THE marriage of Miss Agnes Pothergill Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Harrison, and Henry Ware Lincoln of Boston, Mass., will take place tomorrow evening at the home of the Harrison's in Milwaukee, Wis. Mr. and Mrs. Harrison and their family formerly lived in Minneapolis and Miss Harrison only returned before the holidays to her home in Milwaukee after a several weeks' visit with Miss Kate Moulton. Only the relatives will be present at the marriage ceremony, and announcement cards will be issued as no invitations have been sent out. Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln will reside in Boston. Miss Harrison is a well-known artist and just before returning to Milwaukee she gave an exhibition of her portrait paintings showing some wonderfully clever work with the brush.

Dr. and Mrs. F. H. Welcome entertained at a dinner last night at their residence, 210 Groveland avenue, for Mrs. Welcome's sisters, the Misses Carol and Laura Taylor. Covers were placed for twelve and the decorations were pink roses arranged in a mound with pink shaded tapers burning in silver candelabra. On the buffet stood a vase with roses, and the lights were pink shaded.

A number of college men are visiting in town during the holidays. Frank Loring Preston of Boston, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Philip B. Hunt for a few days and will return early today. Mr. Preston is a Harvard man and as Harvard only gives one week's vacation he will have to leave tonight.

Malcolm Douglas of Philadelphia, is spending the holidays at the Plaza. Mr. Douglas is a junior at Yale, and he spent last summer at Minnetonka Beach where Mr. and Mrs. Douglas and their family occupied a cottage. Anson B. Jackson, Jr. will leave next Friday evening for Yale college. Mr. Jackson is a senior and he will be graduated from college next spring. John McMillan, who is one of the Harvard men, and who has been home for a week, will also return next week.

The week's gaiety for the school and college set closed with a dancing party given by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morse for their daughter, Miss Bernice Barber, who is home from Smith college during the holidays. The Auditorium annex was made beautiful with smilax, palms and evergreens against which poinsettia blossoms were resplendent. About 150 of the young people enjoyed the program of dances.

Bishop and Mrs. Samuel C. Edsall and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Lyon will chaperone the Zeta Beta Psi sorority at its annual Christmas dance Thursday evening at the Minnikahda club.

Mr. Keaton, a Yale man, who is spending the holidays with Vernon Howe, will be the guest of honor at a dinner which Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Webber will give Wednesday evening at the Minnikahda club.

Miss Charlotte Partridge entertained informally at a theater party at the Orpheum Friday evening and at a supper at the Minneapolis club for Frank Loring Preston of Boston, and a group of young college people. There were eight in the party.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Keller of 2507 Humboldt avenue celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage Thursday. In the afternoon Mrs. Keller gave a reception to about 200 women. Assisting her were Meses Frank Mattison, Henry Holmes and E. L. Roensch. Southern smilax wreathed the walls of the reception room, and the fireplace was banked with ferns and Mrs. Ozias S. Chapman gave the first of a series of thimble bees at her home on Fourth avenue S. yesterday afternoon. The guests included thirty of her friends from the Park Avenue Congregational church, with a few others. Christmas greens were used profusely in the decorations. Refreshments proved an amusing feature, and later light refreshments were served.

pinsettias. The dates "1881" and "1906" in red immortelles were very effective against the green background of the oriole windows at either side, and told the guests what they had not been led to suspect—that they were participating in the celebration of a wedding anniversary. The stairway was hung with smilax and on the upper landing a string orchestra, hidden by palms, played as the guests came and went. Misses Edith Nootagard, Ethel Hauke and Margaret Kinney served refreshments in the hall. In the dining room pinsettias were on the table and buffet and scarlet tapers in silver candelabra cast a soft glow thru the room. Meses Scheu, Long, Carroll, Mattison, N. T. Smith and Mrs. C. C. Webber, assisted by Misses Nellie and Olivet Fairfax, Ruth

Johnson, Helen and Margaret Richmond, Florence Nygaard and Emily and Adelaide Crosby.

In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Keller received informally with their son, Orrin, Keller, who is home for the holidays. Later the guests enjoyed a short program of dances on the third floor.

A house party of young people is being entertained at the home of Guy Northrup at Ferndale, Lake Minnetonka, chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Northrup. A number of the guests came out Friday for the Peavey ball at Higherfort, and the rest joined them yesterday. Mr. Northrup's guests are the Misses Marjorie and Elizabeth Dunsmoor, Lelia Winston, Mary Rand, Frances and Charlotte Passmore, Margaret Jackson and Margaret Washburn, Messrs. Cyrus Brown, Frank Edie Steele, Paul Brooks, Malcolm Douglas of Philadelphia, and Frank Loring Preston of Boston.

A wedding of interest to Minneapolis people took place Thursday evening in the First Methodist church of Revville, when Miss Elsie Turner of Kansas City and Benjamin Benson of Minneapolis were married. Rev. J. R. Davis, presiding elder, read the service, assisted by Rev. Mr. Satterlee of Revville. Frank Barnard of Aberdeen, S. D., was best man. The usher was Dr. Johnson, Professor Countryman, Misses Irene O'Connor, Etta O'Connor, Edith Lumley and Ena Pope. Mrs. N. Iverson sang "I Love You, Dear Heart." The matron of honor, Mrs. Charles Joerns of St. Paul, and the bridesmaids, Miss Alice Turner, Gladys Turner, Marie Benson, Dena Benson and Emma Benson, entered singing the "Lohengrin" bridal chorus. Later Miss Belle Carey played the Mendelssohn march. Master George Barnard carried the ring and little Etta Lumley and Dorothy Dowling were the flower girls.

The church was bright with a holiday decoration of bells, holly wreaths and red shaded candles. The bridesmaids carried bouquets of white flowers. The bride wore a white French lawn and Valenciennes lace and carried a white ribbon. The little ring-bearer and the ushers were also in white.

After the service a large reception was given by the bride's aunt, Mrs. L. Barnard who was assisted by Mrs. George Turner of Kansas City, Mrs. Benson and Mrs. Clay of Revville, Mrs. Fergerson, Britton, S. D.; I. Iverson, Mohall, N. D., Charles Joerns and Arthur J. Reeves, St. Anthony Park. The house was decorated with poinsettias and holly. Mr. Benson and his bride will be at home after Feb. 1 in Minneapolis.
