Another Wheel Chair. Sunshine has had the gift of another wheel chair from the sick and crippled of a friend of the Journal.

A Go-Cart. Sunshine has had the present of a go-cart from Mrs. Cook. The cart, together with the baby carriage given Sunshine in a courteous and friendly manner.

Who has some high chairs to "pass on" to Sunshine? Sunshine is looking for high chairs to pass on to the children of the Sunshine lodge.

The Happy Faries of Fairbault sent a large box of clothing that will bring sunshine to many. There were slips for babies, gowns for little girls and cloaks and stockings, and everything was clean and in good condition.

Two-Cent Fare Book to Roads, Smith Says. Reduction Would Cause Increase in Travel and Be Beneficial, Congressman Declares.

By W. W. Jermann. Washington, June 23.—A bill introduced a few days ago by James S. Sherman of New York, the new chairman of the republican national congressional committee, is attracting the favorable attention of many of the members of both houses of congress.

Benefit to Roads. "I have given so much attention to this legislation that I have become convinced that when this bill becomes a law the railroads will be benefited by it as anybody. It can be said in justice to the railroads that they are now giving rates which are, in many instances, lower than the city rates.

Band of Mercy Hymn. Dedicated to Chicago members. By Rev. Thomas M. Mason, March 9, 1904. To the boys and girls of Boston:

Jim Key Mail Box. The stories told will interest all the Band of Mercy members, for they are largely about their favorite pets, dogs and cats.

A Report from Bryant School. Our schoolroom held our second meeting, June 7, 1906. The meeting was opened by the president, Reuben Ohman. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary.

Bands of Mercy Boys and Girls Are Given Chance to Make Valuable Collections of Stories Thru Vacation Months.

Vacation is here, but "Uncle Bert" does not wish the Band of Mercy members to give up their work, for they may not have many meetings this summer.

The prizes will be considered, but the book must contain the news from the Journal's Jim Key column.

The books will help the members in their meetings next winter, besides making interesting reading.

The Journal regrets exceedingly that it cannot announce the arrival of the badges which have arrived from New York.

The letter printed below will interest all the Band of Mercy members. It was written by the superintendent of the boys and girls of the Band of Mercy day, which was celebrated in the public schools of Boston.

INSURANCE COMPANY DROPS COAST BUSINESS

San Francisco, June 23.—The Examiner today says: The German Insurance company, after sounding a number of creditors on the subject of a 50-per-cent compromise has closed its Pacific coast agency, resigned from the underwriters adjusting bureau and retired to Peoria, Ill.

The German Insurance company was organized under the laws of Illinois in 1878 with a capital of $200,000. Now that the San Francisco conflagration has come and gone, the company has a loss of over $1,000,000 to face with a capital and surplus aggregating only $360,000.

Peoria, Ill., June 23.—President B. Cramer of the German Insurance company of this city says that the adjusters are to remain in San Francisco to adjust every loss and pay for it in cash. They are settling every claim in full for the fire loss, but not the earthquake damage, for which they cannot recover from the reinsurance companies.

Fine Jackets and Long Coats will be sold Monday Half-Price, Pearce's, 403-405 Nicollet avenue.

Our Pug. One cold day in January about seven years ago I brought home a little puppy. We named him Skip. The first night we had him he cried for his mother, and during the night he would get up and bark for her.

The Kind-Hearted Lady. One day when I was walking down Washington avenue I saw some cruel men who were laughing at and tormenting a poor blind kitten.

Refuses Money for Frogs. Dear Uncle Bert—Every morning and evening since our room has had a Band of Mercy meeting I have fed and watered our chickens.

Amelia E. Barr's Greatest Novel A DELIGHTFUL INTERNATIONAL ROMANCE

The Man Between

to be had ONLY at POWERS. SALE COMMENCES JUNE 25.

GEORGE MEREDITH'S strange theory that marriage should endure only for a stated term of years instead of for life has received a startling confirmation from Mrs. Dora Stanhope, wife of the celebrated High-Church Episcopal rector of St. Jude's, New York City.

After less than a year of turbulent married life Mrs. Stanhope has horrified her husband's congregation by declaring that lifelong marriage means nothing more or less than lifelong slavery.

She has left her husband, returned to her father's house and openly announces her intention of obtaining a divorce. As the Rev. Basil Stanhope is one of the most staunch supporters of the anti-divorce movement, the issue of the affair is awaited by clergy and public alike with breathless interest.

If Dr. Stanhope connives at his wife's suit for divorce (in some state that awards such decrees on grounds of incompatibility), will his associates in the clerical world continue to recognize a man who thus goes back on the tenets of his doctrine?

If he refuses to sanction the proceedings, and his wife gets the divorce, can he continue in the high-church ministry, knowing what a scandal he will have unconsciously drawn down upon his congregation and ministerial brethren?

On the other hand, can he successfully contest the case, or can he in any way live down the gossip that attaches to a man whose wife refuses to live with him?

The foregoing are but a few phases of one of the most terrible and vital problems that have confronted the Episcopal church for a century. The dilemma seems insoluble.

This is the chief situation in "The Man Between," Amelia E. Barr's great novel just written. It is a book that will arouse the widest and most universal discussion that has raged since "Robert Elsmere" burst like a thunderclap on the reading public.

The Great Daily Newspapers of "The Man Between."

The New York World: "No more startling story has ever been written."

Baltimore American: "A great story. Her latest and best work."

Nashville American: "Enough cleverness and life for a dozen ordinary novels."

Detroit News Tribune: "Destined to shake the clerical and fashionable world to its foundation."

Rocheater Herald: "A month hence thousands will know this book."
