BOYS TAKE 18-POUND FISH FROM CALHOUN

Two of the mightiest fishermen in Minneapolis were here yesterday. A 15-year-old, Donald Bruce, 2732 Colfax avenue S. and Joe Mayer, 2650 Bryant avenue S., son of John Mayer, foreman at the postoffice. "There's just as good fish caught in the surface. He was caught," was proved by the lads, and zeal in fishing around that lake has gone up many hundred per cent. The boys were trolling from a boat Sunday afternoon. Bruce and Mayer were handling the trolls. Suddenly there was a strong pull at the line, and by hard hand-over work the monster at the other end of the line was brought to the surface. He splashed so valiantly and made such a desperate fight that Mayer, tired out, and he finally gave the line a twist around an oarlock and turned the fight over to Bruce. He pulled and yanked and yanked and pulled. Twice the fish was landed in the boat and as many times it managed to flop over the side into the water. Then a well-directed crack with an oar and stunned it and the panting and excited boys rested and leisurely pulled for the landing. The catch proved to be an eighteen-pound pickerel, a trifle more than three feet long, and as big around as either boy's head. The monster was sold to the Roosevelt club and today smoked on the board of that club.

MINNEAPOLIS MAN TELLS OF ISLANDS

ARTHUR H. KENNEDY IS FRESH FROM MANILA.

After Spending Four Years in Government Service in Philippines Young Varsity Graduate Visits His Parents Here—Believes Bright Future Is Ahead for Islanders.

After four years in the Philippines and a trip thru Asia and Europe, Arthur H. Kennedy, a member of the class of 1901 at the University of Minnesota, returns to his home in Minneapolis and says it is the best place on the map. He has visited most of the large cities of the United States, the coast cities of Asia, and the principal cities of Europe since he left Minneapolis four years ago. Mr. Kennedy will be remembered in Minneapolis. He was a member of the class of 1896 at the North High school. He graduated from the university in 1901, and after taking the civil service examination was assigned to Manila in April, 1902. After a short service in the health department he was transferred to the customs department. After the department was disbanded a month he was made disbursing officer at Manila. He rose rapidly in the service, was made a traveling inspector, and spent much time in various parts of the island, returning to Manila for a short time before leaving for home.

Visits Big Cities. The return trip has been one of unusual interest and was taken in easy stages, considerable time being spent in larger cities in Asia and Europe, for study of economic and municipal questions. At the time of the eruption of Vesuvius Mr. Kennedy was in Venice. He spent more time at Minneapolis last week completed Mr. Kennedy's trip around the world. He sailed for Manila from San Francisco and made the hop back by way of the Suez canal. He described the situation in the Philippines at the present time as follows: "The United States is spending a great deal of money in the islands that is bringing in little actual return at present. Business conditions are good and constantly improving. In a short time the development of the islands will begin to be more marked and a great friendship and good will toward the states will surely follow. The ground work is being well laid and when the reaction of friendly feeling begins to be felt, the islands will have loyal people in the Philippines."

Common People Pleased. "I think the wealthier classes would be glad to see the islands placed under the control of the United States. Former high-handed methods are tabooed under American rule. The common people are much better off, and are beginning to realize the advantages of the islands, especially Manila, are entirely different from what they were before the American occupation. Manila is now a modern city. One thing that will tend to the establishment of more friendly relations is the coming universal use of the English language. I speak Spanish, but I was picked up in the islands, but was able to get about without trouble. Everybody, especially the rising generation, is beginning to use the English language for business purposes."

Much Capital Needed. "There have been many Americans in the islands, and especially in Manila, most of the young men here are going in and many of those who have been there five or six years are leaving and coming back to the states. The few who are going in are generally in the employ of the United States companies and plantation syndicates. Most of the business openings require large capital. The wages paid skilled labor are high, but the unskilled Japanese are flocking in in large numbers. Carpenters especially, are going in and find steady employment at once. Many Japanese fishermen are settling in the islands."

Mr. Kennedy is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Kennedy, 821 Fourth avenue S., and will remain in Minneapolis for some time. He has a host of friends here, especially among former university people. While in college he was prominent in college affairs and athletics and was a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

CADETS DRILL ON CAMPUS

JOURNAL SOLDIERS HEREOFORTH WILL HAVE CENTRAL LOCATION FOR COMPANY AND BATTALION MOVEMENTS.

Subjected to a rigid inspection under the eyes of Major W. A. Mann of the United States army, the 500 cadets in the state university corps spent morning and afternoon today in performing the evolutions of annual inspection day. The exercises were by far the most elaborate ever attempted by the university corps and the onlookers who flocked to the campus to see the university cadets drilled by the Minnesota battalion will rank well in Major Mann's report to the war department.

ADLAI MURPHY, Company D, First Regiment.

TONIGHT'S DRILLS OF THE JOURNAL CADETS

At the Army Camp at 7:30—Company B, First regiment, and Company C, Second regiment.

Beginning with this week, the campus opposite the army on Kenwood boulevard will be utilized as a drill-ground for most of the companies of the Journal cadet regiments. In addition to the drills tonight the drills of all companies are scheduled there with the exception of Company H, First regiment, at University and Twelfth avenue SE, and Company G, Second regiment, at Bethany church tomorrow night; Company I, Second regiment, at Plymouth and Aldrich avenues, Wednesday night; Company D, First regiment, Labor Temple, and Company G, First regiment, seventh ward republican hall, Thursday night, and Company D, Second regiment, University and Twelfth avenue SE, Saturday night.

The drills for Friday night, Companies F and I, First regiment, and B, Second regiment, at the campus, it is expected, will be omitted, as both regiments are there and march to Lyndale avenue and Lake street to witness the drill of the national guard to be held there. The Journal newsboys' band will accompany the cadets.

Reservists will be reviewed at any of the drills, and special attention will be given them, so they will know the foot movements by the time the drill in the manual of arms begins on June 1.

The railroad agreed to make a rate of eight cents, which was thought reasonable by commission and shopper, and the reduction was made voluntarily, no order being filed.

FIGHTING GERMS AT THE FEDERAL BUILDING

The sanitary improvement campaign has commenced at the Minneapolis federal building in accordance with the order promulgated some time ago from the treasury department at Washington. Officers throughout the building are being placarded with notices and regulations for prevention of the spread of disease. "Do not spit on the floor" is to be enforced vigorously. The work will be done in a systematic way, and the regulations to be wiped off with damp cloths daily, and the corridors are to receive daily applications of cleansing soap and water. Heads of departments are also instructed to see that all rooms are thoroughly ventilated and kept as bright as the window facilities of the building will permit.

SHY ON CHESTNUTS

Merry Makers at the Dewey Introduce New Humor. A well-balanced bill containing many new burlesque and vaudeville features is presented by the Merry Makers Extravaganza company at the Dewey theater this week. The two burlesques are exceptionally well written and are in the hands of comedians who know how to make them go with a snap. In the first burlesque, "Running for Mayor," the actors are given an unusual opportunity to make local hits, which take well. The burlesque is clean, however, and no one indulges in mean personalities. The pharmacist and vaudeville features are equally pleasing, while the pretty chorus helps out in the general effect. Several clever stunts are contained in the vaudeville bill, which is longer than usual. John L. Sullivan, who has not visited Minneapolis for several years, is the extra attraction and made the hit that was expected of him. He gives an unusual opportunity to his patrons to have a musical specialty that beats anything heard in burlesque this season and they are able to show that it is not necessary to use the so-called popular music to entertain their hearers. Brown and Robinson make good in their comedy turn and the Exposition Four give a varied entertainment that shows unusual versatility. Mile. Bartollet is a pleasing dancer and, unlike many others, she doesn't spoil her act by trying to sing difficult songs.

ARMY OFFICER CONDUCTS ANNUAL INSPECTION.

Entire Day Is Devoted to Maneuvers of Corps Under Direction of Major W. A. Mann, Inspecting Officer—Band, Artillery, Drill Team and Infantry Put Thru Evolutions.

Subjected to a rigid inspection under the eyes of Major W. A. Mann of the United States army, the 500 cadets in the state university corps spent morning and afternoon today in performing the evolutions of annual inspection day. The exercises were by far the most elaborate ever attempted by the university corps and the onlookers who flocked to the campus to see the university cadets drilled by the Minnesota battalion will rank well in Major Mann's report to the war department. As a result of the system of uniform governmental inspection and grading inaugurated by the war department this year the university cadets have been put thru a severe training during the year and this fact, together with an increased registration in the undergraduate classes and the formation of two cadet battalions of three companies each, made the showing today the best in the history of the cadet corps.

Covers Every Movement.

The exercises consisted of regimental parade and inspection, guard mount, artillery drill, and an exhibition drill by the university crack squad. The band participated in the infantry exercises and was subjected to the same inspection as the companies of the regiment. Artillery drill and the drill of the crack squad were held in the army at the conclusion of the infantry exercises.

This afternoon the cadets assembled at 2 o'clock and were thru military evolutions under the direction of Colonel Mann. Heretofore the annual inspection has been confined to the regimental review and inspection and this feature has been introduced by the government in order to give the inspection officer a better opportunity for ascertaining the efficiency of the different university and school battalions.
