THE WEATHER

The Predictions.
Minnesota—Generally fair tonight and Thursday, except probably showers in northeastern portion; cooler; fresh southwest winds, shifting to northwest.
Upper Michigan—Partly cloudy tonight, with warmer in eastern and southern portions; Thursday, possibly showers, with cooler in northwestern portion; fresh southwest winds.
Wisconsin—Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday; warmer tonight; cooler in western and northern portions Thursday; fresh southwest winds.
Iowa—Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday; warmer in extreme eastern and cooler in northwestern portions tonight; cooler.
North and South Dakota—Generally fair tonight and Thursday; cooler tonight.
Montana—Fair tonight and Thursday; cooler in eastern and southern portions tonight.

Weather Conditions.

The low-pressure area over Saskatchewan yesterday morning is now central over the Winnipeg region, with its effect reaching southward nearly to Texas and eastward to include the middle and upper Mississippi valley and the upper in the region shown by southerly winds in the region named, and increasing cloudiness in northern Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, the Dakotas, Wyoming and part of Montana. No precipitation has occurred, except in Wyoming and southern Montana. High pressure over the upper Rocky mountain region is accompanied by colder weather in Saskatchewan, Alberta, Montana and Wyoming. This morning's temperatures are above 32 degrees except at a few points in Alberta. Reports from west of the Rocky mountains are all missing. No precipitation is expected in this vicinity tonight or Thursday because of the lake Winnipeg low-pressure area, and as the high-pressure area moves eastward the temperature will rise.

Weather Now and Then.
Today, maximum 69, minimum 56 degrees; a year ago, maximum 55, minimum 29 degrees.

AROUND THE TOWN

Disease Is Recovering.—Dr. F. R. Woodard is recovering from the serious illness which has confined him to his home for some time and which almost claimed his life. The complete restoration of his health is now assured.

Homekeepers Go West.—The rush to North Dakota and northern Minnesota points on homekeepers' rates continued today. All trains this evening will carry extra equipment and some of them will be run in two sections.

Brakeman Is Bankrupt.—Ralph R. Haft of Minneapolis, a railway passenger brakeman, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the United States court today showing debts of $43 and assets of $70, all personal property.

Bookkeepers Will Debate.—The associations of bookkeepers in Minneapolis will hold a joint session May 15 at St. Paul. The debate will be held on the question, Is Long Service Beneficial to the Employer and Employee or Not?

Ginsberg's House Affair.—Five damaged the residence of Sergeant Martin Ginsberg of the police department. The extent of the damage is being ascertained in a closet on the second floor and spread to the attic before it is extinguished. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Sunday Schools to Meet.—The sixth street of the Minnesota Sunday school association, which is composed of the Sunday schools of the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Grand Rapids, will hold a joint session at the Trinity Baptist church tonight.

Officials at Ball.—Vice Grand Master Amos H. Ball and Grand Medical Officer and Mrs. W. B. Watts of the order of Locomotive Firemen, who attended the wedding of Grand Master Amos H. Ball yesterday, will be present at the ball to be given by the firemen at the Masonic Temple this evening.

Wirth Will Give Pointers.—A meeting of the Linden Hills Improvement association will be held this evening at the Lyndale Congregational church. Under various questions of interest that section of the city. Theodore Wirth, superintendent of parks, will dress the meeting and will give some practical advice on beautifying private grounds.

Orders Tenants Evicted.—Mayor W. P. Jones gave instructions to the police today to notify the lookkeepers on Fourth street between first and second avenues S to notify the tenants overheard to vacate the premises or to conduct themselves with proper propriety. The building at 8 Fourth street is occupied by Clay and Johnson, and that at 110, by Elmer and Teasaw. Failure to comply with the order will mean a revocation of the saloon license.

Sons Will Feast.—The annual banquet of the Minnesota society, Sons of the American Revolution, will be held at the Ryan hotel, St. Paul, tomorrow evening. A reception at 7:15 p.m. will precede the banquet, which will begin at 7:45. The Minneapolis members of the society and the ladies will form a delegation and will go over in a day if arrangements can be made. The principal speakers of the evening will be Judge John Day Smith of Minneapolis and Dr. Morris D. Edwards of Daniel Lawler of St. Paul.

The Music Lover's Opportunity

Here is the opportunity of opportunities for adding a source of pure delight to the home.

BIG SUB-EXCHANGE PLANNED AT FORT

MODEL FOR TROLLEY TERMINAL FOUND AT LEAVENWORTH.

Street Railway Company and Army Authorities May Co-operate and Build a Station and Post Store, Which Would Add to Snelling's Beauty and Furnish Conveniences for Officers and Men.

Plans for the development of Fort Snelling into the largest and most important military post in the United States may include a much more elaborate street railway terminal on the reservation than has been suggested heretofore. This is expected to be the outcome of government co-operation in erecting the terminal building can be secured.

Experience at Fort Leavenworth, the largest government post, has shown a combined terminal and sub-exchange to be perfectly feasible.

With government aid the street railway company could build a building there, which would be the surrounding, and the operation of a branch of the post exchange in connection is a great convenience. The structure is much better than would have been erected had the war department not shared the expense of the building.

The interest of the government, the street railway and the public in the erection of a terminal at Fort Snelling that will be a credit to the post, and conforming in architecture to the post buildings, is declared by business men to be alike. The Commercial club is willing, therefore, to back and feasible plan to secure such a terminal and to use its influence to get an appropriation by congress.

Snelling Like Leavenworth.

The situation is so similar at Fort Leavenworth that conditions there are cited. The government expended $2,500 on the street railway terminal, and the trolley company appropriated $1,500. The result was a very satisfactory architectural result to the post.

The terminal building is at the junction of the two principal post streets and the effect is imposing. In addition to the usual stock of refreshments, cigars, nuts, soft drinks and cigars, the plan was conceived of carrying army specialties, such as textbooks, mathematical instruments, ornaments, and other articles. The exchange also carries subsistence such as are used on the short practice marches. The subexchange sells nothing which brings it into competition with the mercantile stores of neighboring cities. A civilian employee, with four assistants, operates the exchange. At Fort Leavenworth the combination terminal has made a post a great resort for tourists and the exchange satisfies all demands. Even more satisfactory results at Fort Snelling are hoped for. Fort Snelling has natural scenic advantages, however, which are not to be found at Fort Leavenworth. Built near the river gorge, the post terminal would have a setting that is incomparable.

Bridge Plans at Snelling.

In connection with the erection of the terminal the site of the new bridge is to be considered. Four are being considered, all of which are bound to be scenically beautiful. One is one mile north of the post, landing near the old water tower. A second is 400 yards up stream from the old bridge. A third at the lower end of the island, approaching the cavalry barracks. The fourth is 250 feet below the present bridge, the fort end landing near the cavalry parade ground.

The latter plan would make the shortest span, would be an extension of Sixth street in St. Paul, and, crossing at the junction of the Minnesota and Mississippi rivers, would afford one of the most picturesque views in America.

PINAULT ROBBER IS TO PLEAD TOMORROW

Thomas J. Wainwright will have an opportunity tomorrow to plead guilty to stealing thousands of dollars' worth of diamonds and jewelry from Dr. J. N. Pinault's residence, 1206 Mount Curve avenue. An indictment, charging the prisoner with grand larceny in the first degree, was returned by the grand jury today. He will be arraigned tomorrow before Judge F. C. Brooks of the district court, his examination in the municipal court having been postponed pending the action of the county's inquisitors.

That Wainwright will plead guilty is not doubted, for he has again and again admitted his guilt and apparently gloried in it. He can do nothing now but plead and throw himself on the mercy of the court. The maximum punishment he can receive is ten years in the penitentiary, and this is what many of those interested in the case expect him to get.

The grand jury returned a half dozen other indictments today, the majority of them charging against men who were mixed up in last Sunday's cutting scrape on the flats.

Will Build Flats.—C. A. J. Flowren has taken out a building permit for a brick-veneered flat to be erected at 1217-23 Girard avenue N. It will cost $7,800.

MINNESOTANS ARE DULY GRATEFUL

GOVERNOR JOHNSON SENDS LETTER OF THANKS TO ROOSEVELT.

His Acknowledgment of Leading Part Taken by Johnson and O'Brien Accepted as a Compliment—O'Brien Given Credit for Working Out Ideas of Ames Bill.

Governor Johnson and Insurance Commissioner O'Brien are highly pleased today over the credit given them in President Roosevelt's message on the insurance bill, as originators of the idea of the Chicago conference and the uniform insurance code. The governor sent a letter of thanks to President Roosevelt today. Both are especially pleased that the work of the Chicago conference has been accorded its true value.

"The interstate meeting at Chicago achieved a great work," said Governor Johnson today. "Up to that time the developments in insurance matters had been largely destructive. The results at Chicago were constructive, and their importance cannot be underestimated. The decisions reached there will govern new legislation, especially as to abolishing deferred dividends and the plan for granting policyholders a means of taking part in selection of trustees. The Ames bill for the District of Columbia, which the president recommends, is the product of the conference. Legislation for all the states is being prepared along the same line, and a bill will be ready for the consideration of our state legislature. I shall recommend it in my message."

Appreciates Compliment.

"I am not unmindful of the high compliment paid by the president to Mr. O'Brien and myself. I regard it as very exceptional to have been mentioned in a presidential message to the congress of the United States. Mr. Roosevelt has a faculty peculiar to himself of doing things in a way which generally compels gratitude and admiration. As a result of this whole matter and the interest taken by the president, some effective legislation will be put thru by congress and serve as a model for all the states. It is pleasing to know that there is at the head of this government a man who can always be depended upon to take an active stand on any question where the interests of the people are involved. Personally, I regard this incident as one of the most pleasant things in my official life, and certainly value this expression of confidence by President Roosevelt."

"While the president makes no division in his mention of myself and Mr. O'Brien, really the larger amount of credit is due to the untiring and unceasing efforts of Mr. O'Brien in bringing about the insurance legislation. The bill sent to congress and as prepared by the committee named at Chicago was largely a result of Mr. O'Brien's personal efforts. The whole state of Minnesota is proud to feel proud, as I do, that one of the greatest pieces of legislation of the day had its inception and materialization in the mind of a Minnesotan official."

JAIL YAWNS FOR YOUNG THIEVES

STEALING SUNDAY JOURNALS BRINGS SERIOUS TROUBLE.

Charles Broderick and Herbert Michaud are arrested, convicted and placed on probation—Harry Sorenson is sentenced to reform school and cries bitterly over his fate.

Three Minnesotan youths have discovered that while Sunday Journals are desirable possessions it does not pay to steal them. The boys who have been taught a salutary lesson are Charles Broderick, 1012 Twenty-first street S; Herbert Michaud, 731 Eighth street S; and Harry Sorenson, 2105 Tenth avenue S.

The three lads were caught stealing Sunday Journals and were arrested and convicted in the juvenile court. Broderick and Michaud were given some good advice by Judge H. D. Dickinson and placed on probation. Sorenson had been in trouble before and was sentenced to the reform school.

When the lads realized the extent of his trouble he broke down and wept for nearly an hour. He was sent to the county jail, where he is being kept in the woman's ward. Arrangements are being made to place the boy on a farm and he will probably go away tomorrow. All three boys will have to make reports to the probation officer and their liberty depends upon their future good behavior.

TODAY IN THE DISTRICT COURT

Judge D. F. Simpson—Close of the $2,000 damage case of Conboy vs. the Minneapolis Street Railway company.
Judge F. C. Brooks—John Kiloa convicted of improper restraint of a young girl. Leonard Hasty on trial for alleged theft of $25 worth of soldier from 217 Third street N.
Judge John Day Smith—Bend vs. Pike & Cook, still on trial.
Judge Andrew Holt—Minor default divorce and court cases.
Judge H. D. Dickinson—Jury, juveniles in court and minor chamber matters.
Judge F. V. Brown—Webster vs. Woodward, suit to collect $600 from attorney, still on trial.

PIGEON SPEEDS TO DEATH

Flying at the rate of fifty miles an hour, a carrier pigeon struck the plate glass front of the Guggenheim Manufacturing company's store, 223 Fifth street S, yesterday afternoon. The sound of the impact startled the occupants of the store, and they saw even more surprised when they saw the bird, with its breast crushed, fluttering upon the sidewalk. A merciful passerby cut short the pigeon's death agony, and an inspection of the body revealed a brass registry ring around one leg bearing the number 904 and the date 1904. The bird was seen to fly over the Northwestern Telephone building at a high rate of speed. Instead of mounting higher to pass over the electric company's building, it dived into the Fifth street and flew straight into the big plate glass window. The window withstood the shock and bears no mark.

FORMER MEMBERS JOIN IN JUBILEE

AUGUSTANA CELEBRATION IS GIVEN SOCIAL TURN.

Several Ministers Who Were Once Members of Church Here Return to Offer Congratulations—Prominent Laymen and Singers Take Part in Program—Festival Ends Tonight.

A social turn was given to the Augustana church jubilee in the exercises held today. It had been arranged to gather together as far as possible the former members of the church and a great many responded to the invitations. There were also many delegates from various other churches who presented greetings to Augustana and wished for continued growth. At the close of the afternoon exercises supper was served in the church parlors by the ladies of the church. Nearly three hundred guests were present.

An interesting feature was a series of talks by the former members, among them Revs. A. F. Tornell, J. E. Erland, E. O. Stone and A. Noren, who were brought up in the Augustana church here, and left it to enter the ministry. Other speakers were Dr. C. A. Evald, C. A. Smith, Judge Andrew Holt and Schubert's "How Lovely Is Zion" by Miss Thekla Wahlquist and hymns by the jubilee choir.

The celebration ends this evening with a jubilee concert. The program will be as follows:

SEEK WITNESS OF SPENCER SHOOTING

Police Superintendent Doyle and the detectives are looking for another eye-witness to the shooting of Mrs. Elsie Spencer by her husband at Hennepin avenue and Thirteenth street early yesterday morning.

According to the story of Frank McCormick, a man stood directly across the street while the tragedy was going on and did not move. He appeared to be interested, but not frightened. After the shooting he saw Frank McCormick and his wife, who accompanied her, started toward their flat, and did not notice which way this man went. The police think this man might give a better story of what occurred, as he was closer than the McCormicks, and might have overheard something that would give a clue to Spencer's hiding place. McCormick says he has seen the man before, but knows nothing about him. The police are unable to learn whether this other witness to the crime came with Spencer or just happened to be there.

Mrs. Spencer is improving at St. Barnabas hospital, and also she is still in a precarious condition, she may recover.

The police have found no trace of Harry Spencer, the husband, who shot her, and some think he may have gone to some secluded spot and shot himself. The police are looking for him, however, declare he will keep in concealment for a few days, and will then attempt to leave the city. He is well known in the twin cities and did not disappear from the streets without being recognized.

SOLDIER ACCUSED OF FLIGHT AS EMBEZZLER

Harry D. Strubel, first sergeant of Company K, Twenty-eighth regiment of the United States army, stationed at Fort Snelling, is under arrest at the post charged with desertion and accused of embezzlement. Strubel has been in the army only two years, but has earned unusual advancement.

Last month he is alleged to have collected money from the soldiers of his company for a St. Paul laundry company and to have lost it gambling. Afraid to face his comrades and the charges of embezzlement, he waited until the ten days making him a deserter had passed and then picked him up and took him to Fort Snelling. Whether Strubel will be tried for embezzlement by the civil courts or court martial for desertion has not yet been decided.

NECROLOGIO

LILLIAN PAGE died Tuesday morning, aged 12 years. The funeral will take place Thursday at 2:30 p.m. from the home, 906 Twenty-first avenue S. Interment at Layman's cemetery.

HENRY TAGGART GLOVER, aged 82 years, died at his home in Horicon, Wis. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Harlan B. Stacy of Minneapolis, who at present is in California.

EMMA GILMAN.—The funeral of Emma, wife of John A. Gilman, will take place Thursday at 9 a.m. from St. Ann's church, Eleventh avenue N and Lyndale.

JOHN SHELTON.—The funeral will take place from the family residence, 314 Twentieth avenue S, Thursday at 2:30 p.m. Interment at Lakewood.

MRS. HELEN E. PRATT, sister of Mrs. Dora Dornier of Minneapolis, died yesterday in Syracuse, N. Y. Funeral announcement later.

Two Trips to Hospital.—Herman Zenlow was badly beaten in a fight last night. He was found by the police on Hennepin avenue and taken to the city hospital, where he was sewed and patched up. Today he was picked up again in an advanced stage of intoxication and after another visit to the city hospital to be restored was locked up.

PARDON BOARD RELEASES FOUR

MEN CONVICTED OF TRAIN ROBBERY DECLARED INNOCENT.

After Serving Seven Years of a Twenty-Year Sentence, the State Sets Them Free—Burglars' Tools Found on Them When Arrested Convicted Them.

Stillwater prison's big doors will open tomorrow for four men who have served there seven years for a crime they did not commit. Link Thayer, James C. Hall, Homer S. Minot and Charles F. Hoffman, convicted of holding up a Great Northern train near Carlisle in the fall of 1898, are now officially cleared of the deed. The state board of pardons agreed today to release the men, and tomorrow morning the document that means freedom to the quartet will be carried by C. C. Hout, United States district attorney, who has labored without pay in the men's interests for seven years, and by Chief O'Connor of St. Paul, who has always been convinced of their innocence. The pardon board gives the ground for its action as follows:

"That evidence discovered since the trials in both the district and supreme courts has been presented to the pardon board, which satisfies them that the defendant is probably not guilty of the crime with which he was charged, which conclusion is concurred in by the prosecuting attorney, the trial judge and the attorney for the railroad company whose train was robbed."

The men who did the robbery are now serving time in Missouri. The four men pardoned today were caught in Moorhead with burglars' tools on them, and have spent seven years in prison for being thus equipped. As one of their friends expressed it, the trial was a clear case of men being railroaded to prison for the reward. The sentence was for twenty years. Thayer, who is a St. Paul man, is now 41. Hall, who is from Chicago, is 40. Minot is 35 and Hoffman, 23. The pardon is unconditional and the men will be free to go where they wish.

LAWYERS IN DOUBT ON DIVORCE DECISION

Local lawyers are at sea in regard to the effect the United States supreme court decision in the Hadley divorce case will have upon Minnesota divorces and Minnesota practice. Until they receive the full text of the decision, they are averse to passing an opinion upon it or advising their clients whether they are really divorced.

"If the decision is such as to effect only the peculiar statutes of New York and Connecticut, Minnesota divorces obtained in this state will be valid upon one of the parties not residing in the state will still be valid," said a prominent lawyer today. "If, however, the decision lays down a general principle, affecting our law as well as that of the states in which the Hadley case was tried, then, indeed, there will be chaos."

"It will mean the greatest uncertainty as to the status of divorces, the legitimacy of children and the title to property. In cases where a man who has been divorced and remarried, legally divorced and remarried, his property must go to his legal heirs and cannot be held by any children of any woman he may have married subsequent to his supposed divorce. When we get the decision we can begin to figure where we stand."

WOULD END WRANGLE

Judge H. D. Dickinson today ordered the adoption of little Edith Bryant Jones, daughter of Herbert Johnson and his wife, the little girl's mother, vacated. This leaves the adoption of the child in force and the custody of the much desired little heiress with the grandmother, Mrs. Abbie Bryant. The hearing on the habeas corpus secured by the Johnsons was continued for one week.

In the meantime it is thought that some arrangement will be made whereby the little girl will be given to relatives in Cleveland and her custody taken from her wrangling relatives here.

ENCAMPMENT DATES

Dates for the national guard encampments this summer were announced today by Adjutant General F. B. Wood, as follows:
Second regiment, July 5 to 14, at Camp Lakeview.
First regiment, July 15 to 25, Camp Lakeview.
Second regiment and artillery battalion, practice march starts from near twin cities, probably Mendota, July 23, taking six days for trip to Camp Lakeview, breaking camp Aug. 1.
