LETTER BETRAYS CASHIER

Former Bank Official of Butte Sends Cipher Note to Stenographer.

Asserting that he is being made a scapegoat by the meek guilly of the transactions which resulted in the failure of the Aetna bank of Butte, Mont., F. H. Garside, former cashier of the bank, who was arrested Sunday afternoon on Hennepin avenue, declares that he will fight his case and has retained Attorney M. A. Brady to aid him. A sheriff from Butte is expected in Minneapolis tomorrow and a lively legal fight is anticipated.

Garside's apprehension by Minneapolis detectives was due to a cipher letter which he wrote to Mrs. F. S. Forster, a former stenographer in the Aetna bank, in which he asked her to meet him in Minneapolis. The letter fell into the hands of the Butte police and the local police were warned to be on the lookout for the fugitive cashier.

POLICE KNOW ROBBERS

Minneapolis Records Contain Names of North Dakota Bandits.

Robinson and Sullivan, two members of the highway quintet accused of looting the bank at Sawyer, N. D., and who were captured, are well known to the Minneapolis police. Robinson, who was wounded, has a long workhouse record in Minneapolis and in July, 1905, was sentenced to ninety days in the workhouse. He made a sensational escape, but was recaptured and served sixty days additional for his escapade. Sullivan, captured asleep in a haystack, has no police record, so far as is known in Minneapolis, but he was under surveillance during his stay here.

DEMOCRATS SPEAK

Spellbinders Plan to Appear at Five Meetings.

Five democratic meetings will be held tonight in various parts of the city, and Mr. Haynes will endeavor to appear at each of them. A democratic rally will be held in the G. A. B. hall, Twentieth and Washington avenues N., and another at democratic headquarters of the Third ward, at Plymouth and Washington avenues.

A large meeting has been arranged for the ninth ward, at Eighteenth and Central, and another for the second ward, at Fifth and Central. A meeting will also be held in the tenth ward, at 805 Washington avenue N.

ARCTIC SAILOR IS WARMLY WELCOMED

CAPTAIN AMUNDSEN GUEST AT COMMERCIAL CLUB BANQUET.

Late Arrival of Train Necessitates Going Directly from Station to Banquet Table—Prominent Men of City Greet Him and Bid Him Welcome—Remains Till Thursday.

Captain Rold Amundsen, the Arctic sailor, mingled with the plain people of Minneapolis at the Commercial club last evening. In his silent, dignified way, he enjoyed the meeting with the men of Minneapolis, and on more than one occasion expressed complimentary remarks on the appearance of the city. Minneapolis is the first city in the world to extend a formal invitation to the Arctic sailor to visit it in order that due respect might be paid to him for his great work. His right-hand man in the perilous voyage in the Gjoa, which lasted three and a half years, Lieutenant A. Hansen of the Danish navy, is a younger man and of a quieter temperament. Captain Amundsen himself is only 34 years old, but he has the poise and assurance of a man of 60.

The remainder of the Gjoa party did not come to Minneapolis, but went thru to New York from Omaha. Messrs. Amundsen and Hansen were late last evening. Their train, instead of arriving at 8 o'clock, did not pull into the city until nearly 9 o'clock. There was no time to permit them to dress for the banquet prepared for them at the Commercial club, and which had already been postponed until 9 o'clock. So, immediately on their arrival, they were hurried into a carriage and driven to the club.

Honors at Club.

They were taken in charge there by President Fred R. Salisbury and were presented to about forty men who had gathered to do them honor. President Salisbury gave the toast in regard to the pleasure of speaking for Minneapolis and the Commercial club. He spoke briefly of the efforts of Frohisher, Ross, Franklin, McLure and others to locate the north pole, and the expedition which nearly some of them had succeeded. At the same time the Gjoa, navigated by Captain Amundsen, was the first vessel to sail from the Atlantic ocean to the Pacific along the north coast of North America.

Captain Amundsen was not prepared to say just how much he had contributed to science. His observations in the supposed location of the north pole covered a period of two years, and it would take fully three more years to work them out. He was, however, entirely satisfied that the pole would be definitely located. Scientific observations of all kinds had been taken. He had secured specimens of fauna and flora and had gathered everything that he thought would be of scientific value.

Other speakers were Ralph W. Wheelock, Lieutenant Hansen, Senator Henry J. Gertsen, J. S. McLain and Wilhelm Peterson. To the latter belongs almost the entire credit of bringing Captain Amundsen to the city.

Will See Everything.

The two men will remain in the twin cities until Thursday evening and will be shown everything worth seeing. They are the keenest of observers and take a keen interest in all phases of life. It is their first visit to the interior of the United States and they readily admit that their preconceived notions have long since been upset.

Those present at the banquet last evening were: President Fred R. Salisbury, Rev. S. E. Olson, Judge Fred V. Brown, Rev. N. B. Theid, Consul Fredrik Waage of St. Louis, T. Gulbrandsen, Henry S. Ives, Adolph Edsten, Henry J. Gertsen, E. P. Nelson, A. Ueland, Frank Healy, J. S. Strand, J. P. Wilcox, Professor C. W. Hall, Ralph W. Wheelock, Harry Randall, Wallace G. Mayo, G. H. Edmister, S. V. Moran, John A. Schlenger, J. S. McLain, A. Crane, J. H. Rihelidaffer, B. I. Thomson, Otto V. Juell, T. H. Wegge, C. Poppe, J. R. Canterbury, N. J. Nelson, J. U. Barnes, C. R. Holmer, August J. Anquist, Jerry Starkweather, E. Chatfield, Andrew Rinker, Rev. Martin Norstad, Rev. M. Falk Gertsen, W. Peterson, Professor H. G. Stub, Dr. Henrik Nilsson, Professor Sven Ortved, H. R. Verx, C. H. Hamblin and E. J. Westlake.

PIONEER IS DEAD

JOHN D. BLAKE, Veteran Real Estate Man, Who Died Sunday.

Medicine purchased for "soothing syrup," given by inexperienced young parents on the advice of neighbors, caused the death of a 15-days-old infant. The young parents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred McCullum of Lincoln Park. Last Friday the baby became restless. Neighbors advised the purchase of medicine that would quiet the infant. Instead of quieting, the infant rapidly became worse and went into convulsions. Dr. John E. Campbell of South St. Paul was summoned but could do little for the suffering infant, and the boy died about an hour after his arrival.

Politics in Hennepin

The fourth ward republican organization is out to see to it that the "old fourth" sustains its enviable reputation as a loyal, tried and true republican district. The organization officers have sent out the following call to all republicans and voters of the ward:

"The fourth ward, having always had a strong republican influence in our county, we appeal to you at this time to help us increase our republican majority, for only thru the present committee can this be accomplished. In view of this fact we request you to assemble at McKinley hall, Ninth street and Western avenue, Friday, Nov. 2, at 7:30 p.m. This meeting will give the committee an opportunity to exchange their views so that we may be better equipped for effective work on election day and the few days which intervene. Yours respectfully, Executive Committee, 'W. B. Heath, 'Ward Chairman, 'R. T. Boardman, 'Ward Secretary."

BURTON WILL ACT

University Dramatic Club Announces Interesting Program for Nov. 7.

The University Dramatic club is in a peculiar situation. It has arranged with Dr. Burton to have him appear in a one-act play, but he has done so on condition that he will not be advertised as the feature.

The reason Dr. Burton gives for his desire that his taking part should not be used as an excuse for his personal advertisement is that he has written the other plays entitled to as much notice as his own. The club has, therefore, refrained from any advertisement that will displease Dr. Burton. Appearing with Dr. Burton in "The Man of Letters" are Nathan Blackburn and Miss Sarah Preston.

Each member of the club has appeared at some time or other in one of the club's productions. Among the cast in "His Lord in Livery" are Sam Andrews and John Sinclair, who made successes in "The Cricket on the Hearth" last year. Among the women are Miss Barber and Miss Vance. In "Her Picture" the leading parts are taken by Miss Maybelle Schneider and Will Simmons.

The play will be given at the Johnson School of Music on Wednesday evening, Nov. 7.

THINKS SALOON MEN ARE STINGY

J. C. HAYNES CALLS ATTENTION TO SMALL CONTRIBUTION.

Liquor Dealers Have Contributed Thru Other Sources but They Will Again Be Urged to Give Up—What They Expect in Case Haynes Is Elected.

J. C. Haynes, who is running for mayor on the democratic ticket, addressed several meetings last night, following his usual plan in his addresses. Mr. Haynes alluded to the announcement in The Journal yesterday to the effect that he is receiving money aid from the saloonkeepers but did not deny the charge. He said that the support was not very hearty if 450 saloonkeepers had contributed only $760 for his campaign.

The democratic committee feels the same way about it. A committee consisting of Matt Walsh, who was Mr. Haynes' license inspector, and E. Sheehan has been appointed to see all saloonkeepers who have not dug as deep as they feel they should for the several collections that have been made. The saloonmen will be urged by the committee to do this, with the penalty of being unpopular in case the democratic candidate succeeds.

With the "mace" applied the saloonkeepers are up against it. They have already been struck for several collections either directly or thru the association. Hitherto the contributions have been to a certain extent voluntary. They repeatedly called on them they have allowed to contribute to the extent of their means or interest and the $760 reported yesterday was but the last installment.

The same tactics were pursued two years ago when making headquarters for the establishment of a prominent hotel in charge of a prominent saloon man and a confidential friend of Mr. Haynes. The saloon business was better then and contributions were easier, but "soaked" double because he kicked on the assessment on the grounds that he believed Haynes was a loser, and he did not care to put good money on a dead one.

Inquiry among the saloon men for their opinion of Mr. Haynes' aid enforcement and what they hope for develops the fact that the Haynes' lid decoration looks like a sieve to the saloon men. One thing is confidently expected if Mr. Haynes succeeds in pulling thru a week from today. The saloonkeepers seen, without exception, expect to be allowed to keep open at least one hour after midnight, and as much longer as they will stay and spend enough to pay expenses. Haynes has talked Sunday lid, but has said nothing about a lid after midnight.

REPUBLICAN RAISES PRICE

Church Property Is Held at $220,000 Minimum.

Plymouth church is now considering the price which it shall ask for its property at Eighth street and Nicollet avenue. While the value two years ago was set at about $150,000, it is understood that the church will not consider less than $220,000 for the Nicollet avenue frontage, which is more than $2,000 front foot for its frontage of 105 feet.

FINAL JONES MEETING

The Auditorium Will Attract Great Crowds Next Monday Evening.

Elaborate plans are making for the final Jones meeting, to be held next Monday evening in the Auditorium. The affair is to be the most ambitious of the campaign and the promises of the speaker will insure that the situation will be forcefully handled. Senator Nelson is expected to be present, and other addresses will be made by speakers of note, some of them from the democratic ranks. The meeting will be under the auspices of the Jones committee.

105 DAYS TO NEW YEAR

That is, if the Chinese reckoning is accepted.

Quong Sul, emperor of China, will begin his thirty-third year of his reign on Feb. 12, and that date will mark the opening of the Chinese new year. This fact was determined at the local immigration office today after a few experiments with the official Chinese calendar. This year, Quong Sul began on Jan. 25, which date was properly celebrated by the local Chinamen.

CO-EDS BOW TO "PREXY"

Freshmen Girls Will Help in Sorority Peace Plan.

Following the example set by freshman fraternity men at the state university, who for the past three years have organized their Triangle, Tillikum and Pelagian clubs, sorority girls of the 110 class will meet this evening to form a similar club. Recent remarks by President Northrop, urging the sororities to ease off on the rushing war, have caused discussion among the students belonging to sororities, and the freshman girls have evidently taken the lead.

RECOMMENDS NO. 25 FLAX.

Professor C. F. Bull of the Minnesota experiment station highly recommends to the farmers the use of flax seed, based on the promulgated by the station. He finds that forty-eight farms which used this seed last season the average yield was 11.9 bushels to the acre. The average on Minnesota farms using common seed was but 11.9 bushels to the acre. It has been demonstrated that No. 25 is a first-class seed.
