

Now that the Hostesses' reception is but a pleasant memory the charity ball appears the largest affair on the social horizon and everybody is looking forward to it with pleasure, for the charity ball has held a place of its own in the social life of Minneapolis for many, many years. So on Friday evening the West hotel will be ablaze with light and pleasure again, and society will enjoy itself all the more from the fact that the Home for Children and the Women will benefit by its pleasure. Mrs. Rufus R. Rand will have charge of the decorations which are sure to be charming. Everything is to be in red and yellow, the colors chosen for the occasion.

The winter in Chicago pursuing her art studies, came up for a week and is with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gillilan at the Plaza. Miss Gillilan came for the Hostesses' reception and she will remain over for the Cotillion club ball Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Gillilan and Miss Gillilan are planning for a European trip. They will leave early in the spring for Italy and will leisurely travel thru Europe and will be at Carlsbad for the Delos A. Monfort of St. Paul, where she spent most of her life and where the Gheens had a home until recently. Last fall Admiral Gheen purchased a residence on New Hampshire avenue, Washington, and his daughter is already popular in the navy and resident circles of the national capital.

Mrs. Morris Hollowell of Chicago was another visitor who came to Minneapolis for the week's festivities. Mrs. Hollowell joined Mr. Hollowell a short time ago in Chicago, which is to be their future home. Mrs. Hollowell was in the receiving party at the coming out reception of the Misses Marjorie and Elizabeth Dunsnoor and she will remain until after Mrs. C. J. Martin's reception, which is to be Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Florence Wells returned home from Europe just in time to be present

Donald Thayer celebrated his fourteenth birthday anniversary yesterday by entertaining thirty of his young friends at a delightful matinee party at the Orpheum, where the guests occupied several boxes. After the performance a matinee luncheon was served at Donaldson's tearooms from a prettily arranged table in the ivory room. Mrs. Wilbur F. Thayer chaperoned the party and Miss Frances Thayer and Miss Audrey Walton assisted.

Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Osborne entertained a group of La Crosse relatives at a Thanksgiving dinner at their new home on Blaisdell avenue. The guests were Messrs. and Mrs. Rockwell E. Osborne, Willis L. Osborne, B. E. Edwards, James B. Taylor and Mrs. A. R. Osborne.

Kenneth Smith and Paul Jenne entertained fifty of the high school and university young people at a dancing party Friday evening at the home of the former on Irving avenue S. The different college pennants and the national colors were used in the decorations with artistic effect, and the colors of the party were used. Flags draped the doorways, arches and windows and in the dining room a huge Minnesota banner was draped. The hosts were assisted by Messrs. and Mrs. Al J. Smith, Hope McCall of St. Paul, G. W. Jenne and Mrs. Jack Kimball of St. Cloud, who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Smith. During the evening Mrs. McCall, who has a charming voice, sang several numbers.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Hutchinson entertained at cards Friday evening at their home on West Franklin avenue. Twenty-five guests were present and played "five hundred."

The fortnightly dancing party at the Plaza Wednesday evening was preceded by a number of informal dinner parties, and later in the evening many of the younger set, who had attended the Dunsnoor reception, participated in the program. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Keith, Mr. and Mrs. Dickey, J. Dunsnett and Mr. Graham were among the dinner hosts.

Richard Mansfield is to be a guest at the Plaza the latter part of the week, and it is probable that there will be several informal gatherings in his honor.

Miss Edith Todd of 415 Fifth street SE, will be hostess at two studio teas, noon and evening, Wednesday afternoon and evening. Receiving with Miss Todd will be Mrs. J. S. Todd, A. H. Ives, Ernest C. Pratt and Cope-lin. Misses Gertrude Denison and Nell Stutevant of Red Wing will be her guests for the two days, and Miss Kate Frank will be in the assisting group of young women.

Mrs. Henry W. Knauff entertained Friday evening in her apartments in the Harmon court in honor of Miss Cecelia McClellan. Fourteen guests were present and enjoyed games and an informal program of music. Supper was served in the dining room with a table decorated in red, with tall candelabrum holding red tapers as a centerpiece.

George Scaife left last Sunday evening for New York to join his sister, Mrs. George Berryman, Sr., and Mrs. H. T. Scaife, on a four months' trip to England, their former home. The party sailed yesterday on the Caronia. While in New York Mr. Scaife visited his daughter, Miss Jane Elton, who was formerly with the Ferris stock company of Minneapolis.

Miss Fannie Scaife will leave this week to join her sister in New York for the remainder of the winter. Miss Scaife will take a part in a clever little sketch which has been written for her sister.

Miss Myrtle Goff and Miss Minnie Downing entertained Thanksgiving evening in honor of Miss Schaefer of Milwaukee. The rooms were decorated in yellow chrysanthemums and shaded candles and a pleasant evening was spent with games and music. Light refreshments were served. Present were: The Misses Schaefer, Milwaukee; Duncan and von Dorn of Omaha; Crane, Davis, Williams, Goff, Crossdale and Downing.

Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. George D. Richardson of St. Anthony Park gave a stag dinner in honor of the birthday anniversary of their son, Vernon D. Smith. The decorations were in pink. The placecards and favors bore pen-sketches of heads. Covers were laid for twelve. After the dinner the evening was spent in story-telling and games.

Miss Ethel Malcolm's class of East Side young people danced a cotillion in Wilson hall Friday evening. The figures and favors suggested the Thanksgiving season in many pretty ways.

Professor Malcolm's Central high school dancing class held a Thanksgiving party in the South academy, 315 Avenue and Twenty-fourth street, Friday evening. Many attractive Thanksgiving features were introduced in the cotillion.

If hard to please, you will like Sathia skin cream and Sathia skin powder. 25c.

at the coming out reception of the Misses Dunsnoor, Miss Florence Wells, Miss Marguerite Wells and Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Jewett of Hibbing, have been traveling for two months in Europe and they only returned last week. Miss Marguerite Wells is still in New York, where she is visiting for a few days. Mrs. Jewett is a sister of the Misses Wells, and her marriage was one of the events of last year.

Mrs. M. W. Savage, Mrs. Erle Savage and Miss Bean have issued invitations for a reception to be given Friday, Dec. 14, from 4 until 6 o'clock at the Savage residence, 2300 Portland avenue. About 300 cards have been sent out so that it is to be a large affair. Mr. and Mrs. Erle Savage have come from Toronto to visit Mr. and Mrs. Savage until after the holidays.

Mrs. Arthur H. Swett will entertain informally at a bridge whist Tuesday afternoon at her home, 315 Fifth street SE.

The active chapter of Pi Beta Phi sorority will be entertained Friday afternoon at the home of Miss Florence Johnston, 2219 Bryant avenue S. Miss Agnes Watsson was recently initiated as a member of the sorority.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin M. Crosby and Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Newell, who went to Boston for the DeLaittre-Little wedding, will return Monday morning. Mr. Crosby was one of the ushers at the Washburn-Langhorne wedding in Washington. The Minneapolis people have been spending a few days visiting in New York.

Waving the banners of Yale blue and Harvard crimson at the Yale-Harvard football game last week, were a goodly number of the university enthusiasts, for Minnesota was well represented in the gathering of several thousand at New Haven. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shevlin and their daughters, who are at Smith college, were the guests of Mrs. L. S. Gillette and Miss Marion Gillette were also in the grandstand. Miss Gillette came from Ogontz. Mrs. Stephen B. Lovejoy, who is spending part of the winter in New Haven, chaperoned Miss Marjorie Lovejoy and Miss Jessica Brown of Kenwood, who is now in Springfield, Mass., and a party of college girls. Mrs. S. R. Bowman, who is at Yale, and Richardson Phelps attended the game with Mrs. G. H. Hartley and her father, G. G. Hartley, of Duluth, were also among the Minnesotans at the game. Sam Bowman, Jr., who is at Yale, and Richardson Phelps attended the game with Mrs. S. R. Bowman. Miss Clara Hudson and Miss Priscilla Band, who are east at school, were in a party of college girls, as was Miss Ray Donaldson. Elliott Daggett, who will enter Yale next year, and a number of other Minneapolis boys who are east in college were there, as was Tom Shevlin, Anson Brooks, and Stanley Brooks.

Mr. and Mrs. John De Laittre and Miss De Laittre and Mrs. Willis Walker, who had been in Boston for the De Laittre-Little wedding, were also at the football game. Mr. and Mrs. De Laittre were in the east and are at present at the Waldorf in New York.

One of the society matrons has more than a mere shrug for the oft-heard remark in "what's in a name"; in fact this question of names reminds her and her friends of a little incident which deprived her family of a Thanksgiving dinner last year. The matron in question belongs to a family which is often confused with a family of the same name, and the same initials, only the initials are reversed. Thanksgiving shopping was done by Mrs. A. on a generous plan, and nothing was lacking, from the fine turkey to the small side dishes which make a festive dinner the delight of the family. Mrs. E. dealt at the same store, and she also did her Thanksgiving shopping on expansive lines. Thru the mistake of the deliveryman, the orders were left with Mrs. E. and when Thanksgiving morning came there was nothing at the house of Mrs. A. The pantry and ice chest showed a reproachfully slim aspect and as the morning grew into noon all hope was abandoned and the best was made of the day with whatever provisions were on hand.

At Mrs. E's a state of "plenty" reigned. The cook was aware of the fact that she was keeping house with Mrs. A's provisions, served a famously appetizing dinner, and it was not until late in the evening that the true state of affairs came to light.

Mrs. A. took special precautions this year to avoid a mistake which had such disastrous results.

The Minnetonka Boat club will give a holiday ball Wednesday evening, Dec. 19, in Masonic Temple ballroom. The house committee, with E. C. Phinney as chairman, and Mrs. G. A. Richter, James H. Howard, C. E. Sampson and C. H. Blackwell, are planning the arrangements. The ball will be given much sooner than was the custom, but this is due to the fact that after the holidays so many of the club members go away for the rest of the winter.

Mail Orders carefully and promptly filled. Make your selections before the rush.
