Made desperate by long illness, Nelson Robertson, 50 years old, took his own life at his home, 1401 Chicago avenue, last evening by drinking carbolic acid.

Robertson had been watched carefully for some time by his wife, who feared that he would take poison. Last evening Robertson went to the woodshed and his wife followed a moment later, but was too late to save his life.

When she entered the shed he was lying on the floor and the empty bottle was close by him. He was still alive, and Mrs. Robertson hastened to summon a physician, who worked over the dying man for some time.

Unable to obtain work, Ernest Dahlquist, a non-resident staying at 15 Grand street, was taken to the city hospital and will recover. The self-inflicted wound was not deep and he will be able to leave the hospital in a few days.

The board of health considers this practice especially dangerous, as the waters of the two lakes is used extensively for drinking purposes.

It seems probable that a rule will be established compelling the discontinuance of the use of all lake sewers and the construction of cesspools some distance from the shores.

UNCLE SAM CLOSES YEAR

ALL GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENTS IN FEDERAL BUILDING ARE BUSY WITH ANNUAL STATEMENTS.

Today marks the close of the fiscal year for all departments of the United States government, and all the offices in the building are busy receiving and filing their final figures into shape for presentation to the heads of their departments.

The office of the deputy collector of internal revenues was the busiest place in the building. The ante-room was crowded with liquor dealers anxious to pay their $25 fee for a federal license in order to avoid all danger of arrest.

Some of the most busy receiving and acknowledging good coin of the realm in $25 lots up to the stroke of 12. Owing to the rush no figures as to the amount taken will be available for several days.

The postoffice was not so busy, but Deputy Collector Cooley was able to announce today that the total customs receipts of the "port of Minneapolis" for the fiscal year is $412,093.

Assistant Custodian Nelson reports that the total expenditure for furniture in the last six months has been $1,162.24, exclusive of repairs. He estimates the total value of the furniture now installed in the building at over $30,000.

Why is the Massachusetts Insurance Law the Best?

This question is often asked. Without going into minutiae, several salient points may be specified: A Massachusetts policy holder cannot waive his legal rights, any alleged waiver in the policy is void.

A lapsed policy becomes automatically paid-up for the proper amount and the paid-up policy bears dividends and is cashable for its full value every year.

The use of proxies is governed by provisions which prevent the officers of a company from controlling it against the policy holders. The developments of the past year show the value of this feature.

A Massachusetts company must be thoroughly examined by the Insurance Commissioner at least once in three years, and often if he deems necessary. The additional security in this provision will be clear to every man at all familiar with corporate management.

These provisions are simple, radical, efficient. They secure each policy holder his rights, make the officers responsible to the policy holders and thereby guarantee the management such as is not found in any other state.
