Beautiful in its appointments was the marriage of Miss Elsie Kruger to Lindsay N. B. Campbell, which took place at high noon today at the future home of the bride and groom, 2623 West Forty-third street. The decorations were carried out in white and green, and clusters of asters, ferns and asparagus vines were used in rich profusion to beautify the rooms. A tank on the snowy white blossoms and palms made the setting for the bridal group and a canopy of feathery vines completed an alceve-like effect. The bride was played by Little Falls read the service and Miss Ida Milly of Fond du Lac played the wedding music.

The bride wore a gown in a dress of white embroidered crepe de chine made over white silk and chiffon and she held a large bouquet of bride's roses. Her maid of honor, Miss Gertrude Sinclair, wore a pretty gown of white French mull, trimmed with German Valenciennes lace, and she carried an arm bouquet of white asters. Robert Freeman of White Bear lake was the best man.

Following the ceremony a bridal dinner was served at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. Downing, 2716 West Forty-fourth street. The dinner followed by a reception. White and green were used to decorate the tables, and asters in delicate tints of pink lavender and white were arranged in a profusion of color in the reception rooms. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell leave this evening on a short wedding tour. They will reappear after Oct. 1 at their home, 2623 West Forty-third street.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell are well known in lodge circles of the state. The bride is the chief temple of Riverside lodge, and the groom is grand secretary of the state I. O. G. T.

A fashionable group of women gathered on the porch of the bride's home club this afternoon, in response to the invitations issued by Mrs. Henry J. Mouton to meet Mrs. R. S. Innes of Augusta, Ga. The hours were from 2 to 5 o'clock and the party was played at 5 o'clock tea was served from a daintily appointed table. Mrs. Frank W. Commons and Mrs. Douglas MacKay assisted Mrs. Innes in the presentation of Minneapolis until the first week in October, when she will return to her southern home.

Mrs. George R. Newell gave a handsome bridge luncheon today at her home on Vine place for Mrs. Frank J. Mackay of London, Eng. Covers at luncheon were laid for Miss and Mrs. Mackay and Mrs. Newell. The table was artistically arranged with large bouquets of pink and white asters. In the reception-room and in the parlors red salvia made a pretty setting. Bridge was played until 2 o'clock. Mrs. Mackay will leave this evening for Reedsburg, Ill., to join Mr. Mackay on a visit with friends.

Miss Phoebe Eckels, who is visiting the Misses Marion and Charlotte Partridge, will be guest of honor at a dinner this evening given by the Misses Schwitz at the Town and Country club. Last evening the ballroom at the Partridge residence was opened for a dancing party, in compliment of Miss Eckels, Miss Charlotte Partridge was the hostess and forty of the younger people danced. Miss Eckels leaves for Chicago this evening after the dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Iverson of New York will be entertained at a box party at the Metropolitan theater tomorrow evening, at which John S. Pillsbury will be the host. Mr. and Mrs. Iverson are Lamb.

Mrs. J. G. Doyle entertained charmingly this afternoon at her home, 2509 Dupont avenue N. in honor of Mrs. H. C. Luettgerolt of Kilmourne, Wis. Twenty guests had been invited to play cards. The hours were from 3 to 5 o'clock. The table was decorated with setting of fragrant fall blossoms, and clusters of goldenrod, red and white flowers filled the vases. Receiving with Mrs. Doyle and Mrs. Luettgerolt was the daughter of the hostess, Miss Doyle. Tonight Mrs. Doyle will give a dinner for the same group of women. The tables will be ornamented with asters in varied colors.

Miss Irene Hawley entertained at her home, 3821 Portland avenue, last evening in honor of Miss Myrtle Graham, who will leave tomorrow evening to make her home in Tacoma, Wash. Music and recitations were arranged into an informal program for the entertainment of the guests. Miss Lou Lewis sang a number of songs, and a program of toasts was proposed in compliment to Miss Graham, to which she responded. Refreshments were served in the prettily appointed dining room. Miss Graham was presented with a beautiful jewel case, and in return gave her photograph to each of the guests. Present were Misses Virginia Suttie, Loye Leander, Miss Goodhue, Sylvia Thielon, Marion Beaverson, Alice Bailey, Hattie Etner, Ella Kingby, Stacia Moore, Myrtle Graham, Misses Hilda and Jennie Cool and Misses Irene and Ruby Hawley.

Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson of Seattle were the honor guests at a reception given last evening by Mr. and Mrs. William Stevenson at their home, 2272 Twenty-seventh avenue S. The decorations were beautifully carried out with flowers of the season and a distinct color note showed in each room. Pink and white were the chosen colors, and a setting of delicate color in the hall, and in the parlor, white and lavender asters and carnations suggested a dainty arrangement. In the dining room pink and white were the chosen colors. A large centerpiece of chrysanthemums stood on the table surrounded by pink and white tapers in crystal holders. Receiving with Messrs. and Mrs. Stevenson were Misses Harriet Robinson, Matilda Haw, Grace King, and Anna Helleson. Mr. and Mrs. Beckjord, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Steele, Miss Florence Wilson and Arthur Wilson of St. Paul, and the Misses Ruth and Hilda Wilson of Chicago, were among the guests. The receiving hours were from 8 to 10 and a string orchestra played as the guests came and went. Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson will return to their home in Seattle this evening.

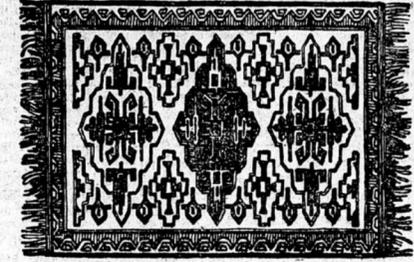

Mrs. Joe Zahner of 3121 University avenue entertained at dinner Monday evening for Mrs. J. B. Starkweather of Coffeyville, Kan., Mrs. Starkweather is visiting her sister, Mrs. William Alderson, but will return to her home in a few days.

Miss Mabel M. Plante and Bruno J. Pelletier were married yesterday at the Church of St. Anne. Rev. D. J. Richard read the service. Mrs. C. H. Dumas presided at the organ and played the bridal music. Willard Tuscany assisted with violin selection and Miss Emma Plante and Miss Rose Pelletier sang.

The bride wore white silk trimmed with Valenciennes lace and her veil was crowned with a wreath of roses. Miss Mary Louise Plante, the maid of honor, was dressed in pink aedonia, and her flowers were pink carnations. Sarah Pelletier was the flower girl. After the service a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Plante, on

GIVES GLAD HAND TO METHODISTS

Senator Dolliver Extends Enthusiastic Welcome to Northwest Iowa Conference.

Special to The Journal. Fort Dodge, Iowa, Sept. 19.—The northwest Iowa conference opened today, when Bishop Earl Cranston administered the sacrament. Within the church were the presiding elders, Robert Smylie, Hugh Hay, O. K. Maynard, D. A. McBurney and John Southwell. Iowa has been under a cloud for several days and the rain has been almost continual. Up to this morning the known dead numbered two. While a score of persons are still missing, it is believed many will be heard from during the day. Two of the sixteen known injured may die.

Searchers with torches worked all night to recover any possible victims that might still be in the submerged cars. Early today the search was renewed here, while for a distance of twenty miles down the stream parties were on the lookout for victims.

River Buries Dead. The Cimarron river is the most treacherous stream in the south. It is a well-known saying in this country that the Cimarron "buries its dead," and for the reason that persons drowned in it usually do not appear for several days afterward, it is possible that the wrecked cars lying on the bodies it is thought to hold.

It was known that several of those who escaped from the wreckage had drifted down with the swift current, some of them having been seen as far as fifteen miles distant from Dover. From one point bodies were reported as floating by, but this was not verified. During the night the river fell almost as fast as it had risen, and early today the work of removing the submerged cars from the stream was begun.

Train Going Fast. The accident was due to the defective condition of the bridge, which was swerved out of line by the pressure of drift wood carried down by the swollen stream.

The train was an hour late and was running at high speed to make up time. The engine driver did not see the condition of the bridge until he was within a few yards, when it was too late to stop. He shouted to the engineer, threw on the air brakes and jumped. He landed on the very verge of the river bank and escaped unhurt. The fireman was less fortunate, and sustained severe injuries.

When the engine struck the bridge the whole structure suddenly collapsed, precipitating the engine, smoker and day coach into the water. The two heavy Pullmans were not pulled in, but remained on the track.

A GREAT TALKER. Philadelphia Ledger. Finnegan—My, but he do love to hear himself talk, don't he? Faith, if he had the habit of talkin' in his sleep he'd set up all night to listen and applaud.

HIS EXPERIENCE. New York Sun. Kinkaid—What is the cheapest way to repair an auto? Bocker—Dynamite it and buy a new one.

PERFECTLY NATURAL GROWTH. Il Diavolo Rosa. Stranger—I see that the cemetery much larger three times here six years ago. Mayor—Oh, yes; that is since we have become a health resort.

SAME OLD THING. Philadelphia Press. "We're using a new shaving soap now," said the barber. "How do you like it?" "I don't notice any difference in the taste."

BLUE RIBBON BEEF

The Witt Market at Powers' Is Selling High-Grade Beef.

One of the most attractive meat departments in the country is to be found in the basement of the Powers store. This department is conducted by C. F. Witt, who, for years, was one of the leading butchers on Nicollet avenue. This great department has its own refrigerator plant, where the temperature is always kept only six degrees above the freezing point. The little pig sausages and hamburger steaks are made in this big refrigerator room, where they never come in contact with the warmer atmosphere and where they are made fresh every day.

One of the big features of the Witt market this week is the selling of "Blue Ribbon" beef. These are two-year-old Hereford cattle, exhibited and Blue Ribbon winners at the recent state fair. They were sold alive to Swift & Co. of South St. Paul, and dressed and delivered to the Witt market at the highest price paid for beef in Minneapolis in two years. This meat department handles this quality of beef regularly and sells great quantities of it every week at the regular prices. The modern sanitary cooling rooms are always open for inspection.

Other splendid departments in connection with this market are vegetables and fruits, and butter and eggs, where the products are kept in close contact with the Witt freezing pipes. A telephone system with private operators connects with the market, and every order is turned over to a particular clerk. There is no better telephone ordering system in the country.

HAS THE WASH AFFECTION? Outing for September. A colony of wash made a nest in the dark room of a studio last summer. At first the party who used the room did not relish their company—but for certain reasons he did not molest them. He paid no attention to the little business, and they came and went at their own sweet will.

After a time he began to study them and soon came to the conclusion that they were gradually becoming acquainted with him, his wife and his dog. One day a stranger came seated on the window sill. The first wash entering the room paid no attention to him, but made for the old creek in the wall. Then out came a big fat fellow who darted through the window like a bullet. Within five minutes half a dozen wasps came with a rush at the stranger and two of them located him. But the writer has never been touched by his wasp colony.
