GOMPERS' POLICY MAY BE ON TRIAL HERE

ALL EYES WILL BE ON GREAT LABOR CONVENTION.

Entrance of Trades Unionists Into Political Arena Is Likely to Be Leading Issue When American Federation Delegates Convene Nov. 12 in Minneapolis.

When the American Federation of Labor meets in Minneapolis, Nov. 12, one of the great issues of the convention will be the part which labor is taking or may take in national and congressional politics.

Just now, with elections at hand, labor leaders are not saying much. Whatever the private opinions of the labor unionists in Minneapolis may be as to the attempt of the head of the organization to involve the American Federation of Labor in politics, no criticism is being expressed openly.

It is possible, too, that the situation is much more interesting to federation men who are nearer the scene of political battle.

Heard No Criticism.

George B. Howley, head of the Building Trades council, did not show an intense interest in the subject of President Gompers' relation to the federation last night, but he brightened up when the federation convention was mentioned.

"I haven't heard any political criticism of Gompers for his political attitude," said Mr. Howley.

When he was asked whether Gompers would stand or fall in his position, Mr. Howley said sententiously: "We can tell better after next Tuesday."

"This was the only intimation from Mr. Howley that any attention was being paid locally to Mr. Gompers' evident attempt to use the federation to further political ends.

Whatever may be the near view of the situation in Minneapolis, it is undoubtedly true that organized labor throughout the United States is looking forward with the keenest interest to the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, which is to be held week after next in Minneapolis.

From the time that the special and official train arrived in Minneapolis with its 300 delegates, President Gompers and other officials, Minneapolis news will be watched closely all over the United States.

There is no concealing the fact that the rank and file of the organization looks upon the approaching gathering as the most important in the history of the federation, which extends over a quarter of a century.

To put the situation in plain words, it is becoming recognized among many of the rank and file of the federation that the political program of President Gompers and his advisers has proven a "frost."

While the radical element of organized labor enthusiastically embraced the scheme of going into politics, it is believed to be the more conservative of the organizations, such as the railway brotherhoods, the painters, and others, have been only lukewarm in support of the political program.

Against Gompers' Policy. The sentiment of those opposed to President Gompers is well set forth in an editorial appearing in the official organ of one of the strongest and most influential labor organizations in America.

"We regret, but are not surprised at the apathy of the unorganized and the absence of enthusiasm on the part of organized workers in the political campaign. The executive committee of the American Federation of Labor must feel discouraged at the coolness with which their plans were received, and disappointed at the lack of interest shown by those active in the movement.

NEW MACHINE STOKER WILL 'KEEP HER HOT'

NORTH-WESTERN ROAD MAKES A RADICAL DEPARTURE.

Will Increase the Efficiency of Its Motive Power by Installing Mechanical Stoker Which Can Shovel Coal Into Firebox Faster Than Five Men.

A machine that will hurl coal into the firebox of a locomotive at the rate of 200 shovelfuls a minute if necessary, will lighten the labor of the human fireman on any of the engines of the North-Western road.

This decision to employ a machine in place of a man is one of the most radical departures in railroading since the adoption of the airbrake. Its full significance can hardly be appreciated by a layman.

The inventor of the stoker is W. H. Strouse of Oskaloosa, Iowa, who has been a locomotive engineer for twenty-four years.

Professor W. R. Hoag makes public the following letter on Mr. Sheldon's attitude toward the gas company:

"I have repeatedly expressed my position on this important question during the present campaign, and am glad of this further opportunity. I am in favor of an small work unceasingly to obtain for the citizens of Minneapolis a gas service at the cheapest possible price.

"I am in favor of submitting to the people for their vote (which is the method provided by law) a proposition to issue bonds for purchasing the gas company's business. If the people vote in favor of this measure, I will use every endeavor to carry out their wish.

"I cannot make these statements too strong or emphatic. I want this letter to be considered as putting me under obligations to you, the citizens of the second ward, and the city, to work early and late for the accomplishment of the purposes herein referred to. Very sincerely yours, Benjamin C. Sheldon."

PRIMARY ELECTION ROLLS TO BE PURGED

FALSE REGISTRATIONS ARE BEING INVESTIGATED.

Federal and State Authorities Investigate 'Floaters' and Will Cause Arrest of All Who Attempt to Vote Illegally—Naturalized Aliens Will Be Closely Watched.

Under the direction of the federal authorities a precinct-by-precinct investigation of the primary election poll lists has been made and an unparalleled campaign is to be made against the 'floaters' and the foreign-born citizens who obtained their naturalization papers under false representations.

Between 1,000 and 2,000 men who voted at the primary election will be barred by the authorities from casting their ballots on election day, and local campaign managers are wondering just what effect that will have on different candidates.

Deputy United States marshals have carried on the work of securing information in regard to illegal voting and it is said on reliable authority that a list of 1,000 names of primary election voters not entitled to the ballot has been collected.

Work Will Be Thorough. In the work of stamping out the illegal voter the entire force of the county attorney's office, federal authorities, and special officers are being employed. County Attorney Smith will be in his office all day next Tuesday and officers stationed at the different precincts will promptly arrest any of the 'floaters' who attempt to vote illegally.

The investigation has developed that a tremendous 'floating' vote was cast in downtown precincts, and it is asserted by those who have been in touch with the investigation that scores of 'floaters' came to Minneapolis from St. Paul and cast illegal ballots.

Show No Leniency. The investigation has also extended to the voters who have recently been naturalized and proof has been obtained that many of the men who have been granted their naturalization papers, either thru a misunderstanding or thru false testimony, were not qualified to become citizens.
