AMERICAN LEAGUE OPENS UP TODAY

Eastern Division Playing, While Western Teams Rest Until Tuesday.

The eastern clubs of the American league will open today. Philadelphia playing at Washington, and Boston holding forth at New York, with Griffith's highlanders. The western clubs will remain idle until Tuesday.

The American league race for the 1906 pennant, according to present indications, will be one of the hardest fought in that organization, and every game played will have an important bearing on the ownership of the coveted flag.

The athletics made a great showing against bearing on the ownership of the coveted flag.

The athletics made a great showing against the Phillies in the spring series, and should win from Washington. Mack's men are evidently as strong as they were last season, while the strength of the stalwarts is problematical and will not be known until later.

The game at New York will bring Griffith's greatly strengthened highlanders into action. This team is looked upon as having as good a chance as any to win the honors in the coming race, and with an even break in the luck line, will be right there all the way. Not much is expected of Boston, as most of the stars who made the team great have grown old and lost their former skill and prowess to some extent.

There was nothing friendly about the meeting between Leo Pardello and Dominick Buckley, the Irish champion, at the Dewey last night. The Irishman and Italian mixed things up in a way which brought joy to the hearts of the spectators, even tho it was not wrestling. Buckley had agreed, after a rough match the night before, to throw Pardello in twenty-five minutes or forfeit $25. There were several unkind remarks exchanged in the course of the negotiations and from the moment time was called both men did their best to get even by throwing each other off the mat. called both men did their best to get even by throwing each other off the mat.

After the first fifteen minutes Pardello seemed to forget that he was not wrestling for a fall and went after Buckley hard. Several times it looked as if he had the Irishman, but each time he managed to crawl off the mat. At the call of the crowd Buckley went after a fall and the match roughed up a bit more. Both men used tactics which looked foul, despite the repeated warnings of the referee.

Buckley refused to qut when time was called and Pardello's friends had to pull him off. Tonight Carl Mattson will meet Buckley in a finish match and Pardello will undertake to throw Demetral, the Greek, five times in an hour for a side bet of $100.

Calumet, Mich., April 14.—Lacrosse will occupy a pröminent place in the summer sport of northern Michigan this season. At the two Scoos there is material for a couple of teams, and Percy Hartney, an old lacrosse player, is endeavoring to organize a club in Calumet. Houghton has had good lacrosse teams in former years, and undoubtedly will be represented by a strong aggregation this summer. Nearly all the men who play on the International league hockey clubs in the winter are adepts at lacrosse. Captain Jack Laviolette of the American Soos has gone to Montreal, where a flattering offer was tendered him to play on a lacrosse team in that city. The Soo teams will arrange games with Copper Cliff and Sudbury on the Canadian side, and series will be played with the Houghton and Calumet teams. It is possible that Calumet of Chicago and the St. Paul team will be brought north some time during the summer.

Efforts are being made to bring Charles Coveau of Negaunee, champion Cornish wrestler of Marquette county, and Joseph Ziehr of Calumet, the copper country champion, together on the mat. James Duggan, the Houghton pug, and A. W. Allard of Hubbell have each posted forfeit money to appear in a ten-round boxing match at Lake Linden on April 24.
