

MINNETONKA

BYRON Coolidge gave a dinner last evening at the Lafayette club to the young men in the city who attend Hotchkiss school and the young women of the same school. The Hotchkiss blue predominated in all the appointments. A large bowl of laksur adorned the center of the table and at each of the sixteen covers holding the name cards in place, was a silk Hotchkiss pennant. At the girls' places were white roses and bachelor buttons arranged with maiden hair ferns and tied with blue ribbons while the bachelor buttons were at the men's covers and between each two guests, a white paper in a colonial cut glass candle stick glowed brightly. The name cards were in white with the "H" in blue. The Hotchkiss boys will return to school Sept. 24.
