Ben Cary, formerly of the Minneapolis commission firm of Cary & Barnes, has written to Minneapolis friends telling of his escape in San Francisco earthquake. Prisoned in the first floor of a seven-story hotel, he believed that his time had come, but the building stood, and did not burn till he had time to remove to effects.

The St. Paul school board contemplates the erection of a new eight-room grade school in the first ward. A. Lindahl, school inspector, has reported that there are 400 children in the ward who cannot be properly accommodated by the present school facilities. The real estate committee of the board is now looking into the matter.

What has the Twin City Telephone company done for Minneapolis? It has reduced the price of independent line telephones from $10 a month to $4, and the price of residence telephones to a wonderful degree. It has given the citizens of Minneapolis a magnificent telephone system with no party lines, insuring rapid service and the largest exchange. Better be with the majority than the minority.

Colonel Owen J. Sweet, commanding the department of Dakota, has ordered a general courtmartial to convene at Fort Keogh, Mont., May 7. CENTRAL MARKET OPENS SATURDAY

OFFICIALS PREPARE FOR LARGEST BUSINESS IN ITS HISTORY.

Four Hundred and Twenty-five Gardeners Engage Space—Outlook for Market Gardens Is Excellent—Weather Has Been Ideal and Vegetable Crops Are Thriving.

Minneapolis Central City market will open Saturday morning for the new season.

According to R. H. Adams, market manager, there is every indication that the coming season will be the most successful in the history of the market. Mr. Adams says there will be 425 gardeners and 75 fruit men in the market. Allowing six feet of shed frontage for each man, that will more than fill the present accommodations. Accordingly there is to be built 330 feet of shed, which will cost $2,500. Last year there were but 390 gardeners in the market, more intended than the market had, but the wet, cold spring prevented them from doing so. Many had as much as half their acreage so wet as to be unfit for cultivation. Other had their early crops either entirely or in part spoiled. This spring the weather has been ideal, and the early garden truck crop promises to be exceptionally large. In fact, some of the gardeners have crops so far advanced that the market is open already. The opening of the market Saturday will see young spinach, lettuce radishes, peas, plump, cucumbers, (mostly imported) and handsome pieces of various kinds of root crops held over from last year.

Business of $1,000,000.

The extent of the business of the garden truck market is probably little known. Last year it aggregated nearly $1,000,000, and frequently amounted to $1,000,000 a day, in all cases but business. One would on an occasion netted its owner $128.

The amount of money made by the truck gardeners, many of whom are women, is surprising. An interesting instance of what one energetic woman can accomplish is shown in the record made last year by Mrs. M. Clemons, who cultivated five acres at Lake Crystal. Five other acres were under water and not fit for use. The crop from the five acres yielded 2,200 gross. In addition to her own labor she had expenses of $900. The net was $1,700 net for the season. One man with twenty acres is credited with having secured $5,000 gross.

The secret of the success of the market gardeners is the fact that they give to the cultivation of their small acreage.

Minnetonka Fruit.

The fruit crops at Lake Minnetonka and vicinity are beginning to figure as an important addition to the Central city market. Nearly every year has seen some innovation along this line. Last year saw the offering on the market of the first two cases of home-grown cherries. R. H. Adams, market manager, says he believes that this year home-grown cherries will be offered in considerable quantities.

"The public seems to be unaware," said Mr. Adams, "of the fact that the St. Louis exposition Minnetonka won more prizes or fine fruit than any other state, and the best of this fruit came from the section of country which is tributary to the Minneapolis market."

LABOR LEADERS TO MEET MANY MARRIAGES ONLY CONTRACTS

IMPORTANT BUSINESS AWAITS CONVENTION OF STATE FEDERATION AT STILLWATER ON JUNE 11.

The twenty-fourth annual convention of the Minnesota State Federation of Labor will be held in Stillwater, beginning on the morning of June 11 and continuing from day to day until the business of the federation is completed. There are many important questions to be considered at the coming convention, and with the one and one-third day rates already promised, the general interest, it is predicted that there will be an unusually large attendance.

The rules of representation in the convention have been given out as follows:

All trades assemblies, building trades councils, union label leagues and delegate craft organizations will each be entitled to one delegate for every ten members or major fraction thereof, but no organization will be entitled to a greater number than five delegates.

Organizations that have seceded from national or international bodies will not be allowed representation or given recognition.

The revenue of the federation is derived from an affiliation fee, a per capita tax of the organization for each member of the organization affiliated, the per capita to be paid at the beginning of each quarter, and the dues of the secretary. The dues of central labor bodies are $1 per delegate.

NEW CODE SHUTS OUT THE COURT COMMISSIONERS.

Ceremonies Performed by Such Officials Not Provided for in Revised Statutes, and So the Parties to the Agreements Are Husband and Wife Merely Under the Common Law.

By a recently discovered provision of the new code the court commissioner is deprived of his right to perform marriage ceremonies. As a result the people whom Court Commissioner William E. Bates has married since the new code went into effect are man and wife merely under the common law, having made a civil contract to that effect.

The provision by which the code repeals Chapter 311 of the laws of 1897 was only recently discovered at the courthouse and has undoubtedly not been brought to the notice of Court Commissioner Bates, who is continuing to perform marriage ceremonies as fast as the applicants come to him. The marriage is undoubtedly a valid common law marriage, and since the official has been acting in ignorance of the new law there will undoubtedly be no inclination on the part of anyone to enforce the penalty of $100 fine provided in cases where anyone without proper authority performs the marriage ceremony.

Chapter 311 of the 1897 laws gives the court commissioner the right to perform the marriage ceremony. After repealing this chapter, the new code follows the old statute giving the right only to justices of the peace, judges, superintendents of certain asylums and ministers of the gospel.

MINNEAPOLIS BOOSTERS SENT TO G. A. R. POSTS

Ten thousand convincing and artistic folders, "boosting" Minneapolis and telling of the elaborate plans now under way for the entertainment of the Grand Army encampment next August are in the mails and on their way to G. A. R. posts and organization all over the country. The prospectus is issued by the Grand Army executive committee, in general charge of an effective effort was given to the secretary, the editor in chief being Wallace G. Nye, secretary of the committee.

The "boosters" is similar in size and arrangement to a railroad folder. A handsome design shows the typical Minneapolis extending a welcoming hand to a veteran. The background of the design is the milling and business district, showing the Mississippi river and the stone arch bridge. The back page extends the greetings of Minneapolis to the veterans and their friends.

Every page is filled with interesting sketches and hand-drawn illustrations of the city. Two maps, one of the city and the street system, and another of the business district, showing the principal buildings, hotels, etc., are also included. An other large edition of the folders will be ready in a few days and may be secured at headquarters in the Andrus building.

The publicity that will be gained for Minneapolis thru the advertising of the encampment will be enormous and of the greatest possible value. The first edition, which is followed by the literature, and by the time the summer travel begins Minneapolis will be one of the city of the northwest of which everybody knows.

The Commercial Club Chronicle is also out and is full of interest. The social work of the club for the last quarter is outlined, but the lion's share of the space goes to the address of the organization and to a resume of the advancement made by the business interests of the city in the last three months.

TEACHERS MUST BE SOUND

St. Paul School Board Discusses Test for Health.

The St. Paul school board contemplates demanding a health examination of all applicants for positions as teachers beginning Friday. It is believed that they are physically fit to teach. The resolution was introduced by C. W. Gordon at a meeting last evening, and was the result of a committee report from the board of health, asserting that persons afflicted with tuberculosis are prohibited from teaching school. The resolution of Mr. Gordon was referred to the health and sanitary committee and will not be acted upon until the state board of health is further consulted on the subject.

LOSERS RIGHT HAND

Adolph Dickhaut, 1000 Marvill street, Minneapolis, lost his right hand yesterday while at work in the factory of the Acme Bedding company, St. Anthony Park. His hand became caught in the teeth of a machine at which he was working, and was severed from the wrist at the level of the floor. He was taken to his home after receiving treatment.

A GREAT PLANT

Wilbur Chocolate & Cocoa Company Make Big Expansion.

The activities of the house of H. O. Wilbur & Sons, Philadelphia, reveal an interesting phase of development in a great chocolate and cocoa business. For generations the best chocolates of the land have been made by the Wilbur family, and their heads of this concern were devoted to solving those problems that precede the attainment of finished products. But with these problems solved the Wilbur firm now free to make its line of goods the best known and best distributed in the country.

That the housewife and baker, as well as general consumers of chocolate products are coming to know "Wilbur Quality" better than ever is evidenced by the recent tremendous increase that popular demand has necessitated in factory facilities. Not long since the company made extensive additions to their already large factory at 235 to 241 North Third street, Philadelphia. And now the announcement is made of a still further increase by acquiring two four-story buildings at 829 to 835 North Third street.

With these facilities the Wilbur firm will easily rank among the greatest chocolate and cocoa manufacturers in the world.

It is not generally known that to this firm is due the credit for first making in this country that popular confection known as "Milk Chocolate." This specialty, together with the Wilbur Cocoa, and Wilbur's "Sweet Clover" Vanilla Chocolate and Chocolate Buds are now household words from coast to coast.

So today the Wilbur firm is seeking to tell every user of high-grade chocolates and cocoas its message of clean and honest manufacture, and nourishing and wholesome products.

KNIGHT ITEM MIXED

His Political Candidacy Has Nothing to Do with Bankruptcy.

Thru the interpolation of a type line from an item regarding another man's bankruptcy petition, a most misleading effect was given to the paragraph in yesterday's Journal announcing that William M. Knight had filed as a candidate for the board of county commissioners from the fourth district. The item should have read thus: Files for Commissioner—William M. Knight, Forty-ninth street and Washburn avenue N., has filed his affidavit of candidacy for the republican nomination as county commissioner from the fourth district. Mr. Knight is well known in Minneapolis, having been a resident here for the last forty years.

RETIRE ON PENSION

J. H. Mocheila, driver of the patrol wagon at the North Side police station, has resigned from the police force. He has served twenty years and has reached the age of 55, hence he is eligible to retirement on a pension. Officer Mocheila is considered one of the best men on the force and his superiors would like to have him remain on duty a while longer, but he is anxious to take a rest after twenty years of continuous service.

MAY PUT SEWER IN

Bemidji has finally been given permission by the state board of health to install a sewer system, emptying into a stream between Lakes Irvine and Bemidji. Permission is granted on condition that a septic tank be provided, which will purify the sewage. The board of health states that this grant of permission does not mean that the policy of the future is changed, or that it will in the future grant permission to any city to empty its sewage into lakes and rivers. The right is reserved to require filter beds to be installed. The city of Bemidji has 4,000 inhabitants, and has been needing a sewer system badly. Typhoid has broken out repeatedly. The problem of disposing of the sewage has stood in the way.

SOO ISSUES MAGAZINE FOR FARMER PATRONS

"Forest and Prairie Homemaker" is the title of a twenty-page illustrated magazine which the passenger department of the Soo line will issue monthly, beginning Friday. H. R. Carter is the editor, under the supervision of General Passenger Agent W. R. Callaway.

The first number is an attractive paper, full of good things for the farmer. It is a new and interesting feature in railroad magazine work of vacant lands in Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Michigan and Wisconsin, along the system. The names of land agents are printed, with a homeseekers' map of the region traversed by the Soo line.

The table of contents teems with telling interesting facts about the farm and stock, wholesome milk and butter, poultry and beekeeping, seeding and crops, flag growing, good roads, soil survey work, orchard and gardening, sheep and swine, dairy and creamery, and the household. The editorial department is well handled, and the Soo venture will be invaluable to its readers who require a condensation of the best information on lines interesting to them.
