AFTER VANDALS OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Vandalism in the public library was the chief topic for discussion at the meeting of the library trustees yesterday afternoon. It has recently been discovered that a fine set of art works of fifteen volumes has been ruined by the removal of a curtain to conceal illustrations of noted sculptures...

CONNECTION SOUGHT WITH SUPERIOR BRIDGE

Another effort is to be made to open a traffic street to connect Erie avenue with the bridge across the St. Louis and Great Northern railway tracks at Superior avenue. The bridge can not be used for traffic purposes, as the only outlet at the east end is Superior avenue, which is a parkway, and not open for anything but pleasure driving...

EMPLOYERS NOW SEEK NEW CREWS

PHONE AND IRON STRIKERS ARE NOT ACTIVE

Foundry and "Hello" People Willing to Take Back Their Old Workmen as Individuals—Apprentices Join Strike and Forfeit Bonuses.

As far as appearances go, all parties concerned in the two strikes now on in Minneapolis, the foundry workers and the telephone construction crews, seem well satisfied. For the large number of men involved in both strikes, the struggle is remarkably quiet in every way. Neither organization has picketed about the plants where the men are out. The strikers keep about their headquarters, perfecting their organizations and saying plans to prevent bringing in outside workmen.

Employers say that the strike is causing some annoyance, but deny that they are crippling. Both the foundrymen and the telephone managers are willing to take their old men back as individuals and at the old scale, and would prefer them to others. Many of the iron moulders have been in their shops for years. One foundry has a man out who has been constantly in its employ for thirty years, every day except Sundays and holidays. He has raised a family and has bought a home with his wages and has sons working at the trade in the same shop. Many of the telephone men are old and trusted hands who stand high with their employers.

First Chance to Old Men

The employers in both cases are planning to secure new men if necessary, they will give the old men every opportunity to return under the old conditions. Both are firm, the iron men stand against the demands made by the union organizations. The foundry men will secure entire new crews if necessary, and say they will stand to the finish against the closed-shop agreement; that all men who return must do so as individuals and make individual contracts.

No Big Work Delayed

The break came at a good time for the employers, as their contracts were well cleared up and no important city work is being delayed. It was feared that the strike might interfere with the carrying out of the street-illumination scheme undertaken by the merchants along the Hennepin street, but the companies say they will be able to secure all necessary poles.

THREE REPUBLICANS FILE FOR ALDERMEN

Three well-known republicans entered the lists for political honors today by filing petitions of candidacy for aldermanic positions in various wards. Thru an unusual coincidence John H. Van Nest, alderman of the thirteenth ward and candidate for re-nomination, secured certificate No. 13. He accepted it with much satisfaction, and considers it an omen of good. Walter H. Buchanan, one of the solid men of the eighth ward, also filed. He is an extensive property owner, a successful business man, and will make a vigorous campaign, if necessary. Pliny W. McAllister, formerly alderman from the tenth ward, has decided to make the run again, and formally entered the field today. He was always an aggressive campaigner, and intends to stir up some excitement in the tenth ward.

MORE SHOPLIFTERS CAUGHT BY POLICE

EXTENT OF GANG'S WORK STILL UNKNOWN

Amelia Nelson Gives Information Which Leads to Recovery of Much Plunder, and the Arrest of Others Concerned in Ongoing Work—Clever Schemes Are Uncovered.

Shoplifters, several of them women moving in good circles, are still occupying the attention of the police, and two more women, Katherine Mason and Amelia Nelson, were arrested today. It is now thought that the gang may be composed of a dozen or more women and that not more than half of them have so far been arrested. Goods worth $400 were found in three houses yesterday and every day of search brings to light new robberies from the big department stores.

Tells on the Others

For three weeks Detectives Morrissey and Stavlo have been shadowing the clerks and go-betweens, but the gathering of evidence was slow until one woman who has not yet been arrested, broke down and gave up the names of as many of the gang as she knew.

When the Nelson woman was first suspected and questioned she became indignant, and she was taken to the station before a chance statement that might be incriminating could be obtained from her. After the first slip, however, she said the game was up and told the officers all she knew. She told the officers she had secreted goods in various houses about the city, and her statements were proved by the discovery of the goods. She is locked at Central station and will be arraigned Monday on a charge of grand larceny.

The Mason woman was arrested on information given by the woman who gave the evidence, and she was fined $50 by Judge E. F. Waite in police court today.

The woman who has furnished the police with so much information is still helping the officers, but the women who will have to stand trial for grand larceny declare that they will have their attorney swear out a warrant for her so she will be tried at the same time.

The proprietors of the stores became alarmed today when they were informed that there had been more arrests, and they fear that the robberies will continue unless the entire gang is arrested and punished. In an case, where the amount stolen is sufficient, judges in charge of grand larceny, the case will be pushed to the limit.

ARMY OFFICERS TO SEE CADETS DRILL

BYSTANDERS BEATEN

A young business man from St. Paul was on his way downtown on a Comco car in company with A. W. Guild, superintendent of buildings at the university, when the car was struck by a car in the crowd. The young man who accompanied Captain Jones was struck with a club, also he says there was plenty of real fighting the police could have had their hands full. The president of the senior class was also the target for clubbings, although he was not near the fighting line. A downtown newspaper man alighted from a car and asked the nature of the trouble. He says that for an answer he received a blow on the cheek that felled him to the ground. Walter H. Buchanan, one of the solid men of the eighth ward, also filed. He is an extensive property owner, a successful business man, and will make a vigorous campaign, if necessary. Pliny W. McAllister, formerly alderman from the tenth ward, has decided to make the run again, and formally entered the field today. He was always an aggressive campaigner, and intends to stir up some excitement in the tenth ward.

Dean Downey Has Names

Dean John P. Downey of the university faculty has secured the names of many of the students who took part in the fight with the Minneapolis police on Thursday night, and there are quaking hearts on the campus. No further action has yet been taken, but it is probable that a meeting of the faculty will be called next week to consider the affair. Students who engaged in the clash declare no attempt was made to rush the student body, and the police work because the latter were not allowed to have things their own way. They say they are ready to answer for anything that happened on their side, and are ready for an investigation.

SCAVENGERS ARE BURIED IN DIRT

ORDERS TO HAUL RUBBISH SWAMP MEN AND TEAMS

Activity of Householders in Cleaning Back Yards of Rubbish and Impatience to Have Job Completed at Once Create Unusual Condition in Sanitary History.

As a result of the strenuous efforts to clean the city, inaugurated a month ago by the Improvement league, the scavengers are fairly swamped with work and do not know where to turn for teams and men. "We always expect to be busy at this time of year," said one of the prominent men in the business, "and we rather enjoy being busy, but the present situation is unbearable. We are putting forth every effort we can, but are incapable of meeting the demand, which is unprecedented in my twenty-five years' experience in the business. My firm is already more than a month behind and still the orders pour in."

Everybody Is in a Hurry

"The majority of orders are for the removal of ashes and rubbish from back yards, and they are due largely to the Improvement league movement. We are grateful to the league for sending us the work, but the property owners are dissatisfied because we can't remove it when they want it. Having decided to clean up, they want it done at once, without taking into consideration that there are thousands of citizens who are in the same position."

All Work Like Heroes

It is understood that all the scavengers are working as they never worked before. This, with the unusual work of the street commissioners in the public alleys, will undoubtedly do much to remove the criticism against the untidy appearance of premises in certain parts of the city. The work of the women in the different wards is now fully organized, and some highly gratifying reports are being received from the general committee. The next meeting of the committee are W. P. Barton, H. B. Chamberlain, F. L. McVey, Frank McDonald and E. D. Solenberger.

Calgary Swamped By Settlers' Rush

The Denver of Canada, Literally Overrun by the Throng of Homeseekers. Calgary, Alberta, May 3.—The most blasé citizen of this lively little city has had his equanimity disturbed by the remarkable rush of people from the United States into this region this spring. The first excursion party brought upward of 700 people from the States, and they have been coming in carloads ever since. The hotels are full to overflowing, and settlers are sleeping on the floor of immigration hall. Alberta draws from the Pacific and mountain states as well as from the middle west. Hundreds of the new settlers are coming into Calgary from Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana. The great irrigation works that the Canadian Pacific is building here naturally attract settlers from those states where irrigation has been successfully practiced. On the other hand, the vast areas of land, that are adapted to spring or winter wheat without irrigation, constitute a magnet for settlers from the great grain states.

BABY PLAYS AT FIRE; MAY DIE FROM BURNS

Her face burned beyond recognition and her body covered with painful blisters, the little four-year-old daughter of Everett Teusau lies at the point of death at her home, 299 Main street NE. Her older brothers built the fire in the kitchen on Thursday night, and several of the children in the neighborhood played about it. Occasionally they would jump to the edge of the fire in a spirit of daring and would leap away and then return to the flames by the fire. The little girl, younger than the others, was not so agile, but, undaunted, she tried the same things she saw the others do. Suddenly her dress caught fire, and before she was noticed, her face and body were enveloped in flames. Her screams attracted the other children, and they were injured by the flames. Her face was blackened and charred and her body badly burned. She has a slight chance of recovery, but she has gained little since the accident.

THOMAS LOWRY HOME; SEES NEW OFFICES

Thomas Lowry had the first glimpse of his new offices in the Soo Line building today. When he left for the south-west last fall the new headquarters of his railroad company were in the direct confusion. Today everything was spick and span and the prospect of a suite of offices on the second floor were faultlessly furnished. Mr. Lowry was in his office only a short time this morning, but he received visits from the heads of departments who congratulated him on his improved health; attended to a few matters of detail and returned to his home on Cleveland street. Mr. and Mrs. Lowry, both in excellent spirits, returned today in a special car attached to the Burlington. They have spent the winter in the southwest and California. The Lowry summer home at Monticello is not yet ready to occupy, but it is probable that the family will spend the summer there.

"BOOSTERS" WORK FOR MINNEAPOLIS

PRIZE CONFERENCE OF CHARITIES AND CORRECTIONS

Two Hustlers for Flour City Are Already Busy in Philadelphia and Main Body of Delegates Will Arrive Early Next Week—Wheeler Directs "Booster Committee."

Minneapolis has two representatives in Philadelphia working to secure the next meeting of the national conference of Charities and Corrections for Minneapolis. They are Miss Marie B. Jamme, head visiting nurse for the Associated Charities, and Miss Susan H. Kingman. E. D. Solenberger, manager of the Associated Charities, leaves tonight for Chicago, where he will spend a day with friends and will go east Monday night with the combined Minnesota and Chicago delegations, which will travel in a special car. In the party which is planning to leave here Monday night are W. P. Barton, superintendent of the city poor department; Miss Caroline Crosby, Unity House; H. B. Chamberlain, attorney to the juvenile court; Miss Vera E. Bean, secretary of the Humane society; W. D. Washburn, Jr., Right, Rev. Samuel C. Edsall, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Minnesota; Miss Elizabeth Taylor, Bethany Settlement; Frank McDonald, Dr. W. D. Lawrence, Professor F. L. McVey, state auditor; Miss Caroline Macomber, Ralph W. Wheelock, representing Mayor D. P. Jones. Mr. Wheelock is chairman of the "boosting committee," as well as the mayor's representative, and he will conduct a vigorous campaign to secure the next meeting for Minneapolis. The other members of the committee are W. P. Barton, H. B. Chamberlain, F. L. McVey, Frank McDonald and E. D. Solenberger.
