Our Semi-Annual Sale of Haskell's Black Silks

Tuesday and Wednesday selected for this selling event

HASKELL'S BLACK SILKS—What stylishly appareled woman has not heard of them? Who among the many thousands of well dressed femininity has not worn them? These superior fabrics have a reputation for being—and indeed are indisputably—the finest product of the loom. Naturally these conditions lead to but one ultimate result, a constant and increasing demand, and although exaggerated prices are generally the rule where such "style, quality, worth" points are in evidence, the reverse is true in this case for

Haskell silks are of the finest quality procurable, yet they are sold at prices which are, all things considered, extremely moderate

These listed numbers and the prices applying give ample evidence of our intention to present during this sale values of the unusual sort—price-saving advantages.

SPANKED GIRL PUPILS; THEN FINED AND FIRED

Special to The Journal. Oelwein, Iowa, Oct. 15.—Because, it is alleged, he spanked some of his female pupils, Orson A. Adams, 24 years old, who has been teaching in a district school north of here, was arraigned before Judge E. L. Elliott of the supreme court here, on a charge of assault. Adams at first refused to plead to the charge, but later entered a plea of guilty. He was given the alternative of paying a fine of $75 and costs and continuing in his position or of paying $50 and costs and resigning. It is said that he will accept the latter proposition. For some time complaints have been heard in the district and finally an investigation was made by parents of children attending the school. This developed the fact that the young man had been indiscreet in his conduct towards the female pupils.

In some of the English towns striking a match on a lamp-post means a fine if a policeman sees you.

ELEPHANT CULTURE STARTS

First Subjects Arrive for Texas Ranch Experiment. Journal Special Service. Valentine, Texas, Oct. 15.—The first shipment of elephants which are to stock a large elephant ranch established near here by J. P. Adams and associates of New York, arrived yesterday. There are five elephants in the first shipment. Other shipments will be received in a few weeks until the ranch is stocked. It is said to be the first experiment of breeding elephants on a large scale in this country.

FAMILY OF 5 SLAIN IN CROP DISPUTE

Missourian Kills Farmer, His Wife and Three Young Children. Journal Special Service. Springfield, Mo., Oct. 15.—Details of the most shocking crime in the annals of the Ozark country have come to light with the arrest at Houston, Texas county, of Jodie Hamilton, a farmer, who on Friday murdered in cold blood a neighbor named Barney Parsons, his wife and their three children, aged 1, 4 and 11 years. The quintuple tragedy occurred in a sparsely settled country and resulted from the sale of the crops on Parsons' farm. Parsons and his family started overland for the northern part of the state. They were met by Hamilton. A quarrel ensued and Hamilton fired the contents of both barrels of a shotgun into the body of his adversary, killing him instantly. The enraged farmer then felled Mrs. Parsons with a blow from the butt of his gun, crushing her skull. He then dragged her from the wagon and clubbed her to death in the road. Then the fiend clubbed the life out of the three helpless children.

$1,250,000 SHORTAGE

Manager McGill of Ontario Bank Admits Speculation. Toronto, Ont., Oct. 15.—General Manager McGill of the wrecked Ontario bank admits a shortage of $1,250,000. Bankers in estimating the probability of their guarantee's being enforced place the loss thru McGill's speculations at $500,000 more. McGill also admitted that these speculations were carried on without the directors' knowledge, but he declares for the ultimate good of the bank.

A dispatch says that the manager's operations ran the gamut of some of the most speculative stocks on the New York market and were even carried into the wheat pit in Chicago.

By the Author of The Prize to the Hardy A Splendid Story of Life in the Great Northwest A NEW NOVEL By ALICE AMES WINTER of MINNEAPOLIS

What will happen when the buoyant, high-spirited and keen-witted American young man of family awakes and realizes that he is tied for life to a mere piece of beautiful flesh? Will he meet the trial, maintain his high ideals, or lose courage and degenerate? And what will become of the lovely girl, who, though nurtured in a garden, remains a weed?

JEWEL WEED

These are the questions Mrs. Winter answers in her second story of life in "St. Etienne," great city of the Great Northwest. She answers them, of course, in her own original way, so clever, so cheerful, so vital and so distinguished.

Jewel Weed is a gem among novels and a flower in the garden of fiction.

TO APOLOGIZE TO CROKER

London Magazine Will Say It Is Sorry It Printed Story. Journal Special Service. Dublin, Oct. 15.—It is learned tonight that the libel suit which Richard Croker brought against a London magazine will be settled on Wednesday in the Four Courts in this city. The proprietors of the magazine informed Croker's lawyers that their attorneys would appear in court on that day to make full and ample apology for the libelous statements and to express their regrets for the publication. Mr. Croker has agreed to accept the apology and not to take further proceedings.

Handsome Is as Handsome Does.

Abraham Lincoln was perhaps the homeliest man of his times. But when his countrymen discovered his great heart and brain they loved him, homeliness and all. The automobile which you expect to carry a big load in fast time across the continent must be and look vastly different from the one in which the ladies make afternoon calls, and by the same token it is not the society beauties but their less showy and altogether more companionable sisters who mother real men.

Ridgway's aims at service, not beauty. Its army is on the firing line and not on dress parade. A soiled uniform and a stubby beard inevitably follow forced marches. Ridgway's deliberately sacrifices appearance to speed. It is edited by telegraph and printed on newspaper presses. It takes four days to make a form ready on a magazine press. About four minutes—minutes, mind you—on a newspaper press. Ridgway's is printed from soft lead. Everybody's from sharp copper. Ridgway's is bound to look like the "Old Scratch." We make the sacrifice deliberately and cheerfully.

Now why? The answer is short. To save time and to save money. A magazine press takes four days to make ready and turns out eight thousand in ten hours; a newspaper press takes four minutes to make ready and turns out eighteen thousand an hour. The live matter is timelier-by six days because it is run on a newspaper press. The saving of time is not so great in cities where the editions are smaller. There is a saving of money in the swift newspaper presses over the slow magazine presses. We are obliged to save money in order to afford the enormous expense entailed by maintaining special staffs in all cities and by the extraordinary expenses of editing by telegraph. But we hope and believe that when we get into our stride you will be glad to make cheerful allowance for our typographical imperfections for the sake of the timeliness and vitality of what we shall be able to give you.

We trust you will not be overcritical of the contents of these early numbers. On page 47 of the October 13th issue you will find some of our experiences reviewed. Fourteen carloads of paper to fourteen cities; a big staff recruited; fourteen offices to equip; fourteen sets of matrices to get through by express; fourteen cities bringing out fourteen separate editions—and the whole accomplished in a little less than six weeks. Something of an achievement; "if we do say it as shouldn't." Why didn't we take longer to get ready? We appeal to your experience. The only way to learn to drive a motorcar or to ride a bicycle is to get out in the middle of the road and get on. It beats shop talk a mile.
