STORM VERDICT REVERSED

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT OF APPEALS DECIDES AGAINST ST. PAUL FIRM IN TORNADO CASE.

The United States circuit court of appeals has just reversed a decision reversing the judgment of the trial court in the Ramsey case of George E. Finch against the Maryland Casualty company of Baltimore.

The decision practically holds that the big storm which damaged the twin cities on Aug. 20, 1904, was a tornado. At that time the building of Finch, Young & Motson was a total loss.

Much expert evidence as to storms was introduced. The court reaches the conclusion that the storm was a tornado and that the damage was caused by a tornado and that the company was not liable, a claim in the contract exempting the company in event of damage by tornado.

Notwithstanding the expressed opinion of 90 per cent of the residents of the twin cities was not the hottest day of the season. According to the thermometer at the weather bureau, 85 degrees was the maximum registered, while on June 28 the government thermometer climbed two degrees higher, the mercury perching on the 90-degree round.

Probably the reason that so many Minneapolitans are complaining of the heat may be found in the statement that it is unusually hot considering the season of the year. Last year, on July 9, the maximum temperature was only 75 degrees, while a year ago today the thermometer showed only 53 degrees hotter. At 1 o'clock the official thermometer registered 82 degrees.

A small-sized hurricane swept over St. Paul early last evening, taking trees and windows in its flight and blowing chimneys and a roof off two from cottages at Bald Eagle lake. Local weather authorities are inclined to scoff at the prediction that which emanated from St. Paul, and maintain that the story was simply a severe thunderstorm felt in St. Paul to a greater extent than in Minneapolis.

Phoenix, Ariz., was easily the hottest place in the United States yesterday, with a maximum temperature of 106. Other places on the Rocky mountain slope registered in the 90's and 100's, and other places in the country did the mercury reach the 100 point.

CONTRACTS LET FOR TWO NEW STEAMBOATS

Former Governor S. R. Van Sant, who, the greater part of his life, has been engaged in upper Mississippi river traffic, has had the honor to receive his statement that the era of the river's greatness is just dawning by today awarding contracts for two new steamers.

The two new Van Sant steamers are to be built at the Washburn shipyard. The largest boat will be a successor to the Mueser, one of the most serviceable boats of the river in its day, which will be 140 feet long, with 30-foot beam. It will be used, on its completion next spring, for towing, but will be so constructed that it may be easily changed to do a short-line package trade.

It will be launched about April 1. Owing to the increase in the price of hardwood lumber, the price of the boat will be nearly double what it would have been ten years ago.

The second new Van Sant steamer will be 100 feet long, with 22-foot beam, and will be used as a bowboat for the steamer North Star. It will be one of the best bowboats on the river and is to be completed in sixty days.

LOGS ARE FINE. Lumbermen Surprised at the Quality of This Year's Out.

It is noticeable that the decrease in the lumber cut this year is only 30,000,000 feet as against 50,000,000 feet last year.

Six plants are in operation in Minneapolis this season, one less than last year. The Nelson-Tuthill plant being closed. The quality of the timber this year is remarkable, lumbermen say, the more so when it is considered that the finest timber supposedly had been cut years ago.

FAILS TO PROVE CHARGE. Retail Grocer Unable to Convict Wholesale Dealer.

No evidence to convict could be obtained against the S. G. Palmer company in police court today on a charge of selling adulterated maple sugar.

OLD TIME MEETING

TO PICK NEW M. C.

G. O. P. CONVENTION SUGGESTED TO PICK CONGRESSMEN. When the hosts of visitors, veterans and their friends, begin to arrive in Minneapolis next month, they will find no more loyal women from any source than will be extended by Senator W. D. Washburn.

Plans are seriously discussed in local political circles for an old-time republican congressional convention in Hennepin county. The idea is to bring the party workers from all parts of the county together to decide upon a platform and to pick a man to be the best and most available candidate for congress.

The definite line of action has been decided, it is suggested that the republican organization in the county would form a proper basis for such an informal convention. Each voting precinct in the county has a precinct committee of five. With the other members of the county organization the total in the formal organization is about 800.

The precinct committee men represent voters in every district in the city. They are elected with no view to holding any special position, and are believed to represent fairly and evenly the republican sentiment of the county. It is believed that the plan would be fair and would be for the best good of the party in the county.

It has been urged that the precinct committee men be asked to suggest a list of names for representation on the county organization as the large republican precincts, and that some plan should be made to have a large republican representation in the convention if it is called. In reply to this, it has been suggested that a committee of representatives could be selected by the present committee.

The congressional situation gives promise of becoming involved, it is believed. Mr. Martineau has the promise of two years ago, will again seek the nomination. A host of willing candidates are waiting to see what will turn up and before long it will be a united party feat that many unnecessary splits are likely to occur. It is urged that the calling of an informal convention before the regular one is started would be a good thing for the party. Another plan that has been suggested contemplates a conference of managers of the various candidates to pick an available man.

STATE HEALTH BOARD RE-ELECTS OLD OFFICERS

The state board of health today re-elected its old officers to serve for another year. Dr. Henry Hutchinson of St. Paul, president; Dr. W. H. Bove of St. James, vice president; Dr. H. M. Bracken of St. Paul, secretary and executive officer.

Considerable time was given to discussion of the western congress on tuberculosis which is to be held in Minneapolis in the latter part of the year. The state board will do all in its power to make the convention a success.

It was decided to have the tuberculosis conference in Minneapolis in the latter part of the year. The state board will do all in its power to make the convention a success.

POLICE BOATS FOR THE REGATTA COURSE

How to police Lake Minnetonka for the Minnesota-Winnipeg Rowing association regatta, to be held July 18 and 19, a question which has been submitted to William C. Leary of the county attorney's office by James D. Denegre of St. Paul. The question has been carefully considered and it is the opinion of the state, thru the county officers, that police powers on Lake Minnetonka, County Attorney J. L. Smith said today that the county would furnish the police boats to keep the course clear for the regatta.

It is probable, however, that the association will furnish the boats and the sheriff will furnish the police. This, of course, will be up to the association.

WOMAN IS HEAT VICTIM

WASHBURN PRAISES G.A.R.

SENATOR READY TO DO ALL IN HIS POWER TO ENTERTAIN VETERANS.

When the hosts of visitors, veterans and their friends, begin to arrive in Minneapolis next month, they will find no more loyal women from any source than will be extended by Senator W. D. Washburn.

Speaking to the executive committee of the Grand Army of the Republic of pleasant accommodations for the visitors, but more especially for the veterans, Mr. Washburn said: "Everybody who possibly can should open his doors to the visitors. I should be glad to entertain such guests as are designated by the committee and will try to make them comfortable with every means at my command at Fairview." The visitors should be made to feel that the city is their home. We cannot do too much for the veterans.

The Ladies of the G. A. R. have opened headquarters at 201 Grand Avenue and will take active part in the arrangements for their reunion, which will be held in conjunction with the Grand Army encampment. Mrs. Mindie Barnum is in charge.

BUSINESS MEN WORK FOR NEW POSTOFFICE SITE

Business interests working with the Commercial club public affairs committee are today active in bringing about the selection of a suitable site for the proposed new Minneapolis postoffice. The public affairs committee met today an appointed sub-committee of three, consisting of F. E. Barney, A. C. Danenbaum and George Bertrand, to keep in touch with developments and report to the committee from time to time.

Sites were discussed and many suggestions offered by the committee. It has been suggested that a commission representing the large interests of the city should be formed to secure and present bids on sites to be offered. No one person or firm can offer an entire site suitable for the proposed building. It is probable that many small holdings will have to be handled separately, and with each working independently and trying to make as much as possible deals may be occasioned.

GOVERNMENT SAYS THE CROPS WILL BE BUMPERS

The government crop report for July, sent from Washington late today, made a distinctly favorable impression on the business community. It is probable that many small holdings will have to be handled separately, and with each working independently and trying to make as much as possible deals may be occasioned.

In winter wheat there was a gain in condition, a most unusual thing. The showing assured a good crop for the northwest, provided no damaging weather comes before harvest.

Police Superintendent Doyle received word today to arrest two men who broke into the postoffice at Elk River, Minn., late last night and stole about $20 in stamps and cash.

When the postmaster went into the office today everything was in confusion. A drawer in which some stamps were kept had been rifled. The robbers escaped.

Two tramps were seen hanging about the town all day yesterday, and they were ordered out of town last night, but it is thought they came back and committed the robbery. A good description of the men has been given to Sheriff Ward of Sherburne county, and to Superintendent Doyle of Minneapolis. Sheriff Ward thinks the men came toward the twin cities.

BOY HERO RESCUES TOT FROM DROWNING

Sheer presence of mind and heroic action on the part of Horace Hurbit, the 15-year-old son of a local contractor in De Moines, saved the life of little George Philip of Chicago. The child was playing on the steamboat dock at Cottagewood, when he slipped and fell into the water. The accident was seen by no one but Horace Hurbit, who immediately rushed to the lake and dove after the child, rescuing him just before he went down for the second time. The parents of the boys are spending the summer at Cottagewood with their children.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Jordan and Mrs. Florence Jordan of New Orleans left today for an automobile trip thru the Dakotas. They will be away about ten days.
