LAKE BIRDS' LIVES HANG IN BALANCE

HERONS AND CORMORANTS AC-CUSE DOF ILLEGAL FISHING. State Game and Fish Commission Agent Collects Stomachs of Crane Island Denizens Which Will Be Examined by Washington Expert—If Guilty, Death; Innocent, Life.

Crane island herons and cormorants, sole inhabitants of one of the most beautiful islands on upper Lake Minnetonka, are being tried for their lives before the Minnesota state game and fish commission, and sojourners at the lake are talking of united action in an effort to save the birds from destruction.

Mr. Fullerton went to the lake armed with a double barreled gun, determined to procure expert testimony for the use of the state. The herons were to be given a chance to prove their innocence even though their number were slightly thinned in the process of summing witnesses.

Two excellent specimens were killed by Mr. Fullerton after a rather strenuous hunt. The birds were in a grove of trees, rarely coming near the ground.

After his visit to the island Mr. Fullerton began a series of investigations among lake dwellers and fishermen. As a result of his investigations, the cormorants may be doomed to death, but it is not likely that the historic heron will be molested.

Mr. Fullerton will report the result of his investigations to the state game and fish commission, and action will be suspended until the results of Dr. Palmer's investigation are announced.

Another factory is to be added to the Minneapolis list. For two years S. H. Thompson of Fort Dodge, Iowa, one of the largest manufacturers of butter-tubs in the United States, has been considering the matter, and has decided to establish a big factory at Twenty-ninth street and Colfax avenue S.

Mr. Thompson realized that Minneapolis had many advantages over Fort Dodge. It is the distributing center for the whole northwest, and it is near the raw material as well as the consumer.

Two years ago Mr. Thompson made overtures to the Twin City Separator company with a view of getting its cooperation. J. Rosholt, president, and C. A. Paulsen, secretary, went to Fort Dodge to look over the plant and take up the negotiations.

WELLS COMMENCEMENT A CHARMING FESTIVAL

Minneapolis Girls Take Part in Quaint Customs and Year-End Gaiety of Noted Eastern School. Wells college, Aurora, N. Y., has this week observed its thirty-seventh commencement. Among the members of the graduating class are Marian E. Martin and Millicent Hosmer of Minneapolis, and Edna Ruth Spicer, formerly of this city.

The first occasion of interest was the banquet of the Phenix literary society, held on Saturday evening, June 9. At this time the former members who have returned for commencement were introduced to Phoenix in its new fittings. On Sunday evening the baccalaureate sermon was preached by President Ward in the Presbyterian church in the village which was prettily decorated with daisies, late college flowers.

The perfect weather of the week continued Tuesday, which was ivy day. The ivy planting took place in front of the main building. The students, proceeding in line on each side of the building, marched from the back campus down the lawn that slopes toward Cayuga lake, singing "Fair Wells." They carried a chain of daisies and formed a large "W." Laying down the chain, which left a path in the lawn, they fell into a double line leading toward the college hall; the seniors walked through the lines singing their class song, followed by the sophomores and freshmen.

CROPS IN NORTHWEST PROMISE BIG YIELD

GRAIN MEN ENTHUSIASTIC OVER PROSPECTS. Canadians Also Rejoice in Promise of Abundant Harvests—Kansas and Nebraska Suffer from Drouth and Price of Corn and Oats Makes Sharp Advance. Perfect conditions in the northwest, but dry weather and a "scare" in Nebraska and Kansas, describes the crop situation to date. Nature appears to have favored the country that lies tributary to Minneapolis for all accounts are of good stands of wheat and crops generally. Down in the winter wheat country it is a dry year, and the drouth, only recently broken by rains, is now heard again in localities where the rainfall was insufficient to take the crop thru to harvest.

The effects, however, have been great. Oats and corn have been bringing up all week, and fed prices are higher. Hay is affected and higher. Oats futures in Chicago were up to 42 1/2¢ yesterday, a most unusual figure, and corn for July delivery was 54 1/2¢. Cash oats in Minneapolis were quoted at 38 1/2¢ and cash corn at 50 1/2¢. These are high prices. Choice timothy hay is worth $12, or $2 higher than prices in Kansas, and a little higher than in Nebraska. The Chicago grain market who was here yesterday, is inclined to think the markets have taken alarm perhaps a little prematurely and that rain soon will make everything all right. He left for Omaha yesterday, to be close to the scene of damage.
