The Minnesota society of the Sons of the American Revolution will hold its annual banquet Thursday evening, April 19, at the Ryan hotel, St. Paul.
E. J. Phelps of Minneapolis has bought two lots in St. Paul, on Minnesota street, between Eighth and Ninth streets, costing $38,500. A few days ago Mr. Phelps bought property at the northwest corner of Eighth and Robert, in the same square, for $52,500.

The Minnesota Historical society last evening followed the footsteps of the Massachusetts Historical society and went on record as opposing the destruction of the historic old frigate Constitution, which has been condemned. General James H. Baker, General J. W. Bishop and General L. F. Hubbard were appointed a committee to draft a memorial to congress for the Minnesota society.

The mild winter has resulted in less calls being made to the Associated Charities of St. Paul than any year since last organization. This is demonstrated by reports for six months previous to March 31, just made public. There were 505 cases of want reported. The average during this period for six years past has been 590 cases. During the half year the visiting nurses made 559 visits to 288 sick persons. Of these, 244 have been discharged well or improved.

WOMEN ON POINT OUT UNTIDINESS

IMPROVEMENT LEAGUE MAY ASK FOR WOMAN INSPECTOR.

Slothful or Lazy Householders Would Have So Many Dainty Fingers of Scorn Pointed at Them that They Would Rush for Bakes and Wheelbarrows or Else Dodge Process Servers.

"Special inspector of the sanitary condition of Minneapolis" is a high-sounding title, but it does not sound nearly so ambitious as are the hopes of the women of the improvement league, who will petition the mayor to appoint representatives of their sex to fill the office.

The women have made up their minds that Minneapolis is to look her prettiest this summer when the city is thronged with visitors, and when a woman once makes up her mind a thing is as good as done even if it is a big undertaking as the proper cleaning of Minneapolis. They aim to make it a real "city beautiful," and they will not stop at anything, even the arrest of rebellious property owners, who think a big heap of ashes and tin cans an ornament to any lot. They will keep their eyes open, and when a woman is looking for anything she can generally find it, so the only way a man can keep a favorite heap of rubbish will be under cover, away from the spying glances of the inspectors.

Something Must Be Done.
The model housewives, with their minds full of spring cleaning, are agast this spring at the condition of the streets and the vacant lots, heaped with all sorts of refuse, but it is only the housewives in the improvement league who have the courage to declare that something must be done and that right quickly. It is expected that the council will authorize him to appoint a man who will confer with the women, hear their reports and protests, and then see that what they want is done.

Plans are still vague and shadowy. The city engineer has charge of all street cleaning, and it is expected that the council will authorize him to appoint a man who will confer with the women, hear their reports and protests, and then see that what they want is done.

"We have no intention of dispensing with the men," chorus the women. "We need them in city cleaning just as we do in housecleaning."

So everybody in Minneapolis will be enlisted in this grand housecleaning, not only because the women are interested but because of civic pride. Civic pride, according to the women, is a great lever, and it is even capable of removing ashes and tin cans if it is rightly applied.

Ministers, lawyers, teachers and others whose occupation gives but little exercise, should use Carter's Little Liver Pills for torpid liver and biliousness. One is a dose. Try them.

DON'T GET LEFT
If you are poor it is because you have not made use of your opportunities. If you are rich you are willing to become richer. Fort Frances and the Koochiching Falls district offers now the greatest opportunity for the poor to become rich and the rich richer, as we can make his state more profitable for our advice and puts a few dollars, a few hundred dollars or a few thousand dollars into town lots, especially in Fort Frances, or some acreage property or farm land near to the great Koochiching Falls.

Don't Lag Behind.
Fort Frances town lots will increase in value ten times faster than any other property at or near Koochiching Falls.
Now is the time to buy a lot or more at Fort Frances. It will soon mean a fortune to you as the time will come when Fort Frances will be a greater city than Minneapolis. We can locate you the lots that will become the most valuable.
Come to our office or write us for any information you want.

ACREAGE WILL BE LARGE

REPORTS TO VAN DUSEN-HARRINGTON SHOW THAT SEEDING PROCEEDS UNDER FAVORABLE CONDITIONS.

Small grains, rye, barley and oats, will be sown over a larger acreage this year in the northwest. Early reports are a safe indication. Wheat seeding is getting under way again, the rain of Sunday having delayed it only slightly. Advices today from western North Dakota show the work further along, generally, in that part of the state, than in either South Dakota or Minnesota, but with dry weather for a few days, Minnesota will soon catch up.

The following summary of conditions was issued today by the Van Dusen-Harrington company:
"Everything is favorable for seeding thru Minnesota and the two Dakotas and where the soil is sufficiently dry work is under way. Our reports show that seeding will be general this week throughout the states, if the weather continues favorable.
"The amount of plowing done last fall is estimated to be larger than usual, except in the Red river valley, where the increase is not so great, but much less than the average amount was accomplished.
"Our early reports indicate that the soil grain acreage will be considerably increased over last season, but just how much it will be divided it is not yet possible to say."

LIND DISCUSSES REFORM

FORMER GOVERNOR OUTLINES DUTIES OF MEN TO CITY, STATE AND NATION.

Former Governor John Lind addressed the Men's club of Lowry Hill Congregational church last night, his subject being "The Next Step in Political Reform."

Mr. Lind, who took the floor as a man in his city, his state and the nation, this being true of business and social life, and that, therefore, they should be protected.
The church was well filled and the speaker was given the closest attention. "Corruption in office," said Mr. Lind, "can too often be charged directly to voters who are weak, and often the actual need of every hidden thing, in the way of the candidate." He illustrated this by calling attention to the many "touch" schemes the moment his candidacy is announced. Individuals, societies, and even churches seek contributions, and the total of these "touches" soon exceeds the amount allowed by law and all reason and honesty. Forced to do so, he said, these, the candidate is often forced to turn to some interest for assistance, thus placing an obligation on himself.

Further safeguards of public officials were also recommended and urged. "In many instances," said the speaker, "we are criminally negligent in our failure to provide safeguards to prevent the public servant from becoming more amenable to the private corporation than to the public." In this connection the Duluth franchise clause, providing for a referendum on franchise matters was recommended. Civil service in public institutions was also recommended, and in speaking of this system as applied to the city, the speaker warmly complimented the administration of Mayor Jones.

"Patriotism rather than self-interest should be the motive of every individual," said Mr. Lind. "We do not realize or appreciate the complexity of the life into which we have been suddenly thrown. We must be brought to a realization that there are more duties for a society to control; that the city is each man's best asset; that it is a corporate whole, and that that which menaces even the worst part of it menaces the whole. The same argument applies to the state and the nation."

HOLY WEEK SERVICES

Special Meetings Will Be Held in Westminster Church.

Westminster church will hold three special services this week appropriate to the season. Thursday evening at 7:45 Dr. John E. Bushnell will lead a midweek service of prayer and praise considering the topic, "The Week Before Calvary."
Friday afternoon at 4 there will be a meeting for children and young people. The pastor will consider with them the true meaning of the various events of holy week.
Friday evening at 7:45 there will be a service of peculiarly sacred interest commemorating the death of the Lord upon the cross. Dr. Bushnell will read the address of the evening, showing the real purport of the most stupendous scene in the world's history.
These services will be held in the lecture room of the church and look forward to the Easter services on Sunday morning and evening.

BREAKS SILENCE OF TWELVE YEARS

WIFE OF JAMES NUGENT SECURES HIS LIBERTY.

Farmer Who Killed His Daughter in Drunken Frenzy Will Be Allowed to Go Home to Die—Boy Blackmailer Pardoned—Train Robbers Declared Unjustly Convicted.

James Nugent, the Wright county farmer, serving a life sentence at Stillwater, for killing his 14-year-old daughter, will be liberated on parole within six months, and at the age of 64 will leave the prison and go home to join his faithful wife. He is broken in health and cannot live long. The sentence was commuted to twenty-five years yesterday afternoon, by the state board of pardons.

W. A. Calkin of Duluth, representing Mrs. Nugent, told the wife's story to the board, making it public for the first time. Nugent plead guilty without trial, and no statement was made. His wife says that Nugent came home intoxicated and finding the daughter Eunice writing a letter to a boy friend, he scolded her. The girl ran into a shed back of the house. The father followed and before reaching the building fired his revolver. The bullet went into the building and penetrated the child's brain, killing her instantly. She does not believe the father intended to shoot Eunice, but that he shot wildly. The daughter had been his favorite. Mrs. Nugent attended the hearing yesterday, but did not speak.

William J. Van Auken, whose sentence of sixty days in the workhouse for gambling has never been served, secured a commutation to $60 fine. Dr. W. A. Jones certified that Van Auken was insane and confined in a private sanatorium.
A pardon was granted to Harry Gilbert, the Fairport boy sent to the reformatory in 1904 for writing a threatening letter to a bank president, demanding money. Gilbert was unruly in the reformatory and was sent to prison, where he has straightened out and is now a model prisoner. Frank A. Day and J. D. Fairmont appeared in behalf of the boy, and both declared that the letter had been written more in a spirit of bravado than with any evil intent.

Men Believed Innocent.
The case of the four men serving time for the Carlisle train robbery was heard at length. C. C. Houpt, United States district attorney, who defended the men at their trial, appeared for them and presented letters from Judge Searle, who tried them, and from M. J. Daly, the prosecuting attorney. Both said there was great doubt of the men's guilt. The four men, Hall, Thayer, Hoffman and Mine, were arrested in Moorhead after the robbery, and because they had a safekeeper's outfit with them the crime was fixed on them. In the inflated state of public opinion they were convicted on the scantiest of evidence. Afterward a train robber arrested at St. Joseph, Mo., confessed to the Carlisle affair. The quartet in prison seems to have been part of a band of bank robbers who had intended to rob the bank at Michigan City, N. D., but the scouts sent ahead failed to report, and they were stranded at Moorhead. The attorney for the men, James Russell, sent from Hennepin in 1903 for fourteen years, for robbery, and continued the case of Tony Calderone, who killed Battaglia on the Franklin avenue bridge in 1904, and is serving a twenty-year sentence. Denials were also entered in the cases of Edwin E. Olson, Fitz William Sessions, Charles Banks, John A. Fos, Olaf P. Olsen, a life prisoner, Robert F. Fife, William Sanders, Harold Thomas, James Mannarino, William Bolvin, Ralph Hall, Harry H. Keifer, George McDonald, Thomas Curti and Charles Kimball. The cases of John Hutchinson and Michael Meide, two life prisoners, were continued for a hearing at the next meeting.
