DEATH IN MONTANA HAS LOCAL INTEREST

At the request of Coroner Marsh of Missoula, Mont. the police are searching for two persons, one "Jim" and the other "Ella." E. A. Ewing, chief clerk to Superintendent Boyle of the Northern Pacific, died in Missoula Tuesday morning.

A mystery seems to be connected with the case, and the Montana coroner asks the Minneapolis police to assist in unraveling it. It is said that Ewing was found in the brokerage business in Minneapolis. Letters from Minneapolis persons and signed "Jim" and "Ella" were found among Ewing's effects.

The cause of death was heart failure. For some reason, an attempt was made to keep the news of the death from the newspapers. It was learned, subsequent to the first news of the affair, that after Ewing had died, a morphine bottle was found in his pocket. It is suspected that he committed suicide.

Ewing is supposed to be a member of a prominent family in St. Louis, and it is believed that another Ewing, a prominent Washington politician who committed suicide in Butte a short time ago, was his brother.

DECLARES "THE JUNGLE" IS NOT OVERDRAWN

Conditions in the great centers of the meat-packing industry are not overdrawn as depicted in "The Jungle," Upton Sinclair's novel of packing-house life and its influence and effects.

Mr. Sinclair has only taken incidents of packing-house life and told them as they are, to the work of the author with the "muck rakers" against whom President Roosevelt is now moving.

Mr. Donnelly does not actually admit the probability of another and a greater strike of the packing-house unions, but intimates that there is a tendency toward an open break. When it comes, the organizations will be better prepared than ever to meet it.

While here, Mr. Donnelly visited the plants at South St. Paul and conferred with the twin city unions. Last night he addressed a union meeting of twin city members of the Meat Cutters' union in Alexander hall, telling of the work of the international organization.

SHOOTS WOMAN AND KILLS SELF

Mrs. Boothman Is Wounded in the Face and the Man Who Shot Her Is Dead, Self-Slain—Woman Is Not Expected to Survive Her Injuries.

Mrs. S. E. Boothman wounded in the face, fatally, and the would-be murderer, Herman Koenig, dead from a shot in the back, died by his own hand, is the brief record of a tragedy which occurred about 2 o'clock today.

The shooting occurred at 77 Ninth street S. The house is a boarding house, and Mrs. Boothman rented the upper floor a few days ago. Koenig rented a room from her.

"GENERAL" VAIL IS IN HIS OLD FIELD AGAIN

Owen B. Vail, the head of the Christian Warriors, is again on the trail thru Minnesota.

A letter from Captain Brean of the Salvation Army, received at the provincial headquarters today, reports that the warriors, represented by Vail and a female companion, have been active in Blue Earth.

Both the "general" and his companion were dressed in a garb which closely resembled that of the Salvation Army and when questioned said that they did not belong to the army, but were a sort of auxiliary force, and had come to conduct a special series of meetings.

Reports from Ortonville, Mankato and the western part of the state, that the "general" Vail has been conducting a tour of considerable magnitude. Brigadier Cousins believes that Vail and his companion are the mysterious "Salvation Army" workers who made some cash and a get-away in Minneapolis a few weeks ago.

Vail has led a tempestuous life of late. First an irate Minnesota farmer appeared in Des Moines, Iowa, and offered a considerable following, and objected because he had led his sister to desert her husband and follow his fortunes. There was a mix-up in which the Minnesota farmer was arrested.

SAWING SEASON WAITS FOR FIRST LOG DRIVES

Conditions do not point to a heavy lumber cut for the Minneapolis sawmills this season. On the contrary, the conditions are somewhat serious and point to a very light cut.

After eating their cake in the shape of logs in the late sawing season last fall, the sawmills have none now, and must wait for new logs for the coming season. The lumber companies are in the pockets of the city mills, it will take several weeks for logs to arrive, and at best the opening of the season will be late.

The C. J. Smith mill at Camden Place has begun sawing, but is working on logs shipped by rail thru the winter and spring. Other companies are helping for an early drive and are getting their mills in shape for driving. Stocks are low and there is a brisk demand for lumber at stiff prices, but with no logs the companies can only await and admit that they are up against it.

The nearest logs in any quantity are at Little Falls, 100 miles above Minneapolis by river. The boom company estimates that there are 70,000,000 feet of logs between Little Falls and Camden that were frozen in last fall. A little timber is in the river below Little Falls but no attempt will be made to move it until it is picked up with the advance drive. The company is getting its booms at Little Falls in shape and expects to begin sorting logs Saturday. In ten days or two weeks the advance drive may be started and it will be a week or more before they reach the Minneapolis mills.

"THUNDERING" GORDON AND WIFE LOSE SUITS

Both sides lost by a decision today in the counter divorce actions of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Gordon at Los Angeles, Cal. Each litigant charged the other with insanity and the showing in court was creditable to neither. The court denied both petitions.

SCHOOL BONDS A DRUG

Minneapolis school bonds at 3 1/2 per cent interest are a drug on the market. Bids for the $200,000 issue were advertised to be opened today, but up to 2 o'clock not a bid had been received.

A member of the school board said that if the bonds are not sold at 3 1/2 per cent, the rate will be raised to 4 per cent, which the paper will go like hot cakes.

STUDENT BODY IS SCORED BY "MAG"

DISHONESTY AND POLITICAL TREACHERY ARE CHARGED.

Minnesota Daily Staff and Athletic Board Are Directly Attacked and Members of Both Are Up in Arms—Magazine Declares for Faculty Control.

Taking the position that Minnesota undergraduates are not qualified to control their own affairs, the Minnesota Magazine, the senior monthly at the university, has declared for a closer faculty control over student enterprises.

The editorial is the most scathing denunciation of student methods that has ever appeared in a college paper, and members of the Minnesota Daily staff and of the athletic board, who are made the direct targets of the editorial, are up in arms. It is charged that the editor accuses the faculty of only one man on the magazine board, the managing editor, and that it was never submitted to the magazine board.

After arraignment the Minnesota Daily staff and the athletic board of control for stirring up student sentiment in opposition to the faculty, the editorial charged that the writer, distrust in the ability of the students to govern themselves has been confirmed by "an observation of four years of mismanagement, corruption, and selfishness in student activities."

"When repeating is tolerated at the polls," continues the editorial, "and even treated as a joke; when men are elected to positions of responsibility as a reward for political influence, or because they have no other college honors, when the barb-frat line is the only issue in student elections; when personal popularity is the measure of a man's merit; when yellowness is the test of acceptable college journalism; when the surest way to win fame and honor is to malign the name of Alma Mater; when the easiest way to get a position is elected to the gopher board; so long as those conditions exist, the Magazine will favor a faculty check on student insanity."

GADETS MAKE PROGRESS

JOURNAL SOLDIERS BECOME PROICIENT IN SQUAD DRILL—MANY COMPANIES DRILL TO-NIGHT.

First regiment, Company D, Labor Temple; Company G, Seventh Ward Republican club; Second regiment, Company A, St. Mark's church.

Companies C, First regiment, and F, Second regiment, had a satisfactory drill last night at the Third Ward Republican hall. C company made an especially good showing in the squad movements, and grades as one of the best companies in the two regiments.

Tonight Company G, First regiment, will drill at the Seventh Ward Republican hall, instead of Friday night. Because of the size of the hall it has been decided to have the Michigan G and I should drill separately after this. Company I will drill there Friday nights, as usual.

DAMAGE SUIT IN WAR OF RIVAL BARBERS

A lawsuit for $1,000 damages for alleged false arrest and imprisonment growing out of the rivalry between the court and city hall barbers is on trial today before Judge D. F. Simpson.

George Tubman, formerly employed with Fred W. Herman, proprietor of the city hall barber shop, is the plaintiff in the suit. He was arrested by the defendant, Patrolman Johnson, and thrown into jail, and kept there for four hours for no reason whatever unless it was to vent a spite.

The suit was originally on the action of R. S. Rediker, the courthouse barber, who placed his advertising cards in front of the city hall shop. It is alleged that Herman took these cards and wrote across them the word "Scab." This was not to the liking of Rediker, who is said to have secured Patrolman Johnson to arrest Tubman and with him his employee.

Herman admits writing on the cards, but Tubman denies having anything to do with it. The men were arrested by Patrolman Johnson and were held in jail until a warrant could be produced. When they appeared in the municipal court Judge Waite dismissed the case and ordered the return of the bail money.

GAS ARBITRATION IS TO BE ABANDONED

It may be taken for granted that the council, at its meeting this evening, will formally abandon the movement for arbitrating the price of gas and will adopt the report of the special committee recommending that it be authorized to negotiate with the gas company for a reduction in the price of gas.

Should the desired authority to deal with the gas company be given the special committee is meeting this evening, and it is expected that it will be held next week, as the committee will be limited to two weeks in which to make a report. The matter of prices as compared with other cities, as well as the cost of gas production, will be thoroughly investigated.

Minneapolis is said to have an unusually stringent gas ordinance. A cany power of 2 1/2 as a minimum is required, and this necessitates the production of a much better gas than is required in many other places.

Another point is the distributing. In this city, which is widely scattered, the capital involved in a distributing system is considerably greater than in a more compactly settled town.

The doubtless endeavor to convince the aldermen that the present rates are as low as the conditions warrant, but many of the city fathers are convinced that a substantial reduction in the price will be obtained within a comparatively short time.

GARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our most heartfelt thanks to all our dear friends, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, Fraternal Order of Eagles and especially the Minneapolis fire department and relief association for their kindness and sympathy in our late bereavement.

MAJOR HOLDS UP REPAVING WORK

CITIES CHARTER PROVISION BEL-ATIVE TO MONEY.

Executive Refuses to Sign Contract for Resurfacing Downtown Streets Until Cash for Paying for Jobs Is in City Treasury—Decision Means Better Work.

Another hitch has developed in the asphalt paving contract with the Barber and Co. The city charter provides that no public work shall be undertaken until the funds for the outlay are actually in the hands of the city treasurer or in process of collection so as to be available by the time the work is completed.

On the strength of this provision Mayor Jones has notified the asphalt company that the entire amount of the contract for resurfacing the asphalt streets must be in the hands of the city treasurer before he will sign the contract. This move appears to have been somewhat unexpected, as it is a week or more since the contract was sent back and no word has been received as yet.

The total amount of the contract is $170,000 in round numbers, and this includes the city's portion of about $40,000.

Company Is Surprised. It has been argued that when the company agreed to finance the work of resurfacing the downtown streets it only meant that it would wait for its pay until the money had been collected so as to be available by the time the work was completed.

The charter is plain in this point, and as the asphalt company has taken advantage of the present situation to fix the price at what the Retail Dealers' association and others interested believe to be excessive, the disposition of all concerned is to hold the company to the strict letter of the law. With the city holding $170,000 of the company's money the certainty of a first-class paving job is naturally greatly enhanced, and as the taxpayers are paying for the work, it is felt that the best paving is none too good.

PRISONER IS FREED, BUT RETURNED TO JAIL

Thru a technicality William Kendrick, on trial for raising $1 bill to $5, was discharged, and a verdict ordered by the court finding the prisoner not guilty. The prisoner was then placed under bonds of $2,000 and will be tried at the general term of court on another indictment, one for raising a $1 to a $10 bill.

The sudden ending of the case this morning resulted from a technical ruling in which he himself raised, that of the admission of secondary evidence given yesterday by Captain J. W. Lawrence of the secret service, the officer who had worked the case up for the prosecution.

The court objected to the fact that the raised silver certificate could not be produced in court. He held that the instrument on which the case was based should have been produced. The court ordered the clerk to prepare a verdict for the defendant and discharge the jury. "The proof in this case should have been gotten," said the court, "it certainly ought to have been gotten."

Attorney for Kendrick desired to have his client immediately charged on an indictment still pending, but as all the jurors had been discharged it was impossible to get a jury. Kendrick has been in jail six months awaiting trial and will now have to remain in jail until another one can be practically a year in jail, as he is unable to give bond.

REGANS TO HAVE BIG NEW LUNCH ROOM

Having operated a lunch counter at 50 Fourth street S for twenty years, Regan brothers are preparing to move across the street to No. 45 in M. W. When Laramee & Grain have moved to their new store building, the quarters they vacate will be fitted up at once for the new lunch room.

The Regans will have 22 to 25 feet on the first floor, and the rear of the basement and second floor. The changes will cost $7,500. J. M. Regan has gone to Chicago, St. Louis and Cincinnati to look up the latest things in cooking utensils, etc.

The room will have only a lunch counter. This will seat 250 at one time. The fixtures will be handsome, everything about the place will be sanitary, and the cooking and serving appliances will be of the latest pattern. Much of the cooking and carving will be done in the oval formed by the lunch counter and in sight of customers. Gas and steam will be used for cooking and keeping dishes warm. The dish washing will be done by machinery.

OMITS GOOD FRIDAY FROM THE HOLIDAYS

Good Friday is not a legal holiday under the revised statutes, and there is no provision for adjournment of the public schools on that day. The school laws formerly specified days on which no school should be held and teachers still receive full pay. These included besides legal holidays, Good Friday and Thanksgiving day. The section is omitted from the code, and if schools take a holiday on Good Friday teachers will not be able, it is believed, to draw pay for a full week.

The code carefully distinguishes the two days from the legal holidays, which are New Year's, Lincoln's birthday, Washington's birthday, Independence day, Labor day, the day of general election and Christmas. Elsewhere the code says that notes, contracts and bills of exchange due on Sunday, Good Friday, Thanksgiving day or any legal holiday shall be payable or performed on the day following.

PLANS FOR BIG 8 "CAPPERS" TO BE MADE TO SUFFER DEBATING LEAGUE

UNIVERSITY HAS SCHEME FOR ENLARGING CENTRAL LEAGUE. PROPOSED ORDINANCE WILL TREAT THEM AS GAMBLERS.

Professor McDermott Attends Meeting in Chicago, Where Effort Will Be Made to Change Present Organization, Which Is Not Regarded as Satisfactory.

Men Used to Catch the Unwary and to Watch for Police Will Be Liable to Arrest if Ordinance Is Passed—Law to Check Boilerworks Recommended.

Professor E. E. McDermott, representing the University of Minnesota in the Central Debating league, will attend the meeting of that organization in Chicago Friday night. It is made up of the universities of Michigan, Wisconsin, Chicago and Minnesota. The present arrangement is not altogether satisfactory, however. The management of the affairs of the league in the University of Wisconsin has not been acceptable to the University of Minnesota, and it is understood that Chicago, Michigan and Northwestern are contemplating the organization of a triangular combination with a view to the disincorporation of Minnesota and Iowa groups in a like way.

This plan, however, will not be satisfactory to Minnesota, and Professor McDermott will propose the organization of a new league, consisting of eight of the larger western universities—Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, Northwestern and Chicago. He has a new plan which he will urge upon the representatives of the different universities. It contemplates the organization of two teams in each university. One team, for instance, from "A" university would consist of "B" and "C" university students, while a team from "C" university would go to "A" to debate with the home team. In this way each university would have one team at work at home and another one contending with some other university. In the end each university would have contested twice with each other university, one taking the affirmative and the other the negative question.

Professor McDermott and his associates in the University of Minnesota think it is a good scheme and will urge its acceptance.
