Mrs. George A. Rose was hostess at a second afternoon bridge today at her home on Ninth avenue S.E. which she gave in compliment to her sister, Mrs. W. T. Coghlan of Morristown, N. Y. During her visit in Minneapolis two years ago, Mrs. Coghlan met a host of society women, who entertained her with a continuous round of pleasurable affairs, and the guests which Mrs. Rose has been entertaining were those who met the charming visitor during her former visit. Attractive floral appointments distinguished the affair, and masses of blossoms lent their fragrant beauty everywhere. Snowy white lilies were in the parlor and the long-stemmed blossoms were held in tall cut glass vases and brass urns, with asparagus ferns to make a background of green. Yellow was the color chosen in the library and in the reception hall, and the dining room was gay with bright-colored aster, which were in a huge mound in the center of the table. The hours were from 2 to 5 o'clock and twenty-four guests played. After the games dainty refreshments were served.

Miss Caroline Joyce of Groveland avenue entertained an informal college tea this afternoon for her friends, Miss Anne Vinton and Miss Jessie Lines of Wells college. Thirty of the younger women had been invited, in greater number being college girls. In the rooms of the class of the year 1908, of which the honor guests are members, were arranged a program of the Wells flower, the daisy, was seen in the appointments of the dining room.

Miss Genevieve Walston entertained at a Japanese party today at her home on Blaisdell avenue in honor of her guest, Miss Marion Herriek of Hibbing, Minn. The hours were from 10 to 2 o'clock, and fifteen guests had been bidden to meet Miss Herriek. Japanese decorations were used in the rooms, and the favors and appointments suggested the land of the cherry blossom. Contests formed a pastime, and for an hour busy fingers plied the needle. Asters in great clusters, filled the vases and bowls, and the luncheon table had a centerpiece of chrysanthemums. The favors for the guests were small Japanese umbrellas, which were fastened to the Japanese place cards. Miss Letha Chapman of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Miss Ada Davis of Pueblo, Colo., who are the guests of Miss Edna Heyworth Chapman, were among the group of out-of-town college girls present.

The marriage of Miss Ethel G. Palmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Palmer, and Dr. Guy S. Canfield of Hatton, S. D., will be a pretty event of tonight. It will take place at the home of the bride's parents, 2102 Second avenue S. Miss Palmer will have her sister, Miss Alice Palmer, as maid of honor, and M. A. Jordan will be Mr. Canfield's best man. Six young girls will stretch the ribbons, Miss Florence Palmer and Miss Fannie Palmer of Hatton, S. D., Miss Edna Palmer, Miss Fannie Palmer, Miss H. Conkey and Mrs. Harry Weatherax. Misses Jane Walton and Blanche Vincent will preside over the frappe table.

Mrs. S. B. Daniels of Sioux Falls, S. D., was honor guest at a luncheon at Donaldson's tearooms yesterday afternoon, given by Mrs. E. J. Patton of 1400 Spruce place. The large round table in the ivory room was reserved for the party and covers were laid for eight. The centerpiece was a large mound of pink chrysanthemums, Mrs. Sloan of Sioux City, Iowa; S. C. MacCarl of Brookings, S. D.; E. Parsons of Carol, Iowa; G. A. Olette, H. F. Daniels and J. S. Hertog were the guests.

Mrs. A. B. Bancroft of 3614 Stevens avenue entertained at dinner last evening in honor of Mrs. Anderson. Miss Geraldine Anderson and Miss Bessie Corlem of Webster City, Iowa. Covers were placed for twelve and the table was handsomely appointed in yellow, with a centerpiece of golden glow and pretty place cards showing a decorative design in yellow.

Mrs. F. H. Bontell of 3040 Girard avenue, entertained a group of thirty guests at an informal Dutch supper Monday evening.

Mrs. Arthur M. Harris of 3315 Porterland avenue was hostess at a dinner last evening in honor of a group of visiting guests, Mrs. C. Wolfson of Kansas City, Mrs. C. S. Mayer and Miss Hettie Smith of Chicago. Covers were laid for twelve and the table had a handsome setting of sweet peas, white and pink, and the blossoms carried out a dainty decoration in the parlors.

Late summer blossoms made a beautiful setting for the marriage of Miss Apphia Nelson Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Stillman Davis, and Thomas Raymond Cole of Minnesota, Minn., which took place last evening at the family home, 2204 Grand avenue. Rev. Henry Holmes read the service in the presence of a group of thirty-five intimate friends and relatives. Miss Pearl Barnaby presided at the piano and played the "Lohengrin" wedding march as the processional music. "The Evening Star" while the vows were spoken, and the Mendelssohn march as the recessional. In the library where the service was read, gold and silver goldenrod were used, the mantle was banked with large bunches of goldenrod, and the green of palms and ferns made a pleasing background for the mass of blossoms. Nothing from the mantel shelf were clusters of goldenrod, and bouquets were gracefully arranged about the room. Goldenglow was also seen in the parlor and in the hall.

The bride was unattended, and was given in marriage by her father. She was gown in white French mul over silk, the delicate fabric showing a conventional design of embroidery. The bodice was trimmed with creamy valencienais lace, and the train was patterned. The bouquet was of white sweet peas and maidenhair ferns.

Following the service the wedding supper was served. The bridal table was arranged in the diningroom with clusters of pink asters in the center, and pink-shaded candelabra to complete a delicate color scheme. The bride and table covers were laid for twelve and the other guests were served from small tables in the adjoining rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. Cole went at once to their new home in Minnesota, where Mr. Cole is superintendent of the public schools. Mr. and Mrs. Cole were of the Winona high school faculty last year. Mrs. Cole was charge of the domestic science department and Mr. Cole was professor of history. The out-of-town guests include Mrs. E. E. De Yo, Miss De Yo of Eau Claire, Wis., and Mr. Cole's mother, Mrs. Mary Cole, of Fayette, Iowa.

Amid a bower of roses a pretty home wedding was solemnized yesterday afternoon in the apartments of Mrs. L. Clyde, when her niece, Miss Etabelle Clyde, was united in marriage to James G. Raine. Rev. R. N. Adams read the service. The bride wore a gown of white point d'esprit over white silk and held a large bunch of bride roses. The "Lohengrin" wedding march was played before the service by Mrs. F.

E. Dudley, and while the vows were spoken, Schubert's "Serenade" was sounded. Mr. and Mrs. Raine will be at home at the Rappahannock flats after Sept. 15.

Miss Esther Modine and Arthur Blair were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Modine, 805 Queen avenue N., at 10 o'clock yesterday morning by Rev. Curtis Donaghe. Fifty relatives and friends of the family were present.

The bride wore white silk, made in princess style, with trimmings of white lace. Her full veil was held in place by a wreath of roses and smilax and she held a bouquet of white roses. Miss Mabel Modine was the maid of honor and wore white batiste made over silk, with lace trimmings, and Miss Hannah Torelle, also gown in white, was the bridesmaid. Arthur Olson was the best man.

Goldenglow and carnations furnished the setting for the ceremony in the parlor, where the vows were spoken, and in the dining room pink and white sweet peas carried out a dainty color note. Mrs. Charles Modine, assisted by Mrs. L. Torelle and Mrs. A. George, an aunt of the bride, presided at the table.

Mr. and Mrs. Blair have gone on a short wedding tour. They will be at home after Sept. 1 in Southeast Minneapolis.

Among the affairs which were given for the bride was a linen shower, at which Miss Hannah Gorette, 1525 Westway avenue, was hostess. There were fifteen guests and a program of music was a pleasant feature of the evening. Carnations, sweet peas and goldenglow decked the rooms.

Miss Hattie May Roberts and William W. Smedley were married Wednesday evening, Aug. 15, at the home of the bride's mother, near Minnehaha Falls. George W. Roberts, a brother of the bride, was best man and Miss Anna Crimmins was bridesmaid. Little Harriet LaBlanc and Katharine Croxley were flower girls. The house was decorated with the national colors, flowers and vines. Rev. Stanley B. Roberts performed the ceremony. The young couple have gone west for a trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Brockman have issued cards announcing the marriage of their daughter, Ella, to Theodore M. Hanson. The wedding took place Wednesday, Aug. 15.

Dorothy Dodd

Unique Style

Let us assume that your shoes fit you. Now, what next? What is most important? Unquestionably "Style!" Demand that a shoe shall possess "style!" If it has style and little else you want it; if it has not don't want it.

The "Style of a 'Dorothy Dodd'" is unique. It cannot be duplicated by any other maker, because the "Dorothy Dodd" is of a totally different construction from any other ladies' shoe made.

It holds the foot firmly at the waist (that's the in-step), prevents the toes from slipping forward, and thus gives a correct poise in walking.

Yet it makes the foot look nearly a whole size smaller. That's curious, and you won't believe it till you see it.
