

THE DISCOVERER

Of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the Great Woman's Remedy for Woman's Ills.

Yours for Health
Lydia E. Pinkham

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles or such hosts of grateful friends as has

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It will entirely cure the worst forms of Female Complaints, Inflammation and Ulceration. Falling and Displacement, and consequent Spinal Weakness, and is peculiarly adapted to the Change of Life.

It has cured more cases of Backache and Local Weakness than any other remedy the world has ever known. It is almost infallible in such cases. It dissolves and expels tumors in an early stage of development.

Irregular, Suppressed or Painful Periods, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility quickly yield to it. Deranged organs, causing pain, weight and backache, instantly relieved and permanently cured by its use. Under all circumstances it invigorates the female system.

It quickly removes that bearing-down feeling, extreme lassitude, "don't care" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feeling, excitability, irritability, nervousness, dizziness, faintness, sleeplessness, flatulency, melancholy or the "blues" and headache. These are sure indications of Female Weakness, or some derangement of the organs, which this medicine surely cures. Chronic Kidney Complaints and Backache, of either sex, the Vegetable Compound cures.

Those women who refuse to accept anything else are rewarded a hundred thousand times, for they get what they want—a cure. Sold by Druggists everywhere. Refuse all substitutes.

"Yes, We sell Santitol

---and a great deal of it." "Why?" "Because it is the best. You should use Santitol exclusively in your home for it will keep your teeth brighter and the children's mouths cleaner than any other dentifrice."

It's the antiseptic and oxidizing qualities of Santitol Tooth Powder, so wonderful in their action, which make it a necessity to discriminating persons.

Price 25c. everywhere.

HUGE BALLOON FOR WELLMAN QUEST

Airship for Polar Voyage Ready Soon—Andre's Old Base to Be Used.

Paris, May 21.—The early departure of Walter Wellman, the American explorer, and his party for Spitzbergen, in accordance with his plan to endeavor to reach the north pole by means of a dirigible balloon, is attracting widespread attention here among aeronauts and men of science. This attention has been increased by Mr. Wellman's announcement that he intends to establish a base at Dane's island and begin his ascent on the very spot where Andre inflated his balloon.

The first section of his party, under Major Hersey, will leave Paris in a few days, rendezvousing at Tromsø until June 1, and then proceeding to Spitzbergen, where Major Hersey will direct the construction of a headquarters machine shop, gas plant and balloon shed. The balloon shed will be the largest ever constructed, owing to the enormous dimensions of Mr. Wellman's machine. Mr. Wellman will follow June 25 with the balloon. A wireless telegraph expert will establish a wireless station at Spitzbergen.

The balloon is rapidly nearing completion, and Mr. Wellman and Constructor Goddard will soon invite aeronaut engineers to inspect the motor, screws and machine. It will be impossible to inflate it here, as there is no shed large enough to house such a monstrous airship.

MOURNERS STONED FOLLOWING HEARSE

Violence in Strike of New York Funeral Drivers—Woman a Heroine.

Journal Special Service. New York, May 21.—The East Side was aroused Sunday by three riots of striking drivers and sympathizers who mobbed and stoned funerals. They prevented at least thirty more funerals from taking place. Weddings also were interrupted, and brides and guests had to walk or ride on streetcars.

The worst of the day occurred at the funeral of Samuel Diamond. The undertaker had only been able to get one open coach and a hearse, and he drove the hearse himself. His son drove the carriage for the Diamond family.

Three hundred friends of the Diamond family, finding no cabs, determined to walk. The procession started for the Williamsburg bridge, followed by a hooting crowd of strikers and their sympathizers. At Norfolk and Delancy streets a shower of stones fell from the roof of one of the tenements upon the heads of the mourners. Several missiles struck the carriage occupied by the relatives. No one was hurt.

Mourners Chase Assaulters. When the mourners recovered from their surprise they charged the tenement roof in the hope of catching the culprits, but they were gone. The attack was so sudden that the two policemen acting as escort were unable to make arrests.

A man called Levy Greenburg's stable in the morning and told Mrs. Greenburg that his child was critically ill with appendicitis and begged for a coach to take the child to a hospital. The father, when told that there were no drivers, sobbed and offered $50 to one of the striking drivers for this life-and-death service. The driver, however, budgeted, and they refused to allow a non-union man to take out a vehicle. "Must I stand here and see my child die?" cried the father. "Give me a horse and carriage and I will drive myself."

While Mrs. Greenburg distracted the attention of the strikers' pickets by sending out a carriage ahead with a non-union man, the father got away safely and succeeded in taking the child to the hospital.

Woman Defies Mob. On his return the strikers waylaid the man in front of his home and took the carriage. Mrs. Greenburg heard of this and took the matter into her own hands. She scattered the drivers when she reached the scene and, mounting the driver's seat, bareheaded, drove back to the stable.

Mrs. Greenburg played a man's part later in the day. The secretary of a Hebrew lodge went to the stable to get a carriage to take a dead baby to the burial grounds. He carried the coffin with him. The moment the strikers saw the coffin, a cry was raised and word was sent to the stable to get a carriage to prevent the burial. The secretary of the lodge was seated on a coach as driver when the strikers appeared. Fearing violence, he made a hasty retreat. But not Mrs. Greenburg. She fought the strikers until the police arrived. The body was not buried.

Say Employers Backed Out. Julius Scheuer had a hearse and eight coaches at a funeral in East Sixth street when a walking delegate came along and whistled. The drivers jumped on their seats and drove off. The driver of the hearse was about to follow, but the mourners persuaded the delegate to permit the removal of the body to the grave, saying that they would go on streetcars.

At the strikers' headquarters it was admitted that they had recently signed an agreement at $13 a week for fourteen hours' work a day, but they said the employers had not lived up to their side of the agreement. They now demanded $14 a week for twelve hours a day.

CHARGE OLD SOLDIERS WITH COUNTERFEITING

Special to The Journal. Milwaukee, May 21.—Making counterfeit money is a charge made against some of the inmates of the Soldiers' Home. Captain Gallagher of the secret service has been informed and will investigate.

The story came out thru the arrest of an old soldier on a charge of larceny. When Deputy Sheriff O'Connor was bringing the man in, he tried to throw away some money. O'Connor made a search and found two pieces, which were counterfeit quarters. Complaints have been made at times from saloonkeepers near the home that they had received counterfeit money. The man arrested is said to have confessed that inmates of the home were manufacturing the stuff, which was passed on saloonkeepers.

JUNE BRIDES and JUNE GRADUATES

ARE NOW BUSILY PLANNING and being planned for. We have thought much, and to good purpose, about both. Undermuslins—French and American—are shown in profusion. Corsets, Shoes, Millinery, Gloves, Parasols, Veils and the dozens of little accessories to the costume, are displayed with a prominence that their merits deserve.

THE SILK, Dress Goods and White Goods departments are rich in beautiful fabrics for Bridal Trousseaux and Commencement Frocks. Fine laces, exquisite embroideries and tasteful trimmings open the way to delightful effects in the hands of clever dress-makers. Women's and Misses' Apparel Departments swing into line with inimitable white dresses, jaunty traveling suits, charming waists and smart coats.

THESE ARE BUT SUGGESTIONS—hints which may lead June's brides and graduates and their many friends into a store where quality is paramount and where the new, exclusive and tasteful reigns.
