NO DAWDLING

A Man of 70 After Finding Coffee Hurt Him, Stopped Short.

When a man has lived to be 70 years old with a 40-year-old habit grown to him like a knot on a tree, chances are he'll stick to the habit till he dies. But occasionally the spirit of youth and determination remains in some men to the last day of their lives. When such men do find any habit of life has been doing them harm, they surprise the Oseberites by a degree of will power that is supposed to belong to men under 40 only.

"I had been a user of coffee until three years ago—a period of 40 years—and am now," writes a N. Dak. man, "I was extremely nervous and debilitated, and saw plainly that I must make a change.

"I am thankful to say I had the nerve to quit coffee at once and take on Postum without any dawdling, and experienced no ill effects. On the contrary, I commenced to gain, losing my nervousness within two months, also gaining strength and health otherwise." "For a man of my age, I am very well and hearty. I sometimes meet persons who have not made their Postum right and don't like it. But I tell them to hold it long enough, and call their attention to my looks now, and before I used it, that seems convincing.

"Now, when I have writing to do, or long columns of figures to cast up, I feel equal to it and can get through my work without the fagged-out feeling of old." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the book, "The Road to Wellville," in 100 pages. "There's a reason."

WANT TO WED, BUT BARRED IN DAKOTA

Elmira, N. Y., Couple Seek a State Where Their Union Can Be Speedily Solemnized.

Special to The Journal.

Grand Forks, N. D., Oct. 17.—When John C. Barker, a prominent resident of Elmira, N. Y., made application to County Judge Hassell for a marriage license to wed Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis, he did not know that in North Dakota there is a law forbidding the marriage of divorced persons until six months has elapsed from the date of divorce. Mrs. Lewis was divorced in this city Oct. 8, a week before application was made for a license, and Mr. Barker, who had traveled all the way from New York state, was informed that license could not issue.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis, accompanied by a daughter, aged 13 years, came to Grand Forks from Elmira, N. Y., over a year ago, and very recently started an action for divorce from David T. Lewis, on the grounds of desertion and failure to provide. The decree was granted Oct. 8 last, there being no appearance on the part of the husband, and a few days ago Mr. Barker put in an application, and arrangements were made for a wedding. But owing to the statute the marriage will be postponed until a more friendly state is reached—and it is not unlikely that Wisconsin will be selected, as that is the nearest point at which the law is not particular as to the time of divorce or of a second marriage.

ELWOOD TELLS OF THAT TONKA TRIP

Explains Just How the Junket Was Arranged.

He Says St. Paul Had Entertained the State Equalizers and Local Business Men Had Suggested that Minneapolis Should Do the Same—An Annual Custom.

As a result of the comment upon the recent excursion of the state board of equalization to Minnetonka, Lester B. Elwood, Minneapolis member of the board, who was the host upon that occasion, has written a letter to Thomas Lowry giving all the details of the affair. This letter was given out for publication today as an answer to pointed allusions to the junket which have been appearing in some of the state papers. It is as follows:

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 13, 1906.—Thomas Lowry, Esq., Minneapolis, Minn.: Dear Sir: I notice a published statement that your company gave the state board of equalization a "jolly" at Lake Minnetonka.

The facts of the entertainment given the board are as follows: Last year, when I accepted the position on the state board, I was called upon by S. A. Harris and W. L. Harris and requested to give the members of the board some little entertainment, the same as has been done for years by St. Paul. I told both these gentlemen that I would do so with this understanding, that the funds for this entertainment, after deducting my fees, should be raised by them, not from any individual or any one interest, but from the business men of the city, and that I did not wish to know from whom these funds came. This was done. The entertainment which I gave the board last year was a trip to Minnetonka over the Great Northern road, and a boat ride on the lake with a chartered boat, and a dinner at the Lafayette club. I paid the Great Northern for a car and special engine. I think $85, and about $25 for the boat, the transportation costing me $20. I rendered an accounting to S. A. Harris, deducting my fees of some $100, and he deposited to my credit the balance of the expenses, which were something over $200.

This year I was requested by the business men to do the same thing, that is, to offer the board some little entertainment. The members of the board, seen in number, come from every judicial district in the state. They are guests of the twin cities for about five weeks, and it would be impracticable to entertain them as their hosts during that time, did not offer them some little courtesy in the way of an entertainment. This year Mr. Hardenbergh, the St. Paul member, and myself agreed on this form of entertainment. He was to give them a dinner at the Minnesota club, which he did, at an expense I think of about $400, which expense was met by the jobbers of St. Paul; and I gave them a picnic at Minnetonka.

I chartered a car and a boat of your company at an expense something less than what the special train and boat cost me last year, and much more convenient and enjoyable. I engaged the car and boat of Mr. Warnock and paid him for same as soon as the bill was rendered, or rather within a day or two after his bill was rendered, as his first bill contained an overcharge, which was corrected, and I paid the corrected bill, which I think was for $282.50.

Expected to Close Tuesday.

I invited the board to take this trip and left to them the matter of what should be made. The public service corporations were cited for Tuesday of last week, which was to be the last day of our duties, as we intended to finish up the session with the board on Tuesday. The reports on Tuesday night. Tuesday morning, however, Judge Jamison, representing the General Electric company, requested us to hold the board over until Thursday morning, which the board consented to do, altho they had already made their plans to go to the lake Wednesday, the following day. We carried out our original plan, and the board, in the Capitol Thursday morning, finished up the assessments of the public service corporations, signed the reports and adjourned, the session being adjourned on the 15th of the past ten years.

I explained to the board when I took them on this trip that the expenses of the entertainment were met entirely by myself and partly by the business men of Minneapolis, who wished to offer them this little entertainment as a simple matter of courtesy, not to the board of equalization, but to the board of equalizers, bankers and farmers from eighteen judicial districts of the state, the same as we offer entertainment to the G. A. and similar bodies in Minneapolis. The street railway company had nothing whatever to do with the entertainment, and unless they got some information from Mr. Warnock, none of the members of the company had any knowledge of the trip and would not have had, had it not been for newspaper comments thereon. When I engaged the car and boat Mr. Goodrich, the French Lick and you were at Monticello.

Where the Money Came from.

The expenses of this trip and some other courtesies which I extended to the members of the board, exceeded my fees by something over $100. This latter sum was raised by Frank H. Carlston, I do not know from whom, but I regard it as a contribution to the Pillsbury-Washburn Milling company; T. B. Jamney, George Partridge, and possibly a few others. I rendered Mr. Carlston a statement of the expenses, deducting $15, the fees received by me, and he turned over to me the excess of the expenses, as above.

The street railway company received their pay for the chartered car and chartered boat at regular rates, and as above, beyond that, had nothing whatever to do with the "jolly." I do not know as you care for this long-drawn-out explanation, but I thought while it was fresh in my mind I would make a record of it.

Speaking further of the comments in the publication referred to, you will notice that Mr. Barker was in an entirely different attitude toward the "junket" than I am. He is a man who attacks successful business men like J. J. Hill, and then in the next breath turns itself into a muckraker of the worst sort. With kind regards to your family, I am, Sir, very sincerely yours, L. B. Elwood.

WARRANT FOR "SHERBIE"

Boy Mayor of Milwaukee Charged with Exceeding Speed Limits.

Special to The Journal. Milwaukee, Oct. 17.—Milwaukee's youthful and active mayor, Sherburn M. Becker, had a narrow escape from being legally detained in Racine yesterday, and thereby being prevented from meeting and taking part in the demonstration in honor of Sir Thomas Lipton. Several weeks ago the mayor ran his machine thru the terribly inclining town at what was said to be much over the ordinance rate of speed. This resulted in the getting out of a warrant for his arrest. Three efforts to arrest Becker yesterday failed.

LEAGUE FAVORS JONES

ANTI-SALOON ORGANIZATION EXPLAINS WHY IT FAVORS MAYOR AND OPPOSES HAYNES.

The Minnesota Anti-Saloon league has issued a statement correcting impressions entertained in certain quarters as to the attitude of the league in the mayoralty campaign. The league favors the re-election of Mayor Jones, not because he is a republican, but because he is enforcing the law now, and has promised to keep on enforcing it. The league bases its support of the mayor on what he has done, and on the other hand, its opposition to J. C. Haynes is based on what he did not do when he was mayor. The league statement of the case follows:

We desire to correct certain impressions which may arise from the reading of what the Tribune reports as to the attitude of the Minnesota Anti-Saloon league in the pending election for mayor. As between Mayor Jones, the republican candidate for mayor, and Mr. Haynes, the democratic candidate for the same office, the Anti-Saloon league is neutral; but as between Mayor Jones, the exponent of clean government and law enforcement, and a government which shall conserve the moral interests of the city, and, therefore, the business interests as well, and Mr. Haynes, as the man opposing him, the league is in no wise neutral. The league is non-partisan and cares nothing whatsoever for the party affiliations of either candidate.

The league recognizes that the present issue is still on, between law enforcement and clean government on the one hand, and those disorderly elements in society who want more license than the law allows, on the other hand, and in view of that fact, the league is not neutral. It holds that this issue is not settled by the tardy pledge of Mr. Haynes to carry out the policy of Mr. Jones. If there is no intention or desire to change the policy of Mayor Jones, what can be the reason for supporting an opposing candidate?

Therefore the league stands back of Mayor Jones to a man. It promises him every ounce of influence it can, by all legitimate ways, wide. We are supporting Mayor Jones, heart and hand, with our arms and tongue and pen and prayer. Any claim to the contrary is an injustice, both to the Anti-Saloon league and to Mayor Jones. —Henry Holmes, President Headquarters Committee. —C. M. Heard, Secretary Headquarters Committee. —N. O. Palmer, State Superintendent.

GERMS AND DUST

LAI'D BY PEROLIN

GERMAN CHEMIST'S DISCOVERY HAS TWOFOLD MISSION.

Invaluable as a Cleanser, It Disinfects as It Removes Dirt—Now Widely Used.

Since the germ theory has been so universally accepted, dust has been regarded as the greatest disseminator of disease and the worst enemy of mankind.

In the war against tuberculosis, every scientist acknowledges that dust and dirt, laden with germs, are the main causes of the dread malady which wounds its victims by the thousands every day. It is now generally believed that this has been an unnecessary slaughter.

Pasteur, the great French scientist, declared that all parasitic diseases can be abolished. To this declaration the scientists agree and they believe that could some chemical be discovered to destroy these germs in the dust, continually floating about, with the other causes of disease, the war against intelligent public is now taking, these germ diseases might be almost entirely eliminated within a few years.

A German Chemist's Discovery.

The honor of discovering such a chemical is due to a German chemist who, after years of experimenting, has at last found a preparation which has proved one of the great medical discoveries of the age.

Perolin is the name given this new preparation, which promises to play such an important part in the war against disease.

The use of the preparation has passed beyond the experimental stage and for several years it has demonstrated its work in Germany, England and other European countries.

In Germany, especially, Perolin has taken a strong hold and its use is now compulsory in all the public buildings and public schools, for sweeping and cleaning purposes.

To prove the merits of Perolin, a short time ago the mayor of Paris gave a banquet to the French mayors generally at which something like 3,000 persons sat down, and during which the halls were swept quietly without the slightest dust discomfort to the guests.

Dr. Gugeliehmuth, president of the league against dust, and founder of the French league against tuberculosis, suggested that Perolin be used in all the public schools and public buildings in New York, Boston, Chicago and St. Louis, use it daily.

Perolin absorbs, not lays the dust, and it absorbs all the germs with it. The German authorities also claim it is the best germicide as well as a natural product derived by a secret process from pine needles. It protects against infectious disease, and as an instance of its worth in private use, it disinfects, while cleaning. Placed on a soiled hardwood floor, and the floor brushed thoroughly, the results will be a bright, new wholesome appearance, which no amount of sawdust can produce. Worked on dirty carpets and rugs it has the same restorative effect.

The preparation is also of especial value to the manufacturer and merchant as it can be used to protect merchandise which would otherwise become dust soiled.

Naturally a preparation so valuable as Perolin, has many imitators, but they are all crude preparations and in no way are they to be considered with the original. The interest the American sanitary authorities are showing in the wonderful preparation indicate that its use will become general in this country, and its mission of destroying disease become widespread.

Frazer is under arrest on the charge of murder. Mrs. Boggs was a bystander who was purchasing supplies when the shooting occurred.

Donley and Frazer renewed an old quarrel when they met on the porch of the store and Donley, it is said, dared Frazer to step out. Frazer refused, whereupon, it is said, Donley made a grab for him and Frazer ran into the store. Donley then struck Frazer, who opened fire.

The third bullet pierced Donley's heart, causing instant death, and another wounded Mrs. Boggs in the thigh. Both men are married and Donley leaves three children. Frazer claims to have shot in self defense.
