

road from end to end. He knew the prisoner's writing very well.

Upon Henry's return from the army last April he went to live with the Musingers, with whom he remained six or seven weeks. He was employed by the witness as an agent on commission. He was staying at the Musingers when he was arrested for no support. After his release from the workhouse he went back to the Musingers. From there he went to Madison or La Crosse.

Always Carried a Gun.

"When did you see Henry with a revolver?" asked Mr. Smith.

"About three years ago. I did not continue to carry a gun for three years."

"Why, yes, he did."

"Did he show you a revolver on Wednesday before he was arrested?"

"I don't remember that he did. He had a gun when he went to the workhouse, but left it at the studio and took it away upon his release from the workhouse."

"Why did he leave it at the studio at that time?"

"I don't know, exactly."

"You kept a photographic school?"

"Yes, I did."

"Miss Clara Singer was a former pupil of yours, was she not?"

"She went to River Falls, Wis., and opened a studio. Henry went there to open a business."

"I believe that that was the way of it."

"But he came back in a short time?"

"He did."

"Never went back to River Falls?"

"Not that I know of."

"Didn't you see Clara Singer after your brother's return to Minneapolis?"

"I don't remember that I did."

"Henry told you he was married at Little Falls, Minn.?"

"I believe that he did."

"No attempt was made at this time to ascertain how it happened that Henry and Fannie were married at Little Falls when Henry was supposed to be engaged in business at Madison, Wis.?"

"After leaving Minneapolis," the witness said, "Henry went to Columbus, Ohio, and from there to Fort Leavenworth. I heard from him at both places, but don't recall hearing from him any other place."

The Two Letters.

Mr. Smith tried to ascertain where the two letters addressed to Fannie had been sent from, but with poor success.

"What was it that letter that attracted your attention?"

"As near as I can remember it was 'If you go to the bad and treat my family that way I will get square with you and your family.'"

Altho witness admitted having read the letter before Fannie received it, he could remember nothing else of the contents.

"She didn't ask me where her husband was. Yes; I knew where he was. I didn't refuse to tell her. If she cried that time I didn't hear it."

"Didn't Fannie and her mother come back to your house that night?"

"They came one night. I think it was the same night."

He Couldn't Remember.

"Didn't they ask where Henry was?"

"I don't recall that they did."

"You won't swear that they did not?"

"No; I won't. I simply don't remember."

"Didn't you tell them: 'It is not my business to know where he is. If you want to know find out for yourself?'"

"Didn't say anything of the kind."

It appeared that Henry Sussman was arrested at Leavenworth last February and taken to Madison, Wis. Joseph Sussman gave bail pending the action of the federal grand jury. Henry was indicted for the same offense and given another bond for his brother's appearance for trial at La Crosse. Two weeks before the death of his wife, Henry arrived from La Crosse.

Witness testified that he had seen Henry Sussman several times on Sept. 26 last. Had breakfast and lunched with him.

Adolph Sussman, another brother, testified that Henry was accustomed to carry a revolver.

Isaac Segal, an old friend of the Sussmans, testified that Henry's reputation for peace and good order was good. On one occasion, he said that he had not seen Henry for the year last past, and the year before that only about four times.

CAR SUPPLY INQUIRY TO COVER LIVESTOCK

Washington, Dec. 13.—The interstate commerce commission has decided to broaden its car-shipping inquiry so as to embrace the livestock inquiry, and Commissioner Prouty will next Thursday begin in St. Louis to look into the livestock question.

President Roosevelt has expressed a desire to hear from the commission as soon as it can get its testimony and frame a report. He intends to write a special message if conditions justify it, urging any legislation which reports may suggest as being desirable.

WORSHIPERS BREAK LAWS OF FRANCE

They Attend Mass Despite New Order—Charges Entered Against Priests.

Paris, Dec. 13.—There was an impressive response this morning to the clergy's appeal to their parishioners to attend the first masses celebrated outside the pale of the law. A correspondent of the Associated Press visited a dozen churches, including Notre Dame des Victoires, St. Germain d'Auxerrois, where the signal for the St. Bartholomew massacre was given; St. Roch, the Madeleine and St. Augustine. Everywhere was the same story. The front gates of the churches were closed, but the Catholics, by the gray light of dawn, were streaming thru the side porches and rear entrances. The churches were well filled. In several places there was music, but nowhere was there the slightest attempt to interfere with the service or create a disturbance.

Police Are Present.

Three policemen were stationed outside of the porches of each of the churches to prevent any possible disorder, while police officers in plain clothes were on duty inside, to note the infractions of the law, taking the names of the officiating priests and appointing the names of those present with the object of making reports to the justices of the peace.

Formal Charges Were Entered Wherever Masses Were Celebrated.

No attempt was made at this time to ascertain how it happened that Henry and Fannie were married at Little Falls when Henry was supposed to be engaged in business at Madison, Wis. After leaving Minneapolis, the witness said, "Henry went to Columbus, Ohio, and from there to Fort Leavenworth. I heard from him at both places, but don't recall hearing from him any other place."

Charges Are Entered.

Early dispatches from the departments say that wherever mass was celebrated, charges were drawn up and summonses issued. At Chalons the Abbe Renaudin said that the church heled were not rung and that no person was invited to mass, and that, therefore, the assemblage had not the character of a religious service. He was compelled by a police officer to inscribe his protest upon the summons.

Yield to Pope Reluctantly.

It is officially stated that the letters of Mgr. Montagnini, the expelled secretary of the papal nuncio, here show that the majority of the French bishops favored observance of the law of 1881, and bowed with reluctance to the papal decree. The official statement adds that the inviolability of the diplomatic correspondence of the nunciature was scrupulously respected before the rupture between the Vatican and France.

POLICE REJECT APPLICATION

Blanket Application Filed Yesterday Turned Down by Prefect.

Paris, Dec. 13.—That the rank and file of the liberal Catholics disapprove of the intransigent attitude of the authorities at Rome was shown by the fact that M. Martinet, editor of the Revue, and M. Fournier, editor of the Journal de Paris, yesterday applied with Prefect of Police Lepine yesterday an application under the public meetings law of 1881 for permission to hold religious meetings in all the churches.

AMERICAN PROTESTS.

Chicago, Dec. 13.—At a special meeting here yesterday of the board of governors of the Catholic Church Extension society of the United States, resolutions were adopted denouncing the recent action of the French government as "atrocious" and branding as "outrageous thefts" the seizure of ecclesiastical property.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 13.—The American Federation of Catholic societies, with headquarters here, representing 2,000,000 members, adopted resolutions last night strongly condemning the French government for seizing church and state and copies of the resolutions were forwarded to President Fallieres, Premier Clemenceau and other prominent French officials, and a message of sympathy was sent to Cardinal Richard and the French hierarchy.

SINK HOLE MENACES TRAINS

Mysterious Crevice on Erie Line Swallows Tons of Gravel.

Journal Special Service. Hammond, Ind., Dec. 13.—The mysterious sinkhole on the Erie railroad, a few miles east of this city, again is baffling the engineering department of the road, and imperiling the safety of trains. The hundreds of thousands of tons of gravel and earth have been thrust in the crevice, which extends twenty feet to the surface of the track. It has made no material difference in it. Once a year about this time, some subterranean disturbance takes place which makes the earth give. It is believed that the road is built over a huge cavern at this point, for no bottom has been found to it. Trains are compelled to crawl at a snail's pace in going over this stretch of track.

JAPANESE IN HAWAII?

Reported in Honolulu that Two Regiments Work as Laborers.

Honolulu, Dec. 13.—It is stated here and has been reported to the United States government that two regiments of Japanese, completely outfitted, are in Honolulu, disguised as laborers. Whether they are armed is not known.

Washington, Dec. 13.—The Honolulu report that Japanese troops are in that city, disguised as laborers, and that the fact had been reported to this government, met with an emphatic denial here. Acting Secretary of State Bacon said he had heard nothing of such a report.

PEASONS SANG IN LEAD'S GOLD CAMP

All Citizens Were Wild With Joy When Strike Menace Disappeared.

Special to The Journal. Lead, S. D., Dec. 13.—Not in all the thirty years of Lead's existence has there been such a joyful occasion as the one which the news was made public that the Homestake company had granted an eight-hour day, as requested by the miners' union. Everyone rejoiced. The men, the business men, the management of the mine and the miners themselves. Consequently, when the news spread that there were strike men, the men threw their hats into the air and yelled with joy; women laughed and wept alternately and with a mixture of joy and foreigners felt on each other in the true old-country fashion. Lead was wild with joy.

Good Feeling Everywhere.

A meeting of the miners' union, held in response to the news that Superintendent Grier had allowed the eight-hour day, resulted in the appointment of a committee of five to wait upon Mr. Grier and arrange the details of the settlement. This meeting has been held yet, as there is still some disposition to find fault with the fact that the company cannot come and go on the company's time, but this will not prove a serious barrier to the settlement. Other details have not been made public, but it is known that a hundred men are involved. The wages allowed for the ten-hour day will be maintained.

Even More than Demanded.

Homestake employees are to receive even more than they demanded, and the time schedule goes into effect Dec. 15. Last evening a committee from the two unions met with Superintendent Grier to arrange details. It was finally agreed that the time taken to go and return from the mines be divided between the men and the company.

RAILROADS DEFENDED.

"It is necessary, not only for the railways, but for the public, that there should be stable and fixed rates between points, say, between New York and Chicago; it is necessary that the railroads should be able to meet and agree upon these rates and to make agreements among themselves; and they should be allowed to meet and agree what those rates shall be, and which anti-trust law is to be kept in mind that the railroads constitute the largest business force in the country. The real menace, to my mind, is the Sherman anti-trust law. I do not know that the author of this law did not think it applied to railroads.
