Why Pabst Malt Is The Perfect Malt

PABST has proven by scientific experiments and sixty years of practical brewing that eight days are required in making malt to bring about those necessary chemical changes by which the perfect predigested malt is produced. In many breweries the old four-day process is still used and the malt is of forced, unnatural development. It lacks in nutrition and is in all ways inferior, much of the vital nutriment of the grain being lost. Beer brewed from Pabst eight-day malt retains in predigested form all of the nutritious life-giving elements of the grain.

It is the exclusive Pabst method of brewing with Pabst eight-day malt that makes Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer superior as a nourishing tonic and a delicious beverage.

Young Mr. Kearney had proposed to Miss Chilton and had been accepted.
"Sweetheart," he whispered, "let it be soon. I don't like long engagements."
"You don't call this a long engagement, do you?" she asked, lifting her sharply head for a moment from his shoulder. "I haven't down my flag and capitulated at once, didn't I?"

PUBLIC LOSES OR WINS BY DECISION

SUPREME COURT HAS TWO IMPORTANT CASES.
Question Whether Auditor Can Collect $10 Fee from Candidates for Office Means Gain or Loss of $3,000—Bridge Approach Paving Affects Many Taxpayers.

Hennepin county has two civil cases in the supreme court that are of more than ordinary importance to the general public and will be far reaching in their effect. Decisions in these cases are expected soon, and the probable action of the supreme court in each action is a topic of general discussion at the courthouse.

Affects Candidates for Office.
One case affects the right of the county auditor to demand a fee of $10 from all candidates filing for the primaries before names are placed on the ticket. W. C. Thompson, a prohibition candidate for the legislature, is making the test for the auditor to pay. Mandamus proceedings were instituted and the case carried to the supreme court at once, arguments being submitted in briefs.
The state primary election law provides for the charge but the prohibition candidates take the stand that inasmuch as certain candidates are allowed to file for nothing, they should be allowed the same privilege. In Hennepin county these filing fees bring in about $3,000 every two years and to a certain extent offset election expenses. If the supreme court finds for the plaintiff the county will be out that much.

Who Pays for Paving?
Property owners are immediately affected by the other case, which it is believed will be reached by the supreme court soon. Smith & Wyman are the defendants, but fifteen other cases of a similar character depend on the decision. The firm objected to paying special assessments for paving approaches to a bridge abutting their property, where the property had already been damaged by the construction of the bridge and approaches. It is contended that where property abutting bridge improvements is damaged the expense of paving the approaches is borne by the city and not by the property owner.

In the lower court the property owners lost their cases. Smith & Wyman made the appeal to the supreme court, and the defendants in the other cases have agreed to stand by the action of the higher court.
A number of other tax cases will come up for the next term of the supreme court. These cases will be watched with interest, as they are appeals from the arbitrary advances ordered for Hennepin county by the 1904 state board of equalization. The cases are brought against the Backus-Brooks Lumber company, C. A. Smith, New England Furniture & Carpet company, Harlow Gale, F. B. Hart, J. O. Pierce and others.

CADETS DRILLING HARD FOR FLAG COMPETITION

JOURNAL CADETS
Tonight, 7:30, Third battalion at parade, under Major Ives, Companies I, K, L and small A; special drill for Company C.
Baseball at 6 p.m.; Company H vs. G.

In spite of the rain there was good attendance last night at the Parade of Companies H and I, Journal cadets, which both showed improvement. Company G, to everybody's surprise, did and both showed improvement. Company C held a special drill at Holy Trinity church to get in shape for tomorrow night's competition drill.
Altho Company D's team was present in full force to meet F, the latter failed to appear, and the game was forfeited to D, which gives that company third place in the league, with a percentage of 75. A team was made up of the staff and Company H players, however, that downed the D boys by a score of 9 to 7.
Tonight the third battalion will drill under Major Ives. The battalion will include Companies I, K and L and small A. The Journal Newsboys' band will be in attendance and there will be dress parade. Tomorrow night the regimental drill will be held, and the competition of companies for the honor of being designated as the flag company of the regiment.

BRIDAL COUPLE PERISH

Cheyenne, Wyo., July 25.—T. A. Renner, a wealthy banker and banker of Meeteetse, Wyo., and his bride, formerly Miss Catherine Woods of Eddyville, Neb., were drowned in a flood caused by a cloudburst in Iron Gulch, near Meeteetse.
They had been spending their honeymoon alone on Renner's ranch and were driving from town to the ranch when their buggy was overturned in a stream.

Stanley B. Strand, 2437 Garfield avenue S., was rescued from drowning in Lake Minnetonka yesterday by Police Sergeant Garvin of the central station. Strand attempted to jump from one moving launch to another and missed. He could not swim and by the time the launches had put about he had gone down twice. Sergeant Garvin, who was one of the party, caught him by the hair and drew him into the boat, just as he was going under for the third time.

YOUNG MAN MISSES DROWNING BY A HAIR

John Dishler, who was released from the city hospital yesterday after being confined there for several weeks, was found begging on Bridge square last evening, and was locked upon a charge of vagrancy.
The man was in a row in a saloon several weeks ago and received an ugly gash in the neck. Tom McCarthy is now awaiting trial in the district court for the offense. No sooner had Dishler been released than he started begging.

STREET PREACHING IS RECOMMENDED

UNION MISSION WORKER DISCUSSES HIS WORK.

Command of Savior to Preach to All People, Speaker Says, Is Commission for All Gospel Efforts—Dr. Dixon Wins Many Friends by Clear and Terse Exposition.

This morning's program of the Northwestern Bible conference at the fair grounds was carried out as previously announced, with the exception of the address of C. M. Stocking of the Union City mission. Mr. Stocking was to have spoken jointly with Rev. E. R. McKinney of the St. Paul mission on "The Mission to the Streets," but he was unable to be present.

Mr. McKinney gave an interesting talk on the subject, calling attention to the many reasons for the churches engaging in street work. The first reason, he said, is that the Bible commands the Christians to do just this class of work. They are to preach the gospel to all the world and the work in the streets will be more fruitful. For this work the church is better equipped than any other organization. The church has the largest membership and can, therefore, reach more of the stragglers in larger cities. This membership also furnishes the best orators and musicians who can make the most of the opportunity offered. The address was unusually interesting to those who were not versed in street work.

Rev. A. C. Dixon in the opening address and spoke on "The Victories of Faith." Rev. C. A. Gaebelein followed with an address, taking for his subject "The Epistle of Philemon." Miss Rasmussen, a graduate of the Northwestern Bible school, gave a strong gospel talk on "The Mission to Minnesota."

Missionaries Speak on Work.

The second failure on the program occurred this afternoon. Rev. C. A. Hilton of the Forest Heights Congregational church, on account of sickness, was not able to present his theme, "The Great Commission." But following Stanley B. Roberts' address on "The Gospel According to Mark," there was a most interesting session addressed by Miss Alice Berthorst, a professional nurse, who has studied the last year in the Northwestern Bible Training school, and who is at present under appointment from the Methodist board to western China. She spoke on her mission to China. Miss Berthorst impressed all who heard her as a young woman admirably adapted to the work. Attractive in personal appearance, with an extremely sunny face, a woman of evident culture and most energetic spirit, her success in the orient would seem certain.

Joseph Kelley followed, speaking on his purpose to go to the Philippines as a missionary. Mr. Kelley was in the late Spanish-American war, and while in the Philippines secured some land claims. By agreement among the great denominational boards of America, missionaries sent out under them cannot own any property in the Philippines, consequently Mr. Kelley goes as a special missionary and is supported by an individual church. He is a young man who has been prominent in athletics in college, and would seem by his hardihood to be well adapted to the climate and work in the Philippines.

The Evening Program.

This evening at 7:30, Rev. C. A. Salquist, who is home from China on a furlough, will speak on "The Cry of the Needy." Following him Dr. Dixon will discuss "God's Search for Man." Tomorrow Dr. Dixon speaks at 9:30 on "The Vision of God and Man." At 10:15 A. C. Gaebelein will speak on "The Attainment of the Foundation Fact;" at 11:30 Rev. J. E. Conant on "Evening, Emphasis on Atonement Truth."

In the afternoon at 3 the conference expects a rare treat in an address on "The Prophet's Vision," to be delivered by Dr. John Campbell of Cambridge, Mass., one of the best known pastors in the vicinity of Boston.

Last Evening's Session.

The storm of yesterday afternoon and evening reduced the attendance, but the crowd was remarkable considering that the storm immediately preceded the opening of each session.
In the afternoon the State Sunday School association was in charge of the program. Six or eight addresses were delivered, each of them being short, crisp and to the point. In the evening Dr. Stanley B. Roberts of the Bethlehem Presbyterian church began his series of lectures on the four gospels, speaking of "The Gospel According to Matthew." He showed it to be a gospel especially intended for the Jews, judged by the characteristics of the Jews. His outline study of it was made the subject of notes by many in attendance.

Following him, Dr. Dixon spoke on "Antecost Men and Now." Dr. Dixon does not believe that the Pentecost of 2,000 years ago was the end of great revivals. He contends that the church now is infinitely stronger than it was then, that its organization is far more nearly perfect; that culture characterizes it, and that even character and reputation are more common among the professed followers of Christ. The only thing lacking, therefore, is a revival that shall far transcend the one recorded in the second chapter of Acts in the reception of the spirit of God, giving God a chance to work.

A Matter of Disposition

The organizers of the American Cigar Company knew what good cigars ought to be—and how to produce them: That's one thing to consider.

They invested millions of dollars to provide the equipment that was required to make cigar manufacturing a modern industry. That's another thing worth noting.

They were united in agreeing that the only way to succeed was to produce only the finest cigars of every blend—to maintain quality without the slightest variation and to keep prices down to the lowest notch that modern business system could make possible. That's disposition—the keynote of the whole business.

Now we have been offering some pretty strong claims for the cigars that are sold under the "Triangle A." We could keep right on publishing the longest and strongest list of claims ever applied to cigars; we could publish them every day in full pages in every newspaper in the country—and we could, no doubt, work up a huge business. But do you think for a minute that the sale of "A" cigars would show the healthy, steady and rapid increase it does show unless "Triangle A" cigars were pretty near what we claim them to be?

Not much! We know well enough that even if we were not disposed to do it we would have to make our cigars back up our claims or somebody else would get the business.

We can't make it any plainer than that. We have built up the biggest and most revolutionary cigar business in the world on the basis of honest value, and already it has proved that it pays.

The American Cigar Company manufactures a large number of brands of different blends to suit individual tastes. Among them you are sure to find a blend to suit you now and another to suit you when your taste changes.

Stillwater Burglars Ran When Owner Called Up "Central."

Special to The Journal.
Stillwater, Minn., July 26.—Burglars attempted to rob the residence of Charles Heitman early this morning, but were frightened away by Heitman yelling over the telephone to the police. When members of the force arrived on the scene not a burglar was in sight.

James G. Nugent, a Wright county convict, sentenced for life for murdering his daughter, has been granted a pension for disabilities incurred in the civil war. Over $800 back pay has been accumulated. Last April the state board of control commuted his sentence to twenty-five years and he expects to live to get out of prison and enjoy his pension money. He is a Grand Army veteran.

ARRESTED AT ALBERT LEA

Special to The Journal.
Mason City, Iowa, July 26.—Two more alleged freight car robbers were caught by Sheriff Holden at Albert Lea last evening and gave the names of "Shorty" Allen and Will Wagner. Allen is known here as a petty offender, while Wagner is said to be one of the safe blowers who blew safes here last winter. They are in jail at Albert Lea, refusing to accompany the officers here without requisition papers.
