A prettily appointed wedding of the day was that of Miss Alice Jones and Alfred E. Willmert, which was solemnized at 2 o'clock at the new home of the bride couple, 41 East Thirty-seventh street. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Atwood P. Jones. Only the members of the family witnessed the service, which was read by Rev. G. L. Morrill, but about seventy-five guests attended the reception that followed. The rooms were decorated in an attractive fashion with flowers and foliage. The pillars in the doorway were wreathed with leaves and smilax, and white blossoms were effectively caught in the green tangle.

The arrangements for the service were charmingly simple and a formal wedding march was dispensed with. Miss Rose Peters, in a gown of white French tulle, trimmed with lace, was bridesmaid, and carried the bride and groom. The bridegroom was in white French lawn, fashioned with lace, and the bouquet was of white roses. Fred Domes was best man. At the reception Mrs. Ada Willmert of Blue Earth, the bridegroom's mother, and Mr. and Mrs. Jones received with the bride couple. The Misses Hattie Eltner and Etta Miller assisted in the dining room, and the guests were seated at tables. The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridesmaids and groomsmen were seated on either side. The bride wore a white gown, and the bridesmaid wore a white gown. The groom wore a white suit, and the groomsmen wore white suits. The reception was held in the dining room, and the bride and groom were seated at the head of the table. The bridesmaids and groomsmen were seated on either side. The bride wore a white gown, and the bridesmaid wore a white gown. The groom wore a white suit, and the groomsmen wore white suits.

Miss Josephine Dayton attended the commencement exercises at Wellesley college yesterday. Miss Caroline W. Dayton, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dayton, was one of the graduates. Miss Dayton was president of the History club during her senior year. Miss Josephine Dayton was the guest of honor at a luncheon which was given for her at Wellesley Inn by the former students of Stanley Hall, who are now undergraduates at Wellesley.

Miss Sarah E. Eustis, a niece of W. H. Eustis, was also one of the 216 graduates. She was president of the Student Government association, the highest student office in the college. Miss Margaret Ladd of '07 was elected President of Agora for next year.

Rev. and Mrs. Fayette L. Thompson have gone east and will sail Saturday on the Vaderland for Antwerp. They are the guests of a former parishioner and after spending a few days in Holland and Belgium, they will go to London, where Dr. Thompson will do some work in the British museum in his favorite field, archaeology, and also attend the summer lectures of Dr. Flinders-Petrie at the London university. Dr. and Mrs. Thompson will visit Scotland and attend the Keweenaw convention in the Erie district, returning home early in the fall.

Miss Kata Murphy became the bride of Edward Angel, and her sister, Miss Ella Murphy, was married to Hugh Brennan today at 5 o'clock in St. Charles church. Rev. J. M. Cleary read the service which united the two couples. The "Lohengrin" wedding march heralded the approach of the bride and groom, the bridesmaid, Miss Mabel Palmer, who attended Miss Kate and Miss Rose Brennan, who was Miss Ella's maid, were gowned in pink Jap silk trimmed with lace. Their bouquets were of white roses, matching the color of their gowns. The brides wore white organdie, made princess fashion, and in their bouquets were white roses. The bridesmaids wore white organdie with sprays of lilies of the valley and smilax. Charles Angel attended his brother as best man and John Brennan was his brother's attendant.

Mr. and Mrs. Angel will be given this evening in Eldridge hall, where a wedding dinner will be served. Red and green will be used in the decorations of the hall. Ribbons will be fastened from the chandeliers and lighted Jap lanterns. On the tables will be red carnations, arranged with ferns. Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. Brennan and Mr. and Mrs. Angel will be the brides' parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. P. Brennan and Mr. and Mrs. John Angel.

Mr. and Mrs. Angel will be at home at 613 Erie street SE, and Mr. and Mrs. Brennan will occupy their new home at 522 Dupont avenue N.

Miss Mabel Robinson entertained last evening at her home on Adams street for Miss Kittybelle Mason and George Edholm. The twenty guests included a group of university young people and the members of the bridal party. Amusement was furnished by guessing games suggestive of June brides and weddings, and the finding of the proper answers caused no end of fun and merriment. Pink and white carnations were used in the rooms and in the dining room a dainty color scheme was carried out in green and white. The place of Miss Mason was marked by a cluster of white blossoms.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Leeman of Beaver Creek, Minn., who were married last week and who are in Minneapolis, the guests of the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. E. C. Cameron, were given a post nuptial reception yesterday by Dr. and Mrs. Jacob Swanson at their home on Clinton avenue. Roses, peonies and other fragrant garden flowers made a pretty setting in the parlors and reception hall, and in the dining room the centerpiece was of red and white roses and matching ferns. F. C. Cameron, J. Mowry, W. E. Leeman, Misses Lillian Swanson and Meta Blood gave a delightful musical program.

Mrs. Ella B. Riley of 2932 Aldrich avenue S, gave a rose luncheon yesterday in honor of Mrs. Justin Means of Merrill, Wis., who is the guest of Mrs. A. E. Boy, at her home on West Lake street. The guests included Misses Emil Roenisch, Bye, W. H. Anderson and Miss Floris Anderson.

ceded the bride and scattered pink rose petals in her path. The ribbons were stretched by Louise and Anna Woerner in gowns of white. Red, green and white were the colors chosen in the decorations of the hall. The bride couple stood under an arch of green and white during the exchange of the vows and banks of foliage with red roses were arranged in the windows and about the doors. Miss Esther Carlson presided in a corner canopied with green and white foliage and blossoms and served frappe. Mr. and Mrs. Barrett left on a wedding tour of several weeks and will not return to Minneapolis until the latter part of July. They will be at home at 140 Fifth avenue NE.

Miss Louise N. Klenert and Charles H. Davis were married last evening in Holy Rosary church by Rev. Father Fowler. Only the relatives and immediate friends were present. Miss Sadie Wall was the maid of honor, and wore white Paris mull and carried red peonies. The bride was gowned in white silk, with trimmings of Mechlun lace, and her flowers were white peonies. Frederick Klenert, a brother of the bride, was the best man. The service was followed by a reception at the home of the family, 2438 Tenth avenue S, for which a group of fifty friends had been invited. Mr. and Mrs. Davis will be at home after July 15 at 2909 Chicago avenue.

Rev. G. L. Morrill read the service at the marriage of Miss Charissa Foster and Charles Newton, which took place at the Morrill residence on Tenth avenue S last evening.

Miss Leona Osman and John I. Place were quietly married yesterday afternoon at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. J. E. Conant, 3323 Chicago avenue. Mr. Place and his bride will be at home at 3318 Nineteenth avenue S.

Miss Eva Beckman and Louis Green of New York were married Sunday evening in the Mikko Koski synagogue. Rabbi Silber, assisted by M. Winthrop, read the service. Palms, ferns and bride's roses made a beautiful decoration in the synagogue. Miss Sarah Lasky was the maid of honor, and wore pale blue silk, and the bridesmaid, Misses Rose Friedman, Fannie Rosenberg, Clara Schleichinger, were in white. Dave Beckman was the best man and the ushers were Louis Golling, E. B. Beckman and Harry Rosenstein. Little Edward Beckman carried the ring in an Easter lily and little Alice and Bertha Beckman were the bridesmaids. Beckman gave her daughter in marriage. The bride wore heavy white silk and richly trimmed with real lace, and her hair was held in place with a diamond tiara. The bride and groom were on an extended wedding trip. They will send out at-home cards on their return.

this city, and among the 200 guests last evening were Miss Martha Hortenbach and Dr. Frank Hortenbach, who had been present. Mrs. Hortenbach was formerly Miss Anna Franke. There are two living children, Mrs. A. Liebig, 733 Adams street, and Arthur Hortenbach. Pink and white carnations were used to decorate the rooms and the supper table had pink roses and asparagus ferns.

Miss Leotta Van Vliet entertained yesterday in honor of Miss Susan Albright of Milwaukee. The guests were the Misses Pauline and Alice Smith, Vera Smith, Edna Fay, Mildred Mariman, Agnes Hair, Donna Bonnell, Lillian Dawson, Harriet Stearns, Dorothy Brown, Margaret Habert, Clara Hall, one of Grand Forks, S. D., and Gertrude Robson.

Mrs. M. Whitney of 1129 Third street S entertained last week in honor of Mrs. N. W. Brown of Pipestone, Minn., the occasion being the seventy-second birthday anniversary of Mrs. Brown. Covers were placed for seven at luncheon and the decorations were in pink and white.

The park board entertained a group of the officers of the First regiment, N. G. M., living in Minneapolis at the band concert at Lake Harriet last evening. About twenty of the officers, accompanied by their wives, were present and enjoyed the musical treat.

MACPHERSON & LANGFORD SKIRTS

A LADY with one of our perfect-fitting skirts on will never be a wall flower. They are smart and attract attention.

Do not let the merchants or salespeople cheat you. A garment without our name woven in the hand is positively not our make. Be sure the name is in the one you buy. If they won't show them to you, come to us—we will.

MACPHERSON & LANGFORD
809 E. 4th St. St. Paul, Minn.

Be on your guard against imitations of Fels-Naptha soap.

Taking out blood stains is the severest test a soap can be put to.

You can scald or boil a blood-stained handkerchief, using any ordinary soap in the old-fashioned way and rub on the washboard until the skin's off your knuckles, without budging the blood stains.

But try Fels-Naptha soap in lukewarm or cold water according to the easy directions on wrapper and the blood dissolves like snow in April.

Isn't it common sense that a soap that will perform this miracle without injuring the most delicate fabric is also the best for all laundry and household purposes?

It's so easy—the Fels-Naptha way of washing. All the real hard work is done by the soap itself. Use lukewarm or cold water remember. With hot water and boiling or scalding, Fels-Naptha soap does not have the chance to show what a wonderful dirt loosener it is.

Fels-Naptha takes out grease spots and other stains just as readily as it does blood stains. Follow the directions on the red and green wrapper.

How Anty Drudge Takes Out Blood Stains.

Johnny Jones—"Boo hoo! boo hoo! Thommie Thumps hit me on the nose and made it bleed and it's all over my nice new shirtwaist. Boo hoo!"

Anty Drudge—"Tommy Thumps is a very naughty boy—that is if you didn't hit him first. But never mind, Anty Drudge will rub a little Fels-Naptha soap on the blood spots and soak the shirtwaist in lukewarm water for 30 minutes, rub it lightly on the washboard, and presto! the blood stains are gone and the shirtwaist as good as new again."

All grocers sell Fels-Naptha soap.
