

BUILT UP HER HEALTH SPEEDY CURE OF MISS GOODE

She is Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and Writes Gratefully to Mrs. Pinkham.

For the wonderful help that she has found in Miss Cora Goode, 555 E. Chicago Avenue, Chicago, Ill., believes it her duty to write the following letter for publication, in order that other women afflicted in the same way may be benefited as she was.

Miss Cora Goode

benefited as she was, Miss Goode is president of the Bryn Mawr Lawn Tennis Club of Chicago. She writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham— "I tried many different remedies to build up my system, which had become run down from loss of proper rest and unreasonable hours, but nothing seemed to help. Mother is a great devotee of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles, having used it herself some years ago with great success. So I began to take it. Women who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, bloating (or flatulence), displacement of organs, inflammation or ulceration, can be restored to perfect health and strength by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Her experience is very great, and she gives the benefit of it to all who stand in need of wise counsel. She is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty years has been advising sick women free of charge. Address, Lynn, Mass.

MURDO, NEW TOWN JUST 4 WEEKS OLD WILL WONDERS NEVER CEASE?

HAS TWO BANKS, THREE PAPERS AND FORTY BUSINESS HOUSES.

City of Tents and Shacks Rises on the Milwaukee Road's Extension from Chamberlain—Population of 600 Expected Before Winter Sets In—A Real Boom.

Correspondence of The Journal. Murdo, S. D., May 25.—Murdo, the coming city of Lyman county, is now enjoying one of those booms which are read of but seldom seen in this age. Just four weeks ago the first building was erected here. Today there are forty business houses and many residences and tents. The buildings are not on the townsite which belongs to the Milwaukee Land company, but are placed on the claim adjoining the townsite, ready to be moved as soon as the sale of town lots is made.

Three Banks, Three Papers. Those who have not seen a real western boom cannot realize the town out eighty miles west of Chamberlain numbering several hundred persons, and with every industry represented. There are three banks here, and another on the road, while three newspapers have cast their lot with the growing metropolis. Restaurants, general stores, barber shops, lodging houses, drug stores and everything to make a complete town are here. All are doing a good business, but it is not expected that the real business will begin until the townsite has been sold and the stores given permanent abiding ground.

The town will be placed on a beautiful site, and will have excellent drainage. Water can be had in reasonable depth, and the only reason to believe that the Milwaukee road expects to make Murdo the division point west of the Missouri river is the fact that one of the reasons that the town is growing at such a rate, and the reason that lumber has been hauled from Fresno, forty miles away, in order to be ready when the road makes this stoppage place.

There is much speculation as to whether the road will go to Rapid City this fall, and those who are in position to know declare that it will be impossible for it to make the speed promised, because of the distance from Rapid City and the bad lands there has not been a mile graded, and the line goes through a heavy grade district, which is practically impossible to build it rapidly.

Living in Tents. There are all sorts of people here, and all sorts of business. Men are here with their families, and the women and children look upon it as one continual picnic. Many of the business men are planning to bring on their families and make their homes in canvas covers until cold weather sets in, or until the lumber can be laid down at more reasonable prices than are now possible, when the freighting has to be done forty miles by team.

It can safely be asserted that before now Murdo will be a town of 600 or 700 inhabitants, with city government, schools and all the conveniences of cities 100 years old in the far west. The lands are being rapidly settled with actual settlers, and the farm machinery business is being pushed in all parts of the country. Murdo will be the county seat of the new county to be created of the west half of the large county of Lyman.

NAMES ITS NEW TOWNS

North-Western Will Have Sixteen Between Pierre and Rapid City. PIERRE, S. D.—The North-Western road has selected the names for its new towns on the line from the river to Rapid City. The exact locations of all have not yet been fixed, but the names are as follows: Fort Pierre, Fort Pierre, Russell, Midland, Nowlin, Wokama, Philip, Ottoway, Boxelder and Rapid City. Nowlin and Philip will be up stream from the present position of that name, but the old names are retained to avoid confusion in matter of locations, with the general understanding that the new names will be moved to the new towns.

The graduating class of the Pierre high school this year numbers twelve, ten girls and two boys. The list of graduates is: Alice Mitchell, Nelson Grace E. Hildebrand, London H. Smith, Adra R. Tolmie, Florence E. Urquhart, Grace V. Strick, Clarence G. Walker, Jessie G. Walker, Harlan M. Whisman, William H. Wood, Ann C. Wurfel, Clarence R. Stewart.

SOUTH DAKOTA HIGHS

Twenty-five Graduated at Huron—Other Exercises.

HURON, S. D.—The high school commencement exercises were enjoyed by a large audience. The exercises opened with prayer by Rev. W. Long, instrumental music was furnished by the Huron orchestra and by Miss Marie Van Finkel, who gave a piano solo, and C. G. Vedley, who had a cornet solo. A. E. Taylor, president of the board of education, presented the diploma. Hon. J. J. Anderson pronounced the benediction.

The class numbered twenty-five, as follows: Elmer E. Blake, Lloyd G. Donestel, Ida E. Hunt, Joseph C. Cort, Charles Drake, Olive J. Reed, J. J. Gleson, Clara E. Gunderson, Margaret H. Jackson, Catherine M. Johnson, Jessie Lester, Minna B. Wright, William C. McMerney, George Nelson, Grace E. Hildebrand, London H. Smith, Adra R. Tolmie, Florence E. Urquhart, Grace V. Strick, Clarence G. Walker, Jessie G. Walker, Harlan M. Whisman, William H. Wood, Ann C. Wurfel, Clarence R. Stewart.

VOLGA, S. D.—A high-school class numbering twenty-two was graduated here. George O. Blom delivered the salutatory and L. Belle Burdick the valedictory. The address, "The Problem of Life," was delivered by Rev. E. H. Hall. D.D. Professor Hibbs has been retained another year.

RAMER STILL A CANDIDATE

Says the State Owes Him Something for Defeating Bentie.

BLK POINT, S. D.—M. M. Ramer, state superintendent of public instruction, was in the city last week. He is still a candidate for the republican nomination to succeed himself and believes the insurgents are somewhat indebted to Grant county for so effectively disposing of the congressional candidacy of L. F. Bentie at the recent returns in that county. Mr. Ramer would doubtless have received the nomination had the stalwart faction retained control.

CLEARS CRIMINAL CALENDAR

Belle Fourche Man Gets Six Months for Stealing a Saddle.

BELLE FOURCHE, S. D.—Judge Rice has returned to Deadwood after clearing the criminal calendar here. James Anderson, charged with stealing a saddle, pleaded guilty and was given a sentence of six months.

James Walter, charged with assault on the person of James Quinn with intent to kill, was sentenced to fifteen days in the county jail. In the case of George Bedding, who, it was charged, set fire to the house of Dora Duffan on the morning of April 6, the jury brought in a verdict of acquittal.

JOE ATKINS KILLED

He Had Just Remarkered That There Were Thirteen in His Party.

CALUMET, MICH.—Joe Atkins, steward on the coal barge Robert Wallace, was killed near Mohawk dock on Traverse bay. He jumped upon a handcar and the handle struck his head, fracturing his skull. He remarked a few minutes before that something was likely to occur, there being thirteen in the party. He was 24 years old. His body will be taken to Buffalo.

OSCEOLA, WIS.—No clue has been found of the robbers who looted the Bank of Luck of $3,500, besides valuable papers.

LA CROSSE, WIS.—The thirty-seventh anniversary of the Freedmen's association of this county was held in Redwicks Valley on Sunday. The address was delivered by Adolf Paulsen of this city. Band concerts were given.

REAL SHORTAGE IN CANDIDATES IN NORTH DAKOTA.

Petitions for Nominations Must Be Filed by Tomorrow, and There is Nothing Doing—No Lack of Ginger in the Campaign, However, for Both Sides Are Fighting Desperately.

Special to The Journal. Grand Forks, N. D., May 28.—This is one of the most peculiar years in North Dakota politics. The primary election, when delegates will be chosen to the republican state convention, will be held on June 19, and all petitions for nomination for that election must be filed by tomorrow, and yet there is scarcely a whisper concerning individual candidates for state office. Governor Saries is a candidate for a second term, and has so stated. Of the other state officials it is assumed that those who have served but one term will be candidates for a second. Secretary of State Porter and Auditor Holmes have served two or more terms each, and are not expected to be active candidates for nomination. Porter has said that he was not a candidate.

Treasurer Peterson is assumed to be a candidate, but he is not being talked of. E. O. Cooper, insurance commissioner, is a candidate for another term, but outside of Grand Forks county few know anything about it. W. L. Stockwell, state superintendent of public instruction, has served two terms and has given an administration that is conceded to be excellent. He has announced his candidacy for re-nomination, and if there were no political complications he would be given another term without opposition. It is believed, however, to keep his office out of the political scramble.

No Chase for Office. Among the "insurgents" there is not a candidate who looms up largely. There is not an avowed candidate for governor, but several men have been mentioned as possibilities. The first was Professor Tingstad of the state university. In a former dispatch it was explained that his admirers had signed petitions asking him to be a candidate, and pledging him their support if he should decide to enter the race. These petitions have been presented, and Mr. Tingstad has had the matter under consideration for some time and has not yet announced his decision. It is believed, however, that he will not be a candidate.

H. T. Helgeson of Cavalier county is believed by many to possess the qualifications which are needed in a candidate for governor at this juncture, but he is not an avowed candidate. In fact he is the only man in the state who has announced himself a candidate for governor on the insurgent side is Alfred Steele of Jamestown. Mr. Steele has never stated that he would be a candidate before the convention, but he has made a public statement to the effect that he would not be a candidate without the consent of the members of his delegation, and that the nomination was an honorable one, and one which he would not be refused. From this it is assumed that if the delegation from his county looks favorably on his candidacy an effort will be made to secure the nomination for him.

No Apathy, Notwithstanding. Because there are few announced state candidates, and because the candidacy of those who have announced themselves attracts little attention, it must not be assumed that there is an apathy. There has been a campaign in which the politicians were harder at work. The activity is confined chiefly to the warring factions in the state, and the candidates of those factions are as busy as they can be, and some of their enthusiasm seems to have been communicated to the general public. The state will be in a ferment before the day of the primary election comes.

Unobscured by the reorganizing of individual candidacies into the background by the machine element is that it has such a fight to make as to be chosen for state office. For the fight has been announced as a matter of course, with the reasonable certainty that, no matter who won, it would be by making a trade with the machine. This is the case with the leaders of the "organization" which has controlled the politics of the state, and the fighting for their lives. Under these conditions the interests of individual candidates are secondary.

Saries' Fight at Home.

If Governor Saries carries his own county it is likely he will be supported by the machine for another term. That is said to be the understanding. But it is by no means certain that he will carry the county. Trail county is peopled by the hard-headed farmers who have not much use for political machines or machine politics. It has been a center of primary election excitement, and the people there demanded a sweeping primary law. They are very much dissatisfied with what they get.

The governor is held responsible for this in no small measure, for it has been asserted that the present law for the bill which was popularly demanded, but that he made use of his official position to secure votes for that change. His signing of the capital commission bill is another act of which his some people complain, and his general affiliations with the machine are not pleasing to the farmers of his county. If he comes to the convention without his county behind him he will in all probability be left by the wayside, for the machine has need for all the votes that it can get, and it has no special interest in Saries.

The insurgents are in a similar position with reference to candidates. They are not fighting for candidates, but against the domination of the politics of the state by Hansbrough and McKennan. And Rev. J. J. Anderson pronounced the benediction.

Steele County Insurgent.

Finley, N. D., May 28.—At a mass meeting of the republican voters of Steele county at Sherbrooke the following delegates were chosen, subject to the primary election of June 19, to represent this county at the state republican convention to be held in Jamestown July 2: R. A. Lathrop, Hope; Ole Paulsen, Portland; M. C. Dues, Sharon; C. G. Boile, Sherbrooke; F. E. Curry, Finley; Ole Fosse, Hatton; E. S. Dinger, Portland, and B. T. Krabel, Hope. All are insurgents.
