

FALL OPENING

Wednesday and Thursday

September 26th and 27th

Our Formal Display of Smart New Apparel and Millinery for the Season of 1906-7.

WE OPEN WIDE the door of Dame Fashion's boudoir and submit for your consideration, and, we trust, admiring approval, a comprehensive showing of the very latest fall-winter modes in outer garments and headwear. An ensemble correctly mirroring the almost faultless tastes of the leading American designers and artists. A combination of the practical and serviceable with that of style and gracefulness.

Our second floor is arrayed in its finest fall attire and your presence is desired.

A Season of Picturesque Millinery

THIS IS TO be a period of high class, substantial headwear combining only the very best in material and workmanship. Rich velvets, handsome felt shapes, plumes, ribbons, tasteful ornaments, grapes, and flowers in rich profusion are the distinguishing features. One may wear either the small hat, approaching the tiny, or the extremely large, and consistently feel within fashion's boundary; the small is more acceptable for every day runabout wear, and the large particularly adaptable for dressy occasions. In colors the most popular is taupe or elephant gray in graduated shades,—then there is Bordeaux, brown, Yale blue, Myrtle green, and black.

The Very Fashionable Tailored Garments

DIVERSITY,—that is the keynote in this season's apparel, there being bewildering variety in model, material and trimming. In many respects this is most desirable in that it allows of splendid choosing and the employing of one's own individual taste from whatever viewpoint, be it material, mode, or price. Of course all must embody the deft touches and graceful turns of skilled artists in their makeup, and the garments which now grace our salesfloor are in every way representative of the best and most authentic in the fashion world. Our collection of tailored suits and coats, fur lined garments, waists and furs is complete, in that it embraces every accepted worthy kind.

Be pleased to accept this as a personal invitation to be present and view this assemblage of beautiful garments and millinery.

MINNEAPOLIS DRY GOODS CO.

A display amply sustaining the established prestige of this house and excelling, we believe, even our past meritorious showings.

PRESIDENT PROBES PAY-ROLL SCANDAL

Asks Specific Instances of Alleged "Padding" in Peoria Postoffice.

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 25.—President Roosevelt has been informed of the details of an elaborate system of graft practiced for years in this district, the northern division of Illinois, responsibility for which is charged to the following: William E. Hull, postmaster of Peoria up to March 19. J. V. Graff, congressman from this district. W. A. Northcott, formerly lieutenant governor, now district attorney for this judicial district. The charges are made by County Clerk Lucas Butts, who, in a letter to President Roosevelt, gives facts and specific instances. The letter written by Butts was in reply to a communication from the president demanding details of graft accusations made in a previous letter from Mr. Butts. It brings into the open a scandal involving more than the men actually named, which hitherto has been covered up. Payrolls "Padded." The graft charged involves payrolls "padded" on an elaborate scale, employees forced to "give up" part of their salaries, and the carrying of

BOY STEALS BOMB LOADED FOR SCHIFF

Little Negro, Tempted by Deadly Box, Brings About Investigation.

Philadelphia, Sept. 25.—For the second time in four months Jacob Schiff, head of the great New York banking firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., has escaped being blown to bits by an infernal machine. From the necessity of the attempts made against Mr. Schiff the postal authorities and the secret service agents believe that Russian nihilists have sworn to take his life, because he floated the immense Russian loan at the time of the Russo-Japanese war. The machine was picked up near a mail box at Germantown and Sunset avenues. It is directed to Jacob Schiff, main floor, Stock Exchange, New York, and contained enough gunpowder to have wrecked the building if the thing had been opened without first having been soaked. Suspect Nihilists. Evidently the nihilists intended to make Mr. Schiff think that he was getting a Jewish New Year present, and he might well have thought that, for his firm is the representative of all the big Jewish moneyed interests in America, and the parcel was very tempting in appearance. Being too bulky to go into the mailbox, it had been left on the corner of a vacant lot where packages are frequently left. David Campbell, a little negro boy, saw a tall man who looked to be a foreigner, lay the parcel down and walk away. The package looked tempting to the little negro, who took it home to his mother. She loosened the outer wrapping and noticed powder between the heavy brown paper on the outside and the pretty tissue paper within. She had heard of infernal machines and she did not like powder, so she gave the package to their postman when he came around. Powerful Explosive. The postman dropped the dangerous engine into his bag and carried it with him on his rounds for an hour and a half. Then he turned it into the Chestnut street postoffice, with an explanatory note. J. C. Knight, the superintendent, promptly ducked the machine into a bucket of water and after letting it soak for three hours took it to the central office. Within was found eight ounces of powder and gun cotton, one of the most powerful explosives known; three paper cartridges of powder containing six .44-caliber bullets and a dozen smaller bullets. The lid was connected by a small cord with a contrivance holding a bunch of matches and sandpaper. The paper was so arranged that when the box was opened, the matches would ignite and explode the engine.

15 BLOWN TO ATOMS BY POWERFUL BLAST

Journal Special Service.

Jellico, Tenn., Sept. 25.—The full number of persons killed in last Friday's explosion never may be known according to testimony at the coroner's inquest. Fifteen men standing near the ear of dynamite which exploded are all supposed to have been blown to atoms. No traces of their bodies have been found. A mother reported allowing her five children to come to Jellico Friday to attend a circus. None of them returned, and it is thought they are among the explosion victims. At Jellico, Ky., the coroner's jury today blames the explosion to criminal negligence on the part of the Louisville & Nashville or Southern railways. LeSueur, Minn., Sept. 25.—LeSueur is crowded today with visitors and delegates to the convention of St. Joseph's Catholic Benevolent association. Dunn.—Arnold Anderson, a 10-year-old boy, while playing with a dart, was struck in the eye and lost the sight of the eye permanently.

OLD SOLDIERS DUPES IN LAND FRAUD SCHEME

Chicago, Sept. 25.—Patrick J. King, more familiarly known as "Patsy" King, the one-time "policy king" of Chicago, has been arrested on a charge involving a new line of activity. He is alleged to be the real head of a Chicago company which, Uncle Sam charges, has perpetrated extensive frauds in government lands in Nebraska.

Feeble old soldiers, between 60 and 70 years old, are said to have journeyed to the western state as dupes of King for the purpose of obtaining title to homesteads which afterwards were to be disposed of to other persons at good profits. The company, known as the Chicago Ranch company, has swindled a good many persons out of thousands of dollars, it is said. King, who was charged with violating the government homestead law, subordination of perjury being the specific complaint, was released by United States Commissioner Mark A. Foote until Oct. 4, on giving a bond of $2,500. Other arrests probably will follow. BIG DEAL AT HUFFTUN Vickers' General Merchandise Store Sold to Harry E. Benson. HUFFTUN, S. D.—The large general merchandise store of Frank Vickers has been sold to Harry E. Benson, who intends to make many modern improvements so that, when thoroughly finished, it will be one of the most up-to-date establishments in the state.

Two years ago I was taken with a pain in my stomach, my food did not digest and I was in constant pain at my work. I went to a doctor, got some medicine, but of no avail. I got discouraged going home to my dinner. One day I met a man. I told him how I felt, that if I did not get a speedy relief I would have to stop work. He says: 'Why don't you try Duffy's Malt Whiskey?' I went that night, got a bottle. It cost $1.00. I took it according to directions. I had about 1/2 taken when I began to feel better. I got the second bottle and on till I had taken four bottles and felt like a morning star. I will recommend it to the world. There is a neighbor woman I was talking with Saturday night. She has trouble with her stomach. I told her to get this medicine. She would take her of all her troubles.—L. F. Miller, 62 Broadway." March 24, '06.

MICHIGAN 'U' EXPECTS ENROLLMENT OF 5,000

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 25.—The University of Michigan began its sixty-ninth year today. The registration is heavy enough to insure the institution a total enrollment of 5,000 for the year according to conservative estimates. There are few changes in the faculty of the university. Professor Robert M. Wenley of the philosophy department has returned from a year's study in Scotland and Professor Fred M. Scott of the English department has left for a year's travel and study in Europe. Professor Henry Adams, head of the department of political economy, soon will leave to take up his two years' work for the interstate commerce commission in Washington.
