City News

CANINE INVESTIGATOR PATROLS NICOLLET AV.

Some canine association, amalgamation or union is looking into the condition of the city under the recent declaration of martial law for unchained dogs. Its walking delegate spent the better part of an hour scouting along upper Nicollet today.

Trotting demurely down Seventh street to Nicollet, the vedette, an undersized black and tan, unlabeled specimen of polygot ancestry, peered cautiously up and down the otherwise dogless avenue. Waiting until the policeman at the crossing had turned his back the adventurer turned onto Nicollet, and keeping on the shady side, made his way to Fourth street, where he sought the seclusion of an alley.

Later on the day the intrepid explorer again ran the gauntlet back to Seventh where he vanished, presumably to seek his commanding officer and report. In the whole hazardous trip he did not encounter one fellow dog. What report he made to his friends will never be positively known, but it was probably that the law was being stringently enforced and that it would not be well for any dog to make himself conspicuous in the downtown district.

The whole demeanor of the dog, as he made his way up and down the avenue, indicated that he knew that he was in hostile territory. There was good reason for this. He was a dog, and there was something ominous in the total absence of dogs from the street. The "purr" was evidently one of those social little wails who are always ready to exchange a wag and a wriggle for a kindly word and look, but in all his travels he did not once stop, but he did occasionally bestow an appraising look upon one whom his instinct told him was a dog-lover.

'NO BILL' FOR WOMAN WHO KILLED CHILD

Annie Carlson, the woman who recently smothered her own child, will not be tried for murder. The grand jury has returned a "no bill" in the Carlson case, and the woman has been set at liberty. It was determined by the inquisitors, after listening to the evidence, that the woman was entirely out of her mind when she committed the act.

"No bills" were also returned in the cases against Pearing A. Hall for alleged assault in the first degree; James Markey, for alleged assault in the second degree; John Moen and William Baldwin, charged with larceny in the first degree; Walter L. Gray, accused of forgery in the second degree, and Louis Bishoff, who was said to have carried concealed weapons.

The jury returned four indictments and adjourned to meet again next Monday afternoon when it will return several more true bills and make its final report.

GRAHAM HALL SENIORS ARE GIVEN DIPLOMAS

Graham Hall graduated a class of eight with simple but impressive exercises yesterday. After the white-gowned girls, bearing in their arms great bunches of marguerites tied with yellow and white, their class colors, had filed to their places on the platform, the assembly joined in singing the hymn, "Holy, Holy, Holy."

A prayer by Rev. J. E. Bushnell, D.D., began the graduation exercises proper. This was followed by a duet, "The Future," by Finetti, sung by Miss Edith Pearce and A. S. Kerr. Dr. Joseph K. Mason, acting pastor of the Church of the Redeemer in the absence of Dr. Marion D. Shutter, delivered the graduation address, choosing for his subject, "Work, the True Ideal of Life." A chorus "Vacation Times," by Keucken, closed the program.

The girls who received diplomas were Louise de la Barre, Celia Elizabeth Haskell, Louise Camp Jamison, Ruth Hobby Mitchell, Anna Virginia Thurman, Marion Thwing, Margaret Langdon Tooker and Marian Gillette.

REAL ESTATE MEN KICK

Protest Against Aldermen's Action as to New Plats.

Strong protest has been filed by the executive committee of the Minneapolis Real Estate board against a recent resolution of the aldermen that streets must be graded before new plats can be accepted.

The passage of this resolution aroused the real estate men to the fact that the aldermen were evidently not acquainted with the hardships made under the new system. The protest filed by the executive committee asks that the resolution be rescinded.

OLIVIA MAN LEADS

Best Butter-Scoring Contest Ever Held by the State.

P. Christianson of Olivia won first place in the first state butter contest of the season conducted by the dairy and food commission. His score was 98. William O. Olson of Hector is second, score 97 1/2. W. Larson of Searles and M. P. Mortenson of Cokato tied for third place, each scoring 97. Christ Hanson of Hanska came next, score 96 1/2.

The contest is considered the best ever held by the state. There were 235 sample tubs of butter submitted, and only two of the whole lot scored below 90.
