A HANDY JEWEL CASE

JEWEL CASE.

Mrs. Archie Dean Walker gave her second post-nuptial at home this afternoon at the Hudson residence, 1776 Colfax avenue S. Receiving Mrs. Walker were Mrs. J. B. Hudson, Mrs. Walter G. Hudson, the Misses Margaret Welles, Agnes Haynes, Marguerite Gray and Mary Dunwoody. In the parlors white and roses were decorations, red roses were in the den and living room, and the dining room was in pink, with roses and pink shaded lights. Mr. and Mrs. Walker will receive this evening, assisted by Mrs. Arthur A. Law, Walter G. Hudson and Miss Agnes Haynes.

Mrs. W. L. Wolford has issued invitations for a luncheon to be given Saturday at her home, 76 Teuth street S.

Hal P. Watson gave a box party at the Orpheum theater last evening. His guests were Messrs. and Mrs. Charles S. Pillsbury, Frank T. Heffelfinger and James F. Bell.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Brooks gave a box party at the Orpheum theater Tuesday evening when they entertained eight guests.

The marriage of Miss Gladys Emyrtrude Macdonald, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Macdonald, and Joseph Smith Van Camp of St. Thomas, N. D., took place this evening at the Macdonald home, 2123 Bryant avenue S. Only the immediate friends of the family and the relatives were present at the service, which was read by Rev. J. P. Van Camp of Pipestone, a brother of the bridegroom, and an archway of palms and bridal roses. Miss Helen Halowell sang "When Song Is Sweet" and "O, Promise Me." Miss Mabel Allen, a cousin of the bride, played the "Lohengrin" chorale as a professional. Miss Macdonald entered alone. She wore white crepe de chine over chiffon taffeta with garniture of real Cluny lace, and held a white prayer book. Miss Ida Knoblauch played the Mendelssohn wedding march as Mr. and Mrs. Van Camp received the congratulations of their friends. After the service a supper was served in the dining room, which was decorated in red, with autumn leaves and roses. Smilax and maidenhair ferns and white rosebuds made a setting of green and white. The bride wore a white and white gown with a white ribbon and white roses. Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Van Camp of Pipestone, Miss Edith Van Camp, Fred Van Camp of St. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Barnard, Edith, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Murphy and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Richardson of St. Paul. Mr. and Mrs. Van Camp left in the evening for the east. They will reside in St. Thomas, N. D., and will be at home after Nov. 15.

At the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gilmore Anderson, near Hutchinson, Minn., a wedding was held for the bride to Minneapolis, took place at high noon yesterday, when their daughter, Elizabeth, was married to Lyman Eldridge Wakefield of this city. The living room, in which the ceremony was read, had been transformed with trailing asparagus vines, the rich russet and browns of oak boughs and the reds of bitter-sweet, into a woodland bower. In the center hall and on the stairway the same brilliant leaves were used. The dining room was decked with smilax, carnations and asters.

Miss Anderson entered with Mr. Wakefield, to the strains of the "Lohengrin" wedding march, played by Mrs. O. D. Hutcheson of Minneapolis. The bride's gown was of white silk and made in princess fashion. She carried an arm bouquet of bride roses. Her only jewel was a brooch which her mother and her grandmother had worn. At her wedding Miss Bessie Hutchinson was maid of honor. She wore pink and white muslin over white taffeta with lace, and her flowers were pink and white carnations. Sam G. Anderson, Jr., was best man.

The bride is a granddaughter of Asa B. Hutchinson, famous a generation ago as one of the Hutchinson family of singers. Her wedding gifts included many interesting heirlooms.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Rapley of Washington and Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Wakefield, Long Lake; Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Hutchinson, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Ray, Miss Bessie Hutchinson, Jesse C. Hutchinson and Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Wakefield, Minneapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. Wakefield will be at home at 1307 Vine place after Dec. 1.

Rev. Clarence E. Burton read the service at the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Averill and Louis Latham, which took place last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Powers, 3000 Aldrich avenue S. The vows were spoken in the library under an arch of smilax and ferns and white roses. The bride wore white pongee silk made with a deep yoke of real lace and trimmings of corded silk lace. She held a bouquet of white roses. Miss Campbell and Hazel Powers were the flower girls, and only attendants. They wore frocks of white and carried baskets of white roses. The wedding ceremony was a quiet affair, but it was followed by a large reception at the residence of Mr. Latham's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Latham, 3000 Dupont avenue S. The bridal couple stood in a bower of broad-leaved palms in the parlor. Clusters of pink and white roses and carnations added touches of color, and in the dining room foliage banked the mantel and the sideboard.

Among the guests from out of the city were Mrs. L. A. Merritt of Glenoche, Ohio; Miss Fay Latham of Howard Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Latham will be at home at 2816 Garfield avenue S.

The wedding of Miss Amy Louise Shores, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Shores, and Karl A. Loomis took place last evening at the Shores residence.

Dr. Lyon's PERFECT TOOTH POWDER

Cleanses and beautifies the teeth and purifies the breath.

Used by people of refinement for over a quarter of a century.

Convenient for tourists.

PREPARED BY J. H. Lyon, D.D.S.

The little case for jewels shown in the illustration is a decidedly better receptacle for pins, brooches and rings than the ordinary jewel box, in which unworked articles are tossed about and soon tarnish. It is especially useful when traveling, as it occupies so small a space; in fact, one of small size may be pinned to the corset or carried in the little handbag with the purse, handkerchief, etc.

It is comparatively simple to make, but great care should be taken to do the work neatly, otherwise it will be anything but satisfactory.

The center part should be slightly padded with cotton wool, so that pins may be easily stuck into it. The upper and lower portions are fitted with six little pockets, with flaps of chambray that fold over and button down, and in which may be carried rings, chains and other trinkets.

The case folds up and is fastened with ribbons. A nice idea is to have the outside of silk, in a pretty design, and the silk should be in a solid color, a monogram or an initial may be embroidered on the outside.

1011 Sixth street SE, in the presence of thirty guests. Palms and ferns with pink roses and carnations furnished a charming setting in the parlor and bitter sweet berries were with the green in the library. In the dining room a basket of pink roses and ferns was in the center of the table, while pink ribbons were festooned from the chandelier. The "Lohengrin" bridal chorus was played by Mrs. Clarence Burnham as Misses Eva Wilkinson and Mildred Loomis stretched the white and pink ribbons to form an aisle. Little Amy Smith, in a white frock, carried the ring in an American Beauty rose. Miss Ruth Shores was her sister's maid of honor. She wore white silk mull over blue and cream tulle. The bride's gown was of white silk and her flowers were bride roses. Rev. George F. Holt read the service and Mrs. Vida Shores, Smith sang "Beloved, It Is Morn," just before the vows were spoken. Mrs. W. G. Thompson, Mrs. W. J. Bursell of Spokane, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Loomis and Miss Mildred Loomis of Owatonna assisted at the reception following the service. Mr. and Mrs. Latham went away for a short trip and they will receive after Dec. 1 at 619 Essex street SE.

Miss Edythe Lauer and Earl H. McGowan were married last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lauer, at Diamond Lake. Autumn leaves were used in profusion thru the rooms, while in the living room palms and white roses simulated the bride's bouquet. The bride wore "Ave Maria" just before the "Lohengrin" bridal chorus announced the coming of the bride. Dottie Moore and Marion Ringstad were flower girls and Marion Lauer carried the ring. Miss Marguerite Lauer of Waukesha, Wis., the maid of honor, was in white silk mull and held roses. The bride wore white and pink tulle over silk and trimmings with real lace. The veil was of tulle and the bouquet of bride roses. Henry Heath was best man. The service was read by Rev. W. Bernard Ruggles in the presence of 10 guests. At the wedding which followed Mr. and Mrs. Pickett, Mrs. F. C. Lauer and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Andrews assisted in receiving and Misses Mina Lauer, Pearl Lauer, Bessie O'Neil, Etta Anderson and Florence Logarty were in the dining room. Mr. and Mrs. McGowan went away for a short trip. The bride's traveling gown was of brown broadcloth with hat to match.

Miss Anna Lillian Billings of Grasston, Minn., and Charles August Pearson were married at the new home of the young couple, at Mound, Minnetonka, Wednesday evening. The bride was decked in ferns, carnations and roses to carry out a color scheme of red and green. Miss Ida Pearson played the "Lohengrin" chorus as the bridal party entered. Rev. Mr. Thoren of Minneapolis read the service which was witnessed by thirty relatives and near friends. The bride wore cream silk, trimmed with silk embroidery. Her veil was of tulle and her bouquet of bride roses. Miss Agnes Anderson of Minneapolis was maid of honor. Her gown was of pink silk and her flowers, pink roses. Carl Westling was best man. A wedding dinner was served at the home of the bridegroom's parents, where white tapers and flowers with ferns decorated the table. Misses Esther Westling and Hilma Anderson assisted in the dining room. The friends of the Baptist assembly grounds showed their appreciation of what Mr. Pearson did for them last summer, by presenting the bridal couple with a handsome clock. The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson, the Misses Hilda and Agnes Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. John Larson, Miss Alice Larson, Mr. and Mrs. Felt, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Pearson, Misses Ellen Thelma, Alice Hothorn and Ida Pearson of Minneapolis.

Miss Ruby Laurie and Carl J. Ensrud were married last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. K. Stockland, 813 Delaware street. Rev. T. J. McCrossen read the service in the presence of a group of relatives. The bride wore cream pongee silk trimmed with white and pink ribbons. The groom wore a blue and white suit. The bride's bouquet was of white and pink roses. The wedding dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ensrud will be at home after Nov. 1 at 38 Barton avenue.

Mrs. Clara Calkins and Eugene Morrill were married last evening at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. J. E. Conant, 3323 Chicago avenue. A small group of relatives witnessed the service. Mr. and Mrs. Morrill will be at home at 2104 Tenth avenue S.

The informal reception given last evening at the Lawrence sanatorium by the medical and surgical staff to mark the completion of the new building was a large affair, for the cordial invitation extended to physicians, clergy, patients and friends met with general acceptance. The arrangements were informal and the genial air of hospitality made everyone feel at home.

The medical staff was assisted in receiving by Misses W. D. Lawrence, A. S. Wilcox, D. E. Shigman, A. J.

Brook trout, 85 cents a pound; extra Smelts, 18 cents a pound; extra Fresh cod, 20 cents a pound. Scallops, 60 cents a quart. Pike, 15 cents a pound. Lemons, 30 and 40 cents a dozen. Canned fruit, 10 cents each. Pumpkins, 5 cents each.

To serve the fresh cod with tomato sauce, dust the fish with salt and pepper, put in a baking-dish. Make a sauce with two cups of stewed tomatoes, one cup of water, two bruised whole cloves and two slices of onion cooked together for half an hour. Mix one-quarter cup of butter, rub in or roundly tablespoonful of flour, and then pour on the hot tomato. Cook ten minutes and strain on the fish. Pour on half of the sauce and bake three-quarters of an hour. Add the remainder of the sauce at intervals while baking. Baste several times.

It may seem like painting the lily to add to a pumpkin pie until you try this. Any favorite recipe may be used for the pie; the following is for the real colonial article. When the pie is baked and cooled, spread with strained honey pumpkin cut in thin slices. Make a meringue of egg whites and sugar until tender; sift and while hot add a tablespoon each of butter and flour to each quart of pulp. Mix thoroughly, then add to every quart a half cup of the strained pumpkin. Bake in a buttered tin or pan of ginger, half a teaspoon of salt, a generous dusting each of cinnamon and nutmeg, a gill of rosewater and a gill of the best brandy. You will note that no milk enters.

A surprise party was given Saturday evening in honor of the bride at her home, 250 Colfax avenue N, in honor of her eighteenth birthday anniversary. The guests presented her with a silver tea set. Games and music were the amusements and refreshments were served.

A number of Minneapolis people went over to St. Paul last evening to attend the wedding of Miss Sadie McLaughlin and Gale Merrick of Seattle, which took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. McLaughlin, on Dayton avenue. Miss McLaughlin's maid of honor was her sister's maid of honor and wore white silk and carried pink roses. The bridegroom was of white silk trimmed with rose point lace and her flowers were lilies of the valley. Rev. Ernest Dray read the service, which was followed by a reception. Mr. Merrick and his bride left on the late train for Seattle, where they will make their home.

The people of Grand Avenue Christian church will give a reception tomorrow evening in the church parlors for the new pastor, Rev. T. J. Dow. Addresses of welcome will be given by Rev. A. D.
