

LEAKY ROOFS OVER THE WHITE HOUSE

Summer Will Be Spent in Repairing the Executive Mansion.

Journal Special Service.
Washington, July 3.—During the next three months the White House and the grounds surrounding it will be closed to the public and the executive mansion will be in the hands of mechanics. A large amount of work will be done this summer, some of it being made necessary by leaky roofs of the two large wings which were designed and built by McKim, Meade & White.

Several thousand dollars will be expended to replace some of the work done by this firm three years ago. For many months the roofs of the wings to the White House have leaked so badly that much plastering has fallen. Colonel Brownell, superintendent of public buildings and grounds, will have these roofs removed and replaced by McKim, Meade & White.

The roof of the two wings was of a coating of tar and cement. The tar was used under the cement, which began to crack some time ago and let in the rain. The cracks also admitted the warm sun, which melted the tar. The warm rain of spring and summer washed the black tar all thru the under portions of the roof and then in thru the ceilings.

It is said that the cracking of the cement was due to the fact that it was put down late in the year 1903, and in a rush so as to have the White House ready for the occupancy of the president's family.

It will be remembered that the whole work was rushed thru, Mr. McKim personally superintending it. The work began in June and everything was pushed to end it by Nov. 1. The early frosts and cool weather had a bad effect on the cement, it is said. This, together with too fast work, made a botch.

MINNEAPOLIS PONKA

The regatta committee of the Minnetonka Boat club announces that after Saturday special races will be sailed between the boats picked to represent the club in the races with White Bear, which are to be held at Lake Minnetonka the latter part of July. The races will be held Saturdays and Sundays, for there is little time left, and up to the present the bad weather has interfered to a great extent with racing. The boats which will come in close competition for the honors are the Minnetonka and the Delta of the class sloop, and the Torrier Second and Pathfinder of the class B sloop.

Roy Wagner has purchased a handsome twenty-five foot pleasure launch for the use of Mrs. Wagner.

A company of young people chaperoned by Mrs. D. S. Slight of Minneapolis will be at the Torrier Second over the Fourth. There will be ten in the party.

Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Horn will come out to spend the Fourth with sixteen young people from Minneapolis and St. Paul. They will charter a boat and will make a tour of the lake in the afternoon, and in the evening will attend the hop at one of the hotels.

Mrs. George M. West will entertain at a family home party over the Fourth at her home at West Point. Her guests will be her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Bede of Milwaukee, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Benson and Miss Ellie Benson of Kansas City, F. C. Bode of Northfield and Harry Bode of Minneapolis, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Moffat and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Jenks of Brezzy Point.

NO MAN IS STRONGER THAN HIS STOMACH.

Let the greatest athletes have dyspepsia and his muscles would soon fall. Physical strength is derived from food. If a man has insufficient food he loses strength. If he has no food he dies. Food is converted into nutrition through the stomach and bowels. It depends on the strength of the stomach to what extent food eaten is digested and assimilated. People can die of starvation who have abundant food because the stomach and its associate organs of digestion and nutrition do not perform their duty. Thus the stomach is really the vital organ of the body. If the stomach is "weak" the body will be weak also, because it is upon the stomach the body relies for its strength. And as the body considered as a whole is made up of its several members and organs, so the weakness of the body as a consequence of "weak" stomach will be distributed among the organs which compose the body. If the body is weak because it is ill-nourished that physical weakness will be found in all the organs—heart, liver, kidneys, etc. The liver will be torpid and inactive, giving rise to biliousness, loss of appetite, weak nerves, feeble or irregular action of heart, palpitation, dizziness, headache, backache and kindred disturbances and weaknesses.

Mr. Louis Pate of Quebec writes: "For years after my health began to fail, my head grew dizzy, my eyes became sore, and my stomach was sore all the time, while everything I ate would seem to be heavy like lead upon my stomach. The doctors claimed that it was sympathetic trouble due to dyspepsia, and prescribed for me and my stomach. My stomach became normal, the digestive organs worked perfectly and I soon began to look like a different person. I can never cease to be grateful for what your medicine has done for me and my stomach. It is the best I have ever used. Don't be wheedled by a penny-grabbing dealer into taking inferior substitutes for Dr. Pierce's medicine, recommended to be 'a good' one."

Why is the Massachusetts Insurance Law the Best?

This question is often asked. Without going into minutiae, several salient points may be specified.

A Massachusetts policy holder cannot waive his legal rights; any alleged waiver in the policy is void. The value of this provision is obvious.

A lapsed policy becomes automatically paid-up for the proper amount and the cash value of the policy is less than the proper amount—often much less.

Each policy must receive all the dividends it earns.

The use of proxies is governed by provisions which prevent the officers of a company from controlling it against the policy holders. The development of the past year shows the value of this feature.

A Massachusetts company must be thoroughly examined by the Insurance Commissioner at least once in three years, and often if he deems necessary. The additional security in this provision will be clear to every man at all familiar with corporate management.

These provisions make the officers responsible to the policy holders and give a guarantee of the management such as is not found in any other state.

Woman's Nightmare

No woman's happiness can be complete without children; it is her nature to love and want them as much as you as it is to love the beautiful and pure. The critical ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so fraught with dread, pain, suffering and danger, that the very thought of it fills her with apprehension and horror. There is no necessity for the reproduction of life to be either painful or dangerous. The use of Mother's Friend so prepares the system for the coming event that it is safely passed without any danger. This great and wonderful remedy is always applied externally, and has carried thousands of women through the trying crisis without suffering.

MERRY MAIDS CLUB LURES TEACHERS FROM SCHOOLS

Journal Special Service.
Mahanoy City, Pa., July 3.—Dan Cupid, aided and abetted by the Merry Maids club of Ringtown, whose carnal principle forbids a member from keeping company with a person of the opposite sex merely as a flirtation, unless he declares his intention in favor of matrimony, had played havoc among the schoolma'ams of East Union township. Three of them were married during the term just ended, but kept their marriages a secret until the closing day of school. Six others are to become brides during the summer, and in consequence have not applied for reappointment as teachers.

With this dilemma facing them, the board of education is at its wits' end to find teachers to take their places. Last night was the date fixed for the annual election of teachers, but the applications were so few that no effort was made to choose teachers. Besides attaching their names to a contract pledging themselves not to marry during the school term, applicants must not join the Merry Maids club, which is looked upon as an organization solely for the promotion of matrimony among schoolteachers.

WRITS ISSUED FOR UNION MEN.
Special to The Journal.
Hazelton, Pa., July 3.—Court Commissioner or Hazleton today issued writs of attachment for the Iron Molders union members who were to be examined under oath today and failed to show up. The union's lawyer refused to produce the men, saying the court had exceeded its jurisdiction. W. J. Turner, attorney for the Vetter Manufacturing company, says he will not stop until the union's lawyer, W. C. Cabell, is hauled before the circuit court on a contempt charge.
