enrollment after the Easter holidays. This is due to the fact that many parents assume that a new term begins after Easter, without knowing that the old three semester year has been changed to the two semester system.

The last report on enrollment shows that there are now 42,822 pupils in the public schools, of which 194 were admitted during the three weeks ending April 6. Of these 107 were boys and 87 were girls.

There are 95 children on half days, these being in attendance as follows: Corcoran school, 40; Sidney Pratt, 35, and Lincoln 20. In all cases these are first grade pupils.

LABORERS ARE "FLUSH," SO DECLINE TO WORK

With work on all hands and railway contractors eager for men, the streets were swarming today with idle men. The men hung around the employment agencies, eyed the flaming advertising cards in their snippy manner, but they were not to be hired out.

The reason given by the labor employment bureaus for this peculiar condition of jobs everywhere and nobody to hire, is that the men are "flush" with laborers' pockets. The men have just come from the woods, or off jobs, and want to have a look in on civilization for a few days before they hire for the summer.

It is a burning desire to part with their winter hoard of wages that holds the men to the city. When the money is gone they will be eager for work again.

GUARDSMEN INSPECTED IN NEW DRESS UNIFORM

Resplendent in the new national guard dress uniform, the Minneapolis companies of the Minnesota National guard held battalion muster and inspection yesterday from 11 a. m. to 3 p. m. in their respective quarters at 111 Sixth street S. Lieutenant Colonel William Gerlach, U. S. A., retired, inspecting. The companies lined up with the following strength: Company 47, 1 company, 61; Battery B, 57; B company, leading in point of numbers.

The battalion was complimented on its appearance and work and the report of the inspection to the war department will be most complimentary. Heretofore all inspection reports have been made to the adjutant general of the various states, but under the new Dick bill they are made directly to the war department. The first appearance of the new dress uniform was at this inspection.

Pending the completion of the new armory, a date which is exceedingly problematical, according to the guardsmen, the Minneapolis battalion will move into temporary quarters in a vacant livery stable at Lyndale avenue and Hennepin street. The first regiment of the guard, which includes the Minneapolis companies, will go into camp at Lakeview, Lake City, July 16, remaining ten days.

SAYS WEST NEEDS 'KARMA'

Miss Bolting Emphasizes Keynotes of Theosophy.

"Prophecies by H. P. Blavatsky—Some of the Significance of Theosophy—One of the Signs of the Cycle—Extracts from the Writings of H. P. Blavatsky and W. Q. Judge."

In speaking on this subject Sunday evening at the First Unitarian church Miss Alice Bolting emphasized certain injunctions relative to the policy of the Universal Brotherhood and Theosophical society, namely, that "flowishes of words" and not by phenomena made so often regarding; also the need of the west for such doctrines as Karma and reincarnation and the true unity of the whole human family.

She reiterated a call to work for the race and not for self, a request to bring to the west and the east the doctrine that have the most effect on human conduct on the relations of man to man, and the greatest possibility of forming at last a true universal brotherhood.

People of all nations now turn their eyes to America, and that name for which stands for the United States. Its energy, activity and freedom hold the imagination of the foreigner, and here he thinks at aspirations may be realized, unfeathered by the chains of caste, religious prerogative or religious restraint.

With all that, Europeans often laugh at the weakness and crudity of America, yet admiration cannot be withheld for the tremendous nerve power, the facile adaptability, the swift onward march of the civilization beginning to bloom in the United States.

CITY BECOMES TANK TOWN

Miniature Waterworks Being Erected in Many Quarters.

Seen from above, Minneapolis begins to look like a forest of water tanks. With the extension of the sprinkler and elevator systems in the large buildings comes the necessity for water tanks. Workmen are setting a huge steel frame on the inside corner of the Dayton building, at Seventh street and Nicollet avenue, to support a tank, and a circular wood tank is just being completed on top of the Foran. Ford company's new warehouse building on Second street, in the rear of its South Washington avenue establishment.

75 AUSTRIANS ARE LOST IN THE CITY

STOP OFF ON WAY WEST AND NOW CAN'T BE FOUND.

Hundred Italians Make a Fuss Because It Is Proposed to Divide Them Up Into Crews—They Understood They Were to Work in a Body Near Rockford.

Seventy-five Austrians marched up the hill to the Milwaukee station yesterday afternoon, then marched back to the station, with picks and bundles over their shoulders. On being told that there was no room for them they returned, and they decided not to leave on the evening train, but to stay over one day. The emigrant room was full and the Milwaukee station had no other place to entertain the strangers when they returned, so they left.

Piles of baggage lying on the platform of the same station are evidence that the hundred Italians who struck the city Saturday are still here. They received orders to report to the city they occupied Saturday night by 3 p. m. Sunday. At that time the Italians were off for St. Paul, looking for work. There they surrounded the houses of men who hire the crews for railway work and nearly harassed them to death. The Soo line offered to work these men in section crews of five men, but the Italians persisted in the story that they were hired by the Chicago labor agency to work near Rockford in a body.

VAUGHAN'S LITERATURE IS SHOWN TO THE JURY

The trial of Edward A. Vaughan, charged with using the mails to promote a fraudulent grain business, was resumed today in the United States district court before Judge Page Morris. Today was devoted to an explanation of direct evidence before the jury. Witnesses were examined who told of receiving his advertisements, circulars, and letters, and of dealings with Vaughan. The literature which he had circulated was read in detail to the jury. It spoke in rosy terms of Minneapolis as a grain market in which men always made money; that wheat was a staple article in which investment could always be safely made; and that Vaughan was a man who in the past had proved his ability to make money in the grain market and was therefore the right man to handle any and all moneys of grain investors.

NEW FLAX IS VALUABLE

Experiments Show "No. 25" Yields Fourth More Than Other Varieties.

The variety of flax originated by the Minnesota experiment station in co-operation with the United States department of agriculture, known as No. 25, and distributed in 1905 to the farmers of Minnesota, has proved a valuable variety for Minnesota. A pamphlet recently issued by the experiment station, giving the results of the 1905 tests, shows this new flax to have yielded 3.1 bushels more per acre more than the common varieties. These figures are based on the results of tests reported by forty-eight farmers in different sections of the state, who grew this flax and their common varieties under similar conditions.

The reports also show the new flax to be from five to ten days earlier than common varieties, which gives a considerable advantage in escaping damage from various sources, and in getting ahead of the weeds.

Flax should not be grown on the same piece of ground oftener than once in ten years. This precaution is taken to prevent the soil from becoming infested with the flax root rot.

There are more than 4,000 bushels of Minnesota No. 25 flax available for seed in Minnesota. It has been grown by farmers in nearly every county of the state, and is offered by them for sale at reasonable prices. A card to the experiment station will bring a list of farmers who have seed for sale.

MAY BE DROPPED

Requisition Contest Deferred Until April 17.

The requisition fight in the cases of C. A. Hitchcock and R. H. Purvis has been dropped temporarily, and may not be carried any further. A. M. Cloud, the county attorney of Manchester, Iowa, who made the argument for the requisition before Governor Johnson, Saturday, has entered into a stipulation agreeing with the defense to postpone the further hearing until April 17. It is reported that the requisition contest is likely to be dropped before that time. As far as the papers are concerned the matter seems perfectly regular and if it had been submitted Saturday Governor Johnson probably would have been forced to honor the requisition.

Rev. G. L. Morrill preached his sermon at the Auditorium last night by pictures and a talk on "Sweden the Beautiful." He spoke in compliment of the Scandinavians in Minnesota and paid tribute to the governor, John A. Johnson. But he believed in religion in office. As a republican he was glad to see that J. G. Lund of Scandinavian descent had entered the race for the nomination, and believed if he secured it, the next governor's chair would be filled by a republican. The statement made a hit, for the big audience broke out in loud and long applause.

SCHOOLS FOR OFFICERS REPORT ISSUED BY FARMERS' CLUB

THE JOURNAL CADET DRILL INSTRUCTORS WILL GIVE SPECIAL EXERCISES BEFORE OTHER DRILLS.

FORMER STATE FARM SCHOOL PUPILS FORM ORGANIZATION.

Book of 117 Pages Not Only Gives Record of Society, but Contains Valuable Information on Farm Topics and Matters of Interest to Agricultural Community.

The Farmers' club of Minnesota has just issued its first yearbook and annual report, a little volume which will serve as a text for the general deal of agricultural work on Minnesota farms this summer. The Farmers' club is an organization having its center at St. Anthony Park, in the state school of agriculture, and taking in as members former students at the school who wish to co-operate in the work. Its object is to promote the interests of agriculture in the state by experiments, by holding county meetings, and by changing information of practical value. Annual meetings are held in connection with the meetings of the state agricultural society.

The yearbook has 117 pages, filled with farmers' papers on agricultural topics and directions for experiments. The members of the club are organizing their counties and interesting farmers generally in the work, and the work will be carried on by the club with an annual appropriation of $1,000 to defray its expenses.

Students Help Neighbors.

The report of President A. D. Wilson calls attention to the fact that students after taking a course at the school of agriculture are under obligations to help their neighboring farmers. The school is for farmers, supported in part by farmers, and in the spirit of co-operation every farmer should be glad to help his neighbors. In the county meetings the students do not set themselves up as teachers, but take hold and arrange for the meetings, at which every farmer is invited to say, and some expert is generally present to give an instructive lecture.

The report speaks of the county corn and seed growing contests which have been fostered by the club, and the state contest for which $3,000 has been contributed by the millers and grain dealers of Minnesota. Papers are included in the report, prepared by experts, including one by Professor W. M. Foster, assistant secretary of agriculture, on "Choice of Schools," in which he calls attention to the advantages of an agricultural school, and the opportunity presented to take advantage of its equipment and expert services without payment of tuition.

Some of the Subjects.

Professor William Robertson has a paper on "Rural School Consolidation," in which he pleads for agricultural instruction in the consolidated schools. Articles on co-operative creameries, farm buildings, seed and plant breeding and co-operative telephone systems, are included and K. O. Finseth explains a scheme for co-operative dairies to be run in connection with the co-operative creameries. Co-operative fire insurance for farmers is also advocated by Professor J. M. Drew.

Directions are given for a series of thirty-three experiments and each county club is allowed $15 to be spent in such work. The experiments are designed to show the merits of different farm methods of seed selection, stock feeding and the revenue from different crops. "Culling cows by testing milk" and "Raising Calves by Hand" are subjects of interest dairymen.

RANCE OF OUDH "MAT" A STUDENT AFFAIR

The play committee of the Roosevelt club has decided to make the matinee performance of the "Rance of Oudh," to be given at the Metropolitan theater Wednesday afternoon, April 18, distinctly a student affair. The matinee is being advertised at the state university and in the high schools, and special attractions in the way of college music and drama will be given. Several university men are in the cast and many university girls are known to be friends of some of the Roosevelt "chorus girls." For these reasons the "Rance of Oudh" is expected to be very popular in college circles and already more than ordinary interest has been shown about the university campus in the coming Roosevelt opera.

With only a week left for rehearsals, the Roosevelters are busy night and day. A dress rehearsal is scheduled for Friday night, with the exception of Friday, when the boys will take a rest before their trip to Stillwater, where they will give the first public performance Saturday night.

BURNED BRIDGE KEEPS GOVERNOR IN WISCONSIN

Governor Johnson is not burning any bridges behind him, but somebody fired a shot at the bridge yesterday afternoon after the governor and his party had passed over it to Osceola, Wis., and they were marooned in the Wisconsin town the greater part of today.

The governor and Justice E. A. Jaggard in the supreme court with their wives, had gone to Osceola to spend Sunday, expecting to return early today for business. The burned bridge stopped all traffic, however, and the best the Soo could promise was to bring them in late this afternoon.

STATEMENT IS HURRY JOB

Minneapolis Banks Swift to Answer Call of Controller.

National banks of Minneapolis received a call today from the controller of the currency in Washington for statements of condition at the close of business April 6. The cashiers of the local banks are noted for the speed with which they get their statements out, and by night the mails will be loaded with the circulars on the way to correspondents and depositors.

The banks have the mailing lists already, as calls come about the same time every quarter. It is short work to get the figures of the books, and a boy from the printer is waiting for "copy."

At the printing office the form of the statement is known, and in fact, one side of the statement is already printed. While one man is setting up the figures another has prepared to run them off rapidly. In a short time, the corrected proof has been returned to the printshop by the bank, the word is given and the press starts.

REVERE THE DEPARTED

Saintly City Council, U. C. T., Holds Memorial Service.

Saintly City council, U. C. T., held its annual memorial day exercises yesterday at Minnehaha hall, 160 West Ninth street, St. Paul. After the ritualistic service had been carried out, Alex W. Crozier of the Minneapolis council delivered the principal address, in which he feelingly referred to the departed members of the order in whose memory the exercises were held. The death roll of the council contains thirty-five names.

RANCE OF OUDH "MAT" A STUDENT AFFAIR

The play committee of the Roosevelt club has decided to make the matinee performance of the "Rance of Oudh," to be given at the Metropolitan theater Wednesday afternoon, April 18, distinctly a student affair. The matinee is being advertised at the state university and in the high schools, and special attractions in the way of college music and drama will be given. Several university men are in the cast and many university girls are known to be friends of some of the Roosevelt "chorus girls." For these reasons the "Rance of Oudh" is expected to be very popular in college circles and already more than ordinary interest has been shown about the university campus in the coming Roosevelt opera.

With only a week left for rehearsals, the Roosevelters are busy night and day. A dress rehearsal is scheduled for Friday night, with the exception of Friday, when the boys will take a rest before their trip to Stillwater, where they will give the first public performance Saturday night.

BURNED BRIDGE KEEPS GOVERNOR IN WISCONSIN

Governor Johnson is not burning any bridges behind him, but somebody fired a shot at the bridge yesterday afternoon after the governor and his party had passed over it to Osceola, Wis., and they were marooned in the Wisconsin town the greater part of today.

The governor and Justice E. A. Jaggard in the supreme court with their wives, had gone to Osceola to spend Sunday, expecting to return early today for business. The burned bridge stopped all traffic, however, and the best the Soo could promise was to bring them in late this afternoon.

STATEMENT IS HURRY JOB

Minneapolis Banks Swift to Answer Call of Controller.

National banks of Minneapolis received a call today from the controller of the currency in Washington for statements of condition at the close of business April 6. The cashiers of the local banks are noted for the speed with which they get their statements out, and by night the mails will be loaded with the circulars on the way to correspondents and depositors.

The banks have the mailing lists already, as calls come about the same time every quarter. It is short work to get the figures of the books, and a boy from the printer is waiting for "copy."

At the printing office the form of the statement is known, and in fact, one side of the statement is already printed. While one man is setting up the figures another has prepared to run them off rapidly. In a short time, the corrected proof has been returned to the printshop by the bank, the word is given and the press starts.
