ASSAILS BUTCHERS WHILE TOTTERING

Representatives McDermott, Facing Operation That May Kill, Defends Jews of Russia.

Washington, April 12.—A most remarkable speech was made in the house yesterday by Representative McDermott of New Jersey, who has spent the greater part of this session in a hospital and has only recently recovered from two operations to his eyes and who will next week again be operated upon.

The physicians and surgeons who have been attending Mr. McDermott have been unable to diagnose the disease in his side which has manifested itself by a swelling and great pain. He will go under the knife without a knowledge of what the operation is to be. Nobody knows whether it will kill or cure.

While delivering his speech in the house today Mr. McDermott was unable to stand erect because of the pain in his side and back. His voice, usually sonorous and audible thru the chamber, could scarcely be heard. He said:

Slaughter Impends.
"With the approach of Easter come the stories of threatened massacres in Russia. Men and boys, women and girls, babes in mothers' arms are to be slaughtered by savage bigots, in whose brains the Russian Greek church seems to have left no trace of mercy."
"In the name of Christ and the cross, men called Christians have tortured and slaughtered men, women and children during 1,800 years. During 1,700 years of the Christian era nearly every fanatic who evolved from his mean and miserable brain a 'command from heaven' cheerfully and diligently persecuted those of his fellowmen who disagreed with him."
"We can teach in press and pulpit,"

Mr. McDermott said, "that the statement that Jesus Christ was crucified by the Jewish nation is the wackedest falsehood that ever fell from human lips."

If Mortal, Romans Did It.
"If Christ was mortal, if he was the son of Joseph and Mary, born in the good, old-fashioned way, he was crucified by the Romans. If he was the son of God, he was crucified by the direction of his father. Under neither proposition can the Jews be held accountable."
"If it is reprehensible for the Jews not to believe, is not their punishment prescribed? Are they not to suffer in hell everlasting?"

"Let the church of Russia speak. Not one in a thousand Russians knows that Christ was a Jew. The Russian Greek church has in its possession many bushels of relics. It has sticks and stones and bones and rags, a garment worn by Christ, the hand of St. Mark and the bones of David. Let the churches of Russia resound with the cry that the hand of St. Mark is the hand of a Jew. Tell the people that the garment of Christ was worn by a Jew. Tell them that on the day of judgment Jesus Christ will hold court with twelve Jews as associate judges."

LETTER DEAD SON WROTE IN '61 REACHES FATHER

Stoughton, Mass., April 12.—"It is as tho my boy had spoken to me from the dead."

These are the words Elisha Hawes, who is nearly 93 years old, repeats as he reads and reads over again a letter he has just received, thru the deadletter office from his son, who died in Virginia during the civil war. The letter was written forty-five years ago. Where the letter has been during all the years and why it did not reach him sooner, is a mystery to Hawes and his friends. The young man was killed at the age of 22 by lightning after being at the front about six months. The boy was a great favorite of his father, and his death was a grief from which Hawes has never recovered. "I can't realize," says Mr. Hawes, "that the boy who wrote the letter would be 67 years old and a civil war veteran now if he had lived."
The letter is a boyish one, giving details about the long marches and full of messages for family and friends.

58 NEW CASES OF FEVER IN PITTSBURG

Pittsburg, April 12.—Fifty-eight cases of typhoid fever have developed within twenty-four hours. Reports from the various schools show that there are about 1,000 pupils absent because of illness, and that a great many of them are suffering from typhoid. The city superintendent attributes these cases to the unfiltered city water in the schools.

The central board of education has ordered filters installed in the buildings over which it has control. The board of education has no control over subdistricts of the city, and much indignation has been aroused against the boards that have either refused or neglected to supply the pupils with pure water. It is possible that schools without a pure water supply will be closed by the health authorities.

ADMIRAL QUELLS MUTINY.
Lisbon, April 12.—With a mutiny on board the Portuguese cruiser Don Carlos I. Admiral Ferrelde, commander of the naval forces, proceeded in person to the mutinous vessel and ordered the mutineers ashore. Over 250 men were landed under guard and confined in the naval barracks.

LAKE TRAFFIC OPENS SEASON AT CHICAGO

Chicago Special Service.
Chicago, April 12.—With the sailing of the steamships Livingstone and Mary H. Boyce today, navigation for 1906 was opened at Chicago. Altho Lake Superior may not open for a week yet, business will start in with a rush now that the straits are clear.
Old-timers who devoutly believe that a boom is due in lake commerce every seven years, have had their faith renewed by the outlook for the coming season. All appearances are as rosy as they were in 1899, which was the last banner year. From Chicago, grain shippers anticipate a heavy movement after the first month. They say the corn is in the country and there is a good demand for it as soon as it gets started.

Owing to the fear of labor troubles, the winter-grain fleet is the smallest in years, not more than 2,500,000 bushels now being loaded or under charter. By July it is believed that the capacity of the Chicago fleet will be severely taxed to carry away the grain that has poured in here from the west.

WENT IN A HOBO, COME OUT A DANDY

New York, April 12.—About 5 p. m. yesterday a hobo entered the Mott Haven apartment house and asked the elevator boy if Mr. Lovejoy, a wealthy buyer for a dry goods firm, was at home. The boy took the man up to the seventh floor where the Lovejoys live and left him there. When the elevator returned an hour later, a well-dressed, smooth-shaven man entered the car. The man carried a bundle under his arm, and after he left the boy found a dirty collar and necktie on the seat in the car.

Mr. and Mrs. Lovejoy were downtown. When they returned late in the evening they found that the doors of their flat had been opened by a jimmy. A tubful of dirty water and a soiled towel showed that someone had taken a bath.

A further search showed that some underclothing, a suit of clothes, an overcoat, silk hat, cane, new shoes were missing. Besides some jewelry, pieces of bric-a-brac and bottles of perfumery were gone.

CIRCUS KING IS DEAD

New York, April 12.—James A. Bailey died at his home in Mount Vernon last night from erysipelas.
He was 59 years of age. Mr. Bailey's name is familiar thruout America and Europe as a showman, and in his later years he was managing director of the Barnum & Bailey shows.
Practically his whole life was spent in the circus business as employee and proprietor. He joined P. T. Barnum in 1881 and since that time most of the big circuses of the country have been consolidated with him as director.

Success in almost everything in this life depends on getting started right. If you get started right with Fels-Naptha soap, you will be through forever with ordinary laundry soaps.—You will say good-bye to the time-honored drudgery of wash-day.—You will save half the time and half the strength you used to spend at the wash-tub.—You will have cleaner, purer clothes, a house free of suds-steam, and a sweeter disposition.

Anty Drudge Tells why Jim Goodfellow Stays Home at Nights.

Mrs. Spieler—"Well, upon my word—did you ever hear! Jim Goodfellow stays home at nights—instead of hurrying out the minute he's wolfed his supper. What can have come over him?"

Anty Drudge—"His wife uses Fels-Naptha now—and her work's done in half the time. Her house ain't choked up with smelly soap-suds and steam, and she's not that dead tired with scrubbing and working she can't get him a decent supper or give him a civil word. Jim's got a home now—something he didn't have before his wife used Fels-Naptha."

But if you get started wrong with Fels-Naptha, if you boil the clothes and use Fels-Naptha soap in hot water, you'll say it's no better than other soaps.

It's all in the way you start: With cold or lukewarm water—right! With the wash-boiler and hot water—wrong, absolutely wrong!

Of course, it's hard to believe, if you have always washed in hot water. But try it. Try Fels-Naptha in cold or lukewarm water. Get started right—follow the easy directions printed on the wrapper.

All grocers sell Fels-Naptha soap.
