

The Parade Will Be Drill Ground For Journal Cadets, Day or Night

Finest Level Tract in Minneapolis Is Secured for the Boy Regiments, and Gas Lights Will Make Night Like Day.

BY COLONEL W. H. SPRAGUE, COMMANDING JOURNAL CADET BRIGADE.

THE PARADE GROUND FOR JOURNAL CADETS OPPOSITE THE NEW ARMOY.

It has been found necessary to postpone the date of the company competition drill, for the prize of a silk regimental flag, until a week from next Tuesday. It was found impracticable that the drill should be held in a hall, so the securing of a parade ground suitable for regimental, battalion and brigade, as well as company, drills, was decided upon.

A place has been secured. It is central and is splendidly adapted to the purpose—the wide stretch of green which faces the new Armory building on Kenwood Boulevard. It is level, dry and turfed, and affords all the room that is wanted.

The park board has given its consent that this shall be used this summer for the drills of the Journal Cadet regiments. Later on a camp may also be established there.

A contract has been made with the Minneapolis Gas Light company to illuminate a tract that will be 450 feet long by 250 feet wide. Boulevard lights with ornamental posts, such as are being erected so generally by the company in the downtown districts, are to be set 100 feet apart and will furnish a fine light for the evening drills. The work of laying mains has already begun, and the lights will be in place this week, so the competitive drill will be held there the evening of Tuesday, May 8.

It is planned to hold all the company drills there, so far as is practicable. There will also be battalion and regimental drills Saturday afternoons until vacation time, when there will be more frequent afternoon drills.

As soon as the boys all get their uniforms, so they can make a good public appearance, there will be several excursions for the regiments, which will include afternoons at Wonderland and Big Island parks.

When you wish to speak to an officer, the other salute is given when you pass an officer. Bring the hand opposite to the officer to be saluted, smartly to the head and keep it there until passed or saluted. This salute is also given at six paces.

The rules governing the salutes will be made gradually stricter. Another thing is respect. Every man must stand up at attention just as soon as an officer comes into his presence. Every cadet stand up and salute. After the salute is returned the cadets may then be at ease. "Yes sir," and "No, sir," are the proper ways to answer an officer, and to address an officer, the officer must also be addressed by his title. These rules will be enforced without exception from now on.

The competitive drill will be Tuesday night, May 8, and every cadet must be there. There will be no excuse for men not being there. The prize, as you all know, is a beautiful flag, and will be carried by the flag company, or company winning the contest.

The flag is a beautiful silk one, about four and one-half feet wide and six feet long; regulation in every respect, and made of the finest silk. It will have a jointed staff, mounted with a gold eagle; there will be long streamers and the name Journal Cadet Regiment will be put upon it. It is also to be faced in navy fringe. The flag will be on exhibition in Donaldson's store window.

THE MERIT SYSTEM Will Be Enforced More Strictly Beginning This Week.

Now as to the guns. Each company will have a company chest which will be brought over to the grounds drill nights and the guns taken out. They will be returned after the drill. This will be the case or a building will be used for guns entirely. The guns will perhaps not be given out until after the Decoration Day parade, as it will be necessary to have all engines toward a favorable showing on that day and since the gun drill will somewhat upset the foot movements, it does not look advisable to start the manual now.

The loggins have arrived and many of the cadets have obtained them. This completes the natty appearance of the young soldiers, all that remains now is to finish up the appearance of the whole company by having each company completely in uniform.

As to the competitive company drill Tuesday, May 8, it is expected that a number of Fort Snelling officers will attend, as they are much interested in the progress of the work and it needs an impartial judge to decide on the work.

The marking will be on a percentage basis, so much for the number of uniforms, so much for drill, for appearance and carriage.

The merit system has been but partially put in force, due to the fact that there is no lack of interest by the boys and all are doing their best, but it will be necessary to make a regular schedule for the purpose of caring for a few who have it, as much honor as the others, for this purpose the following will be the schedule:

Late—two demerits.
Absent—three demerits.
Inattention—one demerit.
Second Intention—two demerits.
Third Intention—three demerits.
Slowness—two demerits.
Failure to Salute—two demerits.
Disrespect will be punished by any number of demerits the drill master sees fit to give. Other offenses will be treated according to the open.

The recruiting office is open every day from 4 to 6 and all boys who are entitled to uniforms can get them at that time. Also all boys who desire to join may do so then or report at any company. One thing has taken up more valuable time and done less good than anything we do is slowness in calling the roll. Until the last few drills it has taken fifteen to twenty minutes to call roll. From now on the roll will be called in the following manner: Each cadet will be given a number. Then the first sergeant will give the command, "Call Roll," number 1 will then start, "One," number 2, "two," etc. Then if any member is absent the first sergeant will call his number and put it down on a slip of paper and the rest of the cadets will go on calling their numbers. The first sergeant will then get his roll and put "absences" after the numbers he has had to call.

Last week I spoke of vim and dash. I have seen all this realized and this week I want to ask that we keep up and along with the life of the drill, every man and square of men must aim for accuracy. It will not do any more for some men in a squad to be alert and watching the movements and others sleeping. This is the cause of ragged drill and the cause of inaccuracy. Every man must be on the alert—he must be watching with his eyes and ears, listening for every command and must start to execute it together. This is the way to get accuracy and the only way.

Don't go along stumbling over your own self, your head down and shoulders drooped. Go along on me alert, head up, every muscle strained to do the movement perfectly, and have in mind continually the idea and desire to make your company the best of the lot.

It is my purpose, when we have drill grounds, to have battalion drill once a week. It is also necessary to have company drill. Every company will have its regular weekly drills and besides three companies, or a battalion, will drill together once a week. Later each regiment will drill, perhaps once every two weeks. This may be a little hard, but it is necessary because company drill cannot be sacrificed for battalion drill; neither can battalion for company.

There are a couple of companies not doing their duty either in getting uniforms or in the quality of drill and I expect to muster these out in the course of a couple of weeks and put good ones in their places.

SPooner-La Follette BATTLE IS AVERTED

Parliamentary Move Prevents Threatened Clash Over Indian Appropriation Bill.

Washington, April 28.—Members of the senate were disappointed today because the expected clash between Senators Spooner and La Follette was averted by a parliamentary move on the part of Senator McCumber of North Dakota and Mr. Spooner himself.

On Thursday Senator Spooner had the senate reconsider an amendment to the Indian appropriation bill which had been adopted, and which provided for payment to allottees in Wisconsin and Minnesota of all moneys due them on account of timber cut from their allotments.

This money is deposited in national banks and is in hands of contractors, who are all bonded, and are paying 2 and 1/2 per cent interest. The principal being paid the Indians at the rate of $10 a month, but Senator La Follette believes that it should be paid to them in a lump sum, and the amendment in question was put in the senate on his request. There was also included in it a proposition, favored by Senator Clapp, to have money derived from the sale of inherited land paid to the heirs in a lump and not in monthly instalments.

Senator McCumber attacked the latter part of the amendment, and after some discussion, moved to strike it out on a point of order. Thereupon Mr. Spooner made the same point on the La Follette proposition. Both bills in a conversation which lasted nearly an hour.

After it had been disposed of Senator La Follette went over to Mr. Spooner's desk and engaged in an animated conversation which lasted nearly an hour.

The annual meeting of the Tri-State Grain Dealers' association will be held at Minneapolis, Minn., May 31 and June 1.

IOWA AND MISSOURI HOLD DOUBLE DEBATE

Normal School Men Win on Home Grounds in First of Unique Debating Contests.

Special to The Journal.

Cedar Falls, Iowa, April 28.—Debating trios representing the state normal at Kirksville, Mo., and the Iowa state normal of this city last night debated the following question here:

"Resolved, That municipal ownership and operation of lighting works and street railroad lines would be preferable to private ownership and operation in cities of the United States of 25,000 or more inhabitants, it being conceded that the change of ownership can be legally made."

The team from the Iowa state normal supported the negative and was composed of D. D. Carlton, of Lenox; Thomas Conley, of Cedar Falls, and M. H. Hoffman, of Sigourney.

The team from Missouri was composed of Miss Irma Matthews, C. R. Stone and C. M. Weyand. The Iowans won.

At the same time in Kirksville, Mo., was held another debate in which J. Foy Cross, of Shelbyburg, A. N. Wray, of Roland, and H. C. Snodgrass, of Delta, students of the Iowa normal, had the affirmative of the same question. Missouri, however, won the tables by winning the decision.

"CHUCK" CONNORS IS JAILED FOR ABDUCTION

Bowery King Mirthful When Arrested by Four Bluecoats—In Court Says Charges Are the "Funniest."

New York Herald Special Service.

New York, April 28.—Charged with abduction, "Chuck" Connors, well known as a Chinatown guide and once an expositor of ownership and operation of a manufacturer and operator of the vernacular of the Bowery, was arrested today at his home, No. 6 Doyers street. It took four able bodied policemen to turn the trick. At least four went to Connors' home and summoned him from his couch, where he was asleep.

The complainants against him were Lillian Johnson, 13, and Katherine Neenan, aged 13. They told agents of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children that they had been coaxed away from home by Connors.

When the blue coats made their early call, "Chuck" sat up in bed, rubbed his eyes and said:

"Wot's doin'? Wot's ye comin in bunches fer ennyway?"

When told of the charges against him, Connors laughed. When his mirth subsided he said, with a puzzled air:

"Now, wot's d'ye a link o' da chicks. Wot'd ye tink? Me lure them from home. Say wot's a lure?"

When he dressed himself he said he was ready to go with the policemen if they didn't mind his laughing on the way. As the court had adjourned for the day he was taken to the Oak street police station. He declared the charges were the "funniest" he had ever heard and he would be free in no time. Still mirthful he was locked up in a cell. He will be arraigned in the Tombs police court tomorrow.

Rebel Against Holy Synod.

Tiflis, Transcaucasia, April 28.—The bishops and clergy of the Georgian church, whose demand for the autonomy of their church was recently rejected by the viceroys of the Caucasus, have decided to refuse further to recognize the authority of the holy synod and to ask the patriarchs of the Greek orthodox church to enroll them in that church.
