FRATS ARE CONDEMNED

STATE BAPTISTS SEE NO GOOD IN SCHOOL FRATERNITIES BUT PRAISE FOOTBALL.

Education was the general topic at the evening session of the Baptist state convention yesterday in St. Paul. Football was indorsed and secret societies were condemned.

"Good education means getting 100 per cent of efficiency out of the individual," said Professor Nathaniel Butler, head of the department of pedagogy, University of Chicago. "Take the center on the football team, for instance. He is a specialist in his position, he also knows the game as a whole, and if he is to retain his place on the team he must have 100 per cent of efficiency. He must also be alert, alive and intelligent both mentally and physically or else he is not wanted in the game. Furthermore, he must be able to play the game in an honest, clean, gentlemanly manner if he is to hold a position of respect among his fellow athletes. Athletics make a better manhood. The strong body is essential in the development of the strong mind. Athletics are conducive to high morals and a high degree of scholarship."

"The secret societies in our high schools are one of the bad features of our public educational system," said Dr. A. T. Fowler, and his remarks were interrupted with vociferous applause. "I wish the school boards had the backbone to rule them out of existence."

The report of W. R. Kinyon, treasurer of Pillsbury academy, was approved by the convention. Besides the real property of the school, valued at $200,000, the endowment fund amounts to $266,650.

At the afternoon session yesterday the time was devoted to the discussion of church finances. The speakers strongly urged better support financially by members of the various congregations.

J. A. Ridgeway, state treasurer of the association, read his annual report. It showed a balance on hand of $1,414, but without considering an outstanding note of $5,000, which really leaves the convention with a deficit to make good. The expenditures for the year amounted to $16,800, with total receipts of $17,131.

Uriah Borabeck spoke on "How to Enlarge Our Resources." He stated the past year's contributions to the convention only amounted to 43 cents per capita. This meant, he said, that hundreds had not paid a cent while a few had borne the whole burden. He urged more generous contributions.

Rev. W. B. Riley gave a stirring address on "The Aim of a Church."

Rev. C. A. Salquist of China spoke encouragingly of the work accomplished in his field. The committee on nominations of trustees and visitors for the Pillsbury academy made the following recommendations:

Trustees--Uriah Borabeck, Minneapolis; Frank C. Nickels, Minneapolis; S. C. Briggs, West Concord; Charles Jeffs, Owatonna; C. D. Fosnes, Montevideo; L. C. Woodmont, Owatonna.

Visitors--Rev. F. M. Martinson, Mankato; Z. D. Scott, Duluth; K. W. Jones, Minneapolis.

The committee on nominations of directors of the Minneapolis Baptist Educational society recommended the following directors: Rev. G. F. Holt, D.D., Minneapolis; Rev. F. R. Leach, Anoka, and E. M. Van Duzee, St. Paul.

The recommendations of both committees were adopted.

PROPERTY OWNERS CAN SUE

Dismissal of Solem Case Has no Bearing on Bassett Creek Sufferers.

Owners of property damaged in the overflow of Bassett creek who are using the city to recover damages will be given an opportunity to maintain their actions, notwithstanding the recent dismissal of the damage suit of Johanna Solem against the city. The Solem case was dismissed on grounds which had no necessary bearing on other similar cases and the printed statement that the other suits would be dismissed as they came up for trial was erroneous.

The Great Difference In Life Insurance Companies

is not revealed by their names nor their claims. The day before the San Francisco disaster, all Fire Insurance Companies seemed alike to the thoughtless; there was a great difference nevertheless, and when the test came, some defaulted, while others drew on the reserve funds which they had ready for such a contingency, paid the large amounts due, and went right on.

It is because for years the money it has received from its policyholders has been invested with unusual skill and care—always safe, always growing, always ready for the hour of need—that is the strongest and staunchest Life Insurance Company in the world. Read these figures as to the Mutual reserve. At the close of 1905, the Mortgage Loans amounted to $169,771,163.16, on which more than four and one-half millions have been received in interest during the year, and less than fifteen thousand dollars of interest was overdue at its close. Most of this trifling amount was paid in within a few days. The sum of $28,198,278.84 was loaned on the Company's policies, and $18,195,000.00 was loaned on other collateral, no interest whatever being overdue on either item. Bonds and Stocks costing $239,996,702.95 and having a market value on December 31, 1905, of $265,301,867.38 were held by the Company, and on this enormous amount not one dollar of interest was overdue and unpaid, and but one stock failed to pay a good dividend in 1905, this stock being that of a new company, subsequently sold at a profit over cost. When it is borne in mind that no such aggregation of purely investment securities has ever been brought together elsewhere, the absolutely clean and indeed perfect quality of these immense investments excites praise and wonder, felt and expressed most strongly by those who know most as financiers of the dangers and pitfalls attending the care of large investments. This remarkable showing also appeals to the plain people whose money comes slowly, who value safety and who understand that security like the above makes "insurance" insurance indeed.
