BIG TEAMS WILL BUCK EACH OTHER

Michigan and Wisconsin Both Want to Meet Chicago Next Year.

Journal Special Service.

Chicago, Dec. 5.—The football season of 1907 may see but one big game between the members of the Big Four of the Big Nine, the game being the one already scheduled for Nov. 2 between Chicago and Minnesota at Minneapolis. It now develops that the three-cornered agreement by which Michigan, Chicago and Wisconsin decided to postpone their meeting in football indefinitely is binding upon all three and cannot be set aside by one of the other of the schools at will.

This means, practically, that Wisconsin might raise objections to the scheduling of a Chicago-Michigan game unless a Wisconsin-Chicago game were arranged, or that Michigan might not see the justice in the resumption of football games between Chicago and Wisconsin without the annual Chicago-Michigan game.

Chicago appears to be the keystone of the situation, for Manager Charles Baird of Michigan has said that it rests with the Chicago senate as to whether or not the game shall be played, and it is practically certain that there would be no hitch from the wolverines. Wisconsin has also intimated that it is willing to meet Chicago, but is not ready to resume its games with Michigan or Minnesota. Members of the University of Chicago senate with whom rests the final decision, state that they can make no predictions on the outcome.

DOUGLASS LOSES STRENGTH RECORD

Journal Special Service.

Annapolis, Md., Dec. 5.—Archibald H. Douglass of Knoxville, Tenn., the crack halfback of the navy football team, who recently broke the record in the strength test, did not hold the record long, as his honors have been taken by Charles Chambers of Steubenville, Ohio, who held the record up to the time it was broken by Douglass. Chambers placed the figure at 1431, Douglass' best being 1410 and Chambers' previous figure 1385. Chambers is a sub on the football team and a shotputter. He is considerably heavier than Douglass and made better back and leg lifts, overcoming Douglass' higher figure in dipping and chinning.

"HACK" ARRIVES

Iowa Heavyweight After a Match with Mattsson.

Fred Hackenschmidt, the Iowa heavyweight wrestler, is in Minneapolis and will try and arrange a few matches with the local heavyweight stars. Hackenschmidt is a big, muscular fellow and looks the part of a genuine mat artist. He attended the Mattsson-Wasem match at Normanna hall last night, and in a speech challenged the winner of the match to a bout. Both Mattsson and Wasem accepted his challenge and articles will be signed during the next two weeks.

Hackenschmidt has wrestled with some of the best men in the country and has made a good record. He was twice matched with Frank Gotch, and in both contests gave the champion a hard battle before losing. He is willing to meet any man in the country, and will endeavor to get on with Jenkins or Fred Beell.

LUMBER CAMPS WATCHED CLOSELY

Venison Cheaper Than Pork for the Cutters of Tall Timber.

Special to The Journal.

Calumet, Mich., Dec. 5.—While a majority of the hunters who went into the woods at the opening of the deer season were fortunate enough to secure one or more of the fleet-footed animals, the number killed is said by many to be less than that of a few years ago, and some of the questions being asked, "Are the deer becoming less year by year? Are they just holding their own?" These are questions which every person who is interested in the sport of game and game protection will be glad to be enlightened upon.

Ten years ago five deer were the limit for each licensed hunter, and in nearly any part of the upper peninsula a novice could secure his full quota of deer in a few days, equally true in some parts of the lower peninsula. The result of this was that the slaughter of deer was frightful. Some of the camps in the upper peninsula ten years ago, composed of from six to eight men, took out of the woods the full number of large deer for every man in the party.

Lumbermen to Blame.

For instance, the camp composed of eight men, including one as cook and a young man as choreboy, neither of whom hunted, yet this camp had forty deer carcasses hung up in less than ten days after the season opened, and had the same number of carcasses hauled out to the railroad station and shipped to different points. It was no uncommon thing for a hunter to go into the woods and see from three to a dozen deer in a day's hunt, and in most instances be able to kill more and sell the deer so killed to lumber camps in their vicinity, affording the lumber camps in many instances employed a man to supply the camp with fresh meat, and thousands of deer were killed by these hunters.

Venison became a drug, in some lumber camps, and the men tired of it and asked for beef and pork instead. Beef and pork were costly, while the deer cost nothing but the killing, so the unprincipled proprietors of these lumbering concerns continued to employ men to kill deer in and out of season.

But now all is changed. The present law allows but two deer to be killed by each licensed hunter, and if the lumber camps use deer for meat they are doing it so slyly that they are not being caught at it very often.

The sympathy of the game wardens generally is with the settlers, who occasionally will kill a deer for food, and it would be practically impossible to secure a jury to convict a settler on such a charge, but not so with the lumber camps, who are made the special mark for prosecution when caught at it.

Kill Was Smaller.

The number of deer killed in Michigan in 1905, altho the number of licensed hunters in the woods has increased. The inference is that the deer are surely being exterminated in Michigan forests, but lovers of the sport may have cause to be disappointed, as they were ten years ago, and it is just as easy to get five as two. A sportsman who killed two deer within thirty minutes after leaving camp on the first day of the present season says that part of the country he hunted in is full of deer. He also says that a great many hunters stalk deer there, and notwithstanding the fact, he believes a sportsman would have no trouble in filling his license there at any time.

MITCHELL TEAM HAS GOOD RECORD

Mitchell, S. D., Dec. 5.—With the closing of the football season, the Mitchell high school eleven quits with an exceptionally good record, and has suffered but one defeat during the season, a record of which Coach Breckenridge is exceedingly proud. The team played six games, which resulted as follows: Mitchell 10, D. W. U. second team, 0; Mitchell 35, Parker 0; Mitchell 11, D. W. U. second team 6; Mitchell 13, Sioux Falls 12; Mitchell 22, Woonsocket 0; Mitchell 5, Sioux Falls 8. The team scored 96 points as against its opponents' 26. The average weight of the team is 142 pounds. Taking into consideration the fact that all are new men, with the exception of five, the record of the team is all the better.

MILWAUKEE TEAM HAS NEW MANAGER

President Havenor Names Jack Doyle of Des Moines His Successor.

JACK DOYLE, Havenor's New Manager.

Journal Special Service. Milwaukee, Dec. 5.—President C. S. Havenor of the Milwaukee American association team yesterday announced that Jack Doyle, one of the best-known figures in baseball, would be the manager of the Milwaukee team next season. He will not don a uniform, but will be bench manager and will be given sufficient leeway to enable him to make a close fight for the pennant.

Last year Doyle, acting for Cantillon at Des Moines, took the Western league pennant, and his success elsewhere, resulted in the appointment at Milwaukee. His support by the Cantillon brothers had much to do with his appointment. He has played and managed ball teams from Denver to New York.

FOLK AFTER BOOKIES

Missouri Governor Will Work Against Race-track Gamblers.

Journal Special Service.

Jefferson City, Mo., Dec. 5.—Governor Joseph W. Folk said yesterday of the anti-pooling law in light of the decision of the state supreme court:

"If amendment is necessary to cover the new scheme of the bookmakers to evade the purposes of the law, it will most assuredly be recommended by me to the next legislature. Race-track gambling is dead in Missouri, and the bookmakers may as well realize that it cannot be resurrected by the use of the telephone or any other device the statute can be made to cover."

Herbert S. Hadley, attorney general, said regarding the decision: "Receiving money as a deposit for bookmaking is an offense and the bookmaker is no better off now than if the decision had not been rendered. It will help the prosecuting attorneys in preparing their information."

Gopher on Navy Team.

Hastings, Minn., can boast of having had a hand in the recent victory of the Annapolis team over the West Pointers. Ralph Meyers, the big left guard on the Navy team is a Hastings boy, and the town is proud of showing he has made since entering the Naval academy.

GOVERNOR HIS LAST HOPE

Supreme Court Indicates that It Is Thru with the Bussé Case.

DES MOINES, IOWA.—Unless Governor Cummins interposes, Louis Bussé will be executed on Dec. 14. On motion of Attorney General Mallin the supreme court has issued a procedural order for a higher to a lower court to proceed in the case upon application for a writ of habeas corpus, and is a notification that the court's decision has been finally approved and confirmed by the supreme court. This action of the supreme court gives Bussé no further chance for a hearing in the state courts. Had the procedure not been issued, a thirty-day right of appeal or time for motion might have been claimed.

If Governor Cummins chooses he can stay the execution temporarily or until the legislature takes up the case upon application for a pardon or a change of sentence to life imprisonment.

MONTICELLO, MINN.—A series of meetings opened at the A. C. church last evening. Preaching by B. W. Shepley of Michigan has charge.

"CHICK" STAHL TO MANAGE BOSTON

Denny Sullivan Is Named as an Outfielder by President John Taylor.

Journal Special Service.

Boston, Dec. 5.—President John I. Taylor of the American league baseball club announced yesterday that he appointed "Chick" Stahl manager of the Boston team for next season.

President Taylor also announced yesterday the names of the new players his team will try out next spring. They are James Barrett, outfielder, Rochester; Chadbourne, outfielder; Knotts, catcher; Lord, third base, all of Worcester; Pruitt, pitcher, St. Paul; Sullivan, outfielder, Minneapolis; Kroy, pitcher, Milwaukee; George, pitcher, La Crosse, Wis.; Killion, pitcher, Burlington, Iowa; Wagner, shortstop, Newark; Shaw, catcher, Louisville.

LAWYER SAYS WATTY MADE A MISTAKE

Special to The Journal.

Milwaukee, Dec. 5.—In the opinion of a well known Milwaukee lawyer, W. H. Watkins, owner of the Indianapolis club, made a serious mistake when he voted with the majority to expel Mike Kelley, ex-president of the Minneapolis club, from the American association.

"By so doing," said the lawyer, "Mr. Watkins laid himself wide open in the event of Kelley bringing suit to recover his salary for 1907, which he can do under the terms of his contract, from Mr. Watkins of the Minneapolis club. By voting as he did, Mr. Watkins made it appear that he wanted Kelley expelled from the association in order that his contract would be null and void. Thus it will be evident that it was a case of forcing Kelley out for a purpose, and he will have all the best of it; whereas, had Mr. Watkins refused to vote with the majority, he could have made the claim that it was no fault of his that Kelley was barred from the association and unable to fulfil his contract."

WASEM LOST IN BOUT WITH MATTSOON

Carl Mattsson was too clever for Oscar Wasem in their match at Normanna hall last night, and the St. Louis star was downed twice after having won the first match in three minutes.

Wasem went on the mat with an air of confidence and after he had secured the first fall seemed to think that it was all child's play, but Mattsson went after him hard and after seventeen minutes of fast wrestling pinned his shoulders to the mat by a half-Nelson and leg hold. The third and deciding bout was the fiercest of the night with first one and then the other man on the offensive.

After twenty minutes had passed Mattsson began to work harder and on the twenty-fifth minute secured a full-Nelson and slowly forced his man to the mat winning the match, all gate receipts and a purse of $250.

As a preliminary Harry Winkler and Owen Agnew, two local boys boxed three rounds. The little fellows met at seventy-five pounds and both put up a fast showing. In the semi-windup Ollie Courtmanche and Neeches wrestled forty-five minutes without a fall. Altho outweighed by several pounds, Courtmanche put up a hard battle and if anything had the best of the match.

BASKETBALL STARTS SEASON AT THE "U"

Dr. Cooke, basketball coach at the university, called out his candidates for the season's workout yesterday, and nearly thirty good men answered the call.

The first practice of the season took place yesterday afternoon and everything looks promising for a championship team. There are three veterans in uniform, McEen, Captain Larsen and Helon Leach. The latter was not in school last season, but the year before he made a good showing in the game. George Capron, a freshman, is out for the center position. Capron was a star player on the Shattuck team for two years and is a likely candidate. Beside Capron there are several other good men in their freshman year. Among these are Cahaley from Minneapolis Central, Hansen from the St. Paul Y. M. C. A., Lyford, Ussell, Dering, Woodrich, March, Oldsgard, Vidal, Nelson and Patterson. This number with the regulars and old subs should furnish a championship five. Manager Reed is negotiating with the Columbia university team for a game to be played here early in January and this game, which is one of the big nine teams scheduled would furnish a good card for the season.

NEW SKI CLUB WANTS BIG HILL

Foot of Snow Also Desired by the Newly Organized Association.

Journal Special Service.

Wanted—A hill suitable for ski-jumping. Must be 300 feet long and very steep. Can also use a foot or two of snow. Apply to the Minneapolis Ski club.

When the foregoing "ad" is answered, this city will have one of the best ski clubs in the country. No other city has so much material to draw from, but the sport is dead because of the lack of suitable hills within easy distance of the city. Nevertheless, a club will be organized for the purpose of fostering this famous winter sport.

A score of ardent ski devotees met last evening at Thorsen's hall, Cedar avenue and Eighth street, and decided to organize for the winter. M. A. Strand was selected as chairman and S. O. Quamme, secretary. A committee to draft a constitution and by-laws for the basis for a permanent organization was appointed. It was decided that membership should be open to any person regardless of nationality, age or sex, as the object is to secure a widespread interest in ski running and establish it permanently in the northwest.

Another committee was directed to scout the country for the purpose of discovering desirable hills. Columbia Heights, Fort Snelling and the McNair farm were suggested as likely places.

There are seven or eight expert ski runners in the city who have won prizes in Norway and Sweden, and when the season is fairly on, it is the intention of organizing some of them at the international tournaments.

The meeting adjourned to meet again at the same place next Tuesday evening, when a constitution will be adopted and permanent officers elected.

POTTS DISPUTES CLAIM TO TITLE

Jimmy Potts is anxious to know when and where Ollie Courtmanche secured the title of lightweight champion in the wrestling game.

Potts himself won the title by defeating Felky at the Masonic Temple last year and since then has not met Courtmanche or any man that has been thrown by the Midway athlete. Jimmy is willing to concede the championship to Courtmanche, providing the latter puts up a good, international touring match. Otherwise the pugilist-wrestler will claim the title.

Manager Parker's Cooke team was a trifle too strong for the Lyndales in their game at the Cooke institute last night, and the game resulted in a score of 35 to 23, with the church team on the wrong end. The game started out well, and during the entire first half honors were about even, but the institutes started out with a rush in the last half and ended twelve points to the good. Manager Parker of the Cooke team is out with an open challenge to all basketball teams in the northwest and has several open dates. For games, address C. M. Parker, Minneapolis Paper company.
