Mrs. H. McI. Morton of Clifton avenue gave a beautifully appointed luncheon and bridge today at the Minkaka club. Mrs. Morton was assisted by Mrs. Augusta, and Mrs. James H. Montgomery of Erie, Pa., who are visiting in the city, were the honor guests, and thirty women had been bidden to meet them. Luncheon was served in the large glass dining room from tables exquisitely arranged with pink sweet peas in French baskets. Following the luncheon the women played bridge on the open piazza.

Mrs. J. A. Modisette will give a luncheon for her sisters tomorrow and next Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Josiah Thompson will entertain at the Town and Country club in honor of Miss Innes and Montgomery.

The marriage of Mrs. Bessie Merritt Pallman of Auburn, N. Y., and Dr. William Henry Neville, also of Auburn, took place this afternoon at 5 o'clock in St. Mark's pro-cathedral. Mrs. Neville is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. John Furman and Mrs. James A. Gould, a bride of June, was her attendant. Rev. C. Edgar Haupt read the service in the presence of a small group of relatives. The bride wore a handsome gown of blue chiffon tulle, with a large hat with blue plumes. Following the ceremony a bridal dinner will be served in the Concord apartments. Dr. Neville and his bride will leave this evening for Duluth and will return to their home in Auburn, N. Y., by way of the Great Lakes.

A wedding pretty in its appointments, was that of Miss Kittybelle Mason and Charles A. Ebbloom of Duluth, which took place in the First Baptist church at 5 o'clock. About the altar great nois and white roses stood among the ferns. At each pew clusters of white carnations were caught with white ribbons. The ushers who the bride had chosen from Mendota were Mrs. J. E. Hopkins, Miss Ethel Ross and Ellen Rhode of Minneapolis, and Miss Ann Bakke of Clarkston, Wash. were all in white. Mrs. Jessie Long sang "Below the Turret" which entered the church. Maurice Salisbury sounded the "Lohengrin" chorus. The bride was attended by Miss Mildred Morgan as maid of honor, and Mrs. Mabel Robinson as bridesmaid. Miss Morgan wore a gown of white French lawn inset with valenciennes lace and finished with a deep, fluted collar and white tulle. Miss Robinson also wore white French lawn trimmed with valenciennes and both carried aprons of ferns tied with tulle. Little Clara Pemberton, in a white dress, carried the bride's bouquet. The bride and groom preceded the bride to the altar, where the bridegroom with his best man, Clyde W. Ingalls, awaited their coming. The bride's attendants, in the family, was of white embroidered net over tulle. Lilies of the valley formed the bridal bouquet and a spray of the same blossoms held her veil in place.

Mrs. Ed O'Brien will entertain the bride and the relatives at a supper at her home, 1503 Adams street NE. Pink and white carnations were used in the decorations, and the wedding cake in dainty boxes will be presented to each of the party.

This evening at 10 o'clock a reception will be held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. M. D. Mason, 1501 Adams street. The wide archway between the rooms will be hung with small and white ribbons filled with white carnations. The bride's fragrance and beauty to the scene. In the dining room calla lilies and roses will be massed on the buffet, while silver candelabra on the table will bear blazing red and green. From the chandelier above, white ribbons will be caught at the corners of the table. Receiving with the bride party will be Mrs. Mason and Mrs. Erickson, sisters to the bridegroom, and Mrs. E. D. O'Brien, while the rooms will be Mrs. Jesse Long, Mrs. Whitney and Mrs. A. T. Tuttle of Stewartville, Minn. In the dining room the bride's party will be Mrs. Ebbloom's gift to the bride was a solid gold watch.

Mr. and Mrs. Ebbloom will leave this evening for the east. They will make their home in Duluth and when they will return to Minneapolis.

The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. James Springstead, Dodge Center, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Erickson, LeSueur, Minn.; and Victor Ebbloom, Duluth, Minn.

The Misses Fleu entertained this afternoon at their home on Second avenue S. The guests were Mrs. Ramsdell, a bride of next week. The twelve guests were members of Miss Ramsdell's sorority, the Theta Delta Zeta. The parcels that they brought were hidden about the lawn and shrubbery and after the buffet luncheon, which was also served on the lawn, there was a merry hunt for the gifts. The decorations and appointments were all in pink and white.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. W. M. Blake and Miss Marion Burt gave a hostess shower for Miss Ramsdell at the home of Mrs. Blake on Lyndale avenue S. The afternoon was spent in white and white with carnations and roses for flowers. The gifts were placed in a huge red stocking which hung in the doorway. A guessing contest on matters pertaining to the bridegroom was an amusing feature. Luncheon was served from a table lighted with red tapers in candelabra. Red satin ribbons fell from the chandelier to the table which had white carnations for floral decorations. White carnations tied with white tulle marked the bride's place. The place cards were tiny red boxes. Covers were laid for twelve.

A wedding of last evening was that of Miss Harriet B. Dean and Harry A. Chase, which took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew N. Dean, 3182 Irving avenue S. Miss Genevieve Hill played the "Lohengrin" wedding march as the professional music and the Mendelssohn wedding march for the bride and groom. While the vows were spoken "In an Arbor" was softly played and Ray Moorehouse sang "Since Thou Art Mine." Rev. T. W. Strout read the service in the presence of seventy-five guests.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of white tulle with a large hat and lace and veil. The bridegroom wore a suit of dark blue and white with a white shirt and tie.

simulated a Bolero effect on the bodice. She wore a veil, and her flowers were carried in a small bouquet. Miss Mabel Chase was the maid of honor. She wore pale cream net over pink silk and carried pink carnations. Miss Ida Dean, a sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid and was veiled in white net over pale blue and carried pink peonies. Stanley Staring was the best man. The flowers were held by Miss Lucy Vance and Katherine Johnson.

A bridal arch had been erected in the parlor and the marriage vows were spoken under trailing woodbine and clusters of fragrant syringa blossoms. Red poppies and carnations were used in the dining room and living room and in the music room the chosen color was pink with clusters of pink roses.

Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. Chase were Mr. and Mrs. N. Dean and Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Chase. Mr. and Mrs. Chase will leave this week for the west, where they will reside.

Mrs. Estella L. Pearsall announces the engagement of her daughter Florence Louise to Roswell St. Benedict of New York. The wedding will take place in August.

The marriage of Miss Eda Richter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Christian Richter, and James Stafford Bishop took place last evening at the home of the family on First avenue N. The Rev. James S. Montgomery read the service in the presence of about one hundred and fifty guests. Miss Mabel Jackson played the "Lohengrin" wedding march as the bride entered, and during the reading of the service a string orchestra played softly "O Promise Me."

Miss Richter entered with her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of white tulle and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Her bridesmaid was Miss Mabel Jackson. The bridegroom wore a suit of dark blue and white with a white shirt and tie. The ceremony was performed by Rev. James S. Montgomery. The bride and groom were attended by Mrs. J. E. Hopkins, Miss Ethel Ross and Ellen Rhode of Minneapolis, and Miss Ann Bakke of Clarkston, Wash. were all in white. Mrs. Jessie Long sang "Below the Turret" which entered the church. Maurice Salisbury sounded the "Lohengrin" chorus. The bride was attended by Miss Mildred Morgan as maid of honor, and Mrs. Mabel Robinson as bridesmaid. The marriage of Mrs. Alice Hart Knell and William Lindsay Brown was celebrated last evening at the home of the bride's father, A. J. Hart, 8217 Park avenue. The hall was arranged in foliage with asparagus ferns outlining the stairway, and tall palms banking the walls. In the reception and living room daisies and white carnations gleamed among the green asparagus and wood ferns. The fireplace, hidden in green and white foliage, held a large basket of pink peonies. Tall tapers burned in crystal holders. Miss Caro Brown, sister of the bridegroom, played the "Lohengrin" wedding march as the bride entered, and during the reading of the vows "Hearts and Flowers" were softly played. Mr. and Mrs. Brown will receive informally after Aug. 1, at 3217 Park avenue.

The out-of-town guests were Mrs. A. J. Hart and Miss Orrie Hart of Austin, Minn.; Mrs. George Lent and Miss Orpha Lent of Duluth.

A pretty wedding of last evening was that of Miss Margaret Falvey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Falvey, and Charles Harland Cowan. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Joseph H. Falvey, 810 Sixteenth avenue S. A party of thirty of the immediate relatives and friends, Judge William E. Bates officiating. The altar of palms and ferns was arranged in the reception room. The decorations of all the rooms were handsome. The bride wore a white French lawn, made princess fashion, with insertions of lace, and carried a bride rose in an arm bouquet and tied with white tulle. After the service the bride's father and mother, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cowan, the bridegroom's parents, assisted in receiving, and a mandolin orchestra played.

Mr. and Mrs. Cowan will reside at 112 W Fourteenth street and will be at home after Aug. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Paegel, particularly the latter, were surprised last evening when about twenty of their friends gathered at home, 179 Irving avenue S, to celebrate the twentieth anniversary of their marriage. In the hall and living-room great clusters of red peonies were used, while in the reception room the color was pink. Yellow blossoms contrasted with ferns in the dining-room and about the punch bowl gleamed tiny electric lights from among fern fronds. Mrs. B. K. Krieger presided over the party and a mandolin orchestra played the waltz "The Blue Danube". The guests played such

Counterfeits.

Read what one of the GREATEST NEWSPAPERS IN AMERICA has to say on this subject:

"The manufacturers of Castoria have been compelled to spend hundreds of thousands of dollars to familiarize the public with the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. This has been necessitated by reason of pirates counterfeiting the Castoria trademark. This counterfeiting is a crime not only against the proprietors of Castoria, but against the growing generation. All persons should be careful to see that Castoria bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, if they would guard the health of their children. Parents, and mothers in particular, ought to carefully examine the Castoria advertisements which have been appearing in this paper, and to remember that the wrapper of every bottle of genuine Castoria bears the fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, under whose supervision it has been manufactured continuously for over thirty years.—Philadelphia Bulletin.
