STATE BANKERS TO MEET AT TONKA

UNUSUAL FEATURES WILL MAKE PROGRAM INTERESTING.

Special Provision Made by Manager of Hotel to Entertain Wives and Other Women Visitors—Trolley Ride to 'Haha' and Snelling Takes Place of Boat Trip.

Several unusual features of interest are contained in the program of the seventeenth annual convention of the Minnesota bankers' convention, which was issued today. The convention will be held June 20-21 at Lake Minnetonka, and, as in the last two seasons, it will mark the summer opening of the Tonka Bay hotel.

Colonel C. H. Godfree, manager, has arranged to hold the business sessions of the convention in the skating pavilion, on the lake shore, which will be a great improvement on the old convention hall. Speakers of note will appear, and special forms of entertainment are provided, with particular reference to the pleasure of the wives and women friends of the bankers who will attend the convention.

Speak Offhand.

Beside the change in the place of meeting, another reform, introduced by Secretary Joseph Chapman, Jr., will please the delegates. It is the offhand rule that no speaker shall read his address.

The program itself is a fine souvenir. On the front cover is pasted a photograph of a Lake Minnetonka regatta, and all thru the pages are scattered views of Minnetonka. In place of the usual lake tour the program announces a trolley ride Thursday afternoon to Minnehaha Falls, and thence to Fort Snelling, where the Twenty-eighth infantry band will give a concert. After the music there will be a dress parade of the Twenty-eighth infantry, Tenth cavalry and Twelfth artillery. An informal Dutch luncheon is to be served after the popular lecture by Lafayette Young, editor of the Des Moines Capital, Wednesday night.

The executive council of the association will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Tonka Bay hotel. The convention will open at 10 a.m. Wednesday. It will be called to order by President Cliff W. Gress of Cannon Falls. A feature of the morning will be the debate between the St. Paul and Minneapolis chapters of bank clerks for a silver cup. The St. Paul team won the trophy last year, and another victory will give St. Paul perpetual possession of the prize.

Contest for Secretary.

For the first time in years it is expected that the annual election will develop some excitement. W. E. Lee of Long Prairie, vice president, will have no competition for the presidency. The fight will come in the election of a secretary. Joseph Chapman, Jr., has held this position since 1899. For two successive years he has declined the position, but was re-elected on his record in that office. This year he has positively withdrawn as he has sufficient outside work as a member of the executive council of the American Bankers' association, and of the board of trustees of the American Institute of Bank Clerks. Altho the choice of his successor was left to Mr. Chapman he has decided to throw the selection into the hands of the three men mentioned for the position are all satisfactory to Mr. Chapman: Ernest W. Brown, assistant cashier of the First National of Minneapolis; F. E. Holton, assistant cashier of the Northwestern National, and Otto Nelson, assistant cashier of the First National of St. Paul.

In Secretary Chapman's incumbency the membership of the association increased from 160 to 700. Beside strenuous organization work Mr. Chapman has promoted the bank money order system, work among the bank clerks, agitation for the association against private banks, and the reform in delivery of convention programs.

The Northwest's Greatest Sunday Newspaper

Don't expect to get the brightest boy in Minneapolis by advertising "Boy Wanted." The boy has his future before him, and it matters a great deal in what direction he starts. If you want a boy who cares about his work, attract him by telling the opportunities you offer. Tell him what he will have to do and what it will lead to.

In advertising in The Journal for help of any kind remember that there are many suitable persons who are already employed, but who would be glad to change. Make your ad specific and attractive. Competent workers are not likely to leave their work to answer a vague want ad, which merely says "Man Wanted."
