The Minneapois Journal has a prestige that gets advertising and the kind of influence that makes advertising in its columns profitable. Why? Because it is a clean, newsy, enterprising paper and can be taken into all homes for every member of the family to read. The Journal has a circulation of quality well as quantity.

OF FEMININE INTEREST

News Society

Mrs. G. H. McMullen gave a reception this afternoon at her home, 69 Eleventh street S, for the members of the International Sunshine society and their friends. The hours were from 3 to 5 o'clock, and several hundred women who are interested in the work of the society called. The rooms were decorated in yellow, the color of the society, and yellow roses were used. Receiving with Mrs. McMullen were Mmes. E. W. Kingsley, G. W. Parker and N. A. Strong, the state officers. In the diningroom a bevy of younger girls the diningroom a bevy of younger girls presided over the rose-decked table and served refreshments. They were Misses Broom, Nellie Broom, Evelyn Judd, May Persar, Parker, Hughes and Kneeland.

Invitations have been issued for a reception to be given Thursday by the members of St. Paul's guild at the home of Mrs. C. B. Lvon, on Oak Grove street, in honor of Miss Nellie Waite. Miss Waite has been the president of the guild for a number of years, and has just resigned the office.

The members of the Wesley Epworth league will give a reception this even-ing at the home of Mrs. George Cook, 1913 Columbus avenue, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Schonebaum.

A pretty wedding of yesterday took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Lewis at Lake Minnewashta, when N. Lewis at Lake Minnewashta, when their daughter, Edith Madie, became the bride of August Hobart of Minneapolis. Rev. T. W. Stout, a brother-inlaw of the bride, read the service, to which about 200 invitations had been issued. A large tent was erected for the ceremony with trees and shrubs as a brilliant setting, and autumn foliage and flowers for decoration. The three sisters of the bride, Mrs. T. W. Stout, Mrs. Florence Hendrix and Mrs. Horace J. Shotwell, were the matrons of honor and Fred Hobart was the best man. Little Helen Shotwell was the man. Little Helen Shotwell was the flower girl. The bride wore a handsome gown of white French lawn trimmed with lace, and her flowers were bride roses. After the wedding a bridal dinner was served in the dining room. Mr. and Mrs. Hobart on their return from a short wedding tour will be in Minneapolis for several months.

Mrs. Robert Anderson gave a reception yesterday afternoon at her home, 1925 Nicollet avenue. The guests in-cluded twenty-five women from St. Paul. Fall flowers and foliage decorated the rooms and the dining room was in red. Mmes. T. Lindquist and S. Borg of St. Paul and Croonquest of Minneapolis assisted the hostess.

Dr. W. F. Braasch entertained a number of his professional friends at a dinner at Dayton's tearooms, Wednes-daw evening. Covers were laid for

The K. C. W. P. club of Linden Hills Congregational church gave a progres-sive dinner last evening in honor of the new members of the club. The home of the Misses Fontaine of Queen avenue was the gathering place for the first course. Tables decorated with autumn leaves carried out the club colors, green and gold. Miss Margaret Husb of Park boulevard was the hostess at the second course, assisted by Misses Bessie Cool, Lucie Marie Cool and Charlotte Blair. Yellow flowers were used as a decoration and the tablecloth was an antique piece of damask 150 years old. The third course was served at the home of Miss Vera Townsend, who was assisted by Miss Florence Craig. Red carnations and a profusion of ferns made a tasteful appointment. Miss made a tasteful appointment. Miss Edith Sage, assisted by Miss Marjorie Gage, served the fourth course at their home. A mound of autumn leaves was chosen for a decoration.

Miss Idaline Fontaine gave a toast, "Welcome, New Members"; Miss Etta Farnsworth responded; Miss Ethel Sage toasted "Friendship," and Miss Bessie McCool read the club prophecy for three years hence. A business meeting followed and plans were made for as-sisting the Young Men's club of forty members at a Halloween party.

This evening a musical will be given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Savage on Portland avenue for the new Fowler church.

SUPREME COURT TO DECIDE

APPEAL IN ELWELL-COMSTOCK CONTEST ARGUED TODAY BE-FORE STATE TRIBUNAL.

The Elwell-Comstock primary election contest whereby J. T. Elwell claims the republican nomination for senator in the thirty-ninth district, Minneapolis, comprising the second and ninth wards and the town of St. Anthony, was argued and submitted by attorneys for the contestants before the state supreme court today. Judge John Steele appeared as attorney for Elwell and Victor Walsh for Comstock.

Officers: President, Marvin Hughitt, and Victor Walsh for Comstock.

Elwell's attorney argued that the marked votes in precincts where voting machines were in service and legally designated for use at the primary were illegal. This would make Elwell's election clear.

The other side contended that none of the vertice weeking by the ballets should of the voting machine ballots should be counted because the Dean machine used had not been legally approved by the state voting machine commission.

PAVEMENT IS RIPPED UP

Nicollet Avenue's New Asphalt Broken

for Pipe Connections. The vandal pick has fallen on Nicollet avenue. The new asphalt pavement, which has been able to preserve its integrity for several months, has at last been ripped up. To make a service connection in front of the building which is under construction adjoining which is under construction adjoining Plymouth church, workmen have dug a wide trench to the middle of the street. Taxpayers noticed with relief that the city engineering department had ordered all water, sewer and gas street connections to be made on the streets which were to be repaved last summer. With a satisfaction that was tinged somewhat with wonder, they saw the building season pass without encroachment on the new pavement. They approved the watchfulness of the city dement on the new pavement. They approved the watchfulness of the city department and settled down with the

Make a pleated skirt, side or box, as Make a pleated skirt, side or box, as liked best, press well, and finish the bottom with a hem. A pleated skirt is seldom or never trimmed on the bottom. The bodice may be in jumper style, allowing changes by way of different guimpes, or it can be a blouse of the serge. These jumper waists are exceedingly useful and a stylish combination for blue serge will be a yoke and sleeves of plaid silk, the top of the jumper and its sleeves trimmed with blue braid. Wash blouses can be worn when the weather permits. A second blue braid. Wash blouses can be worn when the weather permits. A second bodice suggestion has a very small, round yoke of pale green cloth, or white, if you like it better, covered with rows of black soutache braid, the bodice proper suggesting a blouse, by outlining the yoke with a flat cellar of blue velvet and having two box pleats down center front trimmed with blue velvet buttons. The belt will be blue velvet, and the knotted tie coming from under the collar will be pale green, if green has been chosen for the yoke, and plaid silk if white has been employed. The sleeves are full, three quarter length, ending in velvet cuffs trimmed with braid as is the collar.

Bushels of Mushrooms.

The meeting of the Mycrological club was of particular interest Tuesday evening, as Dr. Flora M. Davey exhibited samples of a collection of mushrooms which she found Sunday along the bridge which crosses the Mississippi near the Town and Country club. Armaliara mellea, as the variety is known to the collectors of fungi, is a mushroom, which grows in September known to the collectors of fungi, is a mushroom, which grows in September and October, and is considered one, of the most appetizing in its class, It grows around the heavy oak stems, and Dr. Flora found large clusters of fifteen pounds in one place. Her find was pronounced the largest of the seawas pronounced the largest of the season, for she took home more than four bushels of the mushrooms. It is considered unusual for the Armaliara mellea to be collected in such large quantities, and the meeting made the occurrence the occasion of an interesting discussion.

Unity House Clubs.

Club life is active at Unity House, and every evening has at least one organization meeting under the settlement roof. Tuesday evening the embroidery class meets. Wednesdays Miss Koenig has a current-topic class, which is conducted in parliamentary fashion. A large dramatic club also meets Wednesdays and is directed by Miss O'Connel. The club will furnish amusements for the Thursday socials this winter, for Thursday is a social night, when the grown people gather for music, recitations and games. Friday is gymnasium night for girls of 16. Ralph Benfield is the physical instructor. There are minor clubs for the smaller girls, afternoon gymnasium the smaller girls, afternoon gymnasium and sewing classes, and the library also attracts a number of people to the set-
