

THE JOURNAL CADETS IN THEIR FIRST MARCH WIN HIGH PRAISE FROM COMMANDER SPRAGUE

Review of the Week's Work Shows that the Little Men Are Fast Becoming a Well Drilled Body-- All Ready for Decoration Day.

THE JOURNAL BRIGADE, AS IT APPEARED FRIDAY NIGHT AT THE ARMORY CAMPUS, READY FOR ITS FIRST MARCH.

TO THE JOURNAL CADET BRIGADE:

On your behalf I have accepted an invitation for the Journal Cadet Brigade with its band to attend the memorial service to be held at the Auditorium Sunday evening, May 27, in honor of our nation's dead. The G. A. R. posts of the city have been invited and it is desired that the cadets should take part in the exercises.

As the space of time will not permit a company vote on the invitation, I accepted the invitation with the provision that the cadets are requested, and not commanded, to attend.

Seats are to be reserved for you and you will get instructions at company drills during the week as to the part you are to take in the program. Next Saturday morning a battalion drill will be held at the campus, when you will march to the Auditorium for a rehearsal.

Cadets should consult their parents and be prepared at company drills to report whether they can attend the Auditorium exercises.

—W. H. SPRAGUE, Colonel Commanding Journal Cadet Brigade.

By W. H. SPRAGUE, Colonel Commanding Journal Cadet Brigade.

One hundred sturdy young cadets, lunch in hand, were seen going down Kenwood boulevard yesterday noon headed for Cedar Lake. This was the result of a suggestion made last week in the Sunday's Journal, that Cadets coming to morning drill could bring their lunch with them and have a nice outing Saturday afternoon.

About two hundred and fifty had gathered on the armory campus in the morning and gone thru battalion drill, and after about two hours of drill with five companies, three companies were formed under the command of Major Mullin and the several captains, and officers and marched out to a shady place where games might be played, lunch eaten and drill carried on.

March a Success.

This was not the least of the week's work. All companies drilled as usual, and were well attended. But Friday night marked a surprise for all. Orders were issued that all cadets who would, should meet at the armory campus and prepare for a march to Lake street.

About four hundred and fifty, nearly all uniformed, met and formed into companies. These were lined up and marched to the music of the Journal Newsboys' band to Lake street and Colfax avenue.

The showing was fine. A line of ten companies was out on Hennepin and Colfax avenues. The step was good and the company formation and distances excellent. On the whole the undertaking was more than satisfactory.

Lesson Is Profitable.

The purpose of this turnout was to see the national guard go thru dress parade. The cadets were lined up at one side of the field, and appeared to enjoy the drill. It was also evident that much good was obtained from this experience, because Saturday morning, when battalion drill was given, the cadets minded their work and the result was an excellent drill.

Open ranks and company right was also taught in preparation for dress parade at any time.

There is something right here of importance.

Cadets will remember when companies were in regular drill, I spoke of interval and distance between men, and squads or ranks. Now each cadet and especially the company commanders and guides, must remember this in regulating their companies, and keep both distance or interval where needed. The distance in column is five paces and the interval the same. This distance and interval is just as important in battalions and regimental formation as in company, and no company can be well managed that does not keep the distance.

Battalion Work the Same.

Companies may go left or right front into line the same as squads may. The same companies may go on right or left into line. The only difference is that the company being so much larger a unit, it is necessary to move the men by squad movements rather than the company as a whole. The result is the same in the end.

The file closers are all men in the third line, and these must learn their duties. It is the duty of the file closer to see that all the men execute movements correctly. This does not mean that each file closer is a commander, there can be but one commander to a company, but this file closer must see that men follow their file leader, must see that they stand up straight, that they keep step and that they keep perfect order.

Above all, every cadet must walk erect.

The step should be quick and snappy. This rule must be enforced, every man carrying himself properly either in or out of ranks.

Must Keep Up Drill.

The cadets must not let down in their company drill. This does not mean their regular drill as given in the schedule, but special drills. Company commanders will announce to their companies at each drill when the next drill will be; also the place. It is not necessary for all the special drills to be on the campus, but the regular drills for those companies, according to schedule; also all battalion and regimental drills will be held on the campus.

The cadets have been given one of the best positions in the parade for Decoration Day. By a letter from William P. Roberts we are asked to report to the marshal of the third division, Sixth street and Third avenueS not later than 2 p.m.

We are given one whole division, and both sides of Third avenue at Sixth street will be held open for us. The cadets will all meet at the campus on that day and march down to Sixth street.

Officers to Meet.

All officers are required to meet on the armory campus, Monday evening, for instruction in the school of the battalion.

Considering the fact that every cadet in the corps was a raw recruit at the start, and officers have been educated up from the ranks, the way the young soldiers handle their men and the men are handled, is no less than marvelous. But there are many small points that cannot be learned by observation and a regular school is necessary.

The model drill guns are now ready for delivery. They will be given to the cadets after the Decoration Day parade when the manual of arms will be taken up at once. Sabers for the officers entitled to receive them will be delivered in time for use Decoration Day.

TWO-THIRDS ARE OF FOREIGN PARENTAGE

DISTRIBUTION OF NATIONALITIES IN MINNESOTA.

German, Norwegian and Swedish Elements Predominate Everywhere—Germans Lead in Southern and Central Part, Swedes in Fifth and Eighth Districts.

One of the most interesting features of the state census taken a year ago is found in the nationality tables. The distribution of the various foreign born elements in the state has a bearing, not only on politics, but on industrial questions. It indicates something as to the religious complexion of each section. It is to the politician, however, that nationality figures are most interesting.

The census shows that the largest foreign born element in the state is Swedish, with the German a close second, and Norwegian a good third. The three are so close as to be practically even. The two nationalities together make up two-thirds of the foreign born population of the state, or 337,762 out of 537,041.

A still better index is found in the "parentage" tables. The state census took a record from each person as to the birthplace of his or her father. The record shows that 65.5 per cent of the state's population are of foreign parentage. This includes the foreign born, of course. The parentage tables show the German element leading by a big majority, as the immigration from Germany was earlier and the second generation is very numerous. The Swedish and Norwegian elements come next, but with the Norwegian slightly ahead for the same reason. The heavy Swedish immigration came later than that from Norway.

The following tables show for each congressional district the number of foreign born and the number of foreign parentage in each of the three leading nationalities, with the counties where each nationality leads. Where other nationalities are numerous they are also indicated:

TEACHERS' CLUB HAS A PROSPEROUS YEAR

BETTER BALANCE THAN EVER BEFORE IN THE TREASURY.

Program, Hospital and Juvenile Court Committee's Report and Financial Statements Show Good Balances—Officers Are Elected for Coming Year—Hospital Contracts Are Ready.

Prosperity was the keynote of the annual meeting of the Teachers' Club of Minneapolis, held in the Y. W. C. A. assembly hall yesterday afternoon. From the financial statement, showing a total balance of $1,346.77 in the treasury, down to—or up—to the plans for next year's work and play, everything concerning the club was of a rosy hue, and the meeting was a fitting close for the organization's seventh and most prosperous year.

The financial report told the most of the club's work. It showed that the program committee which conducted the "teachers' course," had received during the school year $1,743.89 and had expended $1,054.64, leaving a balance of $689.25. The hospital committee has taken in $1,068.40 and has paid out $489.75, having as its balance $578.65, while the general fund guardian reports an income of $532.43 and an expenditure of $306.46, giving a balance on the right side of the ledger of $225.97.

Since the organization of the club $13,017.92 has been received and $11,071.13 expended, leaving a total balance of $1,946.79. In the same period $3,805.83 has been expended by the hospital committees for the care of invalid members, numbering ninety-two. The hospital committee announced that contracts for the following year were ready to be signed with St. Barnabas and St. Mary's hospitals.

The report of the juvenile court committee was also a most interesting one and was closely listened to by the members present.

The president, Mrs. Alice W. Cooley, remains in office until next spring. The following officers were elected yesterday: Miss Jessie Forrester, first vice president; Mrs. Julia Adams, corresponding secretary; Miss Harriet Cox, treasurer.

The following chairmen of committees were also elected: A. F. Benson, program committee; Miss Edith McClellan, entertainment; Miss Ida B. Woodworth, hospital; Miss Mary Fairchild, auditing; Miss Alice Hill, nominating; D. D. Thomas, transportation; Miss Jessie Wane, house; C. W. Hall, publication; Miss Marie Young, stage decorations; H. C. Richardson, press, and Miss Blanch Crawford, year book.

Take Your Choice—a Drug or a Food

Physicians of the highest scientific attainments unite in declaring that coffee is a form of slow poison—a pernicious drug. They point out that it darkens the blood, clogs the liver, colors the skin, weakens the heart's action and ruins the digestion of all who drink it. On the other hand, doctors declare that a pure bottled beer, properly brewed from Malt and Hops, and fully aged, like is a most wholesome and delicious beverage. Gund's Peerless Beer being made from malted barley, is essentially a "food-stuff" of high nutritive value. If drunk regularly with meals it clears the liver, enriches the blood, brightens the skin, stimulates the gastric secretions and wonderfully promotes the digestive process. Thus it is that the beer-drinking races of men are the healthiest and in the forefront of the World's progress.

PROFESSOR MOLESCHOTT, the celebrated German savant, says: "A good beer is as nutritious as fruit. Fermented liquors taken in moderation increase the secretions of the digestive juices and promotes the assimilation of food."

PEERLESS BEER won the Gold Medal at the St. Louis Exposition for highest excellence. Contains less than 3 1/2% of alcohol, therefore is really a temperance drink. Doctors prescribe it for the weak and sick. Used at all high-class health resorts. Delivered at homes on request by phone or mail. Sold at all cafes, saloons, hotels and buffets. Bottled only at brewery.
