5 acres of cucumbers net $940.

Mr. S. L. Kostoryz, who lives five miles south of Corpus Christi, planted five acres of cucumbers in March this year. About the first of May this gave him a crop of 1,037 bushels, from which he realized a net profit of $940. His profit on the one crop was many times the cost of the land. Almost beyond belief, isn't it? But it is a fact, and Mr. Kostoryz will confirm it if you will write him at Corpus Christi. He can also tell you other wonderful facts about the Gulf Coast Country.

Yet this success is not extraordinary in the Gulf Coast Country. It has a mild climate; tender vegetables can be raised almost every month in the year. The farmer there puts his crop on the market in Winter and early Spring, when the price is highest. He insures himself against crop failure by irrigation; rivers or artesian wells give a bountiful supply of water. Two and sometimes three crops a year are raised and 20 acres there will make as much as 50 acres in other places.

Don't you think this is better than a one-crop country where your success depends on uncertain weather with irregular rainfall? Come to the Gulf Coast Country and win success as others have done.

Now the land is cheap and you can get it on easy terms. Twenty acres will cost you about $500. The cost of clearing it is about $5 an acre. The cost of water for irrigation varies. You may want an artesian well of your own; you may get water from some river; or you may get it from your neighbor. But the cost is not great and those who have tried it have netted from the first crop a sum which has paid all expenses, and left a good surplus.

It is not only a good place to make money, but it is also a good place for a home. The sunny mild winters are delightful and the summers are tempered by the cool breeze from the Gulf.

The Winter Vegetable Garden of America TEXAS. We invite you to investigate this proposition. Every first and third Tuesday of each month, we will sell round-trip tickets to any point in the Gulf Coast Country and return, at the following rates: From Chicago, $25.00; From St. Louis, 20.00; From Kansas City, 20.00; From Peoria, 23.00; From St. Paul, 27.50; From Minneapolis, 27.50. These tickets will be good 30 days, and they will permit you to stop over at any point. Let me send you our books describing the wonderful crops produced in this marvelous country. Don't delay, write today.

that the company will finance its western extension abroad. The fact remains that the completion of the road's financial plans and that no announcement affecting them is in the least likely to be made in the near future. The executive committee of the board did not hold its usual meeting this week, notwithstanding the chairman's early departure. This fact indicates that the question of the Milwaukee securities has been conclusively laid over until some future time.

ASKS FOR COMMITTEES

Interstate Commerce Commission Plans for Conference.

Special to the Journal.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—The Central Passenger association, Central Freight association and several other organizations of the railroads have been requested by Chairman Knapp of the interstate commerce commission to name joint committees to confer with the commission over the application of the new rate law. The various associations are considering the request and the committees will be announced within a few days.

REPLACES BURNED TERMINAL

Lackawanna Line Erects Fireproof Station at Hoboken.

One year ago the Lackawanna railroad terminal at Hoboken, N. J., was destroyed by fire. A new edifice, equipped with all modern conveniences, and replacing the temporary structure, is fast nearing completion. The new structure, extending for 600 feet along the water front, will be absolutely fireproof.

The waiting-room will be 100 feet square and 54 feet high, with large windows on all sides. From this will open the women's room, smoking room, lunch and parcel rooms. The restaurant will be on the second floor, overlooking the river. A wide balcony projecting from the restaurant will provide for dining-room outdoors in summer. The train shed will contain fourteen tracks, making rapid train movement possible.

WHO BACKS MIDLAND?

Wise Ones Now Believe Milwaukee Has Designs on It.

Special to the Journal.

Sioux City, Iowa, Aug. 11.—That the "South Dakota Midland" is backed by the Milwaukee railroad, with the intention of connecting the southern lines of that company in South Dakota with the northern lines, is the latest theory of railroad men here in regard to the mysterious enterprise. It is believed that the Milwaukee has long contemplated such a line.

L. R. Gidding of the new company has stated that his road has secured right-of-way for sixty miles. The secretary of state at Pierre and county records at Pierre, Hughes, Aurora, Hand, Douglas, Clay and Union counties all stated they knew of no transfers to the new road. This is construed as meaning the right-of-way, if purchased, has gone to some other company.

Society

The marriage of Miss Sayde Carlson and John Conral Karlsen took place today at high noon in Bethel Lutheran church. Tall palms about the altar completely hid the organ, and white asters shone out against the green in pretty relief. White wedding bells were hung from the arches at the rear of the church and about the altar. Clusters of white asters were tied on the pews outlining the aisle. The ushers were Jack Bates, Thomas McMillan, Ernest Beese and E. C. Prytz. As the bridal party entered the church, John Sether sounded the "Lohengrin" march.

The four bridesmaids entered two by two. Misses Anna and Harriet Lidell wore white Swiss trimmed with Valenciennes lace, and Misses Agnes Herquist and Ella Holt wore gowned in blue. Miss Herquist wearing Japanese silk and Miss Holt wearing blue silk mull. They carried bouquets of pink asters.

Miss Edna Watterman, who was the maid of honor, wore white lingerie lawn, trimmed with baby Irish lace. Her flowers were pale pink asters. The bride entered with her father, John G. Carlson, who gave her in marriage. She wore white silk grenadine over tulle and a chiffon interlining elaborated with pearl trimming and real princess lace fastened with rosebuds, fell to the hem of the train. She wore a necklace of Mississippi pearls, the gift of the groom. William McMillan was best man and Rev. N. B. Thvedt read the service. A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, 1419 Eighth street S. The reception hall was a bower of green and white, arranged with white asters and palms, and gleaming white wedding bells. The receiving rooms were in pink and white. In the dining room here the wedding breakfast was served. The fifty guests, consisting of pink and white roses were on the two large tables, and festoons of smilax fell to their corners from the chandelier.

Mr. and Mrs. Karlsen left this afternoon for the east, going by way of the great lakes. After Sept. 20 they will be at home at 3107 Park avenue. Mrs. George W. Peavey gave a dinner at the Minikahda club last evening, which was particularly notable for its original and beautiful appointments. Miss Kate Harries of Cincinnati, her cousin, and Mrs. E. M. Jackson of Dayton, Ohio, were the guests of honor, and thirty guests had been bidden to meet them. The pretty glass dining room was changed into a French cafe, where quaint advertising cards in French suggested delicious dishes for a menu. Small tables, either wall and covers were laid at each for two. The walls were a tangle of green and clusters of red and pink roses gave a touch of fresh beauty to the scene. The name cards were attached to tiny French dolls. While the menu was served the club orchestra played a program of light melodies, and as a surprise to the guests, a little urchin peddling French papers, furnished each with a sample of foreign literature.

Mrs. August Anderson was hostess at a coffee this afternoon for Mrs. A. N. Lambert and Miss Elvira Berquist, who are the guests of Miss Lillian Swanson. The room bore the mid-summer radiance of garden flowers artistically arranged. Pink predominated in the dining room, where the blossoms, offset with ferns, centered the table. This week the Misses Lillian and Anna Cole of Chicago will come to Minneapolis to be Miss Swanson's guests for two weeks.

Miss Mattie Bradshaw of 1717 Fourth avenue S entertained at a parcel shower Thursday evening in honor of Miss Gertrude McCleod, a bride of near week. The decorations were charmingly carried out in the national colors, complimentary to G. A. R. encampment, and flags and clusters of red, white and blue blossoms were used. Miss Flossie Kastner gave an impromptu program of musical selections, and little James Bradshaw presented the gifts to the bride in a floral basket. In the dining room, where the refreshments were served, flags and bunting in the national colors waved a bright decoration, and a mound of tricolored sweet peas centered the table. The place of Miss McCleod was designated by a cluster of asters tied with white ribbons. Assisting the hostess were Misses Emma Rohan, Hazel Odiorne and Kastner. Covers were laid for ten.

Mrs. Frank J. Mead of Boston, a former resident of Minneapolis, was in the city yesterday, the guest of Mrs. L. N. Anderson, 1812 Nicollet avenue, on her way to Montana. Mrs. Mead is the wife of a former Minneapolis newspaper man, who is now with the Boston Herald. Her daughter is the wife of Ernest Anderson, Mrs. Anderson's son, and her visit was the occasion of a pleasant family reunion.

Imperial Potentate of North America, A. P. Clayton of St. Joseph, Mo., and Mrs. Clayton were honor guests at a dinner given last evening by the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine at the Harriet Pavilion cafe. The table was handsomely appointed in pink and green, and asters and maidenhair ferns were chosen to decorate it. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. John F. Dodge, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Owenshire and Mr. and Mrs. James M. Ellis. After dinner the party attended the Liberatori concert.

J. H. Eshman entertained at a fish dinner last evening on the piazza of the Lake Harriet cafe, in honor of the Liberatori and Signora and Signorita Liberatori. Covers were laid for six, and the decorations were charmingly carried out with mounds of dark-hued pansies set in maidenhair ferns.

The marriage of Miss Clara Meitke to Max Blouston took place Thursday. Rev. Paul Dowdick read the service. Minneapolis arrivals at New York hotels are: Grand A. S. Woolan; Churchill, J. D. Murray; Union Square, F. S. Bates; Grand Union, A. Simmons.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL.

Walter Holsinger has returned to the city after a short absence at Los Angeles.

Minneapolis arrivals at New York hotels are: Grand A. S. Woolan; Churchill, J. D. Murray; Union Square, F. S. Bates; Grand Union, A. Simmons.

Mrs. F. L. McCallan and son Wallace are spending the summer with Mrs. McCallan's parents at the Windermere farm, Farmingdale, N. Y., owned by I. H. Shattuck of the Nicollet home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Symons and daughter, of Stoughton, Wis., and Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Abraham of Appleton, Wis., are visiting H. W. Sassetts at their summer home at Lake Harriet.

THE GENUINE HAS OUR PRIVATE STAMP OVER THE NECK OF THE BOTTLE.

Mrs. H. C. Truesdale was hostess at a charming dancing party given last night at the Lafayette club for her daughter, Miss Helen Truesdale, and her college friends. The affair was one of the largest parties given at the club this summer and was beautifully appointed. The decorations were in yellow and green and the parlors, the ballroom and the piazza were transformed into bowers of oak leaves, with branches of oak overhanging the mantel and the doorways. Clusters of bright yellow poppies and goldenglow added touches of vivid color and accentuated the pretty arrangements. One hundred and fifty invitations were issued. Mrs. R. B. Langdon and Mrs. Cavour S. Langdon assisted Mrs. Truesdale and Miss Truesdale. A buffet supper was served from daintily arranged tables at 11 o'clock.

Miss Kate Harries of Cincinnati and Mrs. E. M. Jackson of Dayton, Ohio. The guests went out to the lake in the afternoon and a handsome dinner will be given for them this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl W. Perkins gave a dinner Tuesday at their Fairview cottage for their guest, Miss Kambach of St. Louis. Covers were laid for eight and the table decoration was a center of waterlilies and ferns.

Mrs. George W. Jenkins entertained at lunch Monday for Mrs. Fred McArthur of Aberdeen, S. D., Mrs. McRae, Misses Belle and Alice McRae of Everett, Wash.

Roy Thompson of Seattle, who is visiting his parents at their summer home at Linwood, entertained at a corn roast last evening for a group of young people who have been spending two weeks in one of the Linwood cottages. There were twelve in the party, and the campfire was built on the beach in front of the cottage.

Twenty guests of the Sampson house, who have been playing informal games of bridge and whist, entertained at a porch party Thursday afternoon at cards.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Meyer at Linwood entertained as their guests over Sunday their father, J. B. Holmes and the Misses Holmes and Miss Pearl Clamper of Chicago.

Russel H. Stafford of Minneapolis has been spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson at Linwood. At the meeting of the school board held this week in the Excelsior town hall, E. L. Newell was re-elected president and Mrs. John Goodnow was appointed treasurer for another term. W. M. McConnell remains treasurer for the ensuing year. School in Excelsior will commence Sept. 10, after the state fair, and in the time intervening several improvements will be completed. The increase in attendance has been such that it will probably necessitate a new room and an additional teacher to the staff.

You safeguard the health of your family when you wash with Fels-Naptha soap, as well as save the clothes, save fuel, save time and save your strength. In England, where sanitation has progressed farthest, Fels-Naptha is as much valued as a purifier as for its relief from the drudgery of wash-day. Fels-Naptha is positive in its action on germ-life. The old-fashioned boiling is uncertain. An epidemic in one of the industrial sections of Pennsylvania was traced to the emptying of a tub in which the bedding of a typhoid patient had been washed. The only boiling that is known to kill many dangerous germs is the boiling done in a vacuum, at a uniform high temperature, maintained for a stipulated period; impossible conditions at home. Fels-Naptha soap—in cold or lukewarm water—sterilizes everything it washes; the Fels-Naptha takes the place of the doubtful boiling as a purifier. Fels-Naptha soap must be used in the Fels-Naptha way. The red and green wrapper, in which it comes, contains the directions which are to be followed. Why Anty Drudge Disapproves of Washboilers. Agent—"Good morning, madam. I've got a new patent washboiler I'd like to sell you. It's really a boiler within a boiler, and arranged to prevent the escape of steam. At a dollar and a half it's dirt cheap, and you can't afford to be without one." Anty Drudge—"Can't, can't I? Let's see: Dollar and a half for your boiler, plus the extra cost for coal to boil the water, plus the time it takes, plus the danger of lifting the clothes from the boiler to the tub, plus the smell of boiled clothes about the house. I buy a five-cent cake of Fels-Naptha soap (used in cold or lukewarm water) and do away with boiling entirely. I save coal, time, bother, danger and smell, together with $1.45. No, I don't want your boiler. Good morning." There is only one Fels-Naptha soap. Be sure you get the genuine.
