CRIMINALS FIGHT TO AVOID PRISON

SUPREME COURT GETS MANY HENNEPIN COUNTY CASES.
Important Convictions Secured by County Attorney Are Reviewed by Higher Tribunal—Other Cases Pending in Which Those Convicted Ask New Trials—Principles of Law Involved.

Six convictions secured in the last eight months by the county attorney's office, five of them of more than usual importance or interest, are now either in the supreme court or the state or are on their way. Five of the six cases have attracted wide attention, and in two cases the points involved are entirely new in this state. In all cases where the defendants have argued for a new trial they have lost. In one case the arguments are now being heard before Judge Brooks, and another has not yet come up.

The two cases now in the supreme court are against E. O. Fellows, convicted in the district court on a charge of grand larceny in the first degree, and Dr. T. H. Ely, convicted against conviction with the baby farm crusade carried on last year by the county attorney. Fellows is now in the penitentiary and Dr. Ely is out on bail.

Two other cases where motions for new trials have been denied are against Emma Yates, convicted of arson, and Thomas Coleman, the private detective, convicted of extortion.
The arguments are in progress for a new trial for Dr. Jacob F. Force, convicted of embezzlement of the funds of the Northwestern National Life Insurance company, a new bill in minor cases is to be asked for John Kilgore, against whose sentence is pending on a charge of assault against a child.

THIRD TROLLEY FOR ANOKA

FRANCHISE ASKED FOR ROAD ON EAST SIDE OF RIVER TO CONNECT WITH COLUMBIA HEIGHTS LINE.

Another proposition for bringing Anoka into trolley connection with Minneapolis has appeared, and the prospect of line in progress for immediately are less promising than before. B. J. Witte of Anoka, who is believed to represent outside interests, now seeks an exclusive franchise for a line from Anoka to Minneapolis, all in Anoka county. This line would connect with the Columbia Heights line and run up the east side of the river by way of Fridley and Coon creek.

It is believed that interests that are booming Columbia Heights are interested in the Witte plan. Some Anoka business men seem to favor the Anoka line, also. It is thought that it will take more business to Anoka than the Robinsdale, Osseo and Champlin line. A majority of the citizens are said to favor the line on the Hennepin county side, which traverses a much richer and better country than the Anoka side. It is thought possible, also, that Mr. Witte may represent street railway interests, as the Lewis and Clark line, located in Columbia Heights, through which the all-Anoka line would pass.

There is some discussion concerning the ability of the Mississippi bridge, Anoka to stand streetcar traffic. The bridge is 1,400 feet long and was built more than twenty years ago.

MISS VINCENT SCORES

Two Other Solists on Tonight's Program at Harriet.

Miss Frances Vincent, singing with the Oberholfer Orchestra band at the Lake Harriet roof garden last night, made an excellent impression. In spite of the manifold difficulties, Miss Vincent was in such command of herself and her voice almost from the start, as to make herself heard throughout the roof garden, and after singing Arditi's waltz song, “Se Saran Rose,” responded to inquiries with inimitable wit. “May Day and Clayton Jones,” “When Blooms the Rose,” was only permitted to leave the bandstand when it became apparent that she would sing again Thursday night.

The band came in for its full share of appreciation, especially in the performance of the three great overtures, Weber's “Oberon,” Rossini's “William Tell,” and the overture from Wagner's “Tannhauser.”
Two solists are on this evening's program. Miss Lauretine Palmer, a cornetist, who is in demand by such organizations as the Boston Ladies' Symphony orchestra, will appear for the first and only time, giving “Remembrances of Switzerland.” A. W. Hoskins will repeat the overture from “William Tell,” as a xylophone solo.

STATE GOLFERS BEGIN TOURNEY

Players from All Parts of Minnesota Compete for the Championship.

Unfavorable weather conditions marked the first day's play of the Minnesota State Golf association at the links of the Minnikahda club this morning. A strong southwest wind was blowing across the course, which was considerable of a handicap to the players of the five-man team who started the contest against Bogy for the Spalding trophy.

The course was in excellent shape with the greens lightning fast. A large gallery watched the play.
All indications point to a most successful meeting. The entries number ninety and come from the Minnikahda, Town and Country, Bryn Mawr and Lafayette clubs of the twin cities, the Northland Country club of Duluth, the Meadow Brook club of Winona, the Lagetaha club of Faribault.

The first play this morning was for the Spalding trophy with teams of five men contesting a bogey of 82. The clubs represented were as follows: Minnikahda—Jaffray, Legg, Johnson, Marfield, Gates.
Lagetaha, Faribault—Dobbin, Chase, Croffette, Mattson, Clemens.
Town and Country, St. Paul—Bend, Doran, Johnston, Schurmer, Lynch.
Northland Country club, Duluth—Alexander, Hopkins, Thomson, Finkenstedt, Walker.

Meadow Brook, Winona—Tawney, F. Mollen, London, Dr. Melien, Gray, Bryn Mawr, Minneapolis—Fuller, Rees, Hertig, Cutts, Stewart.
Lafayette Club—Webb, Langdon, Christian, Brooks, Pillsbury.
This afternoon the play started for the Pioneer trophy with a Scotch four-man medal play. Tomorrow at 8:30 a.m., the sixteen players making the lowest score will get away for the second flight, the next day for the second flight and the third sixteen for the third flight.

The Score for Spalding Trophy (Five-Man Teams).
Minnikahda first, 21 down.
Lagetaha, Faribault, Town and Country club, St. Paul, 47 down, tied for 48 down.
Yafayette, Bryn Mawr, tied for third, 48 down.
Northland, Duluth, 49 down; Meadowbrook, 50 down.

“ARTIST” LOCKED UP ON GIRLS' COMPLAINT

Accused of maintaining a fake artist's studio, to which he enticed many young girls, George Bonell is locked up in the station on two serious charges, one for forgery and the other for indecent assault.

County Attorney A. J. Smith and his assistants are now in possession of a house on the east side of the river, which was used as a studio of a real-Parisian artist. His next step was to insert an advertisement in a daily paper asking for young women to pose for him.

This advertisement was answered by many girls, and Bonell is said to have offered them good wages for their work. He claimed to have a contract with a brewing company for 1,000 oil paintings to be placed in saloons and other drinking places. Every picture, he said, must be different, thus requiring a new model for each painting.

After engaging the girls his demeanor changed, it is believed, and he began making the girls insult at every turn. The matter was reported to the police.
In the meantime Bonell is said to have attempted to pass a check forged on A. C. Holmquist. He was arrested by the East Side police on a forgery charge, but when the other facts became known to the police a continuance of the case was asked until the most serious charge could be investigated.

DOWN GO THE FENCES

Public Is Invited to Walk on Grass in Parks.

The unsightly wire fences around Elliot and Logan parks, as well as those lining the paths in these parks, have been removed, under orders from Theodore Wirth, superintendent of parks. The patrons of the parks are at liberty to walk on the grass as much as they choose. Mr. Wirth had hoped to rearrange the walks and paths in Elliot park, so as to make them of real benefit to the people who pass them, but the park board is hampered for lack of funds and the improvement must wait until next year.

The commissioners appointed by the district court to distribute assessments for the purchase of the tower hill in Prospect park, for park purposes met today. As the residents in that part of the city have agreed to a tax upon the territory in which the assessments are to be made, there will be little opposition to the tax. The amount to be raised is about $19,000, including the interest on deferred payments.

Paint Firm Coming.—Quarters have been secured for the paint firm of John Masury & Son on the William B. Fluke property, Second avenue S between Third and Fourth streets. Mr. Fluke will move the four-story brick building on the rear of the W. S. Notch company's lot across the alley to the rear forty feet of his property, which he has leased to the Masury company.

SAVAGE OBJECTS TO ‘CREDIT’ TAX

DECLARES HE DOES NOT OWN ANY SUCH PROPERTY.

Clash Before Board of Equalization, Over Boost in Valuation on Warehouse Where, Minor Says, Much Unassessed Property Is Stored Beyond Reach of Assessor.

Inasmuch as M. W. Savage is paying about $8,000 year in taxes he has a little hurt when officially informed that he had been assessed $10,000 for “credits.” In a letter to Mr. Minor he declares that he never owned any bank stock nor any bonds nor anything else which could be classed as credits. Everything he owned in the world was in plain sight and honestly assessed. Every cent of capital he could command was put in his stock food plant, and in addition he owned a residence at 2600 Park avenue, two farms in Hennepin county near Bloomington, two more in Scott county, at Savage, and some Minnetonka property. Last May he was obliged to borrow $98,000 to be used in his business. The matter was held open for consideration until Mr. Savage made a formal statement.

The Realty company, which owns a large bonded warehouse on First avenue N, was assessed $124,500 in excess of the $50 returned by the company. Assessor Minor and George C. Ripley, counsel for the company, had a long argument over the city's right to assess the property in the warehouse. Mr. Minor declared that the warehouse was simply a huge receptacle for the evasion of taxes and declared that millions of dollars of property escaped taxation simply because the assessors had no access to the company's books. The company admitted a net income of upwards of $8,000 a year from the warehouse, but denied responsibility therefor and firmly refused to give the assessor access.

John Birkholz, who lives at the Plaza, had his assessment on household effects reduced from $750 to $450 at his own request.

LIFE INSURANCE IS ON A SUBSTANTIAL BASIS

Life insurance has been placed on a more stable basis by the recent investigations and disclosures, and the American people are showing a much more intelligent interest and confidence in it as a result of their increased knowledge of its perfect safety. This is the opinion of James B. Estes, vice president of the National Life Insurance company of Montpelier, Vt., who is at the West today.

“Minnesota is the western end of an extended trip I have been taking among our agencies,” said Mr. Estes. “This trip has been administrative and has revealed to me highly satisfactory conditions everywhere. There is a distinct improvement in the class of policyholders. Americans are firmly attached to the life insurance principle and have always studied the subject intelligently before investing, but today they are taking a more intelligent interest than ever. Of course, there are a few panics in the people who look with suspicion upon insurance, but they are not of the desirable class.”

“Minnesota is one of our best states. Our business here is of the best quality. Much of our surplus is invested here, and we regard it as well placed. This visit does not mean that there will be any changes in our local management, except that H. G. Murphy will replace the firm of Murphy & Son, dissolved by the recent death of W. H. Murphy, as our chief representative.”

REPLY TO SLATER

Gordon & Dilworth on Food Commissioner's Statement.

Gordon & Dilworth, the New York manufacturers of jellies, preserves and other delicacies, are having a warm dispute with the state dairy and food commissioner, reply by letter to his recent announcement that he had secured them in some new cases against them. They write: “We fancy these are those which we have already referred to in our article, and if so, they can't be new goods as we have shipped none this year, but would not as figures even though they were last year's pack.”
